EXPLANATORY STATEMENT PURSUANT TO SECTION 102(1) OF THE COMPANIES ACT, 2013 SETTING OUT MATERIAL FACTS IN RESPECT OF SPECIAL BUSINESSES TO BE TRANSACTED AT THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

Item No. 4

During the financial year 2024–25, the Company's financial performance was adversely affected by a combination of regulatory and exceptional factors, including the Reserve Bank of India's temporary restrictions on its gold loan business and a one-time provision made towards the Company's investment in an Alternative Investment Fund (AIF). These developments significantly impacted revenue and profitability, leading to a loss for the year ended March 31, 2025.

In view of the inadequacy of profits for the said year, the remuneration paid to Mr. Nirmal Jain, Managing Director, exceeded the limits prescribed under Section 197(1) of the Companies Act, 2013, read with Section II(A) of Part II of Schedule V to the Act. As per the applicable legal framework, in the absence of adequate profits, remuneration to managerial personnel requires the approval of shareholders by way of a Special Resolution, unless it falls within prescribed ceilings.

It may be noted that, in terms of the resolution passed by the shareholders at the Annual General Meeting held on July 8, 2022, Mr. Jain was entitled to receive an annual increment of up to 25% on his basic salary, allowances, and perquisites, along with annual commission as approved. While he remained eligible to draw higher remuneration aggregating to over ₹ 17 crore for FY 2024–25 in line with the approved limits, he has drawn only ₹ 12.26 crore. It is worth noting that since his appointment, Mr. Jain has not drawn any commission and has not availed the full remuneration to which he was entitled across the last three financial years.

STRONGER AFTER THE STORM

Every storm tests the mettle of those who face it, and FY 2024-25 was a defining trial by fire for IIFL Finance. We were hit by a storm on three fronts - regulatory embargo on our gold loan business, curbs over microfinance lending (MFIN reduced lenders per borrower to three, capped total borrower indebtedness, etc.) and Income Tax raids on our offices in January. These headwinds brought unprecedented challenges that shook our journey. Yet, like all storms, this one too passed. Challenges may shake the path, but they do not break the spirit. And with the clearing skies comes clarity—uncertainty, too, has an expiry date.

How did we manage to sail safely through the storm? We anchored ourselves firmly in our core values of fairness, integrity and transparency. With unwavering resolve, we navigated through turbulent waters, transforming adversity into opportunity. The RBI embargo on our gold loans lasted little over six months and we managed to stay above water during the turmoil. All our branches remained operational and we continued to engage with all our stakeholders - customers, bankers, regulators seamlessly. There were zero job losses, no salary reductions during these testing times, demonstrating our commitment to the well-being of our people. We addressed the queries of our lenders in a transparent manner, paying back over ₹ 18,000 Crores to them. We also revamped our processes, policies, systems and resources to ensure a smooth return to business as usual – without imposition of any penalty or limitations. Even in these tumultuous times, we managed to raise US$ 152 Million via a fully subscribed rights issue, a clear signal of continued investor confidence in our Company. While the MFIN regulations have affected performance of microfinance companies, we believe these reforms are grounded in good intent, with a strong focus on safeguarding borrowers' interests.

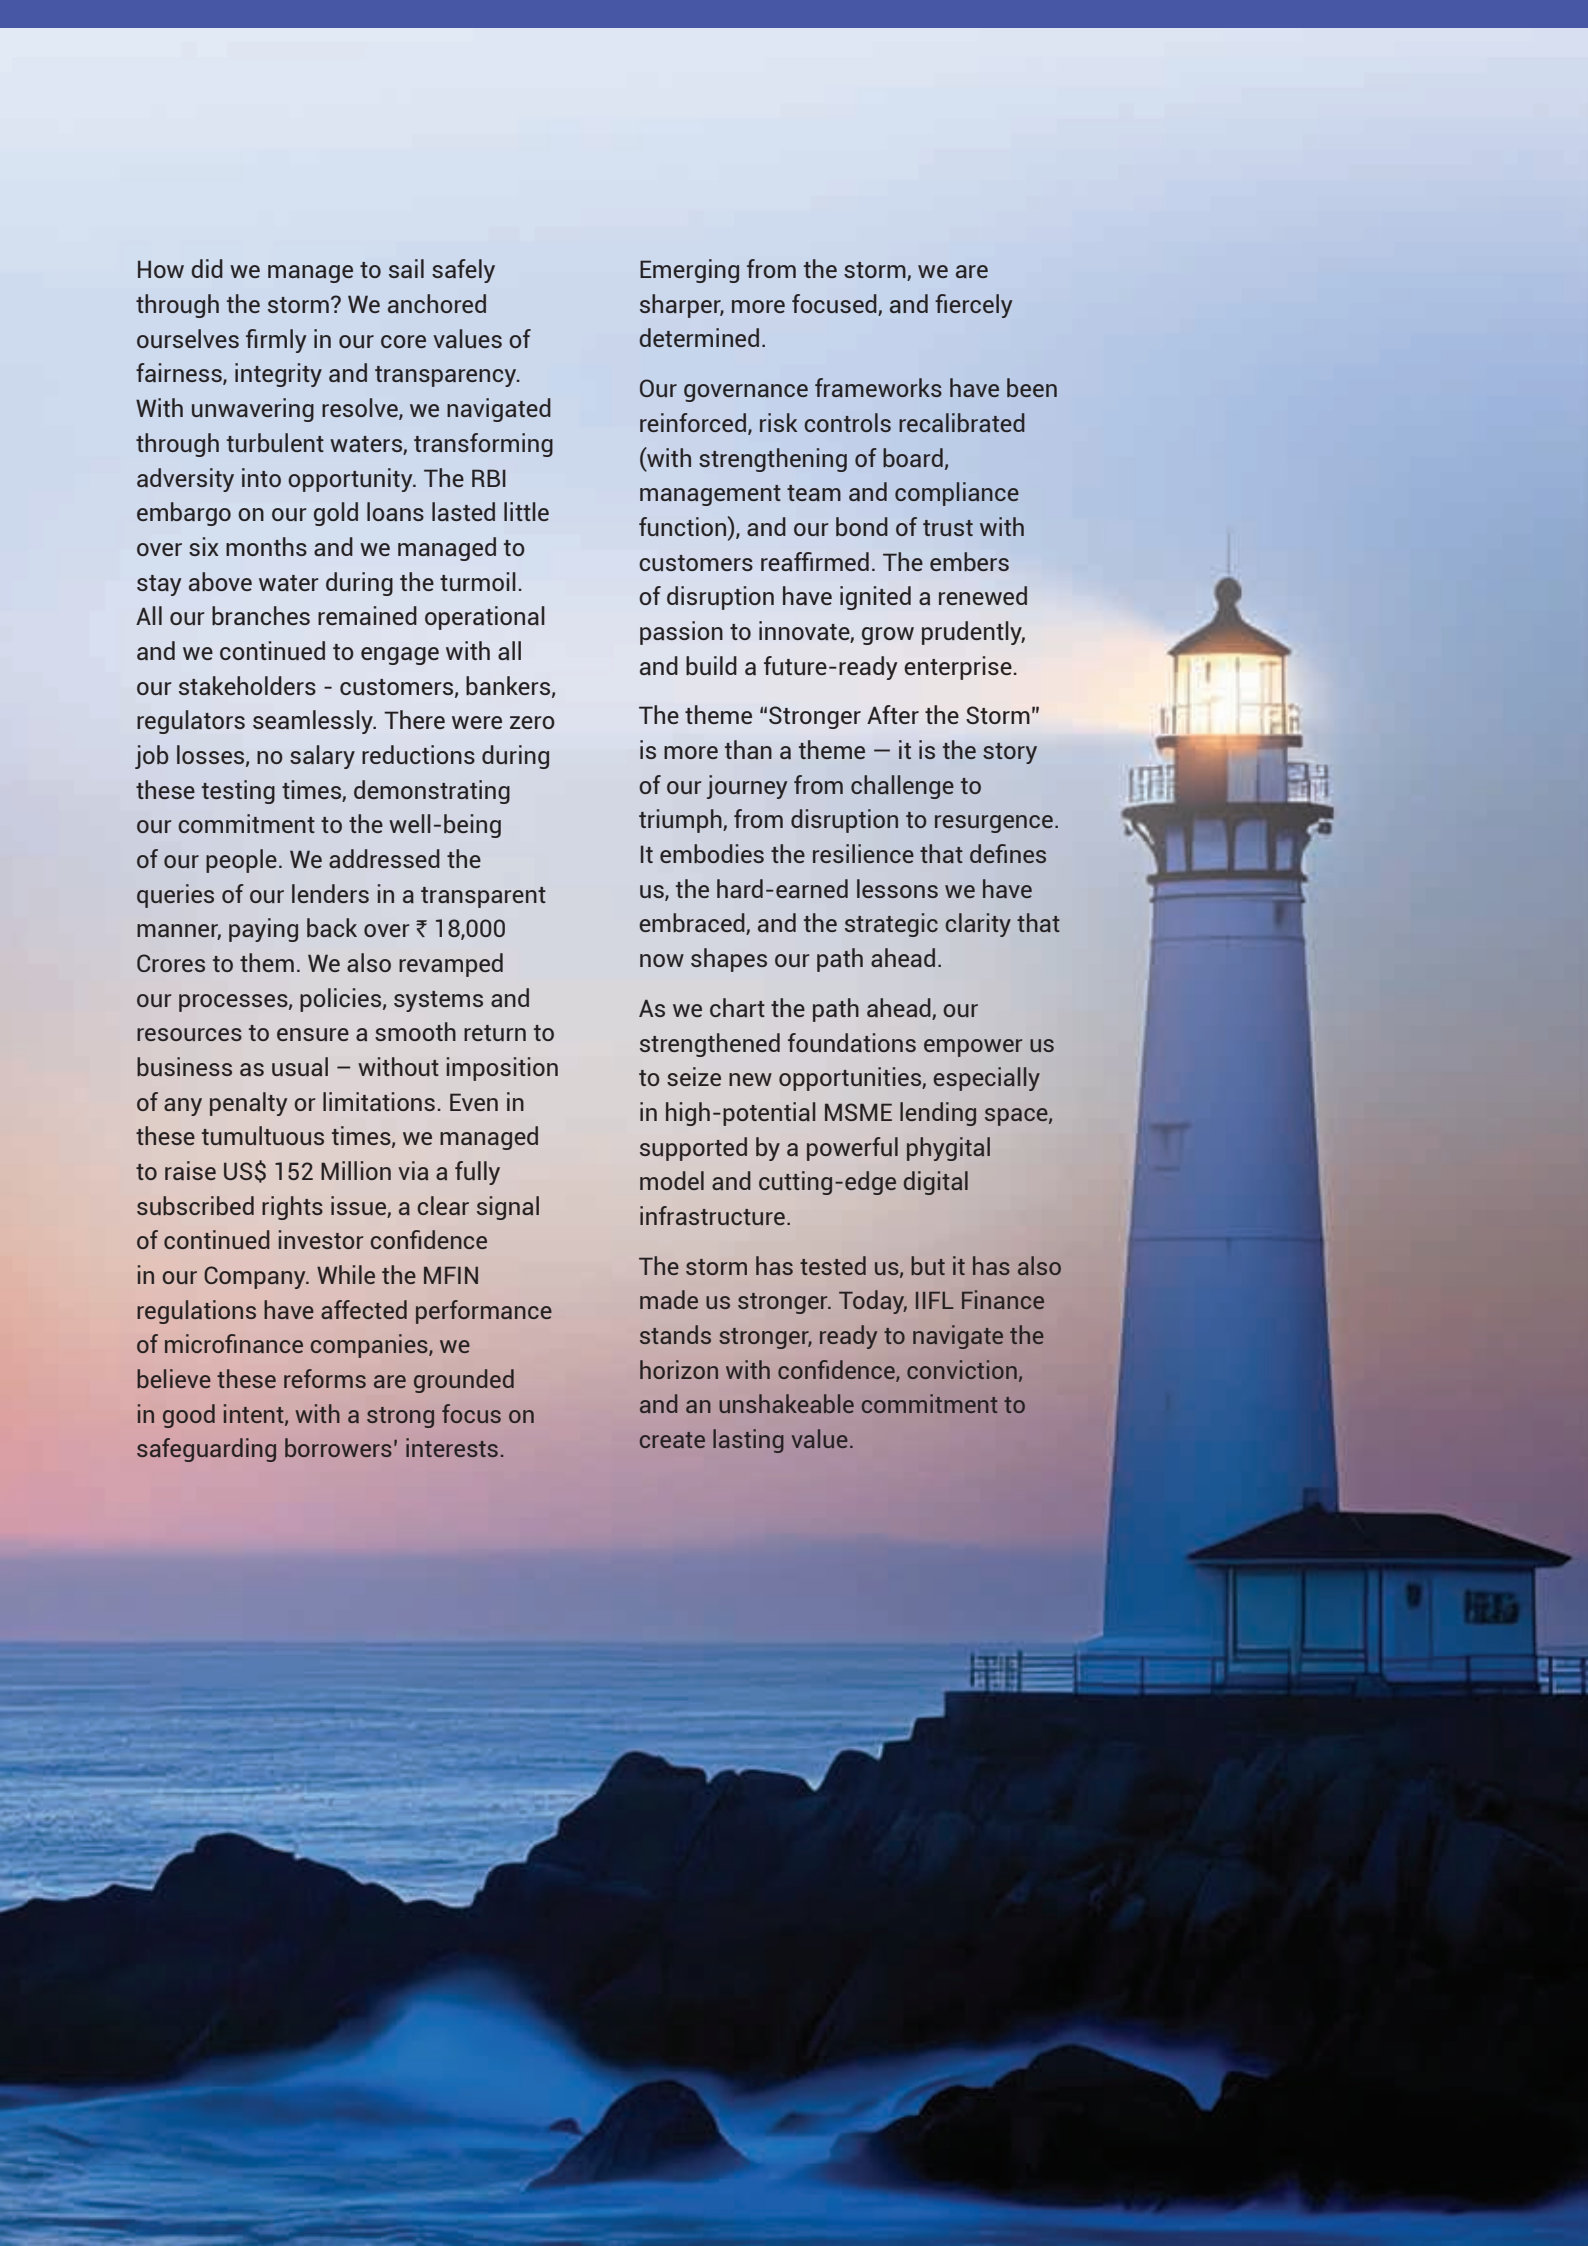

Emerging from the storm, we are sharper, more focused, and fiercely determined.

Our governance frameworks have been reinforced, risk controls recalibrated (with strengthening of board, management team and compliance function), and our bond of trust with customers reaffirmed. The embers of disruption have ignited a renewed passion to innovate, grow prudently, and build a future-ready enterprise.

The theme “Stronger After the Storm” is more than a theme — it is the story of our journey from challenge to triumph, from disruption to resurgence. It embodies the resilience that defines us, the hard-earned lessons we have embraced, and the strategic clarity that now shapes our path ahead.

As we chart the path ahead, our strengthened foundations empower us to seize new opportunities, especially in high-potential MSME lending space, supported by a powerful phygital model and cutting-edge digital infrastructure.

The storm has tested us, but it has also made us stronger. Today, IIFL Finance stands stronger, ready to navigate the horizon with confidence, conviction, and an unshakeable commitment to create lasting value.

In Memoriam

Mr. Kranti Sinha

(Independent Director, IIFL Group)

"A steady compass of wisdom and integrity, Mr. Sinha left behind not just footprints — but firm foundations."

It is with deep respect and profound sadness that we remember and honor Mr. Kranti Sinha, whose passing has left a void in the heart of IIFL Finance and the broader BFSI community.

A veteran with decades of leadership in the insurance and housing finance sectors, Mr. Sinha joined the Board of IIFL Group as an Independent Director in 2005. Over the years, his principled and insightful contributions helped shape our governance architecture, refine our long-term strategy, and build enduring trust with stakeholders.

He served on our Board with distinction until his retirement in 2019 from IIFL Finance and in 2023 from the Board of IIFL Home Finance, after which he remained a respected well-wisher and advisor.

More than a Board Member, Mr. Sinha was a mentor and guide to Mr. Nirmal Jain, Founder & Managing Director, and Mr. R. Venkataraman, Joint Managing Director. His wisdom illuminated many of our most important decisions—from navigating regulatory transitions to deepening financial inclusion.

Mr. Sinha believed in responsible innovation and disciplined growth. He championed ethical lending, strong risk frameworks, and outreach to underbanked communities—values that remain foundational to our mission.

Reflections

"Mr. Sinha's clarity of thought and unwavering principles were an inspiration to me personally and to all of us at IIFL."

Nirmal Jain, Founder & Managing Director

"He brought a calm strength and deep wisdom to every discussion. We are better because of his presence."

R. Venkataraman, Joint Managing Director

We extend our deepest condolences to his family and loved ones.
His legacy—of governance, integrity, and purpose-driven leadership—will always remain a part of IIFL's DNA.

IIFL FINANCE

CHAIRPERSON'S MESSAGE

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRPERSON'S DESK

About 84% of our branches are in non-metro areas and cater to the underserved populace of the country, taking formal credit deeper into the hinterlands of India. 91.27% of our unsecured MSME digital loans given are of less than ₹ 1 Million, breathing life into small ventures, propelling them toward greatness.

Dear Stakeholders,

It is my privilege to present to you IIFL Finance's Integrated Annual Report for FY 2024–25. This has been a year of transformation, learning, and resolute action—one that truly embodies our theme, Stronger after the Storm. The regulatory intervention on our gold loan business in March 2024 tested our agility, integrity, and institutional maturity. While the Reserve Bank of India's embargo temporarily restrained us from disbursing new gold loans, it also served as a critical opportunity to recalibrate our approach to risk and compliance.

We met the moment with urgency, clarity, and integrity—swiftly enacting corrective measures, elevating our internal systems, and recalibrating our priorities to meet the demands of the future. The completion of the special audit and our return to regular operations stand as a testament to our unwavering commitment to regulatory compliance.

More than a course correction, this journey has been a catalyst—fortifying our foundations, sharpening our focus, and igniting a renewed determination to build back better. We emerged more resilient, more responsible, and more deeply aligned with our enduring mission: to expand the reach of financial inclusion and create lasting impact for the communities we serve.

At the heart of our mission lies a deep commitment to broadening the reach of organized lending across the country. Our Company started with the dedication to serving the underserved—those often left behind by traditional financial systems—through an inclusive suite of loan products tailored to real, everyday needs. About 93% of our loans are for productive purposes, empowering borrowers to invest in their futures—funding home construction or repairs, educating their children, supporting agricultural activity, or fueling the growth of small businesses and service enterprises. We walk shoulder-to-shoulder with MSMEs, the backbone of India's employment engine, through agile, tech-driven lending solutions. In our journey spanning three decades, we have touched the lives of more than 8 Million customers, most of whom have been grassroots economy builders.

Currently, about 86% of our customers are from the economically weaker section, with annual income of ₹ 0-3 Lakhs. They now dare to dream big and pursue aspirations once thought out of reach. For many, our support has meant liberation from the exploitative grip of informal moneylenders, offering a path to dignity, stability, and financial empowerment. With all our wheels spinning and engine roaring, we are ready to accelerate innovation and drive forward at full speed. We continue to actively support the resilient and rising credit demand of India's small businesses—driven by the same mission that has guided us from the start: to democratize access to finance and build a more inclusive economy. About 84% of our branches are in non-metro areas and cater to the underserved populace of the country, taking formal credit deeper into the hinterlands of India. 91.27% of our unsecured MSME digital loans given are of less than ₹ 1 Million, breathing life into small ventures, propelling them toward greatness.

Macro landscape: A pillar of support

India is undergoing a paradigm shift—one that goes beyond cyclical economic growth and instead embraces structural transformation. The national aspiration of Viksit Bharat 2047, aimed at shaping India into a developed economy, is built on four foundational pillars: inclusive development, digital empowerment, world-class infrastructure, and sustainable livelihoods. These priorities are steadily reshaping the contours of the financial ecosystem.

In this long-term journey, financial inclusion is not just a policy goal—it is a strategic imperative. As the nation accelerates its push towards formalization of and equitable access to credit, NBFCs and microfinance institutions have emerged as critical enablers. Their ability to serve those traditionally overlooked by mainstream financial systems—such as small traders, self-employed individuals, women entrepreneurs, and informal households—makes them vital partners in India's developmental blueprint.

Our performance: Strengthening core, reviving momentum

FY 2024–25 was a year of reflection and realignment. Against the backdrop of regulatory intervention in our gold loan business, our overall growth remained subdued. The Company's consolidated AUM declined marginally by 1%, reflecting the temporary pause in gold loan disbursements for a significant part of the year.

Despite this softness in topline metrics, our balance sheet remained fundamentally strong. Asset quality was well contained, with Gross NPA at 2.2% and Net NPA at 1.0%, underscoring the effectiveness of our credit and risk management frameworks. Liquidity buffers were maintained at prudent levels throughout the year, ensuring seamless operations and the ability to meet all financial obligations with confidence.

Encouragingly, the second half of the year marked a turning point. With the embargo lifted and corrective actions firmly in place, business momentum improved across key segments. Disbursements gathered pace in home loans, MSME finance, digital lending, and gold loans—driven by renewed customer confidence, enhanced governance protocols, and the disciplined execution of our branch-led model.

This performance highlights the underlying resilience of our model and the agility of our teams. With stronger institutional focus, tighter controls, and restored momentum, we are well poised to return to a trajectory of sustainable growth in the coming year.

Our ESG commitment: Responsible growth, inclusive impact

We continued to advance our ESG agenda with a long-term, institution-wide perspective. On the environmental front, we accelerated paperless operations, energy-efficient practices, and green loan offerings—aligning with our commitment to responsible lending and climate-conscious growth. Socially, our focus on inclusive development remained strong. We retained our entire workforce through the year, despite operational disruptions, reaffirming our belief in protecting livelihoods. Through our flagship CSR initiative Sakhiyon Ki Baadi, we continued to empower out-of-school girls in Rajasthan with access to basic numeracy and literacy skills, and life skills. On governance, we responded to regulatory expectations with urgency and transparency—further strengthening our internal controls and assurance frameworks. As we look ahead, our ESG commitments will remain central to how we grow—with integrity, inclusivity, and long-term impact.

Closing thoughts: The road ahead

Resilience, reflection, and purposeful transformation have defined our recent journey. The challenges we navigated have not only strengthened our institutional core but also reinforced our commitment to ethical governance, stakeholder trust, and inclusive finance. We emerge from this phase more agile, more focused, and more aligned with our mission to empower underserved communities through responsible lending.

With the reinstatement of our gold loan business and strong momentum across MSME, housing, and digital lending segments, we enter FY 2025–26 with renewed confidence. Backed by strengthened compliance, enhanced operational discipline, and robust customer demand, we are targeting a return to double-digit AUM growth. Our strategic imperatives are clear—drive sustainable expansion, deepen customer reach, and deliver long-term value with accountability and purpose.

As I prepare to retire, I reflect with gratitude on the 17 years I have had the privilege to serve IIFL Finance. It has been a distinct opportunity to contribute to our shared vision and witness our growth and achievements first-hand. I am proud of the progress we have made together and confident that the strong foundation we have built will support continued success in the future. My best wishes to Nirmal, Venkat and team IIFL Finance for the future. I extend my heartfelt thanks to the board, management, staff, and stakeholders for their unwavering support throughout my tenure. I look forward to seeing this great organization flourish in the years ahead. .

MD'S MESSAGE

MANAGING DIRECTOR'S COMMUNIQUE

Our credit ratings remained AA (Stable) from CRISIL, reflecting the resilience of our balance sheet and the strength of our fundamentals. Our shareholders reaffirmed their confidence by fully subscribing to our ₹ 1,272 Crores rights issue, bolstering capital at a critical juncture.

Dear Stakeholders,

FY 2024–25 will be remembered as a defining chapter in the journey of IIFL Finance—a year of turbulence, tenacity, and transformation. The theme of this Annual Report—"Stronger After the Storm"—reflects not only the external challenges we weathered, but also the deep reserves of resilience we uncovered within.

Weathering a perfect storm

We encountered a confluence of unprecedented disruptions: a regulatory embargo on our gold loan business, systemic stress in the microfinance sector, an exceptional provision related to our AIF investment, and an extensive income tax search across offices and homes of key personnel. These events tested the very core of our institution. Yet, through it all, we remained steadfast—anchored in our values, powered by our people, and guided by our belief in India's regulatory framework and long-term potential.

A principled and decisive response

When the Reserve Bank of India imposed temporary restrictions on our gold loan operations, we acted with urgency, transparency, and responsibility. We engaged constructively with the regulator, conducted a rigorous root cause analysis, and implemented robust internal and external audit frameworks. Our systems and controls were recalibrated to ensure full compliance with regulatory expectations.

Importantly, we stood by our people—no branches were shut, no employees were laid off, and no salaries were cut. As disbursements resumed with enhanced safeguards and greater transparency, we recovered lost momentum within just 2-3 months.

Our microfinance subsidiary also came under pressure due to sector-wide external shocks, resulting in elevated provisions and temporary losses in the second and third quarters. Yet, even during this period, we remained true to our mission—supporting vulnerable borrowers with empathy and flexibility. Our conservatively built balance sheet absorbed the impact and safeguarded the long-term sustainability of the business.

As we navigated these disruptions, an income tax search was initiated across the group. We extended full cooperation to authorities, providing complete access to records and systems. IIFL has always upheld the highest standards of compliance, governance, and transparency—and we remain firmly committed to these principles.

Performance rebounds as the storm subsides

As the saying goes, "every storm runs out of wind", the second half of the year saw a strong resurgence in performance:

- Profit After Tax for FY25 stood at ₹ 578 Crores
- Q4 PAT grew by 208% quarter-on-quarter
- Gold loan AUM rose 40% quarter-on-quarter
- Gross NPA improved to 2.2%
- AUM grew 10% sequentially in Q4, with strong momentum across business lines

Our credit ratings remained AA (Stable) from CRISIL, reflecting the resilience of our balance sheet and the strength of our fundamentals. Our shareholders reaffirmed their confidence by fully subscribing to our ₹ 1,272 Crores rights issue, bolstering capital at a critical juncture.

Beyond the numbers, FY25 was a year of internal renewal. We streamlined operations, fortified our governance framework, upgraded our risk architecture, and realigned our strategy for long-term, sustainable growth.

Building for the future

As we step into FY26, our focus is on acceleration and innovation. We are investing meaningfully in AI-powered credit models, predictive risk engines, compliance automation, and fully digital customer journeys. These are not incremental improvements—they are foundational enablers of the future of finance.

We are also scaling our MSME and small business lending platform—an engine of inclusive growth and national resilience. Leveraging our pan-India branch network, advanced technology stack, and deep customer insights, we aim to build a high quality, scalable lending franchise serving India's entrepreneurial backbone.

A tribute to Mr. Arun Purwar

This year also marks the retirement of our Chairman, Mr. A. K. Purwar, after more than 17 years of extraordinary service. His wisdom, integrity, and strategic guidance have shaped our institution and strengthened our governance. During the RBI embargo, he stood by the Company with calm leadership and unshakeable support. While he now steps down from formal responsibilities, he remains a mentor, guide, and source of inspiration. On behalf of the entire IIFL family, I extend our heartfelt gratitude and deepest respect.

Governance before growth

If one principle has defined our journey this year, it is this: Governance before Growth. At IIFL, we believe that sustainable growth must be rooted in integrity, transparency, and regulatory alignment. Growth is vital—but only when built on the foundations of trust and long-term purpose.

Amidst the disruptions, our ESG initiatives continued undeterred. Our flagship education program reached over 32,000 girl children in Rajasthan's rural districts, alongside other impactful interventions in water access, women's empowerment, and skill development. Remarkably, during the embargo, our employees voluntarily took on additional responsibilities to contribute more—demonstrating the true spirit of IIFL.

Stronger. Sharper. Clearer.

FY 2024-25 was not just a storm—it was a crucible. Moreover, we have emerged from it stronger, sharper, and more focused. Our foundation is more resilient, our leadership more aligned, and our strategy clearer than ever.

To our customers, regulators, investors, and employees—thank you. Your trust has been our anchor in turbulent times. As we move ahead, that trust remains our greatest asset—and our most solemn responsibility.

Warm regards,

MATERIALITY ASSESSMENT

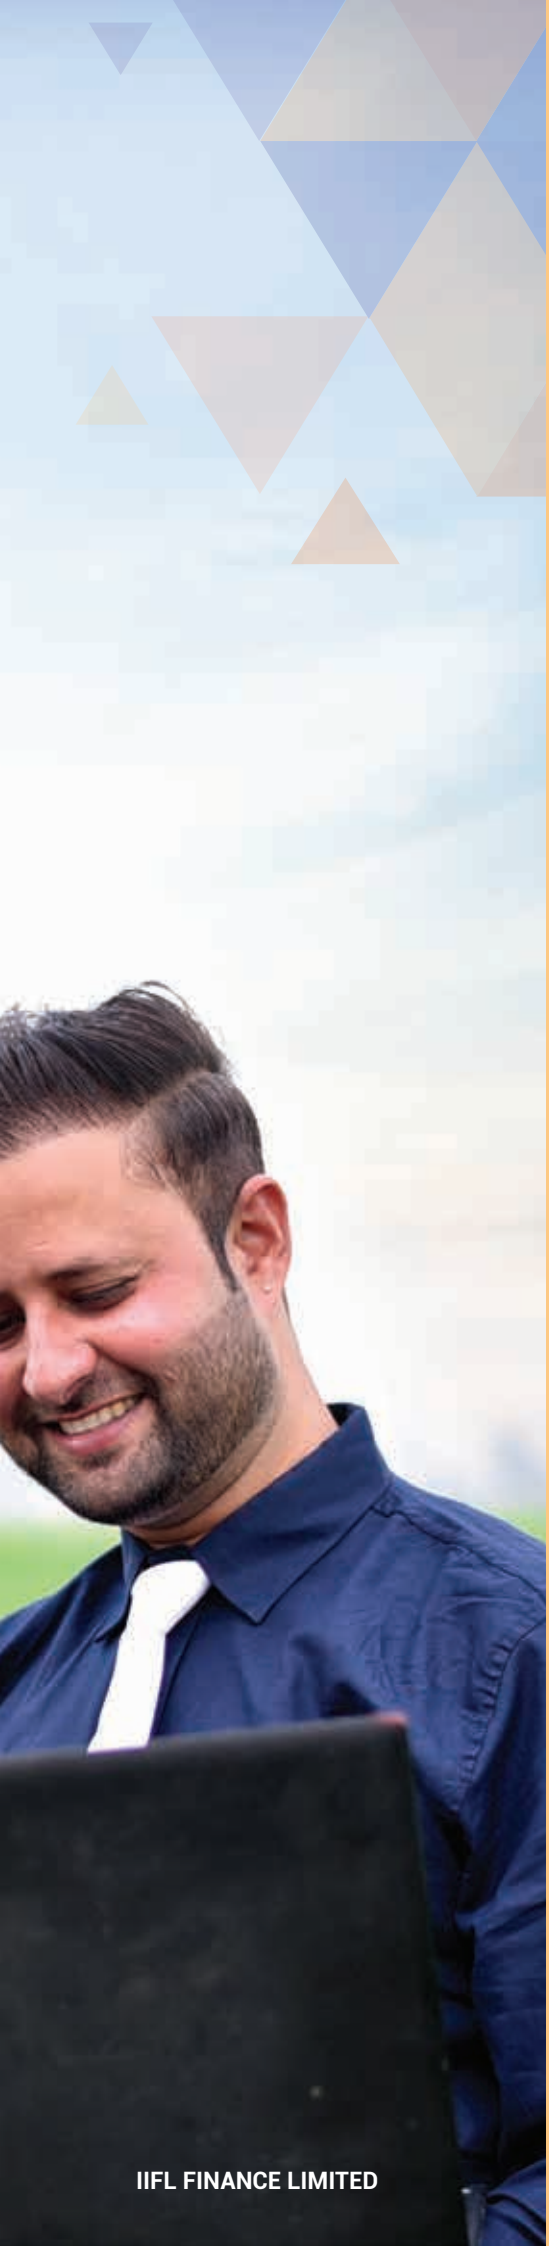

FOCUSING ON WHAT MATTERS MOST

During FY 2023-24, we conducted our second materiality assessment to prioritize the most important areas for channeling our resources and making strategic alignments. This exercise enabled us to determine priority areas where our strategic efforts and resource allocations would yield the greatest impact. It focused on identifying the most significant economic, environmental, and social impacts—both actual and potential—including those related to human rights.

The assessment adhered to the GRI Standards 2021 and was enriched by insights from global benchmarks such as SASB and MSCI, ensuring relevance to our business model. Key material topics were shortlisted through comparative analysis and subsequently prioritized through structured engagements with stakeholders, senior leadership, and the Board.

Post this exercise, the scope of our material priorities has broadened to include human rights, diversity and inclusion, and customer financial protection—reflecting our growing commitment to responsible business practices. A robust monitoring framework supports our progress tracking, leveraging defined goals and KPIs to evaluate impact. Regular reviews facilitate early identification of gaps and corrective actions. Lessons learned—especially the need for data-centric governance and sustained stakeholder dialogue—are actively embedded into our operating procedures, reinforcing alignment with our Company's long-term strategic vision.

MATERIALITY DETERMINATION PROCESS

IDENTIFY

Material priorities that positively or negatively impact our performance and stakeholders through an assessment of key sectoral trends, risks, opportunities and peer benchmarking.

This identification was based on:

- Peer benchmarking and external reporting trends
- Risk registers, regulatory trends, and sustainability developments
- Engagement with customers, employees, investors, regulators, and communities

Material priorities were identified based on the significance of their impacts, determined through internal stakeholder engagement, considering both their relevance to stakeholders and their influence on our business performance.

PRIORITIZE

Identified issues were prioritized based on:

- The significance of their impacts through internal stakeholder engagemen, considering their relative importance to stakeholders and their impact on our business performance
- The extent of their potential economic, environmental, social, and governance impacts

INTEGRATE

Integrate these priorities into our strategy, develop KPIs and monitor our performance

The prioritized material topics were embedded into our strategic framework.

- This integration helps align business priorities with sustainable value creation

RISK MANAGEMENT

BUILT ON PRUDENCE, POWERED BY VIGILANCE

Risk management forms the backbone of IIFL Finance's pursuit of sustainable growth. Our approach is holistic and forward-looking, enabling early identification and mitigation of risks spanning financial, operational, regulatory, and reputational areas. By embedding risk awareness into every layer of our operations, we safeguard business continuity, reinforce institutional resilience, and create long-term value for all stakeholders.

THREE LINES OF DEFENCE MODEL

Our risk management is deeply embedded in our organizational culture and operational fabric. We diligently monitor and manage potential threats to ensure business resilience amid evolving uncertainties. Our approach prioritizes compliance with regulatory requirements and global best practices, while promoting a strong culture of risk awareness and accountability across all levels of the organization. Through proactive identification and mitigation of risks, we safeguard stakeholder interests and support our long-term growth trajectory.

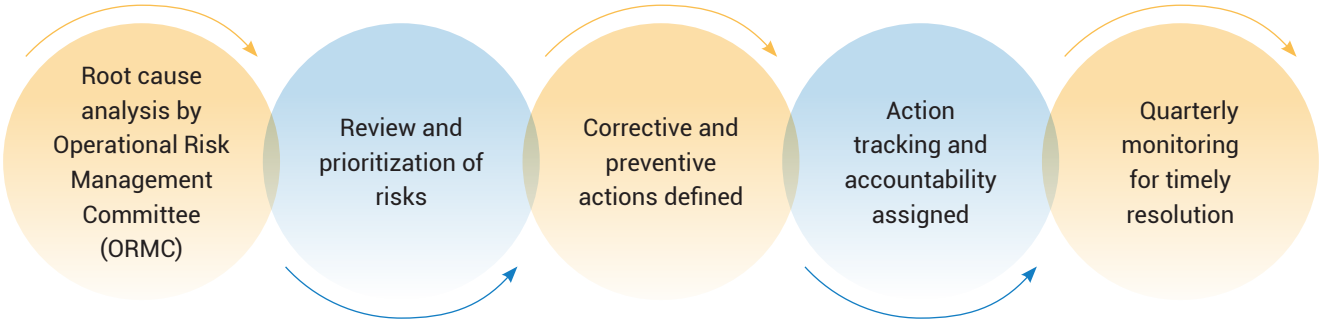

To institutionalize this approach, we have adopted the 'Three Lines of Defence' model. This structured framework delineates clear roles and responsibilities to ensure comprehensive risk oversight:

Line of Defence	Responsibility
1st Line	Business & Operational Management – Own and manage risks
2nd Line	Risk & Compliance – Oversight, guidance and support
3rd Line	Internal Audit – Independent assurance

OPERATIONAL RISK GOVERNANCE: STRUCTURED. ACCOUNTABLE. PREVENTIVE.

IIFL Finance's operational risk governance is not reactive—it is preventative, structured, and deeply embedded in our culture of accountability. Anchored by a proactive review system, we ensure that risks are not only identified and mitigated, but also transformed into opportunities for improvement. With dedicated oversight bodies, clearly defined responsibilities, and real-time reporting mechanisms, we drive operational integrity and organizational resilience.

MARKET OPPORTUNITY

RIDING THE WAVE OF FINANCIAL INCLUSION

UNDERSERVED MSME SECTOR

India's MSME sector continues to face significant credit access challenges. In the MSME landscape, despite contributing around 30% to India's GDP and employing over 110 million individuals, a significant credit gap remains. According to NITI Aayog (2024), only 19% of MSME credit demand was met by formal financial channels, leaving an estimated ₹ 80 Lakh Crores gap.

This substantial credit gap presents a compelling opportunity for NBFCs like IIFL Finance to expand their reach by offering tailored, tech-enabled lending solutions.

BANK-NBFC PARTNERSHIP MODEL

The Bank–NBFC co-lending model offers NBFCs like IIFL Finance a scalable opportunity to expand credit delivery without significantly increasing balance sheet risk. According to RBI data, co-lending portfolios between banks and NBFCs have grown substantially, with public sector banks' exposure crossing ₹ 11,497 Crores in FY 2023-24. This model allows NBFCs to leverage their reach into underserved markets while banks provide low-cost capital—creating a win-win for credit expansion.

ROBUST WORKING CAPITAL DEMAND

India's corporate sector is poised for substantial growth, with Moody's estimating that 16 of the 23 rated non-financial companies will require between US$ 70–100 Billion annually over the next two years. This capital is earmarked for capacity expansion, inorganic growth, refinancing, working capital needs, and shareholder payments. The surge in capital requirements is driven by strong consumption growth, high-capacity utilization, and ongoing infrastructure investments. NBFCs having a diversified lending portfolio and deep market penetration, are well-positioned to meet this escalating demand.

UNDER-PENETRATION OF GOLD LOANS, HOUSING LOANS AND MICROFINANCE

India's secured and inclusive finance segments remain significantly under-penetrated. The organized gold loan market stood at ₹ 7.1 Lakh Crores in FY 2023-24, with a penetration of just 5.6% despite widespread household gold ownership. In housing finance, individual loans touched ₹ 33.5 Lakh Crores by Q2 FY25, but regional disparities—particularly in Eastern and rural India—highlight untapped demand. Similarly, the microfinance sector serves over 6.6 Crores unique borrowers, yet remains underserved in tier-III and IV markets. NBFCs having deep rural reach and proven expertise across all three segments are strongly positioned to scale lending in these high-potential categories through a compliance-first, tech-enabled approach.

GROWING DIGITALIZATION AND ANALYTICS

India's digital lending landscape is undergoing a transformative shift, with projected disbursements expected to reach ₹ 47.4 Trillion by FY 2025-26 . This growth is fueled by increased smartphone penetration, enhanced digital literacy, and the integration of advanced technologies such as AI-driven credit scoring and real-time analytics. Robust digital infrastructure and data-driven approach help differentiate NBFCs who can capitalize most on this evolution.

SHOWCASING RESILIENCE DURING HEADWINDS

STANDING TALL THROUGH CHALLENGING TIMES

During the year, we encountered a critical regulatory challenge that tested the strength of our Company's governance, and operations. Despite headwinds, our Company stood firm—anchored by its commitment to transparency, business continuity, and stakeholder trust. What could have been a setback became a catalyst for reflection, improvement, and long-term strengthening of systems and values.

CHALLENGES

In FY 2023-24, RBI imposed regulatory restrictions on IIFL Finance's gold loan disbursements due to certain process-level deviations in the gold loan vertical. This action followed supervisory observations relating to documentation, storage, and other operational aspects of gold loan management.

The restrictions resulted in a temporary halt in our Company's ability to extend new gold loans, which impacted disbursement volumes within that business segment during the period. Given the strategic importance of gold loans in our Company's overall retail portfolio, the development required immediate attention to compliance, process governance, and stakeholder assurance.

OUR RESPONSE

- Fully cooperated with the Reserve Bank of India
- Facilitated a comprehensive audit-led by an RBI-appointed Special Auditor to review gold loan operations in detail
- Commissioned an internal audit by a global Big Four firm to assess and strengthen internal systems and process adherence
- Conducted a thorough root cause analysis to identify operational gaps and improve process discipline across the gold loan vertical
- Implemented corrective actions, including strengthened documentation practices, enhanced vault security, and revised standard operating procedures
- Upgraded internal control and compliance monitoring frameworks to ensure alignment with regulatory expectations
- Reinforced a compliance-first approach across teams through re-training and process realignment initiatives

ENVIRONMENTAL

DRIVING GROWTH WITH A SUSTAINABLE VISION

Environmental responsibility is integral to our business ethos. We are committed to reducing our carbon footprint through energy-efficient operations, waste minimization, and sustainable financing. By embedding environmental stewardship into our strategy and embracing innovative technologies, we strive to create lasting value for our stakeholders while contributing to a greener, more sustainable future.

Key challenges

- With expanding branch operations and digital infrastructure, managing Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions—particularly from electricity consumption—posed a significant challenge
- As a financial services Company operating in leased premises, direct control over water discharge and treatment was limited. A significant portion of water was discharged untreated into municipal systems
- Growth in digital operations led to rising e-waste (computers, servers, batteries) and residual paper waste from onboarding and servicing operations
- Indirect emissions such as business travel, procurement, and vendor-related emissions were not formally tracked, limiting full impact visibility
- Ensuring structured and standardized environmental management across key operational hubs while aligning with global sustainability benchmarks

Our response

- Adopted Tata Green Tariff at the Mumbai office, achieved LEED Gold Certification for the Gurugram office building, and implemented LED lighting with smart sensors to enhance energy efficiency
- Installed rainwater harvesting, sewage treatment systems and deployed aerators, water softeners and recycled water setups for secondary use like flushing and gardening at key offices
- Partnered with certified vendors for responsible recycling of e-waste. Introduced bamboo-based tissue paper and digitalized recruitment, onboarding, and customer servicing to reduce paper usage
- Initiated Scope 3 emission mapping processes for travel and IT assets to enhance transparency and accountability
- We obtained ISO 14001:2015 certification for our offices in Mumbai, Thane, and Bangalore, adopting a globally recognized framework to enhance our environmental management system, ensure compliance, promote resource efficiency, and drive continuous improvement

OUR APPROACH TO ENVIRONMENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

Environmental stewardship is not just a compliance necessity, but a strategic imperative embedded in our operational ethos. While our financial services model naturally carries a low direct environmental footprint, we are committed to continually minimizing our ecological impact through energy-efficient infrastructure, responsible resource consumption, and green lending initiatives. We believe that profitability and sustainability can — and must — coexist.

OPTIMIZING ENERGY EFFICIENCY

We are actively embedding sustainability into our operational infrastructure. Advanced energy management systems have been implemented across key offices, with sensor-based controls regulating lighting, HVAC, and temperature to reduce consumption and optimize efficiency. Select locations are also powered through renewable energy sources such as the Tata Green Tariff.

HUMARA KUTUMB

Humara Kutumb is IIFL Home Finance Limited's flagship CSR initiative focused on advancing sustainable and green self-construction practices among economically weaker section and low-income group households. The project provides technical support and financial assistance to help borrowers secure green building certifications for their self-constructed homes. Through this initiative, homeowners are empowered to adopt climate-resilient and resource-efficient construction practices, improving long-term affordability and environmental impact.

The project also includes the development of demo houses in key geographies to serve as live models of green, affordable construction. These demo units are intended to educate local communities, masons, and other stakeholders about sustainable building techniques and certification benefits. The program aligns with national priorities on housing for all and environmental sustainability, while also contributing to IIFL's broader ESG goals.

PROMOTING GREEN HOUSING THROUGH SUSTAINABLE FINANCE

Through our housing finance subsidiary, we are advancing India's green transition by offering preferential financing for certified eco-friendly homes. As of FY 2024–25, over 26,358 green housing units have been funded, contributing to measurable climate outcomes including 24,317 MWh of annual energy savings, 1,401 ML of water savings, and 22,371 tonnes of CO_2e offset. These efforts are supported by initiatives like Green Value Partnership (GVP) and technical collaborations with development institutions to mainstream sustainable construction in the affordable housing sector.

SMART WATER STEWARDSHIP

Our offices are equipped with water-efficient infrastructure, including aerators, water softeners, and an 8,000-litre STP at our Gurugram office. Treated water is reused for landscaping and non-potable applications, reducing freshwater withdrawal and discharge. Additionally, rainwater harvesting systems and drainage chambers are in place to optimize water use and reduce environmental impact, reinforcing our responsible water stewardship approach.

GREEN VALUE PARTNERSHIP (GVP)

The Green Value Partnership stands as a flagship initiative that bridges the gap between sustainability and scalable housing solutions. The program supports builders and homeowners with training, certification, design support, and ESG evaluations to foster climate-resilient and resource-efficient housing. Through on-ground models and community engagement, GVP contributes meaningfully to SDGs 11 (Sustainable Cities) and 13 (Climate Action) while enabling responsible growth in India's housing ecosystem.

GREEN HANDBOOK 2.0 – BUILDING HOMES FOR TOMORROW

As part of our CSR initiatives, IIFL Home Finance Limited released Green Handbook Volume II, a comprehensive guide aimed at promoting sustainable self-construction practices in Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities. Building on the success of the first edition, this volume focuses on low-rise residential self-construction and offers practical, actionable insights tailored for individual homeowners, contractors, and small developers.

Authored by renowned architect Ashok B. Lall and peer-reviewed by the Civil Engineering Department of IIT Bombay, the handbook covers climate-responsive design, energy-efficient techniques, and green certification pathways. Professors Venkata Santosh Kumar and Prabhat Sharma from IIT Bombay also conducted performance simulations to validate the real-world impact of the recommended strategies.

In the upcoming phase, we aim to amplify the reach of this knowledge through targeted workshops and awareness sessions, helping embed sustainability at the grassroots level in India's affordable housing ecosystem.

OUR COMMUNITIES

TRANSFORMING LIVES THROUGH IMPACTFUL PROGRAMS

Key challenges

- Several of our target communities reside in remote and underdeveloped regions with limited infrastructure and logistical constraints, making program implementation and monitoring more complex
- Driving sustained behavioral and socio-economic change, particularly in areas such as financial literacy, health, and skilling, requires interventions that go beyond one-time engagement or annual targets
- Engaging with local communities in a consistent, scalable, and impact-oriented manner across geographies

Our response

- We partnered with local NGOs and community-based organizations with strong grassroots presence and trust capital. These collaborations enabled us to navigate logistical challenges effectively and ensure that our initiatives—especially in education and healthcare—reached intended beneficiaries efficiently

DRIVING SUSTAINABLE CHANGE THROUGH PURPOSEFUL CSR

IIFL Finance recognizes its responsibility to contribute meaningfully to the communities it serves. Our CSR initiatives are led by the IIFL Foundation, which works in close coordination with the CSR Committee, CSR Advisory Committee, and the leadership team to identify and implement programs that align with our Company's vision for inclusive development.

SOCIAL IMPACT ASSESSMENT: MEASURING WHAT MATTERS

Impact is meaningful only when it leads to measurable, lasting change in the lives of people. Guided by this principle, IIFL Foundation adopts a structured social impact assessment framework that combines strategic planning, stakeholder consultations, and robust monitoring and evaluation.

One of the key programs assessed in FY 2024–25 was Sakhiyon Ki Baadi, which has expanded from 100 centers in 2016 to over 1,100+ learning hubs, reaching more than 32,000 girls across 15 districts at IIFL Group level. A third-party evaluation revealed:

- 94% of educators confirmed expanded reach into underserved areas
- 97% of students showed increased interest in learning
- 77% of students reported better social interaction and classroom participation
- 96% of educators improved their digital skills
- 32% of educators reported enhanced household income due to economic participation
- 68% of students demonstrated notable academic improvement

These findings not only validate the program's impact but also inform future enhancements. Through continuous assessment, each initiative is fine-tuned to maximize its value and effectiveness—ensuring that every action creates real, measurable progress.

METHODOLOGICAL INSIGHTS

The impact of the Sakhiyon Ki Baadi initiative was assessed through an independent third-party study conducted by KPMG India, guided by the OECD-DAC evaluation framework. The evaluation followed a mixed-method approach, combining quantitative surveys and qualitative tools such as in-depth interviews and focus group discussions. Data was collected from 807 stakeholders, including 417 students, 293 parents, and 49 educators (Dakshas), along with implementing partners, school teachers, and local Government representatives across six districts. This comprehensive methodology enabled a holistic and credible evaluation of the program's relevance, effectiveness, and sustainability.

MARKETING INITIATIVES

KEY MARKETING INITIATIVES DURING 2024-25

Gold loan-focused initiatives

IIFL Finance strengthened its gold loan positioning through the Mahashakti Campaign, highlighting gold as a reliable financial lifeline during uncertain times. Tailored for rural and women borrowers, the campaign was amplified during festive seasons and Women's Day to build emotional and cultural resonance. On-ground Gold Loan Melas and WhatsApp-led promotions were paired with referral tools to boost visibility and customer trust.

Referral-driven campaigns

To scale organic customer acquisition and improve branch-level engagement, IIFL Finance launched structured referral programs during the year. These included customer-facing referral campaigns as well as internal Referral Leagues at the branch level. Employees were encouraged to actively promote services within their communities, incentivizing both awareness and participation. These initiatives not only boosted lead generation but also helped instil trust, as referrals came from known and credible sources. The customers and employees were able to earn points and use them for various options like Vouchers, Gift Cards, Recharges and Bill Payments.

Video-first content strategy

Recognizing the growing influence of visual content, IIFL Finance invested in a video-first storytelling approach. Short films and festival-themed reels were developed to emotionally connect with audiences and simplify financial concepts. These videos were deployed across Instagram, Facebook, and YouTube, helping to humanize loan offerings and increase engagement with a younger, digitally savvy demographic.

AI-powered content creation

To streamline content production and maintain speed-to-market, IIFL Finance adopted an AI-enabled approach for creating marketing material. This technology allowed for the rapid generation of creatives, tailored messaging, and sharper personalisation across customer segments. The AI tools ensured consistency in branding while accelerating the pace and responsiveness of the campaigns.

Segment-specific targeting

Campaigns were carefully tailored to meet the unique needs of various customer segments. One key strategy focused on women, highlighting their increasing role as financial decision-makers. Through stories and testimonials, the campaigns illustrated how women leveraged gold loans to support family and business needs. Similarly, small businesses were targeted through content that reflected their aspirations and showcased IIFL's MSME lending support.

Multi-channel customer engagement

A robust multi-channel strategy ensured wide outreach and deeper customer connection. Educational blogs, referral features, and interactive content enhanced digital engagement, while high-footfall rural mandis and melas enabled personal, trust-led conversations. This blend of digital and physical touchpoints helped IIFL Finance stay accessible, relatable, and responsive across its diverse customer base.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Sl. No.	Observations/Remarks	Management Response
1.	The Company has not submitted its annual audited financial results along with the audit report for financial year ended March 31, 2024 within sixty days from the end of the financial year pursuant to Regulation 33 (3) (d), Regulation 52 (1) and Regulation 52 (2) (d) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. Subsequently, BSE Limited and National Stock Exchange of India vide their email dated June 28, 2024 has imposed fine of ₹ 94,400/- each. The Company has paid the fine.	Due to certain internal contingencies, the Company experienced substantial disruptions to its operational workflows and financial processes. These unforeseen circumstances necessitated an in-depth internal assessment and process adjustments within the affected business segment to restore operational integrity and maintain financial reporting standards. As a result, there was an unavoidable delay in the completion of audit procedures. We wish to emphasize that the delay was beyond the control of the management and was directly attributable to compliance with regulatory directives. The Company has taken all reasonable steps to cooperate with the auditors and to work toward timely resolution of the issues. Further, there was no material impact on the financial, operations, or other activities of the Company.
2.	The Company has paid remuneration to Mr. Nirmal Jain – Managing Director of the Company in excess of maximum remuneration as provided under Section 197 read together with Schedule V of the Companies Act, 2013 and Regulation 17 (6) (e) of Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015. We have been informed that due to RBI cease and desist order on Gold Loan business from March 04, 2024 to September 19, 2024, the business volume and the resultant net profit for the current fiscal was heavily impacted resulting in payment of excess remuneration. The Company proposes to obtain approval of members at the ensuing Annual General Meeting for waiver of excess remuneration.	This situation arose primarily due to an unforeseen regulatory development during the year. As informed earlier, the Reserve Bank of India had imposed a temporary restriction on the Company's Gold Loan business, which remained in effect until September 19, 2024. This restriction significantly impacted the Company's operations, resulting in a decline in business volume and profitability. Consequently, the remuneration, exceeded the permissible limits under applicable laws owing to the shortfall in net profits.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

GLOBAL ECONOMY

The global economic landscape continues to face significant headwinds, prompting a downward revision of growth projections. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has lowered its global GDP growth forecast for 2025 to 2.8%, from an earlier estimate of 3.3% on account of persistent geopolitical tensions, tightening financial conditions, supply chain disruptions and tariff imposition leading to price wars. Rising trade tensions are expected to significantly dampen global trade activity. As per IMF's World Economic Outlook, global trade growth is projected to slow sharply from 3.8% in 2024 to just 1.7% in 2025. This decline reflects heightened trade policy uncertainty, which is affecting all countries by prompting businesses to scale back procurement and investment decisions, while financial institutions re-evaluate credit exposures.

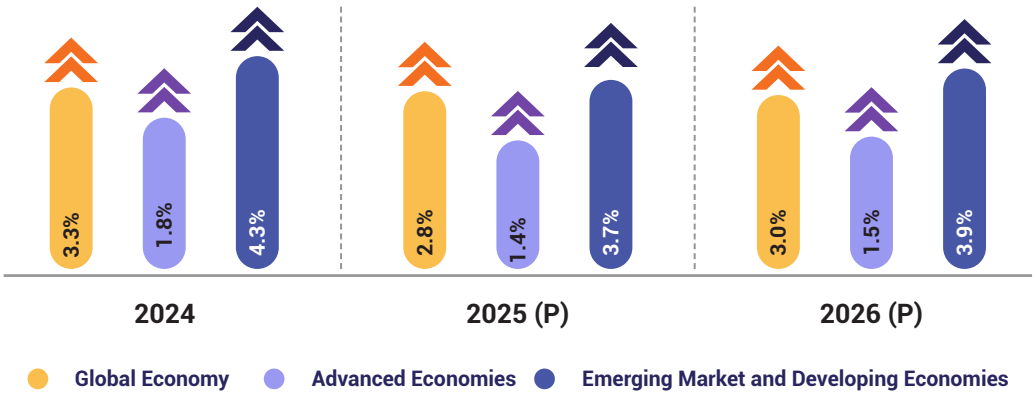

Although inflationary trends have begun to ease, headline inflation remains elevated averaging around 4.5% with underlying pressures from rising services costs and wage growth. These factors are collectively weighing on consumption, investment, and overall economic momentum, reinforcing a cautious and fragmented global landscape.

The U.S. economy is forecasted to grow at 1.8% in 2025, impacted by renewed trade tensions and tariff measures, while China's projected slowdown to 4% reflects continued challenges in export-led growth and its real estate sector.

India remains on a strong footing, with GDP growth projected at 6.5% in 2025, underpinned by resilient domestic consumption and sustained infrastructure investment. This favorable macroeconomic environment supports continued expansion in credit demand and fosters growth across key sectors including housing, MSMEs, renewable energy, logistics, and manufacturing.

To sum up the global economic scenario, the growth trajectory is expected to be moderate in 2025, with advanced economies projected to expand at a slower pace. Advanced economies are projected to grow at a subdued pace of 1.4% in 2025, down from 1.8% in 2024. Emerging Markets and Developing Economies (EMDEs) are expected to grow at 3.7% in 2025, compared to 4.3% in 2024. The outlook through 2025 indicates that central banks will adopt measured monetary policy decisions that will steer interest rates and investment patterns. The heightened uncertainty and tightening of financial conditions are expected to weigh on economic activity in the near term. On the flip side, it is that estimated the global growth prospects could strengthen significantly if economies adopt a more constructive and stable trade policy approach, restoring confidence among investors that would stimulate global economic expansion.

INDIAN ECONOMY

India has demonstrated remarkable resilience amid global headwinds in FY 2024–25, firmly retaining its position as the world's fifth-largest economy and continuing on a path of robust and inclusive growth. While advanced economies continued to face macroeconomic headwinds ranging from persistent inflation and tight monetary policies to geopolitical tensions and supply chain vulnerabilities, India remained resilient, charting a strong and steady growth trajectory. India recorded GDP growth of 6.5% for FY 2024-25. From an aggregate demand perspective, private final consumption expenditure grew 7.2% in FY 2024-25, driven by a revival in rural demand. On the supply side, real gross value added (GVA) grew by 6.4% in FY 2024-25. The services sector is expected to remain resilient, growing at 7.2%, driven by robust activity in financial services, real estate, professional services, public administration, defence, and other related sectors. The agriculture sector grew 4.6% in FY 2024-25, while the industrial sector grew by 5.9%, supported by strong performance in construction, electricity, gas, water supply, and other utility services.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

India on the global trade front:

- India's total exports grew by 6.3% to reach a record US$ 824.9 Billion in FY 2024–25, up from US$ 778.1 Billion in FY 2023–24, as per data released by the RBI for March 2025.
- As of March 2025, India's gross Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) inflows for FY 2024–25 reached US$81 Billion, marking a 13.7% increase from the previous fiscal year.
- India's current account deficit (CAD) in Q3 FY2024-25 inched up to US$ 11.5 Billion from US$ 10.4 Billion in Q3 FY2023-24, remaining steady at 1.1% of GDP in both quarters. Notably, the deficit was lower than ICRA's projection of 1.4% of GDP for the period.
- As of April 4, 2025, India's foreign exchange reserves stood at US$ 676.3 Billion, offering an import cover of nearly 11 months and reflecting the strength of the external sector.

India's resilience: Navigating growth amid global uncertainty

Despite a global economic slowdown amid high interest rates and geopolitical tension, India demonstrated resilience and stands strong as the world's fifth-largest economy. What cushions India against a moderated global growth outlook and a delayed synchronized recovery in industrial economies amid evolving trade and policy regulations, is the country's robust domestic consumption-led growth model. Unlike several major global economies that are more dependent on external demand, India's relatively self-reliant economic structure offers a shield against global headwinds. While economies such as China continue to face pressure from subdued export demand and domestic sectoral imbalances, India's internal demand dynamics provide greater stability and supports sustained growth momentum. The surge in capital flows from DIIs have helped to reduce the sensitivity of Indian capital markets to foreign capital volatility.

The long-term objective under "Viksit Bharat 2047" to transform India into a self-reliant and prosperous economy by 2047 and the focus on de-regulation and adapting to global shifts from the model of Globalization to "Geo-Economic Fragmentation" entails that India invigorates its domestic manufacturing and strengthens its SME sector. Structural reforms through initiatives such as Smart Advanced Manufacturing and Rapid Transformation Hub (SAMARTH) Udyog centers, 'Make in India' and 'Digital India' have further fortified domestic manufacturing, making it an attractive arena for foreign investment. The ease of doing business in India got fresh impetus by rationalizing regulatory burdens and promoting a more business-friendly environment. Boosting consumption through higher income tax exemption limit and implementing many structural reforms as presented in the Budget FY 2024-25, is expected to augment investments in critical sectors and maintain a stable macroeconomic environment conducive to robust and sustainable growth. According to the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (MoSPI), the combined (rural and urban) headline inflation stood at 3.16% in April 2025, down from 3.34% in March 2025.

In response to the sustained moderation in inflation, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) implemented three consecutive repo rate cuts in 2025, totaling 100 basis points. The latest reduction occurred on June 6, bringing the repo rate down to 5.50%.

Real GDP growth

India's economy maintained strong momentum in FY 2024–25, with Real GDP growing by 6.5% and Nominal GDP growing by 9.8%. This growth has been supported by structural policy initiatives such as the 'Make in India' campaign, Production-Linked Incentive (PLI) schemes, and targeted measures for MSMEs. Ongoing enhancements in logistics infrastructure and a more efficient tax regime have further catalyzed industrial activity and manufacturing competitiveness. Together, these factors are driving economic resilience and positioning India for sustained long-term growth despite external headwinds.

Inflation

Inflation plays a pivotal role in shaping the economic environment and directly impacts consumer spending behavior, lending monetary policy decisions. In FY 2024-25, India witnessed a significant easing in inflationary pressures, providing a favorable backdrop for economic activities and growth in financial services.

India's inflation trajectory has shown a consistent downward trend, with the Consumer Price Index (CPI) inflation rate decreasing to 3.16% in April 2025 from 3.34% in March, marking the first time in six months that it has fallen below 4%. This decline is largely attributed to easing food prices, particularly vegetables.

The moderation in India's retail inflation for April 2025 is largely attributed to a pronounced decline in food prices, which form a substantial portion of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) basket. Food inflation eased markedly to 1.78% from 2.69% in March, led by deflationary trends in key categories such as vegetables and pulses—most notably, vegetable inflation plummeted to -10.98% year-on-year. However, fuel and light inflation registered a notable uptick, rising to 2.92% in April 2025 from 1.42% in March, according to data from the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation. Meanwhile, housing inflation edged up marginally to 3.00%, and inflation in miscellaneous goods remained stable at 5.02%. Despite sector-specific fluctuations, the broader inflation trajectory remains favorable, reinforcing macroeconomic stability.

All India inflation rates for CPI (General) and Consumer Food Price Index (CFPI) (%)

Looking ahead, the Reserve Bank of India projects inflation to stabilize at 4.0% for FY 2025-26. The Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) estimates inflation to be 3.6% in the first quarter, moderating to 3.9% in the second quarter, followed by 3.8% and 4.4% in the third and fourth quarters, respectively, of the financial year 2025-26. However, the inflation outlook remains susceptible to potential volatility stemming from global commodity price fluctuations, energy price swings, adverse weather conditions, and domestic supply chain disruptions.

Capital expenditure

The Indian government has reinforced its commitment to infrastructure-led growth by allocating ₹11.21 Lakh Crores for capital expenditure (Capex) in the FY 2025-26 budget, reflecting a 0.9% increase from FY 2024-25. This allocation constitutes 3.2% of GDP and accounts for approximately 22.1% of total government expenditure, signaling a balanced approach between infrastructure investments and stimulating consumption through tax relief measures. Key initiatives such as the National Infrastructure Pipeline (NIP) and National Monetization Pipeline (NMP) aim to attract private sector participation to meet the growing demands for infrastructure development. Additionally, ₹1.5 Lakh Crore has been allocated as interest-free loans to states for capital spending and reform incentives, further supporting localized infrastructure growth.

Significant progress has been made across transportation and aviation sectors. About 5,853 km of National Highways were constructed, while 2,031 km of railway network was commissioned between April and November 2024. In aviation, India's airport infrastructure has seen substantial capex over the past five years, achieving 91% of the targeted expenditure of over ₹ 91,000 Crores. The PM Gati Shakti initiative is integrating aviation with railways, roads, and waterways to enhance connectivity nationwide. Under the regional connectivity scheme (UDAN), 619 routes connecting 88 airports, including 2 water aerodromes and 13 heliports, have been operationalized, demonstrating the government's focus on improving regional accessibility and connectivity.

First quarter

The GDP growth rate in Q1 of FY 2024-25 stood at 6.5%, moderating from 9.7% in the corresponding quarter of the previous fiscal (Q1 FY 2023-24). Despite this slowdown, the industrial and services sectors exhibited robust growth of 8.4% and 6.8%, respectively. The deceleration was primarily driven by reduced government expenditure amid the 2024 general elections, weaker urban consumption, and sluggish rural demand. Nevertheless, India retained its position as the world's fastest-growing major economy during this period, outpacing China's GDP growth of 4.7% in the April-June quarter.

Second quarter

In Q2 of FY 2024-25, GDP growth stood at 5.6% year-over-year, significantly lower than the Reserve Bank of India's projection of 6.8%. On the expenditure side, a slowdown in exports and investment weighed on economic momentum. Geopolitical tensions and supply disruptions, particularly in the Red Sea region, continued to dampen exports, resulting in a modest expansion of 2.5%. While the industrial sector faced temporary disruptions due to the monsoon, rural consumption provided a silver lining with robust growth. Meanwhile, the services sector remained resilient, recording a 7.2% year-over-year growth. Additionally, the government managed to reduce the fiscal deficit by 10% compared to Q2 FY 2023-24.

Third quarter

India's GDP expanded by 6.2% during Q3 FY 2024-25, accelerating from the 5.6% growth recorded in the previous quarter. The rebound in growth momentum was widely anticipated, as reflected in several high-frequency macroeconomic indicators, including higher GST collections, increased public spending, a rise in electricity generation, and a recovery in exports. The upturn was primarily driven by an 8.3% surge in government spending and a 6.9% increase in private final consumption expenditure, compared to 2.3% and 5.7%, respectively, in the same period last year. Additionally, exports registered a robust 10.4% growth in Q3 FY 2024-25, a sharp improvement from the 3% expansion recorded in the previous year.

Fourth quarter

India recorded its strongest quarterly performance in Q4 FY 2024–25 with Q4 GDP growing 7.4% year-on-year depicting the highest quarterly growth of the year, according to the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation.

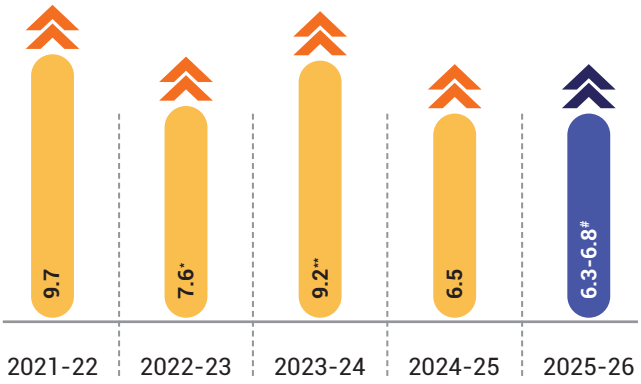

Growth was powered by three key domestic drivers: rising capital formation, a broad-based services revival, and stronger rural demand. Capital formation rose 9.4%, driven by a 10.8% surge in construction amid accelerating infrastructure execution. Services expanded across both public and private sectors, with financial and real estate segments growing 7.8% on the back of healthy credit offtake. Rural GVA rose 5.0%, supported by a strong rabi harvest and increased mining activity. This investment- and consumption-led momentum positions India to remain resilient amid global uncertainties.

Outlook

India is poised to ascend in the global economic hierarchy, with projections indicating it will become the fourth-largest economy by 2026 and the third-largest by 2028, surpassing Japan and Germany, respectively. This trajectory is underpinned by robust GDP growth forecasts and strategic economic reforms. According to RBI, India's economic outlook for FY 2025-26 remains positive, with GDP growth projected at 6.5% This expansion is supported by rising rural consumption, increased capital investment by the Government, and easing inflation, aided by a more accommodative monetary policy. The recent Union Budget introduced tax reforms and incentives for manufacturing and exports, aimed at stimulating economic activity. However, certain challenges persist, which includes evolving U.S. trade policies, global trade tensions, and geopolitical uncertainties that could impact exports and foreign investment. Despite these headwinds, India's economy is expected to sustain its growth momentum, driven by structural reforms and rapid digital transformation. Furthermore, the country's relatively lower dependence on external demand enhances its resilience amid global economic volatility.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

The NBFC industry

Non-Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) have emerged as vital pillars of India's financial ecosystem, enabling credit access for a wide spectrum of borrowers—particularly Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) and financially underserved segments such as women and first-time home buyers. By facilitating the transition from informal borrowing channels to formal financial systems, NBFCs contribute meaningfully to financial inclusion. Over the years, the sector has witnessed remarkable growth, evolving into a dynamic force across segments like housing finance, consumer finance, and microfinance. Their extensive geographical reach, deep understanding of diverse financial needs, agile underwriting, and swift turnaround times position them as responsive and efficient lenders. Fueled by a growing middle class, expanding financial awareness, and supportive policy frameworks, NBFCs continue to play a pivotal role in advancing financial inclusion, driving MSME growth, and fostering self-employment across the country.

Over the past decade, the NBFC sector has recorded a healthy growth of approximately 14%, driven by its expanding role in bridging credit gaps across underserved segments. NBFCs have emerged as a key pillar of India's financial ecosystem, offering a diverse portfolio of products—including housing, vehicle, personal, and microfinance loans—tailored to the needs of rural populations and lower-income groups. The rapid adoption of digital technologies has further strengthened the sector, streamlining operations, enhancing customer experience, and widening access. Intuitive apps and online platforms have made financial services more convenient, inclusive, and accessible than ever before.

NBFCs have emerged as key drivers in enhancing credit penetration across India, particularly in regions and customer segments that remain beyond the extensive reach of traditional banks. By leveraging digital innovation, simplified underwriting processes, and customized financial products, NBFCs continue to bridge the credit gap, enabling inclusive growth and financial empowerment for underserved communities across the country.

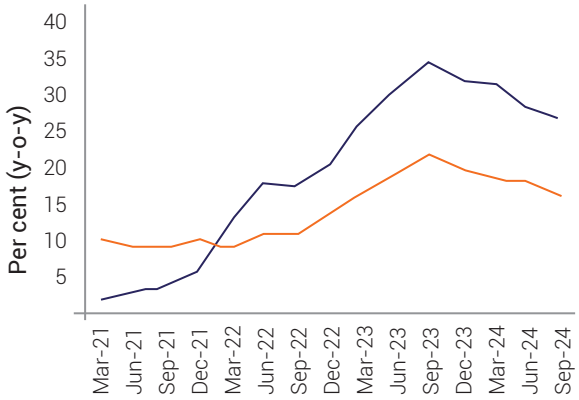

Source: NBFCs continue to hold major share in retail loans despite liquidity crisis | NBFC News - Business Standard Bridging the Credit Gap: How NBFCs are Empowering MSMEs in India's Tier-2 and Tier-3 Cities, ET BFSI

According to CRISIL Ratings, the NBFC sector is expected to register an AUM growth of 15–17% in FY 2024–25, surpassing the decadal average of ~14% and underscoring the sector's resilience. While this marks a moderation from the robust 23% growth seen in the previous fiscal, the outlook remains optimistic. The tempered pace is primarily attributed to three key factors: heightened concerns around household indebtedness and asset quality, particularly in segments like microfinance and unsecured loans; increased regulatory scrutiny focusing on customer protection, pricing transparency, and compliance; and varied access to diversified funding sources, especially amid a slowdown in bank lending. Despite these dynamics, the sector continues to demonstrate adaptability, with NBFCs recalibrating strategies to sustain growth and strengthen their operating frameworks.

As per the Reserve Bank of India sectoral deployment of credit data, bank credit growth to NBFCs moderated to 6.4% in October 2024, down from 18.3% Y-o-Y. Outstanding bank credit to NBFCs stood at ₹15.36 Trillion in October 2024, compared to ₹14.44 Trillion in the same month last year, at ₹15.29 Trillion in September 2024, and ₹15.48 Trillion in May 2024. RBI observed that NBFCs have diversified funding sources and reduced bank borrowings following the increase in risk weights. In November 2023, RBI hiked risk weights on NBFC exposures by 25% points to curb potential systemic risks. On a positive note, NBFCs' earnings remained robust, supported by healthy interest margins of 5.1% and a return on assets (RoA) of 2.9% as of September 2024.

Asset quality

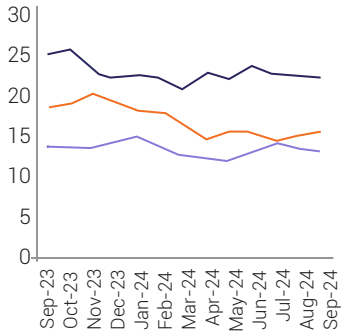

The asset quality of the NBFC sector remains healthy, supported by a strong capital position, with the Capital to Risk-Weighted Assets Ratio (CRAR) at 26.7% as of September 2024. The Gross Non-Performing Assets (GNPA) ratio improved to 3.4%, down from 4.6% in September 2023, reflecting better credit performance. Special Mention Accounts (SMA-1 and SMA-2), considered early indicators of stress, remained relatively low at 3.5%. However, there is a rising trend in loan write-offs, with a few outlier NBFCs contributing disproportionately to this increase.

The Financial Stability Report, December 2024, also highlights a nuanced picture of the asset quality and delinquency trends in consumer credit. While overall delinquency levels have remained stable for both banks and NBFCs, stress is mounting within the unsecured retail loan segment, particularly in personal loans and credit cards. There has been a noticeable decline in upgradation rates, alongside a rise in slippages from Special Mention Account-2 (SMA-2) to non-performing assets (NPAs), indicating increased movement of accounts from 61–90 days past due into the 90+ days past due category.

Liquidity and Borrowing updates

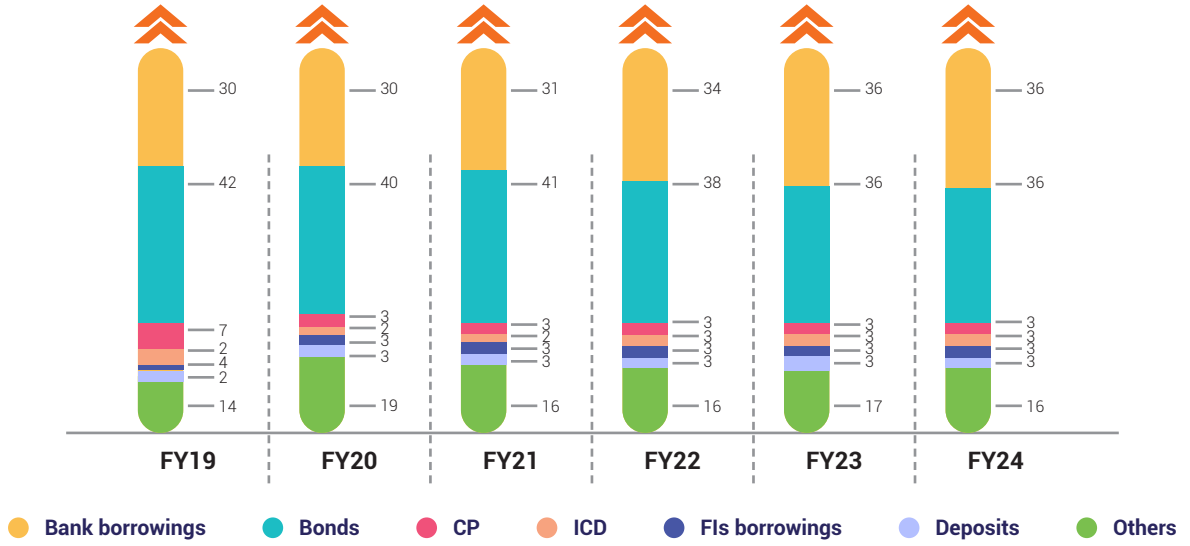

In FY 2024–25, India's NBFCs experienced significant shifts in their funding strategies due to regulatory adjustments and market dynamics. In November 2023, RBI raised risk weights on bank lending to NBFCs by 25 percentage points, citing rising inter-linkages as a potential systemic risk. This move led to a notable slowdown in credit growth to NBFCs, which dropped to 6.7% in December 2024 from 15% a year earlier. As a result, credit growth further moderated to 5.7% YoY in March 2025, down from 17.6% in October 2023.

To counter this, RBI reversed its decision in February 2025, restoring the earlier risk weights effective April 1, 2025, to revive bank funding to NBFCs. The adjustment is expected to improve the attractiveness of bank loans, encouraging NBFCs to gradually shift back from commercial papers over the next six to nine months.

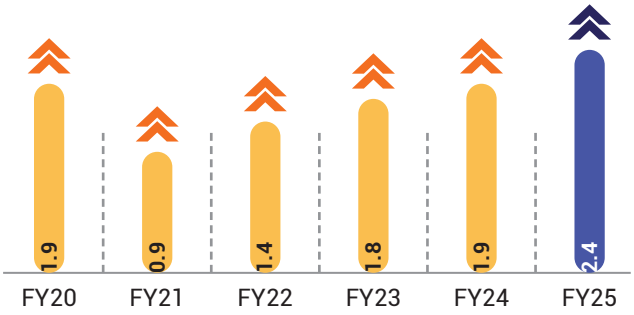

Concurrently, NBFCs increasingly turned to the corporate bond market for funding, with corporate bond issuances reaching a record high of over ₹ 10.66 Lakh Crores in 2024, driven significantly by NBFC participation.

In FY 2024-25, India's securitization market reached a record high of approximately ₹2.35 Lakh Crores, marking a 24% year-on-year growth. This surge was propelled by significant deals from private sector banks and consistent fund-raising efforts by NBFCs. The industry played a pivotal role, not only maintaining steady issuance volumes but also diversifying into newer asset classes and re-entering the market after periods of inactivity. Vehicle loans dominated the securitized assets, comprising 47% of the total volume, followed by mortgage-backed loans at around 22%. The market also witnessed increased participation, with 175 originators in FY 2024-25 compared to 165 in the previous year, indicating a broadening base and growing confidence in securitization as a viable funding mechanism for NBFCs.

Outlook for NBFCs

NBFCs are set to become key enablers of India's economic progress by extending access to formal credit in traditionally underserved segments, aligning with the country's goals. In a landscape where customer demands are evolving and digital-first models are gaining ground, incumbent NBFCs must reimagine their operational frameworks, while new players need to carefully evaluate their entry strategies. As lending activities scale, it becomes imperative for these institutions to strengthen their risk management practices and governance structures.

Asset growth of NBFCs is projected at 15-17% year-on-year for FY 2024–25 and FY 2025-26, according to CRISIL Ratings. Moreover, RBI is also taking measures to uplift the sector through reduction of risk weights on bank lending to NBFCs, which is expected to enhance funding access. Additionally, the sector is likely to benefit from easing liquidity conditions and potential interest rate cuts, which could support net interest margins and return on assets of NBFCs. However, challenges such as asset quality concerns in microfinance and unsecured lending segments remain monitorable. Overall, NBFCs are anticipated to experience stable asset quality and sustained earnings growth, positioning them favorably in India's evolving financial landscape.

PESTEL Analysis for NBFC sector in India

Political

Financial inclusion programs: Government schemes like Pradhan Mantri Jan Dhan Yojana (PMJDY) and Mudra Yojana, which are designed to promote financial inclusion, have benefited the NBFC sector. These schemes have increased the number of bank accounts and provided access to credit for underserved segments, making NBFCs an important partner in delivering financial services to these groups. Additionally, policy support for affordable housing is also helping to improve house affordability for a large segment of the population.

Liquidity support: The government has introduced various measures to provide liquidity support to NBFCs, including credit guarantee schemes and refinance facilities. These measures help NBFCs navigate challenging situations and maintain their financial stability, allowing them to continue providing credit to various sectors.

Encouraging Co-Lending Models (CLM): RBI has also promoted co-lending partnerships between banks and NBFCs to improve credit flow to priority sectors such as MSMEs and affordable housing.

Economic

Initiation of rate cuts: In early 2025, the RBI began a monetary easing cycle after nearly five years, cutting the repo rate by 25 bps in February to 6.25%, followed by another 25 bps cut in April to 6.00% and another 50 bps cut in June 2025 to 5.50%. The policy stance shifted from "accommodative" to "neutral".

Inflation stability reinforcing credit momentum: The sustained moderation in retail inflation—declining to 3.34% in March 2025—has reinforced macroeconomic stability and improved consumer sentiment. This favorable inflation trajectory is contributing to a more supportive credit environment, encouraging both retail and small business borrowers to accelerate credit uptake. With cost pressures easing and purchasing power improving, loan demand is expected to improve, particularly in segments such as home loans, personal finance, and MSME lending—benefiting NBFCs positioned to cater to these rising financing needs.

Augmenting system liquidity: To ensure effective monetary transmission and ease funding pressures across the financial ecosystem, including NBFCs, the Reserve Bank of India rolled out key liquidity support measures in 2025. RBI has announced ₹1.25 Trillion worth of government bond purchases through Open Market Operations (OMOs) in May 2025, aimed at easing market borrowing costs and strengthening systemic liquidity. Further, a US$10 Billion USD/INR buy/sell forex swap auction was conducted in February with a three-year tenor to infuse durable rupee liquidity, thereby supporting long-term funding access for NBFCs and other financial intermediaries.

Social

Rural penetration and financial inclusion: A significant portion of India's population resides in rural areas, where access to formal banking services remains limited. NBFCs bridge this gap by extending microfinance, agricultural loans, and other credit facilities to rural households and entrepreneurs, thereby promoting financial inclusion and supporting rural economic development.

Expanding middle class and rising aspirations: India's burgeoning middle class, characterized by increasing disposable incomes and evolving consumption patterns, has amplified demand for diverse credit products. NBFCs adeptly cater to this segment by offering tailored financial solutions, including personal loans, vehicle financing, and consumer durables loans, thereby facilitating lifestyle enhancements and economic mobility.

Empowerment of women and youth: NBFCs play a pivotal role in empowering women and youth by providing them with access to credit for education, entrepreneurship, and personal development. Through customized loan products and financial literacy programs, NBFCs enable these demographics to participate actively in the economy, fostering inclusive growth.

Technology

AI-Driven credit assessment and risk management: NBFCs are increasingly leveraging Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning (ML) to enhance credit risk assessment and underwriting processes. These technologies enable the analysis of alternative data sources, such as transaction histories and social media activity, allowing for more accurate credit scoring, especially for new-to-credit customers. This approach facilitates faster loan approvals and reduces default rates.

Expansion of digital lending platforms: The digital lending landscape is rapidly evolving, with NBFCs adopting end-to-end digital platforms to streamline loan origination, disbursement, and repayment processes. This shift enhances customer experience by offering quick, paperless, and hassle-free loan services, thereby increasing outreach, particularly in semi-urban and rural areas.

Implementation of Unified Lending Interface (ULI): RBI is introducing the ULI, a digital platform aimed at expediting credit delivery to small and rural borrowers. ULI facilitates the seamless flow of digital information, such as land records and KYC data, to lenders, thereby reducing loan processing times and enhancing financial inclusion.

Environmental

Green finance momentum and market expansion: India's green finance market is gaining steady momentum, driven by rising investor interest, supportive regulatory frameworks, and the country's long-term net-zero target. With green bonds, sustainability-linked loans, and ESG funds becoming more mainstream, financial institutions—including NBFCs—have the opportunity to diversify portfolios while supporting environmentally sustainable sectors. This evolving landscape encourages capital flow into clean energy, green mobility, and low-carbon infrastructure, offering NBFCs a compelling growth avenue.

Introduction of green loan products: Green loan products are specialized credit instruments designed to finance environmentally sustainable projects. These loans support initiatives such as renewable energy installations, electric vehicles, energy-efficient housing, waste management systems, and sustainable agriculture. In India, NBFCs are increasingly developing and promoting green loans to align with national climate goals and cater to the growing demand for eco-conscious financing.

Energy efficiency and sustainability focus: NBFCs are actively adopting energy-efficient measures such as rooftop solar panels, passive cooling systems, and LED lighting to reduce operational energy use. These initiatives reflect the sector's growing commitment to sustainability and alignment with India's climate goals.

Legal

Revised risk weights and capital treatment norms: RBI has made amendments to the treatment of certain exposures under capital adequacy norms. Notably, changes include the treatment of Right-of-Use (ROU) assets and recalibration of risk weights for exposures to commercial real estate. These revisions are aimed at aligning prudential norms with emerging business models and accounting standards.

Cyber resilience and payment security: In light of increasing digital exposure, RBI has introduced guidelines specifically for non-bank entities (including NBFCs and PSOs) to adopt strong cyber resilience frameworks. This includes a mandatory Cyber Crisis Management Plan (CCMP) for prompt response to cyber threats.

Draft Co-Lending Framework 2.0: RBI has released draft directions for Co-Lending Arrangements (CLAs) in 2025, aiming to directly regulate co-lending agreements between regulated entities. This framework seeks to streamline co-lending practices and ensure better risk management in joint lending ventures.

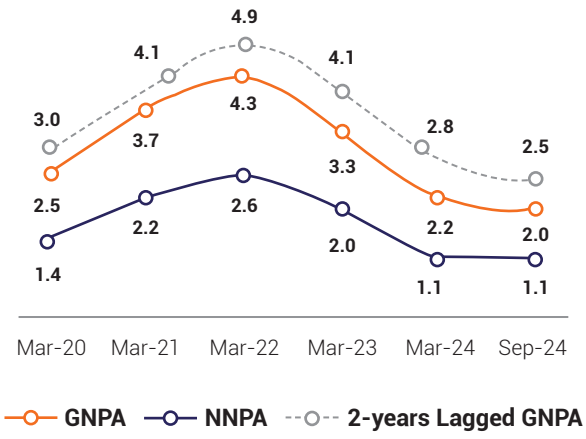

Housing Finance

India's housing finance sector has been on an upward trajectory, with the outstanding individual housing loan portfolio touching ₹33 Trillion by March 2024, registering a healthy CAGR of nearly 13% over the past six years. Public sector banks remain the frontrunners, commanding 40% of the market, followed by private banks at 34.5%, and Housing Finance Companies (HFCs) contributing around 19%. This sustained momentum is driven by a mix of structural and policy-led enablers—rising affordability, rapid urbanization, growing preference for nuclear family setups, and flagship schemes like 'Housing for All'.

The residential real estate market has also mirrored this momentum, recording a remarkable 74% surge in home sales since 2019, with 460,000 units sold in 2024 alone—a clear indication of persistent end-user confidence. HFCs have primarily concentrated on smaller, retail-focused loans, with those under ₹30 Lakhs forming 53% of their total AUM as of March 2024. Asset quality within the segment has witnessed meaningful improvement, with Gross NPAs reducing to 2.2% by March 2024, from a high of 4.3% two years prior. Profitability, too, has normalized to pre-COVID levels, supported by lower credit costs and expanding spreads.

Key government initiatives

The Government of India has implemented a range of policy initiatives to boost the housing finance sector, with a focus on affordability and accessibility. Flagship schemes like PMAY, interest subsidies, and infrastructure status for affordable housing have collectively enhanced credit flow and supported inclusive urban development. Following are the key policies addressing the challenges of the housing sector in India.

Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY)

Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana is a flagship housing initiative launched by the Government of India with the vision of 'Housing for All'. Aimed at providing affordable housing to economically weaker sections, low-income groups, and middle-income families, the scheme offers financial assistance and interest subsidies for building, purchasing, or renovating homes. Implemented in both urban and rural areas. In the Union Budget 2025–26, the government proposed an allocation of ₹19,794 Crores for its flagship affordable housing scheme, Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana. This marks a 36% increase in funding for the PMAY-Urban component compared to the revised estimate of ₹13,670 Crores for FY 2024-25 in the previous July Budget.

SWAMIH FUND 2

The Special Window for Affordable and Mid-Income Housing Investment Fund II (SWAMIH Fund 2) is a ₹15,000 Crores initiative launched by the Government of India in February 2025 to address the issue of stalled housing projects across the country. Building upon the success of the initial SWAMIH Fund established in 2019, which completed over 50,000 housing units and aimed to finish an additional 40,000 by 2025, SWAMIH Fund 2 seeks to expedite the completion of approximately 1 Lakh more housing units. This fund operates as a blended finance facility with contributions from the government, banks, and private investors.

Interest Subsidy Scheme (ISS) erstwhile Credit Linked Subsidy Scheme (CLSS)

The Interest Subsidy Scheme (erstwhile Credit Linked Subsidy Scheme or CLSS) offers interest rate subsidies of up to ₹ 1.8 Million to first-time homebuyers, enhancing affordability and encouraging homeownership among low and middle-income families.

The scheme has also been expanded to include middle-income groups, providing subsidies on home loans for properties priced below ₹ 40 Lakhs — making housing more accessible and affordable for a broader section of society.

National Housing Bank (NHB)

NHB plays a critical role in strengthening India's housing finance ecosystem by providing both financial and developmental support to HFCs. One of NHB's key functions is to offer refinancing facilities to HFCs, which helps them maintain liquidity and expand their lending capacity, particularly in the affordable housing segment. By refinancing loans extended by HFCs to borrowers, NHB ensures a steady flow of credit to the housing sector.

Housing and Urban Development Corporation (HUDCO)

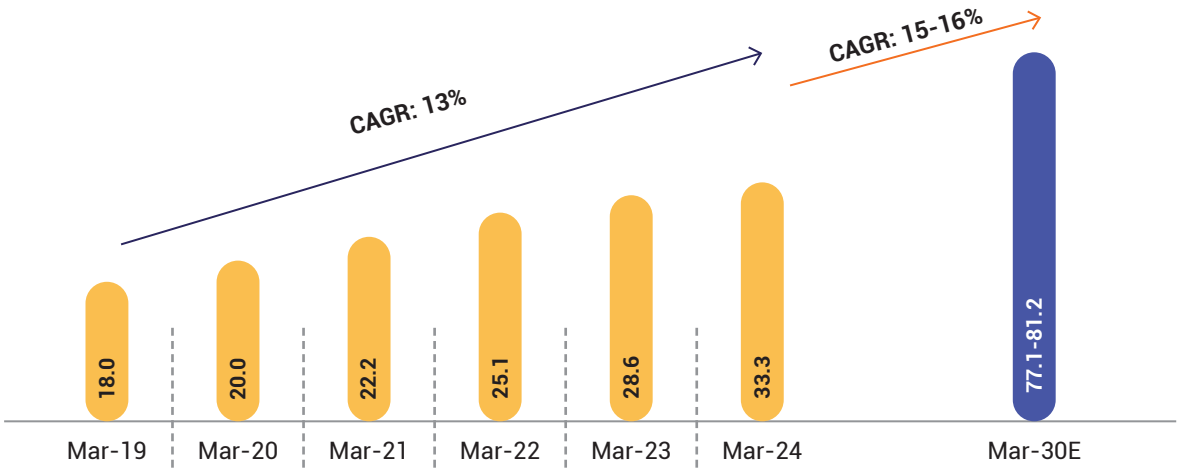

HUDCO supports the housing finance ecosystem in India by providing long-term finance and technical assistance to various stakeholders, including Housing Finance Companies (HFCs), state governments, and urban local bodies. HUDCO plays a key role in promoting affordable housing and infrastructure development, particularly in underserved regions. HUDCO offers project-based lending for affordable housing projects, extending financial assistance for land acquisition, construction, and basic civic amenities.

Outlook

The Indian housing finance sector is poised for strong growth, with the market projected to expand at a CAGR of 15–16% between FY25 and FY30, potentially doubling to ₹77–81 Trillion by 2030. Favorable policies and macroeconomic stability continue to make housing finance a scalable and attractive lending segment.

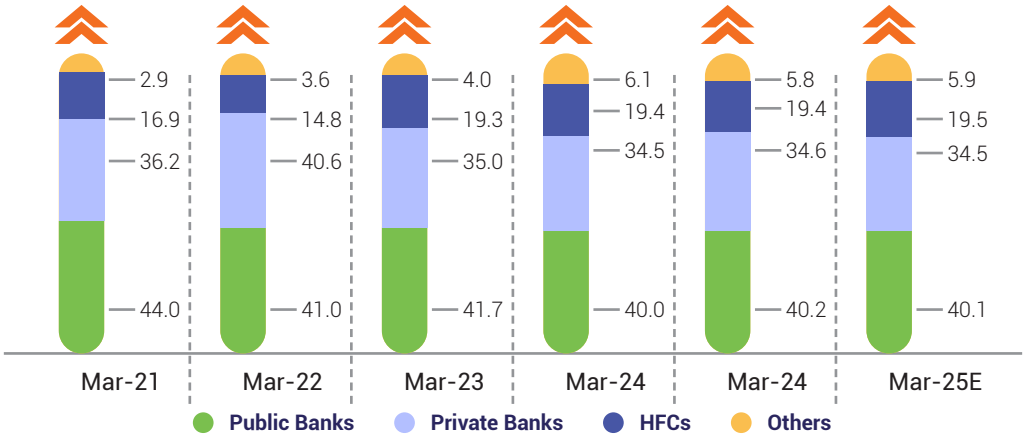

Banks are expected to maintain dominance due to low-cost funding and wide reach, while HFCs will sustain their niche through customized offerings and focus on underserved regions, particularly in tier 2 and below cities. As premiumization drives demand for ₹30–50 Lakhs loans, HFCs are adjusting their portfolio accordingly. Backed by structural tailwinds and proactive reforms, the sector is well-positioned for transformative expansion.

Gold loans

The gold loan segment has evolved into a critical component of India's retail lending landscape, underpinned by the country's cultural and economic reliance on gold as a store of value. With vast household holdings of gold—estimated to be among the highest globally—this asset has increasingly served as an accessible source of credit, especially during periods of financial stress or liquidity constraints.

In recent years, the growth of the gold loan market has been supported by rising gold prices, greater financial awareness, and expanding digital infrastructure. Both Banks and NBFCs, along with specialized gold loan institutions, have increased their focus on this segment, attracted by its low default rates and strong collateral backing. As a result, the gold loan segment continues to play a pivotal role in promoting financial inclusion and supporting credit penetration across underserved segments of the Indian economy.

As of March 2025, the gold loan portfolio of banks (excluding agricultural gold loans) registered a sharp year-on-year growth of 103%, driven by a cautious slowdown in retail credit to bottom-of-the-pyramid customers amid asset quality concerns in the microfinance sector. NBFCs' share in the overall gold loan market has also risen, expanding from approximately 6% in FY 2020-21 to nearly 8% in FY2024-25. This surge was particularly notable when compared to the significant slowdown witnessed in other segments such as unsecured personal loans and microfinance. The increased traction in gold loans can be attributed to their secured nature, relatively lower credit risk, and ease of access, especially for borrowers in semi-urban and rural regions.

NBFCs and Banks are experiencing a surge in demand for gold loans, capitalizing on the metal's inherent value and liquidity. According to The Rise of India's Gold Loan Market report, the organized market for gold loans was valued at ₹ 7.1 Lakh Crores in FY 2023-24. India's gold loan segment experienced remarkable growth, emerging as the fastest-growing component within the personal lending sector. As of December 27, 2024, the total gold loan portfolio held by banks surged to ₹ 1.7 Lakh Crores, marking a 71% year-on-year increase and a 68.3% rise within the financial year. This surge in gold loans can be attributed to several factors, including the ease of obtaining loans against gold, higher loan amounts due to increased gold prices, and a shift in investment preferences amid fluctuating equity markets.

However, this rapid expansion has raised concerns regarding asset quality. In response to this RBI has proposed stricter regulations to enhance risk management in gold loan processes.

Proposed RBI Gold Loan Regulation

In April 2025, the Reserve Bank of India released a comprehensive draft framework aimed at harmonizing the regulatory norms for lending against gold collateral across all regulated entities, including banks and NBFCs. The directions seek to enhance transparency, borrower protection, and risk management in the gold loan segment.

Key provisions include a uniform Loan-to-Value (LTV) ceiling of 75%, applicable throughout the loan tenure including accrued interest. There are also restrictions on renewals and a requirement for 1% additional provisioning in the event of an LTV breach. The guidelines prescribe standardized procedures for assaying and valuation based on 22-carat gold pricing and clear categorization of loans into consumption and income-generating types. For income-generating loans, quantum and tenor must be determined based on expected cash flows, not merely collateral value, while consumption-based bullet loans are capped at a 12-month tenure.

Further, the directions impose limits on collateral quantity (1 kg for gold ornaments; 50 gm for specified gold coins) and mandate prompt release of pledged gold within seven working days of loan closure. Additionally, top-ups and renewals are permitted only for standard accounts, and only after a fresh credit appraisal that includes assessment of income, repayment capacity, and end-use verification.

The draft also emphasizes enhanced conduct standards, including borrower communication in regional languages, transparent auction processes with reserve price safeguards, and strong internal audit controls to deter operational misuse. These proposals reflect RBI's intent to balance prudential oversight with customer-centric practices in a segment marked by growing demand and systemic relevance.

https://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/business/india-business/gold-loan-fastest-growing-segment/articleshow/117897102.cms

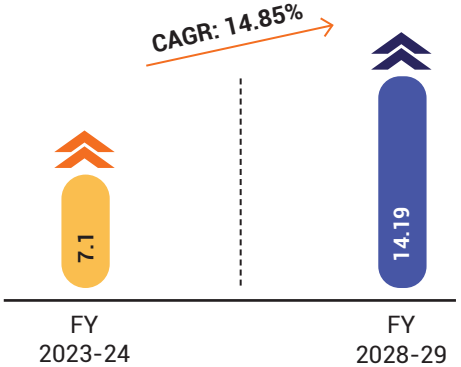

Outlook

The gold loan segment is expected to witness sustained growth over the near to medium term, underpinned by strong demand for quick, secured credit and the continued preference for gold as a reliable financial asset. Favorable factors such as increasing rural credit requirements and greater formalization of the lending ecosystem are likely to support higher disbursements. Both banks and NBFCs are deepening their presence in this space, leveraging digital platforms to enhance operational efficiency and expand customer reach. The segment is projected to grow to ₹14.19 Lakh Crores by FY 2028–29, reflecting a robust CAGR of 14.85%. This momentum aligns with broader trends in the financial services sector, where lenders are actively scaling their gold loan portfolios to meet growing consumer demand.

MSME

The Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSME) sector forms the backbone of the Indian economy, playing a pivotal role in employment generation, industrial output, and exports. Encompassing a wide range of industries across manufacturing, services, and trade, the sector contributes nearly 30% to India's GDP and accounts for about 45% of total exports. With over 6 Crores enterprises operating across the country, MSMEs are instrumental in driving inclusive growth, fostering entrepreneurship, and supporting regional development. In recent years, policy reforms, digital transformation, and increased access to finance have further strengthened the sector's potential, positioning it as a key engine for sustainable economic growth and resilience.

https://www.drishtiias.com/current-affairs-news-analysis-editorials/news-editorials/06-02-2025#:~:text=With%20rising%20formalization%20through%20the,and%2045%25%20of%20manufacturing%20output

The Ministry of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises reported that as of May 2025, India had approximately 6.39 Crores MSMEs, employing around 27.54 Crores individuals as registered on the Udyam Registration Portal and Udyam Assist Platform (UAP). Recognising the critical role of MSMEs in driving economic growth, employment, and entrepreneurship, the Government of India has introduced various initiatives to strengthen the sector. Key programs such as the Udyam Registration Portal, PM Vishwakarma Scheme, Prime Minister's Employment Generation Programme (PMEGP), Scheme of Fund for Regeneration of Traditional Industries (SFURTI), and the Public Procurement Policy for MSEs aim to formalize informal businesses, promote innovation, and create sustainable livelihoods.

The sector faces a significant credit gap, with only about 14% of MSMEs having access to formal credit channels. This limited penetration is underscored by the RBI estimate of a credit shortfall ranging between ₹20 to ₹25 Lakh Crores. Addressing this gap is crucial for the sector's growth and the broader economic development of the country. Recognising this, the Government has undertaken several initiatives to improve credit accessibility. Notably, under the Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana (PMMY), loans amounting to ₹ 2.57 Lakh Crores (US$30.84 Billion) were sanctioned up to November 2024, benefiting 2.6 Crores non-corporate and non-farm micro and small enterprises in FY 2024–25. Furthermore, a ₹1 Lakh Crores (US$11.99 Billion) corpus—comprising 50-year interest-free loans—was announced in the interim budget for FY 2024–25 to catalyse long-term capital investments and enhance productive capacity across key sectors.

Traditional banking institutions often impose stringent collateral and documentation requirements, which many MSMEs find challenging to meet. NBFCs address these challenges by offering tailored financial products with more flexible terms, thereby enhancing credit accessibility for these enterprises. A notable strategy employed by NBFCs is the utilization of alternative credit assessment models. By evaluating factors such as business cash flows and transaction histories, NBFCs can extend credit to MSMEs that may lack extensive credit histories or substantial assets.

Exports from the MSME sector have witnessed a significant rise, growing from ₹3.95 Lakh Crores in 2020–21 to ₹12.39 Lakh Crores in 2024–25. In a continued effort to empower the sector, the Union Budget 2025–26 announced a series of measures focused on enhancing credit access, supporting first-time entrepreneurs, and encouraging labour-intensive industries. Notably, the Government has expanded the Credit Guarantee Fund Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises (CGTMSE) by doubling the guarantee coverage limit from ₹5 Crores to ₹10 Crores. This enhancement is expected to unlock an additional ₹1.5 Lakh Crores in credit over the next five years. Special benefits have been introduced for women-led enterprises, with the extent of guarantee coverage increased from 85% to 90%. Under the Credit Guarantee Fund for Micro Units (CGFMU), micro-enterprises and borrowers under the Pradhan Mantri MUDRA Yojana continue to benefit from collateral-free loans of up to ₹10 Lakhs. The scheme now also covers the new 'Tarun Plus' category, allowing eligible borrowers who have successfully repaid previous loans to access funding between ₹10 Lakhs and ₹20 Lakhs. Additionally, the Government enhanced the credit guarantee cover for micro and small enterprises. Start-ups can now access an increased guaranteed limit of ₹20 Crores, along with a reduced 1% fee for loans across 27 priority sectors. Exporter MSMEs have been granted access to term loans up to ₹20 Crores under an expanded guaranteed framework, while a new scheme under the Stand-Up India initiative will extend term loans of up to ₹2 Crores to 5 Lakhs first-time women, SC, and ST entrepreneurs. These concerted efforts reaffirm the government's commitment to fostering inclusive and resilient growth in the MSME sector.

These credit guarantee schemes align with the Reserve Bank of India's guidelines on Priority Sector Lending (PSL), ensuring that eligible loans under these schemes are classified accordingly. This classification mandates financial institutions to allocate a specified portion of their lending portfolio towards such sectors, thereby enhancing credit availability to MSMEs and supporting inclusive economic growth.

The revised PSL guidelines effective April 1, 2025, further strengthen this framework through several progressive measures. The scope of PSL has been expanded to include renewable energy and weaker sections, and loan limits have been increased for segments such as housing and renewable energy to accommodate larger, impactful projects. Urban Cooperative Banks' PSL targets have also been raised to 60% of Adjusted Net Bank Credit, aligning cooperative lending practices with broader developmental priorities.

To promote collateral-free access to credit, the RBI's Public Tech Platform for Frictionless Credit (PTPFC) has facilitated disbursement of ₹3,640 Crores in MSME loans as of March 31, 2024. Additionally, the Government has mandated simplified working capital assessment norms for MSEs—requiring at least 20% of projected annual turnover to be considered as the working capital need for loans up to ₹5 Crores. These collective initiatives underscore the regulatory intent to bolster credit flow to underserved sectors through both technology and policy reforms.

Outlook

The MSME sector in India is poised for significant growth, bolstered by supportive government policies and a resilient entrepreneurial spirit. The Union Budget 2025–26 has introduced several measures aimed at enhancing the sector's competitiveness, including revised classification criteria that raise investment and turnover limits, thereby enabling more businesses to benefit from MSME-specific schemes. MSMEs are increasingly focusing on sustainability and technological integration. Investments in green technologies and digital transformation are becoming priorities, positioning the sector to meet evolving market demands and environmental standards.

Micro Finance sector

The microfinance sector in India has emerged as a pivotal instrument for promoting financial inclusion, offering essential financial services to underserved and economically disadvantaged segments of society. Over the past few decades, the sector has witnessed substantial growth, driven by regulatory reforms, technological advancements, and targeted government initiatives aimed at extending credit to millions of previously unbanked households. Notably, the industry has scaled up significantly over the last decade, with the total Gross Loan Portfolio (GLP) expanding from ₹0.4 Lakh Crores in 2015 to ₹ 3.9 Lakh Crores as of December 2024. Concurrently, the number of borrowers served has grown from 35 Million in FY 2017-18 to 146 Million as of FY 2024-25. This expansion underscores the sector's critical role in fostering entrepreneurship, alleviating poverty, and empowering women across the nation.

As of December 2024, India's microfinance sector demonstrated resilience amid evolving market dynamics. The Gross Loan Portfolio (GLP) stood at ₹3.85 Lakh Crores reflecting a marginal 3.5% dip year-on-year, driven by a strategic recalibration in funding flows and tighter credit underwriting to enhance long-term sustainability. While the number of active loan accounts moderated to 139 Million from 146 Million, this was accompanied by a notable rise in the average loan size to ₹53,350 from ₹47,374, highlighting a shift toward more meaningful credit deployment per borrower. The proportion of loans overdue between 31 to 180 days rose sharply to 6.4% in December 2024, compared to 2% in December 2023, signalling a deterioration in asset quality. To curb these overleveraging concerns, MFIN, the sector self-regulatory organization (SRO) has proposed a series of measures like reducing lenders per borrower to three (effective from April 2025), capping total borrower indebtedness at ₹ 2 Lakhs (including unsecured retail loans), not lending to customers being delinquent for 60 days or more, etc. However, there are green shoots with incremental collection efficiencies of non-delinquent customers improving towards the end of FY 2024-25 with the implementation of these guardrails and the stress recognition by lenders in FY 2024-25. This trend underscores the sector's maturing risk awareness and the ongoing efforts by lenders to strengthen monitoring and recovery mechanisms in a high-inflation environment.

As of December 31, 2024, the Indian microfinance industry recorded a robust portfolio outstanding of ₹3.48 Lakh Crores, driven by 87.7 Million active borrowers and over 119 Million active loans. NBFC-MFIs continued to lead the market, accounting for the highest share across key parameters with 42% of active loans and 39% of the portfolio followed by banks and small finance banks (SFBs). While the industry-wide average ticket size stood at ₹53,776, NBFCs reported the highest at ₹63,027, indicating a shift toward larger loan sizes. Asset quality remained under scrutiny, with SFBs posting the highest 30+ day delinquency rate at 7.73%, while NBFCs demonstrated the best credit performance with the lowest 90+ DPD at 2.04%. The sector's sustained expansion reflects a revival in rural demand, increased credit access, and resilience in consumption-led growth, albeit amid the need for continued focus on portfolio quality and credit discipline.

Outlook

The outlook for India's microfinance sector is cautiously optimistic, with signs of continued expansion tempered by emerging risks to asset quality. Despite these challenges, the sector remains vital for deepening financial inclusion and supporting low-income households, particularly women. However, rising borrower indebtedness and increased lending by multiple institutions underscore the need for enhanced credit discipline and responsible lending practices. The Reserve Bank of India has taken supervisory actions in response to elevated interest rates charged by some NBFC-MFIs, highlighting the importance of maintaining affordability and transparency in lending.

The action followed the Company's successful compliance with regulatory directives and substantial strengthening of its compliance, risk, audit and assurance functions. With this clearance, IIFL Finance has resumed gold loan operations through its branches, marking a pivotal step in restoring growth momentum in its core secured lending segment.

FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE AND OPERATIONAL REVIEW

IIFL Finance Limited navigated FY 2024–25 amidst a challenging macroeconomic environment, which tested its resilience and weighed on overall financial performance. A cyclical slowdown dampened earnings and subdued market sentiment, with the impact most pronounced in the unsecured and microfinance segments. This stress was largely attributed to rising consumer leverage in the absence of real income growth, leading to stagnation in disposable income.

The consolidated Assets Under Management (AUM) stood at ₹ 78,341 Crores, registering a marginal de-growth of 1% over the previous year. Home loans remained the largest contributor to the core product portfolio, with an AUM of ₹31,588 Crores, accounting for 40% of the total AUM. The segment recorded a robust 15% year-on-year growth. Gold loans followed with an AUM of ₹21,022 Crores, comprising 27% of the total AUM and demonstrated a strong recovery post the RBI embargo. MSME loans, including MSME secured loans, MSME unsecured loans and supply chain finance, stood at ₹14,185 Crores, reflecting an 18% growth compared to the previous financial year and contributing 18% to the total AUM. The Microfinance segment followed with an AUM of ₹ 9,859 Crores. Overall, the core AUM reached ₹ 76,654 Crores, comprising 98% of the total AUM.

On the asset quality front, the Gross NPA (GNPA) stood at 2.2%, declined by 10 basis points year-on-year, while the Net NPA (NNPA) declined by 15 basis points and stands at 1%. Despite a challenging operating environment and a temporary dip in income and profitability, IIFL Finance continued to demonstrate robust asset quality, reflecting its disciplined underwriting practices, focused recovery efforts and conservative risk management framework. Aligned with its capital optimization strategy, the Company's assigned and co-lending portfolio accounted for approximately 29.9% of the total AUM.

FY2020-21 figures are excluding discontinued healthcare finance portfolio. Without this change GNPA is 2.1%, NNPA is 1.0%.

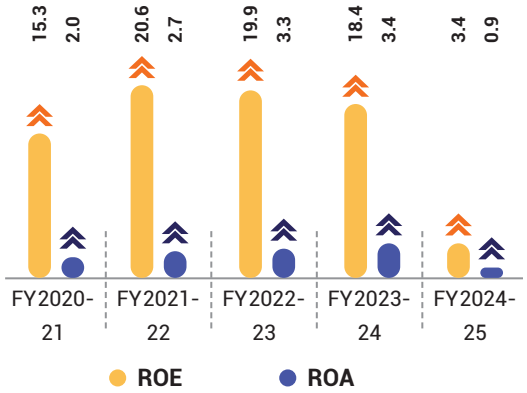

IIFL Finance maintained a healthy liquidity buffer, with cash, cash equivalents and committed credit lines from banks and financial institutions aggregating to ₹5,216 Crores as of March 31, 2025. This position is adequate to meet near-term liabilities while supporting growth requirements. The Company continues to maintain a positive Asset-Liability Management (ALM) profile across all maturity buckets, with a net gearing ratio of 3.4.

Capital adequacy remained robust across all lending entities of IIFL, with the consolidated CRAR (computed) at a strong 29.0%. Our Housing Finance subsidiary reported a CRAR of 47.2%, our Microfinance subsidiary stood at 32.4% and the standalone NBFC at 18.5%—all comfortably above the regulatory minimum of 15%. These healthy capital buffers underscore the Group's conservative leverage stance, disciplined off-book strategy and commitment to sustainable, well-capitalized growth.

Loan growth across core products remained subdued during the year, with overall Loan AUM recording a marginal year-on-year decline of 1%. Gold loan AUM was impacted by RBI embargo during the year, resulting in a 10% contraction. The microfinance portfolio also faced pressure, de-growing by 25% due to prevailing macroeconomic headwinds and a cautious lending environment. On the other hand, the Company sustained its focus on affordable housing in non-metro areas within the home loans segment, which led to a healthy 15% year-on-year growth. MSME loans also registered an 18% growth, supported by targeted outreach and strengthened underwriting. Nonetheless, subdued demand and restrained disbursements continued to weigh on overall portfolio momentum.

As of March 31, 2025, IIFL Finance operated 4,906 branches, primarily dedicated to its gold loans, home loans, MSME loans and microfinance loans. Profitability was under pressure during the year due to restrictions on gold loan business, industry-wide stress in microfinance and one-time exceptional provisions on security receipts. Return on Assets (RoA) declined to 0.9% and Return on Equity (RoE) to 3.4%.

ROA and ROE (%)

The Company continued to extend tailored credit solutions, particularly in the affordable housing segment, offering small-ticket loans to salaried and self-employed individuals, with an average onboarding ticket size of ₹ 16.4 Lakhs. Through its subsidiary, IIFL Home Finance, the Group remained aligned with the Government's 'Housing for All' agenda under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban) – Credit Linked Subsidy Scheme.

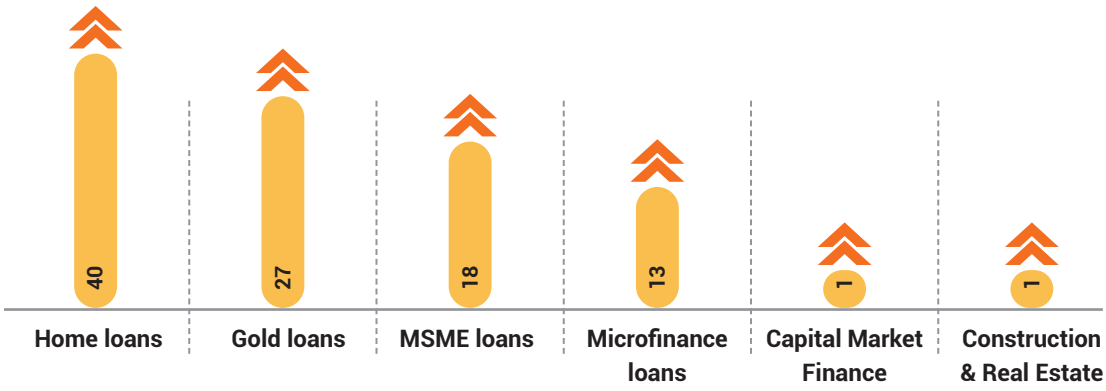

Microfinance loans amounted to ₹ 9,859 Crores (13%), serving a widespread customer base through 1,660 branches across India. These core segments reflect the Company's diversified lending model and its commitment to financial inclusion.

Retail loans—secured by mortgages, gold, or reliable income streams—comprised 99% of the total loan book as of March 31, 2025, primarily targeting financially underserved customer segments. While business fundamentals remain intact, performance was adversely impacted by reduced demand, tighter funding conditions and an elevated cost of capital. The Company's retail lending platform, supported by a wide distribution network, co-lending partnerships, digital-first initiatives and a solid balance sheet, continues to be a strategic differentiator. The share of retail loans qualifying under the RBI's Priority Sector Lending (PSL) norms (excluding gold loans) stood at 64% as of March 31, 2025. The proportion of loans sold down by way of direct assignment and co-lending stood at 30% of total AUM.

IIFL Finance maintained a stable AUM composition, with secured loans forming 80% of the portfolio. Despite sectoral pressures, the Company remains committed to navigating macroeconomic uncertainties through conservative lending, calibrated growth and robust risk management.

AUM break-up (%)

During the year, the Company raised ₹ 17,486.71 Crores through various funding sources such as term loans, bonds, refinancing, and securitization. Additionally, ₹ 7,449.69 Crores was raised via loan assignments to further strengthen the liquidity position.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To,

The Members of

IIFL Finance Limited

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of IIFL Finance Limited (the "Company"), which comprise Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), Statement of Changes in Equity and Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and notes to standalone financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as the "standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025, and its loss, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing ("SAs") specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of standalone financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on standalone financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 44.3 to the standalone financial statements, which describe the matter relating to excess remuneration as compared to minimum remuneration specified under schedule V to the Act, to the extent of Rs. 9.88 crore paid to the Managing Director of the Company as a result of inadequate profit for the year, and subsequent resolution passed by the Board of Directors of the Company ratifying the same. As stated therein, approval by the Board of Directors is subject to approval by the shareholders of the Company, which is proposed to be taken at the ensuing Annual General Meeting by way of a special resolution. Excess remuneration paid is accounted as expenses for the year and pending the approval, the Managing Director is holding the amount in trust for the Company.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of standalone financial statements as a whole and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matters	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matters
1	Information technology (IT) systems used in financial reporting process. The Company's operational and financial processes are dependent on IT systems due to large volume of transactions that are processed daily. The gaps in the IT general control environment could result in a misstatement of the financial accounting. Proper IT general and application controls are essential to ensure accurate, complete, and consistent data processing for reliable financial reporting. We therefore identified IT systems and controls with reference to standalone financial statements as a key audit matter for the Company.	We obtained an understanding of the Company's IT control environment relevant to the audit. We tested the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of the Company's General IT controls over the key IT systems which are critical to financial reporting. For these elements of the IT infrastructure the areas of our focus included access security (including controls over privileged access), program change controls, database management and network operations. In particular: 1. We tested the design, implementation, and operating effectiveness of the Company's general IT controls over the IT systems relevant to financial reporting. This included evaluation of Company's controls over segregation of duties and access rights being provisioned / modified based on duly approved requests, access for exit cases being revoked in a timely manner and access of all users being recertified during the period of audit. 2. We also tested key automated business cycle controls and logic for the reports generated through the IT infrastructure that were relevant for financial reporting or were used in the exercise of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Our tests included testing of the compensating controls or alternate procedures to assess whether there were any unaddressed IT risks that would materiality impact the Financial Statements.
2	Allowances for Expected credit loss on Loans ("ECL"): As on March 31, 2025, the carrying value of the loan assets measured at amortised cost and fair value through other comprehensive income aggregated to Rs. 22,867 crores (net of allowance of expected credit loss of Rs. 437 crores) out of the total assets amounting to Rs. 32,114 crores. Since the loans and advances form a major portion of the Company's assets, and due to the significance of the judgments used in classifying loans and advances into various stages and identifying loans which are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income as stipulated in Ind AS 109 and the management estimation of the related impairment provisions, this is considered to be a key audit matter. The Company's impairment allowance is derived from estimates including the historical default and loss ratios. Management exercises judgement in determining the quantum of loss based on a range of factors. The most significant areas are: - Segmentation of loan book - Identification of loans to be measured at fair value through other comprehensive income - Determination of exposure at default - Qualitative and quantitative factors used in staging criteria for loans - basis of estimation and calculation of probability of default / Loss given default for each segment - Consideration of probability weighted scenarios and forward looking macro-economic factors The application of ECL model requires several data inputs. This increases the risk of completeness and accuracy of the data that has been used to create assumptions in the model. Refer Note 38A.3 to standalone financial statements for disclosures.	Our audit approach was a combination of test of internal controls and substantive procedures which included the following: 1. Evaluating the Company's accounting policies, as approved by the Board of Directors, for impairment of loans. 2. Obtained an understanding of the modelling techniques / models adopted by the Company including the key inputs and assumptions. 3. We assessed the design and implementation of key internal financial controls with respect to computation of provisioning requirements in terms of RBI guidelines 4. Tested the design and effectiveness of controls related to: ▪ The completeness and accuracy of Exposure at Default (EAD) and the classification of such exposure into stages, as per the Board-approved policy. ▪ The accuracy and relevance of information used in estimating Probability of Default (PD) and Loss Given Default (LGD). ▪ Tested the ECL model, including assumptions, underlying computation of ECL provision performed by the Company on sample basis to assess the arithmetical accuracy. ▪ Completeness and accuracy of the staging of the loans and the underlying data based on which the ECL estimates were computed. ▪ We also made enquiries with the management in respect of justification and quantum of the management overlay.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Information Other than standalone financial statements and Auditors' Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual report but does not include standalone financial statements and our report thereon. Annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this report.

Our opinion on standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance or conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the other information, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance as required under SA 720 "The Auditors Responsibilities Relating to Other Information".

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for standalone financial statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Ind AS. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Management and the Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of standalone financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of standalone financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our report unless any law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matter

The standalone financial statements includes the comparative financial information for the year ended March 31, 2024 which were audited by one of the joint auditors and one of the predecessor auditors and they have issued unmodified opinion vide their report dated June 15, 2024.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this other matter.

ANNEXURE –B
TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Annexure B referred to paragraph 2(f) under the heading "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" in our report of even date to the members of IIFL Finance Limited on the financial statement for the year ended March 31, 2025.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

Opinion

We have audited the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements of IIFL Finance Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025, in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

In our opinion, to the best of the information given to us the Company has, in all material respects, adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and such controls were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the criteria for internal financial controls over financial reporting established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting ("the Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI").

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal financial controls over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of the Company's business, including adherence to the Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility for the Audit of the Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the ICAI prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, and the Guidance Note on issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements includes obtaining an understanding of such internal financial controls, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

A Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements include those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on standalone financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with Reference to Standalone Financial Statements

ANNEXURE –B
TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to standalone financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

NOTE 1. CORPORATE INFORMATION:

Company overview

IIFL Finance Limited (the "Company") is a middle layer Non-Banking Financial Company not accepting public deposits registered with the Reserve Bank of India ("the RBI") under section 45-IA of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 and primarily engaged in financing and related activities. The Company received the certificate of registration from RBI on March 06, 2020, enabling the Company to carry on business as a Non-Banking Financial Company. The Company offers a broad suite of financial products and deals majorly into loans such as gold loan, loans to Micro, small & medium enterprise ("MSME"), loan against securities and digital finance loans.

The audited financial statements were subject to review and recommendation of Audit Committee and approval of Board of Directors. On May 08, 2025, Board of Directors of the Company approved and recommended the audited financial statements for consideration and adoption by the shareholders in its Annual General Meeting.

NOTE 2. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND PRESENTATION OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS:

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period as explained in the accounting policies below and the relevant provisions of The Companies Act, 2013 ("Act").

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued Accounting Standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing Accounting Standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Company takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/ or disclosure purposes in these financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share based payment transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 102, leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 116, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as value in use in Ind AS 36.

Fair value measurements under Ind AS are categorized into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Company can access at measurement date;
- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within level 1,(that are not traded in active market) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the valuation of assets or liabilities.

(a) Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") requires the management to make estimates, judgements and assumptions. These estimates, judgements and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates can change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as the management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which these changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

The Financial Statements are presented in Indian rupees which is determined to be functional currency of the Company and the currency of primary economic environment in which the Company operates.

(b) Statement of compliance

The standalone financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Act and Ind AS notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs in exercise of the powers conferred by section 133 read with sub-section (1) of section 210A of the Companies Act, 2013 along with the applicable guidelines issued by Reserve Bank of India ("RBI"). In addition, the guidance notes/ announcements issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") are also applied except where compliance with other statutory promulgations requires a different treatment.

(c) Presentation of financial statements

The Balance Sheet and the Statement of Profit and Loss are prepared and presented in the format prescribed in the Division III to Schedule III to Act applicable for Non-Banking Finance Companies ("NBFC"). The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows". The disclosure requirements with respect to items in the Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss, as prescribed in the Schedule III to the Act, are presented by way of notes forming part of the Financial Statements along with the other notes required to be disclosed under the notified Accounting Standards and regulations issued by the RBI.

NOTE 3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured and there exists reasonable certainty of its recovery.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the Company as part of the contract.

i. Interest income and dividend income:

Interest income on financial instruments at amortized cost is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding.

Interest on financial instruments measured at fair value is included within the fair value movement during the period.

The EIR is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash flows of the financial instrument through the expected life of the financial instrument or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount of the financial instrument. The future cash flows are estimated taking into account all the contractual terms of the instrument.

The calculation of the EIR includes all fees paid or received between parties to the contract that are incremental and directly attributable to the specific lending arrangement, transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. For financial assets at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"), transaction costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss at initial recognition.

Dividend on equity shares, preference shares and on mutual fund units is recognized as income when the right to receive the dividend is established.

ii. Fees and charges:

Fees and charges include fees other than those that are an integral part of EIR. The fees included in this part of the Company's Statement of Profit and Loss include, among other things, fees charged for servicing a loan.

Cheque bounce charges, late payment charges and foreclosure charges are recognized on a point-in-time basis and are recorded when realized.

Fee and commission expenses with regards to services are accounted for as and when the services are delivered.

iii. Income from financial instruments at FVTPL:

Income from financial instruments at FVTPL includes all gains and losses from changes in the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL.

iv. Assignment transactions:

In accordance with Ind AS 109, assignment transactions with complete transfer of risks and rewards without any retention of residual interest, gain arising on such assignment transactions is recorded upfront in the Statement of Profit and Loss and the corresponding asset is derecognized from the Balance Sheet immediately upon execution of such transaction. Further, the transfer of financial assets qualifies for derecognition in its entirety, the whole of the interest spread at its present value (discounted over the behavioural tenure of the asset) is recognized on the date of derecognition itself as interest only strip receivable (interest strip on assignment) and correspondingly recognized as profit on derecognition of financial asset.

v. Securitisation transactions

In accordance with Ind AS 109, in case of securitisation transactions, the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

NOTES FORMING PART OF THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

vi. Other operational revenue

Other operational revenue represents income earned from the activities incidental to the business and is recognized when the right to receive the income is established as per the terms of the contract.

(b) Property, plant and equipment ("PPE")

PPE is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. PPE is stated at original cost net of tax, if any, less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes professional fees related to the acquisition of PPE and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalized in accordance with the Company's accounting policy.

Depreciation is charged using the straight-line method, based on the useful life of PPE as estimated by the Management, as specified below. Depreciation is charged from the month in which new assets are available for use. No depreciation is charged from the month in which assets are sold. In case of transfer of used PPE from group companies, depreciation is charged over the remaining useful life of the asset. Individual assets / group of similar assets costing up to ₹ 5,000 have been depreciated in full in the year of purchase.

The estimated useful life of assets is as under:

Class of assets	Useful life
Buildings	20 years
Computers	3 years
Office equipment	5 years
Plant and equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years
Vehicles	5 years

For above class of assets, based on internal assessment and independent technical evaluation carried out by external valuers, the Management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which Management expects to use these assets.

An item of PPE is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of PPE is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Capital work in progress

Projects under which PPE are not yet ready for their intended use are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest and are disclosed as "capital work-in-progress".

(c) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are recognized when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the enterprise and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are stated at original cost net of tax, less accumulated amortisation and cumulative impairment.

Intangible assets i.e. Software are amortized on straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of 3 years.

Amortisation on impaired assets is provided by adjusting the amortisation charge in the remaining periods so as to allocate the assets revised carrying amount over its remaining useful life.

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Intangible assets under development

Intangible assets not ready for their intended use on the Balance Sheet date are disclosed as "Intangible assets under development".

(d) Investment property

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/ or for capital appreciation (including property under construction for such purposes). Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

An investment property is derecognized upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from the disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset) is included in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the Investment property is derecognized.

Freehold land and properties under construction are not depreciated.

(e) Non-current Assets held for Sale

Non-current assets are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount is intended to be recovered principally through a sale (rather than through continuing use) when the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sale of such asset and the sale is highly probable and is expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification. Non-current assets classified as held for sale are measured at lower of their carrying amount and fair value less costs to sell.

(f) Impairment of assets

As at the end of each accounting year, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its PPE, intangible assets and investment property assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If such indication exists, the PPE, intangible assets and investment property are tested for impairment so as to determine the impairment loss, if any.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. If recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, such deficit is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss as impairment loss and the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount.

When an impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, to an extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(g) Share-based payment arrangements

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value determined at the grant date of the equity-settled share-based payments is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Company's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity.

Securities premium includes:

- The difference between the face value of the equity shares and the consideration received in respect of shares issued pursuant to Stock Option Scheme.
- The fair value of the stock options which are treated as expense, if any, in respect of shares allotted pursuant to Stock Options Scheme.

(h) Employee benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Company's contribution towards Provident Fund are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made as and when services are rendered by the employees and are accounted for on an accrual basis and recognized in the Statement of Profit and loss.

Defined benefit plans

Short term employee benefits: Employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short term employee benefits and are expensed in the period in which the employee renders the related service. Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences.

Post employment benefits: The employees' gratuity fund scheme represents defined benefit plan. The present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows using a discount rate based on the market yield on government securities of a maturity period equivalent to the weighted average maturity profile of the defined benefit obligations at the Balance Sheet date.

Re-measurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset) and any change in the effect of asset ceiling (if applicable) is recognized in other comprehensive income and is reflected in retained earnings and the same is not eligible to be reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Defined benefit costs comprising current service cost, past service cost and gains or losses on settlements are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as employee benefit expenses. Gains or losses on settlement of any defined benefit plan are recognized when the settlement occurs. Past service cost is recognized as expense at the earlier of the plan amendment or curtailment and when the Company recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

In case of funded plans, the fair value of the plan assets is reduced from the gross obligation under the defined benefit plans to recognise the obligation on a net basis.

Long term employee benefits: The obligation recognized in respect of long term benefits being long term compensated absences, is measured at present value of estimated future cash flows expected to be made by the Company and is recognized in a similar manner as in the case of defined benefit plan above.

(i) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting attributable taxes) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting attributable taxes) and the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period, unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

(j) Taxes on income

Current tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the Company's financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in computation of taxable profit and quantified using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted as on the Balance Sheet date.

Deferred tax is not recognized for:

- Temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss;
- Temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- Taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Future taxable profits are determined based on business plans and the reversal of temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the assets to be recovered.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities. For this purpose, the carrying amount of investment property measured at fair value is presumed to be recovered through sale, and the Company has not rebutted this presumption.

For transactions and other events recognized in profit or loss, any related tax effects are also recognized in profit or loss. For transactions and other events recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity), any related tax effects are also recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively).

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off assets against liabilities, representing current tax and where the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relates to taxes on income levied by the same governing taxation laws.

Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognized in the Statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

(k) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Company's Balance Sheet when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Recognized financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs and revenues that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs and revenues directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets

Classification and measurement

The Company classifies its financial assets into the following measurement categories: amortized cost; fair value through other comprehensive income; and fair value through profit or loss.

All recognized financial assets that are within the scope of Ind AS 109 are required to be subsequently measured at amortized cost or fair value on the basis of the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets.

Financial instruments measured at amortized cost

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at amortized cost (except for debt instruments that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest ("SPPI") on the principal amount outstanding.

For the purpose of SPPI test, principal is the fair value of the financial asset at initial recognition. The principal amount may change over the life of the financial asset (e.g. if there are repayments of principal). Interest consists of consideration for the time value of money, for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs, as well as a profit margin. The SPPI assessment is made in the currency in which the financial asset is denominated.

Contractual cash flows that are SPPI are consistent with a basic lending arrangement. Contractual terms that introduce exposure to risks or volatility in the contractual cash flows that are unrelated to a basic lending arrangement, such as exposure to changes in equity prices or commodity prices, do not give rise to contractual cash flows that are SPPI. An originated or an acquired financial asset can be a basic lending arrangement irrespective of whether it is a loan in its legal form.

An assessment of business models for managing financial assets is fundamental to the classification of a financial asset. The Company determines the business models at a level that reflects how financial assets are managed together to achieve a particular business objective. The Company's business model does not depend on management's intentions for an individual instrument, therefore the business model assessment is performed at a higher level of aggregation rather than on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Debt instruments that are subsequently measured at amortized cost are subject to impairment.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (except for debt instruments that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Interest income is recognized in Statement of profit and loss for FVTOCI debt instruments. Other changes in fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. When the asset is disposed of, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in reserve is transferred to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through Profit and Loss ("FVTPL")

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL), transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

Instruments that do not meet the amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on re-measurement recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The gain or loss on disposal is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Interest income is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss for FVTPL debt instruments. Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognized when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Company can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income pertaining to investments in equity instruments. This election is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading. These elected investments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. Subsequently, they are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the 'Reserve for equity instruments through other comprehensive income'. The cumulative gain or loss is not reclassified to Statement of Profit and Loss on disposal of the investments. Dividends from these investments are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the Company's right to receive dividends is established.

Reclassifications

If the business model under which the Company holds financial assets changes, the financial assets affected are reclassified. The classification and measurement requirements related to the new category apply prospectively from the first day of the first reporting period following the change in business model that result in reclassifying the Company's financial assets. Changes in contractual cash flows are considered under the accounting policy on modification and derecognition of financial assets described below.

Impairment of financial assets

Company recognizes loss allowances using the Expected Credit Loss ("ECL") model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit and loss. ECL is calculated using a model which captures portfolio performance over a period of time. ECL is a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. A credit loss is the difference between the cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive discounted at the original EIR. Vintage loss curve model is used for ECL computation of retail portfolio which involves assessment of performance of segmented portfolio over a time period. The model tracks month-wise losses during the loan tenor. Vintage loss rate models provide a simple, reasonable model for both one-year and lifetime expected credit loss forecasts. For wholesale portfolio, ECL computation is done for each loan account based on CRISIL default study and International Review Board ("IRB") guidelines. Additionally, forecasts of future macro situations and economic conditions are considered as part of forward economic guidance (FEG) model. Forward looking economic scenarios determined with reference to external forecasts of economic parameters that have demonstrated a linkage to the performance of our portfolios over a period of time have been applied to determine impact of macro-economic factors.

ECL is measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- 12-month ECL, i.e. ECL that result from those default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date (referred to as Stage 1); or
- full lifetime ECL, i.e. lifetime ECL that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument (referred to as Stage 2 and Stage 3).

A loss allowance for full lifetime ECL is required for a financial instrument if the credit risk on that financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. For all other financial instruments, ECLs are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL.

The Company measures ECL on an individual basis, or on a collective basis for portfolios of loans that share similar economic risk characteristics. The measurement of the loss allowance is based on the present value of the asset's expected cash flows using the asset's original EIR, regardless of whether it is measured on an individual basis or a collective basis.

Key elements of ECL computation are outlined below:

- Probability of default ("PD") is an estimate of the likelihood that customer will default over a given time horizon. A default may only happen at a certain time over the assessed period, if the facility has not been previously de-recognized and is still in the portfolio.
- Loss given default ("LGD") estimates the normalized loss which Company incurs post customer default. It is usually expressed as a percentage of the Exposure at default ("EAD").
- Effective interest rate ("EIR") is the rate that discounts estimated future cash flows through the expected life of financial instrument. For calculating EIR any upfront fees needs to be excluded from the loans and advance amount.

Credit impaired financial assets

A financial asset is 'credit impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred. Credit-impaired financial assets are referred to as Stage 3 assets. Evidence of credit-impairment includes observable data about the following events:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer;
- a breach of contract such as a default or past due event;
- the lender of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession that the lender would not otherwise consider;
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties; or
- the purchase of a financial asset at a deep discount that reflects the incurred credit losses.

A loan is considered credit-impaired when a concession is granted to the borrower due to a deterioration in the borrower's financial condition, unless there is evidence that as a result of granting the concession the risk of not receiving the contractual cash flows has reduced significantly and there are no other indicators of impairment.

Definition of default

Critical to the determination of ECL is the definition of default. The definition of default is used in measuring the amount of ECL and in the determination of whether the loss allowance is based on 12-month or lifetime ECL, as default is a component of the probability of default ("PD") which affects both the measurement of ECLs and the identification of a significant increase in credit risk.

Significant increase in credit risk

The Company monitors all financial assets, issued loan commitments and financial guarantee contracts that are subject to the impairment requirements to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. The Company's accounting policy is not to use the practical expedient that financial assets with 'low' credit risk at the reporting date are deemed not to have had a significant increase in credit risk.

In assessing whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument at the reporting date based on the remaining maturity of the instrument with the risk of a default occurring that was anticipated for the remaining maturity at the current reporting date when the financial instrument was first recognized. In making this assessment, the Company considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort, based on the Company's expert credit assessment.

Modification and derecognition of financial assets

A modification of a financial asset occurs when the contractual terms governing the cash flows of a financial asset are renegotiated or otherwise modified between initial recognition and maturity of the financial asset. A modification affects the amount and/ or timing of the contractual cash flows either immediately or at a future date. In addition, the introduction or adjustment of existing covenants of an existing loan would constitute a modification even if these new or adjusted covenants do not yet affect the cash flows immediately but may affect the cash flows depending on whether the covenant is or is not met (e.g. a change to the increase in the interest rate that arises when covenants are breached).

The Company renegotiates loans to customers in financial difficulty to maximise collection and minimise the risk of default. Loan forbearance is granted in cases where although the borrower made all reasonable efforts to pay under the original contractual terms, there is a high risk of default or default has already happened and the borrower is expected to be able to meet the revised terms. The revised terms in most of the cases include an extension of the maturity of the loan, changes to the timing of the cash flows of the loan (principal and interest repayment), reduction in the amount of cash flows due (principal and interest forgiveness) and amendments to covenants.

When a financial asset is modified, the Company assesses whether this modification results in derecognition. In accordance with the Company's policy, a modification results in derecognition when it gives rise to substantially different terms. To determine if the modified terms are substantially different from the original contractual terms the Company considers the following:

Qualitative factors, such as contractual cash flows after modification are no longer SPPI, change in currency or change of counterparty, the extent of change in interest rates, maturity, covenants. If these do not clearly indicate a substantial modification, then a quantitative assessment is performed to compare the present value of the remaining contractual cash flows under the original terms with the contractual cash flows under the revised terms, both amounts discounted at the original effective interest.

In the case where the financial asset is derecognized, the loss allowance for ECL is remeasured at the date of derecognition to determine the net carrying amount of the asset at that date. The difference between this revised carrying amount and the fair value of the new financial asset with the new terms will lead to a gain or loss on derecognition. The new financial asset will have a loss allowance measured based on 12-month ECL except in the rare occasions where the new loan is considered to be originated-credit impaired. This applies only in the case where the fair value of the new loan is recognized at a significant discount to its revised par amount because there remains a high risk of default which has not been reduced by the modification. The Company monitors credit risk of modified financial assets by evaluating qualitative and quantitative information, such as if the borrower is in past due status under the new terms.

When the contractual terms of a financial asset are modified and the modification does not result in derecognition, the Company determines if the financial asset's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

For financial assets modified, where modification did not result in derecognition, the estimate of PD reflects the Company's ability to collect the modified cash flows taking into account the Company's previous experience of similar forbearance action, as well as various behavioural indicators, including the borrower's payment performance against the modified contractual terms. If the credit risk remains significantly higher than what was expected at initial recognition the loss allowance will continue to be measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. The loss allowance on forborne loans will generally only be measured based on 12-month ECL when there is evidence of the borrower's improved repayment behaviour following modification leading to a reversal of the previous significant increase in credit risk.

Where a modification does not lead to derecognition the Company calculates the modification gain/ loss comparing the gross carrying amount before and after the modification (excluding the ECL allowance). Then the Company measures ECL for the modified asset, where the expected cash flows arising from the modified financial asset are included in calculating the expected cash shortfalls from the original asset.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Company derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the asset's cash flows expire (including expiry arising from a modification with substantially different terms), or when the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset are transferred to another entity. If the Company neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Company recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Company retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Company continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain/loss that had been recognized in OCI and accumulated in equity is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, with the exception of equity investment designated as measured at FVTOCI, where the cumulative gain/loss previously recognized in OCI is not subsequently reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Loans and debt securities are written off when the Company has no reasonable expectations of recovering the financial asset (either in its entirety or a portion of it). This is the case when the Company determines that the borrower does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. The Company may apply enforcement activities to financial assets written off. Recoveries resulting from the Company's enforcement activities will result in impairment gains.

Financial liabilities and equity Instruments

Debt and equity instruments that are issued by the Company are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Company are recognized at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Compound instruments

The component parts of compound instruments (e.g. convertible notes) issued by the Company are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. A conversion option that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the Company's own equity instruments is an equity instrument.

At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments.

A conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognized and included in equity, net of income tax effects, and is not subsequently re-measured. In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion option is exercised, in which case, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to other component of equity. Where the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible note, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to retained earnings. No gain/ loss is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the convertible notes are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds. Transaction costs relating to the equity component are recognized directly in equity. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability component and are amortized over the life of the convertible notes using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities that are not held-for-trading and are not designated as at FVTPL are measured at amortized cost. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortized cost are determined based on the effective interest rate method.

The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the amortized cost of a financial liability.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Company's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid and payable is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet only if there is an enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts with an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously

(I) Investment in subsidiaries

Investment in subsidiaries is recognized at cost and is not adjusted to fair value at the end of each reporting period as allowed by Ind AS 27 'Separate financial statement'. Cost of investment represents amount paid for acquisition of the said investment.

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

The Company assesses at the end of each reporting period, if there are any indications that the said investment may be impaired. If so, the Company estimates the recoverable value/amount of the investment and provides for impairment, if any i.e. the deficit in the recoverable value over cost.

(m) Cash and bank balances

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition), highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash and bank balances also include fixed deposits, margin money deposits, earmarked balances with banks and other bank balances which have restrictions on repatriation. Short term and liquid investments being subject to more than insignificant risk of change in value, are not included as part of cash and cash equivalents.

(n) Goods and service tax input credit

Goods and service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the supply of goods or service received is accounted and when there is no uncertainty in availing/ utilising the credits.

(o) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest expense calculated using the EIR method.

(p) Foreign currencies

In preparing the financial statements, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

(q) Segment reporting

The Company's primary business segments are reflected based on the principal business carried out, i.e. financing. All other activities of the Company revolve around the main business. The risk and returns of the business of the Company is not associated with geographical segmentation, hence there is no secondary segment reporting based on geographical segment. As such, there are no separate reportable segments.

(r) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when:

- an entity has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event; and
- it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and
- a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Contingent liability is disclosed in case of:

- a present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and
- a present obligation arising from past events, when no reliable estimate is possible.

(s) Statement of Cash Flows

Statement of Cash Flows is prepared segregating the cash flows into operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flow from operating activities is reported using indirect method adjusting the net profit for the effects of:

- changes during the period in operating receivables and payables transactions of a non-cash nature;

- non-cash items such as depreciation, provisions, deferred taxes and unrealised foreign currency gains and losses;
- all other items for which the cash effects are investing or financing cash flows.

Cash and cash equivalents (including bank balances) shown in the Statement of Cash Flows exclude items which are not available for general use as on the date of balance sheet.

(t) Derivative financial instruments and hedging

The Company holds derivative financial instruments to hedge its foreign currency and interest rate risk exposures relating to foreign currency borrowings. Embedded derivatives are separated from the host contract and accounted for separately if certain criteria are met.

The Company designates only the change in fair value of the spot element of the forward exchange contract as the hedging instrument in cash flow hedging relationships. The effective portion of changes in fair value of hedging instruments is accumulated in a cash flow hedge reserve as a separate component of equity.

The forward cost are separately accounted for as a cost of hedging and are recognized in OCI and accumulated in a cost of hedging reserve as a separate component within equity.

Cash flow hedges

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in OCI and accumulated under the heading of Cash Flow Hedge Reserve. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in profit or loss, and is included in the Fair value changes line item.

The amount accumulated in equity is retained in OCI and reclassified to profit or loss in the same period or periods during which the hedged forecast cash flows affect profit or loss or the hedged item affects profit or loss.

If the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the hedge no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, or the designation is revoked, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, then the amount accumulated in equity is reclassified to profit or loss.

(u) Leases

The Company assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company considers whether (i) the contract involves the use of identified asset; (ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the asset through the period of lease and (iii) the Company has right to direct the use of the asset.

As a lessee

The Company recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

Certain lease arrangements include the option to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. The right-of-use assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Company's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Company uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprises of fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments, amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee and the exercise price under a purchase option that the Company is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option.

The lease liability is subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Company's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if Company changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Lease liability and the right of use asset have been separately presented in the balance sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing activities.

The Company has elected not to recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short term leases that have a lease term of less than or equal to 12 months with no purchase option and assets with low value leases. The Company recognizes the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense in statement of profit and loss over the lease term. The related cash flows are classified as operating activities.

Critical accounting estimate and judgement

1. Determination of lease term

Ind AS 116 Leases requires lessee to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Company makes assessment on the expected lease term on lease by lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. In evaluating the lease term, the Company considers factors such as any significant leasehold improvements undertaken over the lease term, costs relating to the termination of lease and the importance of the underlying to the Company's operations taking into account the location of the underlying asset and the availability of the suitable alternatives. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances.

2. Discount rate

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

The Company as a lessee

As a lessee, the Company leases assets which includes gold loan branches/office premises and vehicles to employees. The Company previously classified leases as operating or finance leases based on its assessment of whether the lease transferred significantly all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset to the Company. Under Ind AS 116, the Company recognizes right-to-use assets and lease liabilities for these leases.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA') notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, the MCA has notified Ind AS 117, Insurance Contracts, and amendments to Ind AS 116, Leases, relating to sale and leaseback transactions, applicable to the Company, w.e.f., April 1, 2024. The Company has reviewed the new pronouncements and based on its evaluation, has determined that the new pronouncement is not applicable to the Company.

6.1 HEDGING ACTIVITIES AND DERIVATIVES

The Company is exposed to certain risks relating to its ongoing business operations. The primary risks managed using derivative instruments are interest rate and currency risk.

6.1.1 DERIVATIVES DESIGNATED AS HEDGING INSTRUMENTS

The foreign currency and interest rate risk on borrowings have been actively hedged through a combination of forward contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps.

The Company is exposed to interest rate risk arising from its floating rate foreign currency borrowings. Interest on the borrowing is payable at a floating rate linked to the benchmark plus margin. The Company hedges the interest rate risk arising from the debt with a 'receive floating - pay fixed' interest rate swap.

The Company uses forward exchange contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps to hedge its risks associated with interest rate and currency risk arising from the foreign currency loans. The Company designates such contracts in a cash flow hedging relationship by applying the hedge accounting principles as per IND AS - 109 (refer note 38.C.2). These contracts are stated at fair value of the spot element of the forward exchange contracts at each reporting date. Changes in the fair value of these contracts that are designated as effective hedge of future cash flows are recognised directly in the "Cash flow hedge reserve" under other comprehensive income and the ineffective portion is recognized immediately in the "Fair value changes" under statement of profit and loss. Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedged instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting.

There is an economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument as the terms of the Forward contracts/ Interest Rate Swaps match that of the foreign currency borrowings (notional amount, interest payment dates, principal repayment date, etc.). The Company has established a hedge ratio of 1:1 for the hedging relationships as the underlying risk of the forward contracts/ interest rate swaps/ cross currency swaps are identical to the hedged risk components.

The Company does not use derivatives for trading or speculation purposes.

The sensitivity analysis have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same method as applied in calculating the projected benefit obligation as recognized in the balance sheet.

There is no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from previous years.

Qualitative disclosures

Characteristics of defined benefit plan

During the year, there were no plan amendments, curtailments and settlements.

The entity has a defined benefit gratuity plan in India (funded). The entity's defined benefit gratuity plan is a final salary plan for employees, which requires contributions to be made to a separately administered fund. The fund is managed by a trust which is governed by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees are responsible for the administration of the plan assets and for the definition of the investment strategy.

A separate trust fund is created to manage the Gratuity plan and the contributions towards the trust fund is done as guided by rule 103 of Income Tax Rules, 1962.

Risks associated with defined benefit plan

Gratuity is a defined benefit plan and company is exposed to the following risks:

Interest rate risk: A fall in the discount rate which is linked to the G.Sec. Rate will increase the present value of the liability requiring higher provision. A fall in the discount rate generally increases the mark to market value of the assets depending on the duration of asset.

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

Salary risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of members. As such, an increase in the salary of the members more than assumed level will increase the plan's liability.

Investment risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate which is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. If the return on plan asset is below this rate, it will create a plan deficit. Currently, for the plan in India, it has a relatively balanced mix of investments in government securities, and other debt instruments.

Asset liability matching risk: The plan faces the ALM risk as to the matching cash flow. Since the plan is invested in lines of Rule 101 of Income Tax Rules, 1962, this generally reduces ALM risk.

Mortality risk: Since the benefits under the plan is not payable for life time and payable till retirement age only, plan does not have any longevity risk.

Concentration Risk: Plan is having a concentration risk as all the assets are invested with the insurance entity and a default will wipe out all the assets. Although probability of this is very less as insurance companies have to follow regulatory guidelines.

NOTE 35. EXCEPTIONAL ITEMS

The Company had certain AIF investments that were due to mature in June 2024. In March 2024, the Company requested the AIF to do in-specie distribution of assets (i.e.: debentures of underlying SPV companies) in lieu of its investment in the AIF. Subsequently, these debentures were assigned to an ARC, and the book value of the resulting Security Receipts (SRs), based on the same underlying assets as of September 30, 2024, was ₹ 586.50 Crores. The RBI Circular dated December 19, 2023, on "Investments in Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs)" required a 100% provision of AIF investments if they were not liquidated within 30 days of the circular being applicable. To comply with the spirit of this circular, the management has decided to make a provision equivalent to 100% of the book value of these SRs, accordingly the same has been disclosed under exceptional items for year.

NOTE 38. RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company's activities expose it to market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

Risk management is integral to Company's strategy. The comprehensive understanding of risk management throughout the various levels of an organization aids in driving key decisions related to risk-return balance, capital allocation and product pricing. The Company operates under the guidance of the Board approved risk appetite statement that covers business composition, guidance around gross stage 3 assets and net stage 3 assets, leverage, funding and liquidity, etc.

Additionally, it is also ensured that appropriate focus is on managing risk proactively by ensuring business operations are in accordance with laid-down risk. A strong risk management team and an effective credit operations structure ensures that risks are properly identified and timely addressed, to ensure minimal impact on the Company's growth and performance.

Risk Management Structure

The Company has established multi-level risk governance for monitoring and control of product and entity level risks. The Board of Directors are responsible for the overall risk management approach and for approving the risk management strategies and principles. The Board has constituted the Risk Management Committee (""RMC"") which is responsible for monitoring the overall risk process within the Company. The RMC is empowered to develop an independent risk strategy comprising of principles, frameworks, policies and limits and ensuring its effective implementation. Independent function of Risk management is in place headed by the Chief Risk Officer (""CRO"") who reports to the Managing Director and independently to RMC of the Board. The Risk department primarily operationalises risk management framework approved by RMC.

The Company has a well defined risk framework constituting various lines of defence – the first line of defence, consisting of Business Functions who own and manage risk. They ensures adequate managerial and supervisory controls to ensure compliance and highlight inadequate processes and unexpected events. The Company has well-defined internal control measures in every process.

Independent risk and policy team, Compliance and other control functions constitutes second line of defence which is responsible for identification and assessment of entity-wide risks. Post its identification, it aims to mitigate risks either through portfolio trigger and caps (Credit risk) or through ongoing risk control and self assessment (Operational risk).

Internal Audit function is the third line of defence that independently reviews activities of the first two lines of defence and reports to the Audit Committee of the Board.

Risk Management Practices

The Company has developed the necessary competency to identify early stress signals and has also defined processes, including corrective and remedial actions as regards people and processes, for mitigation to ensure minimum damage. A stress testing mechanism is put in place to carry out the event based sensitivity analysis and identify the accounts under stress due to expected market movement. In event of susceptibility to external triggers, appropriate risk mitigation would be undertaken and thereby minimize the losses to the Company.

It has initiated a detailed portfolio quality review mechanism which enables analysis of portfolio along various behavioural, demographic and financial parameters. Additionally, through tie-ups with external bureaus, an analysis of collection performance coupled with continuous credit assessment for various key segments is undertaken. The practices aid in proactive course correction thereby modifying credit or sourcing mechanisms, if required. Additionally, application scorecard has been developed enabling the Company to standardise credit underwriting and improve sourcing quality in the long run.

The Company's policy is to measure and monitor the overall risk-bearing capacity in relation to the aggregate risk exposure across all risk types and activities. Information pertaining to different type of risks are identified, analysed and tested on timely basis. The same is presented to RMC at periodic intervals.

In order to minimise any adverse effects on the financial performance of the Company, derivative financial instruments, such as cross currency interest rate swaps are entered to hedge certain foreign currency risk exposures and variable interest rate exposures.

The Company's central Treasury department identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close co-operation with the Company's operating units. The Board provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments and investment of excess liquidity. The Company's Treasury is responsible for managing its assets and liabilities and the overall financial structure. It is also primarily responsible for the funding and liquidity risks of the Company.

The Company follows 'simplified approach' for recognition of impairment loss allowance on cash and cash equivalents, bank balances, trade receivables, other receivables and other financial assets. The application of simplified approach does not require the Company to track changes in credit risk. Rather, it recognises impairment loss allowance based on lifetime ECLs at each reporting date, right from its initial recognition.

The Company holds collateral and other credit enhancements against certain of its credit exposures. The loans are collateralised against equitable mortgage of property, pledge of shares, hypothecation of assets, company personal guarantees, physical gold, undertaking to create security.

38A.6. CREDIT RISK GRADING OF LOANS

Credit risk is the risk that the Company will incur a loss because its customers or counterparties fail to discharge their contractual obligations. The Company manages and controls credit risk by setting limits on the amount of risk it is willing to accept for individual counterparties.

The Company ensures effective monitoring of credit facilities through a portfolio quality review framework. As per this process, an asset is reviewed at a frequency determined based on the risk it carries at the review date. For effective risk management, the Company monitors its portfolio, based on product, underlying security and credit risk characteristics.

The credit quality review process aims to allow the Company to assess the potential loss as a result of the risks to which it is exposed and take corrective actions. An independent risk and policy team reviews adherence to policies and processes on a periodic basis.

Additionally, the Company evaluates risk based on staging as defined in Ind AS, details of which are mentioned below:

38A.7. CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

Concentrations arise when a number of counterparties are engaged in similar business activities, or activities in the same geographical region, or have similar economic features that would cause their ability to meet contractual obligations to be similarly affected by changes in economic, political or other conditions.

In order to avoid excessive concentrations of risk, the Company's policies and procedures include specific guidelines to focus on spreading its lending portfolio across various products/states/customer base with a cap on maximum limit of exposure for an individual/Group. Accordingly, the Company does not have concentration risk.

38B LIQUIDITY RISK

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Company may not be able to meet its short-term financial obligations. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining sufficient cash and marketable securities and by having access to funding through an adequate amount of credit lines. Further, the Company has well defined Asset Liability Management (ALM) framework with an appropriate organizational structure to regularly monitor and manage maturity profiles of financial assets and financial liabilities including debt financing plans, cash and cash equivalent instruments to ensure liquidity. The Company seeks to maintain flexibility in funding mix by way of sourcing the funds through money markets, debt markets and banks to meet its business and liquidity requirements.

38C.2. EXPOSURE TO CURRENCY RISKS

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign currency rates. The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the foreign currency borrowings taken from Financial Institutions, External Commercial Borrowings (ECB) and foreign bond markets.

(i) The Company has hedged its foreign currency exposure through Forwards/ Future and / or Cross Currency Interest Rate Swaps in such a manner that it has fixed determinate outflows in its functional currency and as such there would be no significant impact of movement in foreign currency rates on the Company's profitability. However for the unhedged foreign currency exposure(s) there would be an impact on Company's profitability.

38E.3. VALUATION METHODOLOGIES OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS NOT MEASURED AT FAIR VALUE

Below are the methodologies and assumptions used to determine fair values for the above financial instruments which are not recorded and measured at fair value in the Company's financial statements. These fair values were calculated for disclosure purposes only.

Short-term financial assets and liabilities

For financial assets and financial liabilities that have a short-term nature, the carrying amounts, which are net of impairment, are a reasonable approximation of their fair value. Such instruments include: cash and bank balances, Trade receivables, other receivables, balances other than cash and cash equivalents, other financial assets and trade payables, other payables and other financial liabilities.

Loans, debts, borrowings and subordinated debts

The fair values of these instruments are estimated by determining the price of the instrument taking into consideration the origination date, maturity date, coupon rate, actual or approximation of frequency of interest payments and incorporating the actual or estimated/proxy yields of identitical or similar instruments through the discounting factor. For instruments, having contractual residual maturity or original maturity less than one year, the carrying value has been considered as fair value. Fair values of Loans and advances are presented net of provisions for impairment.

(c) Disclosures on Risk Exposure in Derivatives:

(I) Qualitative disclosure:

The Company's activities expose it to the financial risks of changes in foreign exchange rates and interest rates. The Company uses derivative contracts such as foreign exchange forward, cross currency contracts, interest rate swaps, foreign currency futures, options and swaps to hedge its exposure to movements in foreign exchange and interest rates. The use of these derivative contracts reduces the risk or cost to the Company and the Company does not use those for trading or speculation purposes.

The Company uses hedging instruments that are governed by the policies of the Company which are approved by the Board of Directors, which provide written principles on the use of such financial derivatives consistent with the risk management strategy of the Company. The Finance Committee and Asset Liability Management Committee (ALCO) of the Board is entrusted with the management and monitoring of risks in derivatives.

To hedge its risks on the principal and/ or interest amount for foreign currency borrowings on its balance sheet, the Company has currently used cross currency derivatives, forwards and principal only swaps. Additionally, the Company has entered into Interest Rate Swaps (IRS) to hedge its interest rate risk on the floating rate foreign currency borrowings.

Derivative financial instruments are initially measured at fair value on the contract date and are subsequently re-measured to fair value at each reporting date. Derivatives are classified as assets when the fair value is positive (positive marked to market value) or as liabilities when the fair value is negative (negative marked to market value). Fair value of derivatives is ascertained from the mark to market and accrual values received from the counterparty banks. Changes in the fair value of future cash flows of these contracts that are designated and effective as hedges are recognized directly in "Cash Flow Hedge Reserve" under Other Equity and the ineffective portion is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, no longer qualifies for hedge accounting or the Company chooses to end the hedging relationship.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained together with the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in Other Matter section below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 42.3 to the consolidated financial statements, which describe the matter relating to excess remuneration as compared to minimum remuneration specified under Schedule V to the Act, to the extent of Rs. 9.88 crore paid to the Managing Director of the Holding Company as a result of inadequate profit for the year, and subsequent resolution passed by the Board of Directors of the Holding Company ratifying the same. As stated therein, approval by the Board of Directors of the Holding Company is subject to approval by the shareholders of the Holding Company, which is proposed to be taken at the ensuing Annual General Meeting by way of a special resolution. Excess remuneration paid is accounted as expenses for the year and pending the approval, the Managing Director is holding the amount in trust for the Holding Company.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment and based on the consideration of the reports of the other auditors on the separate / consolidated financial statements of the subsidiaries, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the financial year ended March 31, 2025. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters. We / The other auditors of the subsidiaries have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters.

IIFL FINANCE

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

A. Key audit matters of the Holding Company – IIFL Finance Limited

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matters	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matters
1	Information technology (IT) systems used in financial reporting process. The Holding Company's operational and financial reporting processes are dependent on IT systems due to large volume of transactions that are processed daily. The gaps in the IT general control environment could result in a misstatement of the financial accounting. Proper IT general and application controls are essential to ensure accurate, complete, and consistent data processing for reliable financial reporting. We therefore identified IT systems and controls with reference to standalone financial statements as a key audit matter for the Holding Company.	We obtained an understanding of the Holding Company's IT control environment relevant to the audit. We tested the design, implementation and operating effectiveness of the Holding Company's General IT controls over the key IT systems which are critical to financial reporting. For these elements of the IT infrastructure the areas of our focus included access security (including controls over privileged access), program change controls, database management and network operations. In particular: 1. We tested the design, implementation, and operating effectiveness of the Holding Company's general IT controls over the IT systems relevant to financial reporting. This included evaluation of Holding Company's controls over segregation of duties and access rights being provisioned / modified based on duly approved requests, access for exit cases being revoked in a timely manner and access of all users being recertified during the period of audit. 2. We also tested key automated business cycle controls and logic for the reports generated through the IT infrastructure that were relevant for financial reporting or were used in the exercise of internal financial controls with reference to financial statements. Our tests included testing of the compensating controls or alternate procedures to assess whether there were any unaddressed IT risks that would materiality impact the financial statements.
2	Allowances for Expected credit loss on Loans ("ECL"): As on March 31, 2025 as per the standalone financial statements of the Holding Company, the carrying value of the loan assets measured at amortised cost and fair value through other comprehensive income aggregated to Rs. 22,867 crores (net of allowance of expected credit loss of Rs. 437 crores) out of the total assets amounting to Rs. 32,114 crores. Since the loans and advances form a major portion of the Holding Company's assets, and due to the significance of the judgments used in classifying loans and advances into various stages and identifying loans which are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income as stipulated in Ind AS 109 and the management estimation of the related impairment provisions, this is considered to be a key audit matter. The Holding Company's impairment allowance is derived from estimates including the historical default and loss ratios. Management exercises judgement in determining the quantum of loss based on a range of factors. The most significant areas are: - Segmentation of loan book - Identification of loans to be measured at fair value through other comprehensive income - Determination of exposure at default - Qualitative and quantitative factors used in staging criteria for loans - basis of estimation and calculation of probability of default / Loss given default for each segment - Consideration of probability weighted scenarios and forward looking macro-economic factors The application of ECL model requires several data inputs. This increases the risk of completeness and accuracy of the data that has been used to create assumptions in the model. Included in Note 38A.3 to the attached consolidated financial statements for disclosures.	Our audit approach was a combination of test of internal controls and substantive procedures which included the following: 1. Evaluating the Holding Company's accounting policies, as approved by their Board of Directors, for impairment of loans. 2. Obtained an understanding of the modelling techniques / models adopted by the Holding Company including the key inputs and assumptions. 3. We assessed the design and implementation of key internal financial controls with respect to computation of provisioning requirements in terms of RBI guidelines. 4. Tested the design and effectiveness of controls related to: ▪ The completeness and accuracy of Exposure at Default ("EAD") and the classification of such exposure into stages, as per the Board-approved policy. ▪ The accuracy and relevance of information used in estimating Probability of Default ("PD") and Loss Given Default ("LGD"). ▪ Tested the ECL model, including assumptions, underlying computation of ECL provision performed by the Holding Company on sample basis to assess the arithmetical accuracy. ▪ Completeness and accuracy of the staging of the loans and the underlying data based on which the ECL estimates were computed. ▪ We also made enquiries with the management in respect of justification and quantum of the management overlay.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

B. Key audit matters from consolidated financial statements of IIFL Home Finance Limited ("IHFL") (Subsidiary Company)

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
A	Key Audit Matters for Holding Company – IIFL Home Finance Limited
1	Impairment of loans as at the balance sheet date (including determination of expected credit losses) (as described in note 3(k) of the attached consolidated financial statements) IHFL provides for impairment of its loans using the Expected Credit Loss ("ECL") model. ECL involves an estimation of probability weighted loss on financial assets over their life, considering reasonable and supportable information about past events, current conditions, and forecasts of future economic conditions and other factors which could impact the credit quality of the IHFL's loans. In the process, a significant degree of judgement has been applied by the management for: a) Defining qualitative/ quantitative factors for 'significant increase in credit risk' ("SICR") and 'default'. b) Grouping of borrowers (retail loan portfolio) based on homogeneity for estimating probability of default, loss given default and exposure at default; c) Determining effect of less frequent past events on future probability of default. d) Determining macro-economic factors impacting credit quality of loans. In view of the high degree of management's judgement involved in estimation of ECL, impairment of loans as at the balance sheet date (including expected credit losses) is a key audit matter.	The audit procedures followed by the auditors of IHFL included the following: ▪ Considered the IHFL's accounting policies for impairment of loans and assessed compliance of the policies with Ind AS 109: Financial Instruments and the governance framework approved by the Board of Directors pursuant to applicable Reserve Bank of India guidelines, ("the RBI Guidelines"). ▪ Evaluated the reasonableness of the management estimates by understanding the process of ECL estimation and related assumptions. Tested the internal controls around extraction, validation and computation of the input data used in such estimation. ▪ Assessed the criteria for staging of loans based on their past-due status to check compliance with requirement of Ind AS 109. Tested a sample of performing (stage 1) loans to assess whether any SICR or loss indicators were present requiring them to be classified under stage 2 (i.e. default in repayment is within the range of 31 to 90 days) or stage or 3 (i.e. the default in repayment is more than 90 days). ▪ Tested the arithmetical accuracy of computation of ECL provision performed by IHFL. ▪ Assessed the adequacy of disclosures included in the consolidated financial statements with the relevant requirements of Ind AS 107 and 109.
2	The auditors of IIFL Home Finance Limited have determined that there are no other key audit matters to communicate in our report.
B	Key Audit Matter for subsidiary company – IIHFL Sales Limited

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

C. Key audit matters from the standalone financial statements of IIFL Samasta Finance Limited ("ISFL") (Subsidiary Company)

Sr. No.	Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
1	Impairment of loans (Expected Credit Losses): Refer note 3 (k) of material accounting policies of the attached consolidated financial statements. As at 31 March 2025 as per the standalone financial statements of the ISFL, it has total gross loan assets of Rs. 7,186.13 crores (2024: Rs. 9,708.70 crores) against which an Expected Credit Loss ("ECL") of Rs. 351.33 crores (2024 Rs. 286.44 crores) has been accrued. Included in note 38A.3 for credit disclosures of the attached consolidated financial statements. The ECL approach as required under Ind AS 109, Financial instruments, involves high degree of complexity and requires significant judgement of the management of ISFL. The Management is required to determine the ECL that may occur over either a 12-month period or the remaining life of an asset, depending on the categorization of the individual asset. The key areas of judgment include: 1. Categorization of loans in Stage 1, 2 and 3 based on identification of: a) exposures with Significant Increase in Credit Risk ("SICR") since their origination and b) Individually impaired / default exposures. 2. Techniques used to determine Loss Given Default ("LGD") and Probability of Default ("PD") to calculate an ECL are based on past experience and 3. The impact of different future macroeconomic conditions in the determination of ECL. These parameters are derived from ISFL's internally developed statistical models, historical data and a change in such models or assumptions could have a material impact on the accompanying financial statements. These factors required the models to be reassessed based on the available information including the additional risk profiling due to the geographical, political and economic risk to measure the ECL. Management of ISFL has made a number of interpretations and assumptions when designing and implementing models that are compliant with the standard. The accuracy of data flows and the implementation of related controls is critical for the integrity of the estimated impairment provisions. Considering the significance of the above matter to the financial statements and the significant auditor attention required to test such complex accounting estimates, we have identified this as a key audit matter for current year audit.	The Audit procedures followed by the auditors of ISFL included, but were not limited to the following to assess the appropriate of management's judgement and estimates used in the impairment analysis: a) Evaluated ISFL's accounting policies for estimation of expected credit loss on loan assets in accordance with the requirements of Ind AS 109, Financial Instruments. b) Obtained an understanding of the modelling techniques adopted by ISFL including the key inputs and assumptions. Since modelling assumptions and parameters are based on historical data, we assessed whether historical experience was representative of current circumstances and was relevant in view of the recent impairment losses incurred within the portfolios. c) Assessed the design and implementation and tested the operating effectiveness of controls over the modelling process including governance over monitoring of the model and approval of key assumptions. d) Evaluated the appropriateness of ISFL's process of determination of significant increase in credit risk in accordance with the applicable accounting standard and the basis for classification of exposures into various stages. e) Obtained the approved policy of Board of Directors of ISFL, if any, to understand the relief measures sanctioned to various class of borrowers in accordance with the directions given by the RBI and tested, on sample basis, the compliance with respect to asset classification and provisioning norms as per such directions. f) The company has an automated system of computing ECL. We have tested the system computed ECL by performing following procedures: ▪ Evaluated management's groupings of borrowers on the basis of different product lines and customer segments with different risk characteristics. ▪ Tested classification of loans into various categories based on their past due status and other loss indicators. On a sample basis, inspected the repayment schedule from the underlying borrower agreements and collection made on due dates; ▪ Tested the design and operating effectiveness of key controls (including application controls) over approval, recording and monitoring. ▪ Testing of Application controls includes testing of automated controls, reports, and system reconciliations. ▪ Performed test of details of the input information used in ECL computation on a sample basis. ▪ Tested the arithmetical accuracy of the computation. ▪ Performed analytical procedures by determining various ratios or percentage-based measures to review overall reasonableness of the estimate determined by the management.

The respective Management or Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the respective company.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies which are companies incorporated in India, have adequate internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statements in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group of which we are the independent auditors, to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the consolidated financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the consolidated financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the consolidated financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE –A
TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Annexure referred to paragraph 1(f) under the heading "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" in our report of even date to the members of IIFL Finance Limited on the consolidated financial statement for the year ended March 31, 2025.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act")

Opinion

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the IIFL Finance Limited ("Holding Company") as of and for the year ended March 31, 2025, we have audited the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Holding Company.

In our opinion and based on the consideration of the audit reports of the auditors of subsidiary companies, the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies which are companies incorporated in India, (the Holding Company and its subsidiaries together referred to as "the Group"), have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system with reference to consolidated financial statements and such controls were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the criteria for internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements established by the respective Companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting ("The Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI").

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies which are incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements based on the internal financial controls over financial reporting criteria established by the respective Companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by ICAI. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility for the Audit of the Internal Financial Controls with reference to consolidated financial statements

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of the Group, based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing issued by the ICAI prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, and the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements were established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements includes obtaining an understanding of such internal financial controls, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matter paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements of Group.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls with reference to consolidated financial statements

A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of consolidated financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the consolidated financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls with reference to consolidated financial statements

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial controls with reference to consolidated financial statements may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Other Matter

Our aforesaid reports under section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls with reference to the consolidated financial statement, in so far as it relates to the consolidated financial statement of one subsidiary and separate financial statements of two subsidiaries incorporated in India, is based solely on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India.

Our opinion is not modified in respect of the above matter.

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 (as amended from time to time).

Control is achieved when the Group has:

- Power over the investee,
- Is exposed or has rights to variable returns from its involvement with the investee, and
- Has the ability to use its power over investee to affect its returns.

Generally, there is a presumption that a majority of voting rights result in control. To support this presumption and when the Group has less than a majority of the voting or similar rights of an investee, the Group considers all relevant facts and circumstances in assessing whether it has power over an investee, including:

- The contractual arrangement with the other vote holders of the investee.
- Rights arising from other contractual arrangements.
- The Group's voting rights and potential voting rights.
- The size of the Group's holding of voting rights relative to the size and dispersion of the holdings of the other voting rights holders.

ii. Principles of consolidation:

a) The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") as per the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended and notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 and relevant amendment rules issued thereafter ("Ind AS") on the historical cost basis except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair values at the end of each reporting period as explained below, the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") and the guidelines issued by the Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") and National Housing Bank ("NHB") to the extent applicable.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

Historical cost is generally based on the fair value of the consideration given in exchange for goods and services.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date, regardless of whether that price is directly observable or estimated using another valuation technique. In estimating the fair value of an asset or a liability, the Group takes into account the characteristics of the asset or liability if market participants would take those characteristics into account when pricing the asset or liability at the measurement date. Fair value for measurement and/ or disclosure purposes in these consolidated financial statements is determined on such a basis, except for share based payment transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 102, leasing transactions that are within the scope of Ind AS 116, and measurements that have some similarities to fair value but are not fair value, such as value in use in Ind AS 36.

Fair value measurements under Ind AS are categorised into Level 1, 2, or 3 based on the degree to which the inputs to the fair value measurements are observable and the significance of the inputs to the fair value measurement in its entirety, which are described as follows:

- Level 1 inputs are quoted prices (unadjusted)

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Group can access at measurement date;

- Level 2 inputs are inputs, other than quoted prices included within level 1, (that are not traded in active market) that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 inputs are unobservable inputs for the valuation of assets or liabilities.

b) The effects of all intra-Group transactions and balances have been eliminated on consolidation.

c) The consolidated financial statements of the subsidiary companies used in the consolidation are drawn up to the same reporting date as that of the Group, March 31, 2025.

d) The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after eliminating intra-group balances, intra-group transactions and resulting unrealized profits or losses, unless cost cannot be recovered.

e) Business combinations: Business combinations are accounted for using the acquisition method. At the acquisition date, identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities assumed are measured at fair value. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation and they are measured at their acquisition date fair values irrespective of the fact that outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. The consideration transferred is measured at fair value at acquisition date and includes the fair value of any contingent consideration. However, deferred tax asset or liability and any liability or asset relating to employee benefit arrangements arising from a business combination are measured and recognized in accordance with the requirements of Ind AS 12, Income Taxes and Ind AS 19, Employee Benefits, respectively. Where the consideration transferred exceeds the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed, the excess is recorded as goodwill. Alternatively, in case of a bargain purchase wherein the consideration transferred is lower than the fair value of the net identifiable assets acquired, and liabilities assumed, the difference is recorded as a gain in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. The costs of acquisition excluding those relating to issue of equity or debt securities are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred Business combinations involving entities under common control are accounted for using the pooling of interests method. The net assets of the transferor entity or business are accounted at their carrying amounts on the date of the acquisition subject to necessary adjustments required to harmonise accounting policies.

f) Goodwill is an asset representing the future economic benefits arising from other assets acquired in a business combination that are not individually identified and separately recognized. Goodwill is initially measured at cost, being the excess of the consideration transferred over the net identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed, measured in accordance with Ind AS 103 – Business Combinations.

Goodwill is considered to have indefinite useful life and hence is not subject to amortization but tested for impairment at least annually. After initial recognition, goodwill is measured at cost less any accumulated impairment.

Any impairment loss on goodwill is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. An impairment loss recognized on goodwill is not reversed in subsequent periods.

For the purpose of impairment testing, goodwill acquired in a business combination, is from the acquisition date.

The excess of cost to the Group of its investments in the subsidiary companies over its share of equity of the subsidiary companies, at the dates on which the investments in the subsidiary companies are made, is recognized as 'Goodwill' being an asset in the consolidated financial statements. Alternatively, where the share of equity in the subsidiary companies as on the date of investment is in excess of cost of investment of the Group, it is recognized as 'Capital Reserve' and shown under the head 'Other equity', in the consolidated financial statements. Goodwill/ Capital reserve has been netted off and disclosed in the consolidated financial statements. Goodwill arising on consolidation is not amortized but tested for impairment.

g) Non-controlling Interest in the net assets of the consolidated subsidiaries consist of the amount of equity attributable to the minority shareholders at the date on which investments in the subsidiary companies were made and further movements in their share in the equity, subsequent to the dates of investments. Net profit and loss/ other comprehensive income ("OCI") for the year of the subsidiaries attributable to non-controlling interest is identified and adjusted against the profit after tax/ other comprehensive income ("OCI") of the Group in order to arrive at the income attributable to shareholders of the Group.

h) Profit or loss and each component of other comprehensive income ("OCI") are attributed to the equity holders of the Holding Company and to the non-controlling interests, if any.

iii. List of subsidiaries consolidated

The individual Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2025, Statement of Profit and Loss and cash flow statement for the year ended March 31, 2025 of following subsidiaries are included in consolidation:

Name of the entity	Relationship	Country of Incorporation	% of holding and voting power either directly or indirectly through subsidiary
			As at March 31, 2025	As at March 31, 2024
IIFL Home Finance Limited (HFC) (Consolidated)	Direct Subsidiary	India	79.59%	79.59%
IIFL Samasta Finance Limited (Samasta)	Direct Subsidiary	India	99.56%	99.56%
IFL Open Fintech Private Limited	Direct Subsidiary	India	100.00%	51.02%

iv. Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Indian Accounting Standards ("Ind AS") requires the management to make estimates, judgements, and assumptions. These estimates, judgements and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as the management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements.

The Financial Statements are presented in Indian rupees which is determined to be functional currency of the Group and the currency of primary economic environment in which the Group operates.

v. Statement of compliance

The consolidated financial statements of the Group have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the Ind AS notified under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs in exercise of the powers conferred by section 133 read with sub-section (1) of section 210A of the Companies Act, 2013 along with the applicable guidelines issued by Reserve Bank of India ("RBI") and National Housing Bank ("NHB"). In addition, the guidance notes/ announcements issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI") are also applied except where compliance with other statutory promulgations require a different treatment.

vi. Presentation of financial statements

The Balance Sheet and the Statement of Profit and Loss are prepared and presented in the format prescribed in the Division III to Schedule III to the Act applicable for Non-Banking Finance Companies ("NBFC"). The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 "Statement of Cash Flows". The disclosure requirements with respect to items in the Balance Sheet and Statement of Profit and Loss, as prescribed in the Schedule III to the Act, are presented by way of notes forming part of the consolidated Financial Statements along with the other notes required to be disclosed under the notified Accounting Standards and regulations issued by the RBI and NHB.

Note 3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and the revenue can be reliably measured and there exists reasonable certainty of its recovery.

Revenue towards satisfaction of a performance obligation is measured at the amount of transaction price (net of variable consideration) allocated to that performance obligation. The transaction price of services rendered is net of variable consideration on account of various discounts and schemes offered by the Company as part of the contract.

i. Interest income and dividend income

Interest income on financial instruments at amortized cost is recognized on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the effective interest rate ("EIR") applicable.

Interest income on Direct assignment pool is recognized on time proportion basis net off amount payable to assignees.

Interest on financial instruments measured at fair value is included within the fair value movement during the period.

The EIR is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash flows of the financial instrument through the expected life of the financial instrument or, where appropriate, a shorter period, to the net carrying amount of the financial instrument. The future cash flows are estimated considering all the behavioural pattern and contractual terms of the instrument.

The calculation of the EIR includes all fees paid or received between parties to the contract that are incremental and directly attributable to the specific lending arrangement, transaction costs, and all other premiums or discounts. For financial assets at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"), transaction costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss at initial recognition.

ii. Fees and charges

Fees and charges include fees other than those that are an integral part of EIR. The fees included in this part of the Group's Statement of Profit and Loss include, among other things, fees charged for servicing a loan. Fees and charges are recognized as income only when revenue is virtually certain which generally coincides with receipts.

Cheque bounce charges, late payment charges and foreclosure charges are recognized on a point- in- time basis and are recorded when realized.

Fee and commission expenses with regards to services are accounted for as and when the services are delivered.

iii. Income from financial instruments at FVTPL

Income from financial instruments at FVTPL includes all gains and losses from changes in the fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL.

iv. Assignment transactions

In accordance with Ind AS 109, in case of assignment transactions with complete transfer of risks and rewards without any retention of residual interest, gain arising on such assignment transactions is recorded upfront in the Statement of Profit and Loss and the corresponding asset is derecognized from the Balance Sheet immediately upon execution of such transaction. Further, the transfer of financial assets qualifies for derecognition in its entirety, the whole of the interest spread at its present value (discounted over the life of the asset) is recognized on the date of derecognition itself as interest only strip receivable (interest strip on assignment) and correspondingly recognized as profit on derecognition of financial asset.

v. Securitization transactions

In accordance with Ind AS 109, in case of securitization transactions, the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and recognises a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

vi. Other operational revenue

Other operational revenue represents income earned from the activities incidental to the business and is recognized when the right to receive the income is established as per the terms of the contract.

(b) Property, plant and equipment ("PPE")

PPE is recognized when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. PPE is stated at original cost net of tax, if any, less accumulated depreciation. Cost includes professional fees related to the acquisition of PPE and, for qualifying assets, borrowing costs capitalized in accordance with the Group's accounting policy.

Subsequent expenditure related to an item of PPE is added to its book value only if they increase the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Depreciation is charged using the straight-line method, based on the useful life of PPE as estimated by the Management, as specified below. Depreciation is charged from the month in which new assets are ready to use. No depreciation is charged from the month in which assets are sold. In case of transfer of used PPE from group companies, depreciation is charged over the remaining useful life of the asset. Individual assets / group of similar assets costing up to ₹ 5,000 have been depreciated in full in the year of purchase. Leasehold land is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the leasehold period.

The estimated useful life of assets is as under:

Class of assets	Useful life
Buildings	20 years
Computers	3 years
Office equipment	5 years
Plant and Equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	5 years
Vehicles	5 years

For above class of assets, based on internal assessment and independent technical evaluation carried out by external valuers, the Management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which Management expects to use these assets.

An item of PPE is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of PPE is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount net of accumulated depreciation of the asset and is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Capital work in progress

Projects under which PPE are not yet ready for their intended use are carried at cost, comprising direct cost, related incidental expenses and attributable interest, and are disclosed as "capital work-in-progress".

(c) Intangible assets

Intangible assets are recognized when it is probable that the future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the enterprise and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. Intangible assets are stated at original cost net of tax, less accumulated amortization and cumulative impairment.

Intangible assets i.e., Software are amortized on straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of 3 years. Amortization on impaired assets is provided by adjusting the amortization charge in the remaining periods so as to allocate the assets revised carrying amount over its remaining useful life.

An intangible asset is derecognized on disposal, or when no future economic benefits are expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from derecognition of an intangible asset, measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount net of accumulated depreciation of the asset are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the asset is derecognized.

Intangible assets under development

Intangible assets not ready for their intended use on the Balance Sheet date are disclosed as "Intangible assets under development".

(d) Investment property

Investment properties are properties held to earn rentals and/ or for capital appreciation (including property under construction for such purposes). Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

An investment property is derecognized upon disposal or when the investment property is permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefits are expected from the disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the property (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount net of accumulated depreciation of the asset) is included in Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which the Investment property is derecognized.

Freehold land and properties under construction are not depreciated.

(e) Non-current Assets held for Sale

Non-current assets are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount is intended to be recovered principally through a sale (rather than through continuing use) when the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sale of such asset and the sale is highly probable and is expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

(f) Impairment of assets

As at the end of each accounting year, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its PPE, intangible assets and investment property assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If such indication exists, the PPE, intangible assets and investment property are tested for impairment so as to determine the impairment loss, if any.

Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs of disposal and value in use. If recoverable amount of an asset is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, such deficit is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss as impairment loss and the carrying amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount.

When an impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, to the extent that it does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(g) Share-based payment arrangements

Equity-settled share-based payments to employees and others providing similar services are measured at the fair value of the equity instruments at the grant date.

The fair value determined at the grant date of the equity-settled share-based payments is expensed on a straight-line basis over the vesting period, based on the Group's estimate of equity instruments that will eventually vest, with a corresponding increase in equity.

Securities premium includes:

- The difference between the face value of the equity shares and the consideration received in respect of shares issued pursuant to Stock Option Scheme
- The fair value of the stock options which are treated as expense, if any, in respect of shares allotted pursuant to Stock Options Scheme

(h) Employee benefits

Defined contribution plans

The Group's contribution towards Provident Fund and Family Pension Fund are considered as defined contribution plans and are charged as an expense based on the amount of contribution required to be made as and when services are rendered by the employees and are accounted for on an accrual basis and recognized in the Statement of Profit and loss.

Defined benefit plans

Short term employee benefits: Employee benefits falling due wholly within twelve months of rendering the service are classified as short-term employee benefits and are expensed in the period in which the employee renders the related service. Liabilities recognized in respect of short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amount of the benefits expected to be paid in exchange for the related service. These benefits include performance incentive and compensated absences.

Post employment benefits: The employees' gratuity fund scheme represents defined benefit plan. The present value of the obligation under defined benefit plan is determined based on actuarial valuation using the Projected Unit Credit Method.

The obligation is measured at the present value of the estimated future cash flows using a discount rate based on the market yield on government securities of a maturity period equivalent to the weighted average maturity profile of the defined benefit obligations at the Balance Sheet date.

Re-measurement, comprising actuarial gains and losses, the return on plan assets (excluding amounts included in net interest on the net defined benefit liability or asset) and any change in the effect of asset ceiling

(if applicable) is recognized in other comprehensive income and is reflected in retained earnings and the same is not eligible to be reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Defined benefit costs comprising current service cost, past service cost and gains or losses on settlements are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss as employee benefit expenses. Gains or losses on settlement of any defined benefit plan are recognized when the settlement occurs. Past service cost is recognized as expense at the earlier of the plan amendment or curtailment and when the Group recognises related restructuring costs or termination benefits.

In case of funded plans, the fair value of the plan assets is reduced from the gross obligation under the defined benefit plans to recognise the obligation on a net basis.

Long term employee benefits: The obligation recognized in respect of long-term benefits such as long term compensated absences, is measured at present value of estimated future cash flows expected to be made by the Group and is recognized in a similar manner as in the case of defined benefit plan above.

(i) Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting attributable taxes) by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the year attributable to equity shareholders (after deducting attributable taxes) and the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares. Potential equity shares are deemed to be dilutive only if their conversion to equity shares would decrease the net profit per share from continuing ordinary operations. Potential dilutive equity shares are deemed to be converted as at the beginning of the period unless they have been issued at a later date. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e., average market value of the outstanding shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented.

(j) Taxes on income

Current tax

Current tax is the amount of tax payable on the taxable income for the year as determined in accordance with the applicable tax rates and the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 and other applicable tax laws.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the Group's financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in computation of taxable profit and quantified using the tax rates and laws enacted or substantively enacted as on the Balance Sheet date.

Deferred tax is not recognized for:

- Temporary differences on the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss
- Temporary differences related to investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint arrangements to the extent that the Group is able to control the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences and it is probable that they will not reverse in the foreseeable future; and
- Taxable temporary differences arising on the initial recognition of goodwill.

Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Future taxable profits are determined based on business plans and the reversal of temporary differences.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the assets to be recovered.

The measurement of deferred tax reflects the tax consequences that would follow from the manner in which the Company expects, at the reporting date, to recover or settle the carrying amount of its assets and liabilities. For this purpose, the carrying amount of investment property measured at fair value is presumed to be recovered through sale, and the Company has not rebutted this presumption.

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

For transactions and other events recognized in profit or loss, any related tax effects are also recognized in profit or loss. For transactions and other events recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity), any related tax effects are also recognized outside profit or loss (either in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, respectively).

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset when there is a legally enforceable right to set off assets against liabilities, representing current tax and where the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities relates to taxes on income levied by the same governing taxation laws.

Current and deferred tax for the year

Current and deferred tax are recognized in the Statement of profit and loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity, in which case, the current and deferred tax are also recognized in other comprehensive income or directly in equity respectively.

(k) Financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognized in the Group's Balance Sheet when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Recognized financial assets and financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value. Transaction costs and revenues that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of financial assets and financial liabilities (other than financial assets and financial liabilities at FVTPL) are added to or deducted from the fair value of the financial assets or financial liabilities, as appropriate, on initial recognition. Transaction costs and revenues directly attributable to the acquisition of financial assets or financial liabilities at FVTPL are recognized immediately in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial assets

Classification and measurement

The Group classifies its financial assets into the following measurement categories: amortized cost; fair value through other comprehensive income; and fair value through profit or loss.

All recognized financial assets that are within the scope of Ind AS 109 are required to be subsequently measured at amortized cost or fair value on the basis of the entity's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets.

Financial instruments measured at amortized cost

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at amortized cost (except for debt instruments that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest ("SPPI") on the principal amount outstanding.

For the purpose of SPPI test, principal is the fair value of the financial asset at initial recognition. The principal amount may change over the life of the financial asset (e.g., if there are repayments of principal). Interest consists of consideration for the time value of money, for the credit risk associated with the principal amount outstanding during a particular period of time and for other basic lending risks and costs, as well as a profit margin. The SPPI assessment is made in the currency in which the financial asset is denominated.

Contractual cash flows that are SPPI are consistent with a basic lending arrangement. Contractual terms that introduce exposure to risks or volatility in the contractual cash flows that are unrelated to a basic lending arrangement, such as exposure to changes in equity prices or commodity prices, do not give rise to contractual cash flows that are SPPI. An originated or an acquired financial asset can be a basic lending arrangement irrespective of whether it is a loan in its legal form.

An assessment of business models for managing financial assets is fundamental to the classification of a financial asset. The Group determines the business models at a level that reflects how financial assets are managed together to achieve a particular business objective. The Group's business model does not depend on management's intentions for an individual instrument, therefore the business model assessment is performed at a higher level of aggregation rather than on an instrument-by-instrument basis.

Debt instruments that are subsequently measured at

Financial instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")

Debt instruments that meet the following criteria are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (except for debt instruments that are designated as at fair value through profit or loss on initial recognition):

- the asset is held within a business model whose objective is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- the contractual terms of the instrument give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

Interest income is recognized in Statement of profit and loss for FVTOCI debt instruments. Other changes in fair value of FVTOCI financial assets are recognized in other comprehensive income. When the asset is disposed of, the cumulative gain or loss previously accumulated in reserve is transferred to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial instruments measured at fair value through Profit and Loss ("FVTPL")

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction cost attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. However, trade receivables that do not contain a significant financing component are measured at transaction price.

Instruments that do not meet the amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria are measured at FVTPL. Financial assets at FVTPL are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period, with any gains or losses arising on re-measurement recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The gain or loss on disposal is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Interest income is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss for FVTPL debt instruments.

Dividend on financial assets at FVTPL is recognized when the Group's right to receive dividend is established.

Investments in equity instruments at FVTOCI

On initial recognition, the Group makes an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to present the subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income pertaining to investments in equity instruments. This election is not permitted if the equity investment is held for trading. These elected investments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs. Subsequently, they are measured at fair value with gains and losses arising from changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the 'Reserve for equity instruments through other comprehensive income'. The cumulative gain or loss is not reclassified to Statement of Profit and Loss on disposal of the investments. Dividends from these investments are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss when the Group's right to receive dividends is established.

Reclassifications

If the business model under which the Group holds financial assets changes, the financial assets affected are reclassified. The classification and measurement requirements related to the new category apply prospectively from the first day of the first reporting period following the change in business model that result in reclassifying the Group's financial assets. Changes in contractual cash flows are considered under the accounting policy on modification and derecognition of financial assets described below.

Impairment of financial assets

Group recognizes loss allowances using the Expected Credit Loss ("ECL") model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through profit and loss. ECL is calculated using a model which captures portfolio performance over a period of time. ECL is a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. A credit loss is the difference between the cash flows that are due to an entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the entity expects to receive discounted at the original EIR. Vintage loss curve model is used for ECL computation of retail portfolio which involves assessment of performance of segmented portfolio over a time period. The model tracks month-wise losses during the loan tenor. Vintage loss rate models provide a simple, reasonable model for both one-year and lifetime expected credit loss forecasts. For wholesale portfolio, ECL computation is done for each loan account based on CRISIL default study and International Review Board ("IRB") guidelines.

ECL is measured through a loss allowance at an amount equal to:

- 12-month ECL, i.e., ECL that result from those

NOTES FORMING PART OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

default events on the financial instrument that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date (referred to as Stage 1); or

- full lifetime ECL, i.e., lifetime ECL that result from all possible default events over the life of the financial instrument (referred to as Stage 2 and Stage 3).

A loss allowance for full lifetime ECL is required for a financial instrument if the credit risk on that financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition. For all other financial instruments, ECLs are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL.

The Group measures ECL on an individual basis, or on a collective basis for portfolios of loans that share similar economic risk characteristics. The measurement of the loss allowance is based on the present value of the asset's expected cash flows using the asset's original EIR, regardless of whether it is measured on an individual basis or a collective basis.

Key elements of ECL computation are outlined below:

- Probability of default ("PD") is an estimate of the likelihood that customer will default over a given time horizon. A default may only happen at a certain time over the assessed period, if the facility has not been previously de-recognized and is still in the portfolio.
- Loss given default ("LGD") estimates the normalized loss which Group incurs post customer default. It is usually expressed as a percentage of the Exposure at default ("EAD").
- Effective interest rate ("EIR") is the rate that discounts estimated future cash flows through the expected life of financial instrument. For calculating EIR any upfront fees need to be excluded from the loans and advance amount.

Credit impaired financial assets

A financial asset is 'credit impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred. Credit-impaired financial assets are referred to as Stage 3 assets. Evidence of credit-impairment includes observable data about the following events:

- significant financial difficulty of the borrower or issuer,
- a breach of contract such as a default or past due event,
- the lender of the borrower, for economic or contractual reasons relating to the borrower's financial difficulty, having granted to the borrower a concession that the lender would not otherwise consider,
- the disappearance of an active market for a security because of financial difficulties; or
- the purchase of a financial asset at a deep discount that reflects the incurred credit losses.

A loan is considered credit-impaired when a concession is granted to the borrower due to a deterioration in the borrower's financial condition, unless there is evidence that as a result of granting the concession the risk of not receiving the contractual cash flows has reduced significantly and there are no other indicators of impairment.

Definition of default

Critical to the determination of ECL is the definition of default. The definition of default is used in measuring the amount of ECL and in the determination of whether the loss allowance is based on 12-month or lifetime ECL, as default is a component of the probability of default ("PD") which affects both the measurement of ECLs and the identification of a significant increase in credit risk.

The Group monitors all financial assets, issued loan commitments and financial guarantee contracts that are subject to the impairment requirements to assess whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition. The Group's accounting policy is not to use the practical expedient that financial assets with 'low' credit risk at the reporting date are deemed not to have had a significant increase in credit risk.

In assessing whether the credit risk on a financial instrument has increased significantly since initial recognition, the Group compares the risk of a default occurring on the financial instrument at the reporting date based on the remaining maturity of the instrument with the risk of a default occurring that was anticipated for the remaining maturity at the current reporting date when the financial instrument was first recognized. In making this assessment, the Group considers both quantitative and qualitative information that is reasonable and supportable, including historical experience and forward-looking information that is available without undue cost or effort, based on the Group's expert credit assessment.

Modification and derecognition of financial assets

A modification of a financial asset occurs when the contractual terms governing the cash flows of a financial asset are renegotiated or otherwise modified between initial recognition and maturity of the financial asset. A modification affects the amount and/ or timing of the contractual cash flows either immediately or at a future date. In addition, the introduction or adjustment of existing covenants of an existing loan would constitute a modification even if these new or adjusted covenants do not yet affect the cash flows immediately but may affect the cash flows depending on whether the covenant is or is not met (e.g., a change to the increase in the interest rate that arises when covenants are breached).

The Group renegotiates loans to customers in financial difficulty to maximise collection and minimise the risk of default. Loan forbearance is granted in cases where although the borrower made all reasonable efforts to pay under the original contractual terms, there is a high risk of default or default has already happened and the borrower is expected to be able to meet the revised terms. The revised terms in most of the cases include an extension of the maturity of the loan, changes to the timing of the cash flows of the loan (principal and interest repayment), reduction in the amount of cash flows due (principal and interest forgiveness) and amendments to covenants.

When a financial asset is modified, the Group considers the following:

Qualitative factors, such as contractual cash flows after modification are no longer SPPI, change in currency or change of counterparty, the extent of change in interest rates, maturity, covenants. If these do not clearly indicate a substantial modification, then a quantitative assessment is performed to compare the present value of the remaining contractual cash flows under the original terms with the contractual cash flows under the revised terms, both amounts discounted at the original effective interest.

In the case where the financial asset is derecognized, the loss allowance for ECL is remeasured at the date of derecognition to determine the net carrying amount of the asset at that date. The difference between this revised carrying amount and the fair value of the new financial asset with the new terms will lead to a gain or loss on derecognition. The new financial asset will have a loss allowance measured based on 12-month ECL except in the rare occasions where the new loan is considered to be originated-credit impaired. This applies only in the case where the fair value of the new loan is recognized at a significant discount to its revised par amount because there remains a high risk of default which has not been reduced by the modification. The Group monitors credit risk of modified financial assets by evaluating qualitative and quantitative information, such as if the borrower is in past due status under the new terms.

When the contractual terms of a financial asset are modified and the modification does not result in derecognition, the Group determines if the financial asset's credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition.

For financial assets modified, where modification did not result in derecognition, the estimate of PD reflects the Group's ability to collect the modified cash flows taking into account the Group's previous experience of similar forbearance action, as well as various behavioural indicators, including the borrower's payment performance against the modified contractual terms. If the credit risk remains significantly higher than what was expected at initial recognition the loss allowance will continue to be measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. The loss allowance on forborne loans will generally only be measured based on 12-month ECL when there is evidence of the borrower's improved repayment behaviour following modification leading to a reversal of the previous significant increase in credit risk.

Where a modification does not lead to derecognition the Group calculates the modification gain/ loss comparing the gross carrying amount before and after the modification (excluding the ECL allowance). Then the Group measures ECL for the modified asset, where the expected cash flows arising from the modified financial asset are included in calculating the expected cash shortfalls from the original asset.

Derecognition of financial assets

The Group derecognises a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the asset's cash flows expire

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

(including expiry arising from a modification with substantially different terms), or when the financial asset and substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the asset are transferred to another entity. If the Group neither transfers nor retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership and continues to control the transferred asset, the Group recognises its retained interest in the asset and an associated liability for amounts it may have to pay. If the Group retains substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of a transferred financial asset, the Group continues to recognise the financial asset and also recognises a collateralized borrowing for the proceeds received.

On derecognition of a financial asset in its entirety, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sum of the consideration received and receivable and the cumulative gain/loss that had been recognized in OCI and accumulated in equity is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, with the exception of equity investment designated as measured at FVTOCI, where the cumulative gain/loss previously recognized in OCI is not subsequently reclassified to the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Write-off

Loans and debt securities are written off when the Group has no reasonable expectations of recovering the financial asset (either in its entirety or a portion of it). This is the case when the Group determines that the borrower does not have assets or sources of income that could generate sufficient cash flows to repay the amounts subject to the write-off. A write-off constitutes a derecognition event. The Group may apply enforcement activities to financial assets written off. Recoveries resulting from the Group's enforcement activities will result in impairment gains.

Financial liabilities and equity Instruments

Debt and equity instruments that are issued by the Group are classified as either financial liabilities or as equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangement.

Equity instruments

An equity instrument is any contract that evidences a residual interest in the assets of an entity after deducting all of its liabilities. Equity instruments issued by the Group are recognized at the proceeds received, net of direct issue costs.

Compound instruments

The component parts of compound instruments (e.g., convertible notes) issued by the Group are classified separately as financial liabilities and equity in accordance with the substance of the contractual arrangements and the definitions of a financial liability and an equity instrument. A conversion option that will be settled by the exchange of a fixed amount of cash or another financial asset for a fixed number of the Group's own equity instruments is an equity instrument.

At the date of issue, the fair value of the liability component is estimated using the prevailing market interest rate for similar non-convertible instruments.

A conversion option classified as equity is determined by deducting the amount of the liability component from the fair value of the compound instrument as a whole. This is recognized and included in equity, net of income tax effects, and is not subsequently re-measured. In addition, the conversion option classified as equity will remain in equity until the conversion option is exercised, in which case, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to other component of equity. Where the conversion option remains unexercised at the maturity date of the convertible note, the balance recognized in equity will be transferred to retained earnings. No gain/loss is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss upon conversion or expiration of the conversion option.

Transaction costs that relate to the issue of the convertible notes are allocated to the liability and equity components in proportion to the allocation of the gross proceeds. Transaction costs relating to the equity component are recognized directly in equity. Transaction costs relating to the liability component are included in the carrying amount of the liability component and are amortized over the life of the convertible notes using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities

All financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities that are not held-for-trading and are not designated as at FVTPL are measured at amortized cost. The carrying amounts of financial liabilities that are subsequently measured at amortized cost are determined based on the effective interest rate method.

The effective interest rate method is a method of calculating the amortized cost of a financial liability and of allocating interest expense over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments (including all fees paid or received that form an integral part of the effective interest rate, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life of the financial liability, or (where appropriate) a shorter period, to the amortized cost of a financial liability.

Derecognition of financial liabilities

The Group derecognises financial liabilities when, and only when, the Group's obligations are discharged, cancelled or have expired. The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognized and the consideration paid and payable is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the Balance Sheet only if there is an enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts with an intention to settle on a net basis or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

(l) Cash and bank balances

Cash comprises cash on hand and demand deposits with banks. Cash equivalents are short-term balances (with an original maturity of three months or less from the date of acquisition), highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash and bank balances also include fixed deposits, margin money deposits, earmarked balances with banks and other bank balances which have restrictions on repatriation. Short term and liquid investments being subject to more than insignificant risk of change in value, are not included as part of cash and cash equivalents.

(m) Goods and service tax input credit

Goods and service tax input credit is accounted for in the books in the period in which the supply of goods or service received is accounted and when there is no uncertainty in availing/ utilising the credits.

(n) Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs include interest expense calculated using the EIR method.

(o) Foreign currencies

In preparing the consolidated financial statements of, transactions in currencies other than the entity's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recognized at the rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at year end exchange rates are generally recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are not retranslated.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they arise.

(p) Segment reporting

The Group's primary business segments are reflected based on the principal business carried out i.e., financing. All other activities of the Group revolve around the main business. The risk and returns of the business of the Group is not associated with geographical segmentation, hence there is no secondary segment reporting based on geographical segment. As such, there are no separate reportable segments.

(q) Provisions, contingent liabilities and contingent assets

Provisions are recognized only when:

- an entity has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event; and
- it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation; and
- a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Provisions (excluding retirement benefits) are not discounted to their present value and are determined based on the best estimate required to settle the obligation at the Balance Sheet date. These are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

Onerous contracts

Present obligations arising under onerous contracts are recognized and measured as provisions. An onerous contract is considered to exist where the Group has a contract under which the unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received from the contract.

Contingent liability is disclosed in case of:

- a present obligation arising from past events, when it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and
- a present obligation arising from past events when no reliable estimate is possible.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed in the Notes. Contingent assets are neither recognized nor disclosed in the consolidated financial statements.

(r) Commitments

Commitments are future liabilities for contractual expenditure, classified and disclosed as follows:

a) Estimated amount of contracts remaining to be executed on capital account and not provided for,

b) Funding related commitment to associate and joint venture companies; and

c) Other non-cancellable commitments, if any.

(s) Statement of cash flows

Statement of Cash Flows is prepared segregating the cash flows into operating, investing and financing activities. Cash flow from operating activities is reported using indirect method adjusting the net profit for the effects of:

- changes during the period in operating receivables and payables transactions of a non-cash nature,
- non-cash items such as depreciation, provisions, deferred taxes and unrealized foreign currency gains and losses,
- all other items for which the cash effects are investing or financing cash flows.

Cash and cash equivalents (including bank balances) shown in the Statement of Cash Flows exclude items which are not available for general use as on the date of balance sheet.

(t) Exceptional Items

When items of income and expense within profit or loss from ordinary activities are of such size, nature or incidence that their disclosure is relevant to explain the performance of the enterprise for the period, the nature and amount of such items is disclosed separately as Exceptional items.

(u) Derivative financial instruments and hedging

The Group enters into derivative financial instruments to manage its exposure to interest rate and foreign exchange rate risks, including foreign exchange forward contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps.

Derivatives are initially recognized at fair value at the date the derivative contracts are entered into and are subsequently remeasured to their fair value at the end of each reporting period. The resulting gain or loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss immediately unless the derivative is designated and effective as a hedging instrument, in which event the timing of the recognition in the Statement of Profit and Loss depends on the nature of the hedging relationship and the nature of the hedged item.

Hedge accounting

The Group designates certain hedging instruments, which include derivatives in respect of foreign currency risk, as cash flow hedge.

At the inception of the hedge relationship, the entity documents the relationship between the hedging instrument and the hedged item, along with its risk management objectives and its strategy for undertaking various hedge transactions. Furthermore, at the inception of the hedge and on an ongoing basis, the Group documents whether the hedging instrument is highly effective in offsetting changes in fair values or cash flows of the hedged item attributable to the hedged risk.

Cash flow hedges

The effective portion of changes in the fair value of derivatives that are designated and qualify as cash flow hedges is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated under the heading of cash flow hedge reserve. The gain or loss relating to the ineffective portion is recognized immediately in profit or loss and is included in the 'fair value changes' line item.

Amounts previously recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity relating to (effective portion as described above) are reclassified to profit or loss in the periods when the hedged item affects profit or loss, in the same line as the recognized hedged item. However, when the hedged forecast transaction results in the recognition of a non-financial asset or a non-financial liability, such gains and losses are transferred from equity (but not as a reclassification adjustment) and included in the initial measurement of the cost of the non-financial asset or non-financial liability.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or when it no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. Any gain or loss recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in equity at that time remains in equity and is recognized when the forecast transaction is ultimately recognized in profit or loss. When a forecast transaction is no longer expected to occur, the gain or loss accumulated in equity is recognized immediately in profit or loss.

(v) Leases

The Group assesses whether a contract contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Group considers whether (i) the contract involves the use of identified asset; (ii) the Group has substantially all of the economic benefits from the use of the asset through the period of lease and (iii) the Group has right to direct the use of the asset.

As a lessee

The Group recognizes a right-of-use asset and a lease liability at the lease commencement date. The right-of-use asset is initially measured at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or before the commencement date, plus any initial direct costs incurred and an estimate of costs to dismantle and remove the underlying asset or to restore the site on which it is located, less any lease incentives received.

Certain lease arrangements include the option to extend or terminate the lease before the end of the lease term. The right-of-use assets and lease liabilities include these options when it is reasonably certain that the option will be exercised.

The right-of-use asset is subsequently depreciated using the straight-line method from the commencement date to the earlier of the end of the useful life of the right-of-use asset or the end of the lease term. The estimated useful lives of right-of-use assets are determined on the same basis as those of property, plant and equipment. In addition, the right-of-use asset is periodically reduced by impairment losses, if any, and adjusted for certain re-measurements of the lease liability.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if that rate cannot be readily determined, the Group's incremental borrowing rate. Generally, the Group uses its incremental borrowing rate as the discount rate.

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability comprises of fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments, amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee and the exercise price under a purchase option that the Group is reasonably certain to exercise, lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Group is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option.

The lease liability is subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or rate, if there is a change in the Group's estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or if Group changes its assessment of whether it will exercise a purchase, extension or termination option.

When the lease liability is remeasured in this way, a corresponding adjustment is made to the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset or is recorded in profit or loss if the carrying amount of the right-of-use asset has been reduced to zero.

Lease liability and the right of use asset have been separately presented in the balance sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing activities.

The Group has elected not to recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short term leases that have a lease term of less than or equal to 12 months with no purchase option and assets with low value leases. The Group recognizes the lease payments associated with these leases as an expense in statement of profit and loss over the lease term. The related cash flows are classified as operating activities.

Critical accounting estimate and judgement

1. Determination of lease term

Ind AS 116 Leases requires lessee to determine the lease term as the non-cancellable period of a lease adjusted with any option to extend or terminate the lease, if the use of such option is reasonably certain. The Group makes assessment on the expected lease term on lease by lease basis and thereby assesses whether it is reasonably certain that any options to extend or terminate the contract will be exercised. In evaluating the lease term, the Group considers factors such as any significant leasehold improvements undertaken over the lease term, costs relating to the termination of lease and the importance of the underlying to the Group's operations taking into account the location of the underlying asset and the availability of the suitable alternatives. The lease term in future periods is reassessed to ensure that the lease term reflects the current economic circumstances.

2. Discount rate

The discount rate is generally based on the incremental borrowing rate specific to the lease being evaluated or for a portfolio of leases with similar characteristics.

The Group as a lessee

As a lessee, the Group leases assets which includes gold loan branches/office premises and vehicles to employees. The Group previously classified leases as operating, or finance leases based on its assessment of whether the lease transferred significantly all of the risks and rewards incidental to ownership of the underlying asset to the Group. Under Ind AS 116, the Group recognizes right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for these leases.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements:

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ('MCA') notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time. For the year ended March 31, 2025, the MCA has notified Ind AS 117, Insurance Contracts, and amendments to Ind AS 116, Leases, relating to sale and leaseback transactions, applicable to the Group, w.e.f., April 1, 2024. The Group has reviewed the new pronouncements and based on its evaluation, has determined that the new pronouncement has no significant impact on the Group.

6.1 HEDGING ACTIVITIES AND DERIVATIVES

The Group is exposed to certain risks relating to its ongoing business operations. The primary risks managed using derivative instruments are interest rate and currency risk.

6.1.1 DERIVATIVES DESIGNATED AS HEDGING INSTRUMENTS

The foreign currency and interest rate risk on borrowings have been actively hedged through a combination of forward contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps.

The Group is exposed to interest rate risk arising from its floating rate foreign currency borrowings. Interest on the borrowing is payable at a floating rate linked to the benchmark plus margin. The Company hedges the interest rate risk arising from the debt with a 'receive floating - pay fixed' interest rate swap and also with a Derivative Forward Contract.

The Group uses forward exchange contracts, interest rate swaps and cross currency swaps to hedge its risks associated with interest rate and currency risk arising from the foreign currency loans / external commercial borrowings. The Group designates such contracts in a cash flow hedging relationship by applying the hedge accounting principles as per IND AS - 109 (refer note 38.C.2). These contracts are stated at fair value of the spot element of the forward exchange contracts at each reporting date. Changes in the fair value of these contracts that are designated as effective hedge of future cash flows are recognized directly in the "Cash flow hedge reserve" under other comprehensive income and the ineffective portion is recognized immediately in the "Fair value changes" under statement of profit and loss. Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedged instrument expires or is sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting.

There is an economic relationship between the hedged item and the hedging instrument as the terms of the Forward contracts/Interest Rate Swaps match that of the foreign currency borrowings (notional amount, interest payment dates, principal repayment date, etc.). The Group has established a hedge ratio of 1:1 for the hedging relationships as the underlying risk of the forward contracts/ interest rate swaps/ cross currency swaps are identical to the hedged risk components.

The Group does not use derivatives for trading or speculation purposes.

 The parent Company had certain AIF investments that were due to mature in June 2024. In March 2024, the parent Company requested the AIF to do in-specie distribution of assets (i.e.: debentures of underlying SPV companies) in lieu of its investment in the AIF. Subsequently, these debentures were assigned to an ARC, and the book value of the resulting Security Receipts (SRs), based on the same underlying assets as of September 30, 2024, was ₹ 586.50 Crores. The RBI Circular dated December 19, 2023, on "Investments in Alternative Investment Funds (AIFs)" required a 100% provision of AIF investments if they were not liquidated within 30 days of the circular being applicable. To comply with the spirit of this circular, the management has decided to make a provision equivalent to 100% of the book value of these SRs, accordingly the same has been disclosed under exceptional items for the year.*

The sensitivity analysis have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the respective assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the projected benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the projected benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same method as applied in calculating the projected benefit obligation as recognised in the balance sheet.

There was no change in the methods and assumptions used in preparing the sensitivity analysis from prior years."

Notes

Average Expected Future Service represents Estimated Term of Post - Employment Benefit Obligation.

Value of asset is considered as fair value of plan asset for the period of reporting.

Expected Rate of Return taken same as discount rate as described in Indian Accounting Standard 19.

QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES

Characteristics of defined benefit plan

The Company has a defined benefit gratuity plan in India (funded). The company's defined benefit gratuity plan is a final salary plan for employees, which requires contributions to be made to a separately administered fund. During the year, there were no plan amendments, curtailments and settlements.

The fund is managed by a trust which is governed by the Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees are responsible for the administration of the plan assets and for the definition of the investment strategy.

Risks associated with defined benefit plan

Gratuity is a defined benefit plan and company is exposed to the following risks:

Interest rate risk: A fall in the discount rate which is linked to the G.Sec. Rate will increase the present value of the liability requiring higher provision. A fall in the discount rate generally increases the mark to market value of the assets depending on the duration of asset.

Salary risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated by reference to the future salaries of members. As such, an increase in the salary of the members more than assumed level will increase the plan's liability.

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

Investment risk: The present value of the defined benefit plan liability is calculated using a discount rate which is determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds. If the return on plan asset is below this rate, it will create a plan deficit. Currently, for the plan in India, it has a relatively balanced mix of investments in government securities, and other debt instruments.

Asset liability matching risk: The plan faces the ALM risk as to the matching cash flow. Since the plan is invested in lines of Rule 101 of Income Tax Rules, 1962, this generally reduces ALM risk.

Mortality risk: Since the benefits under the plan is not payable for life time and payable till retirement age only, plan does not have any longevity risk.

Concentration Risk: Plan is having a concentration risk as all the assets are invested with the insurance entity and a default will wipe out all the assets. Although probability of this is very less as insurance Companies have to follow regulatory guidelines.

The Group's activities expose it to market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

Risk management is integral to the Group's strategy. An enterprise wide risk management framework is in place to govern the Group's risk management processes. A strong risk management team and an effective credit operations structure ensures that risks are properly identified and timely addressed to ensure minimal impact on the Group's growth and performance. The Group has developed the necessary competency to identify early stress signals and has also defined processes, including corrective and remedial actions as regards people and processes, for mitigation to ensure minimum damage.

A stress testing mechanism is put in place to carry out the event based sensitivity analysis and identify the accounts under stress due to expected market movement.

The comprehensive understanding of risk management throughout the various levels of an organization aids in driving key decisions related to risk-return balance, capital allocation and product pricing. The Group operates under the guidance of the Board approved risk appetite statement that covers business composition, guidance around gross non-performing assets and net non-performing assets, leverage, funding and liquidity, etc.

Additionally, it is also ensured that appropriate focus is on managing risk proactively by ensuring business operations are in accordance with laid-down risk. A strong risk management team and an effective credit operations structure ensures that risks are properly identified and timely addressed, to ensure minimal impact on the Group's growth and performance.

The RMC is empowered to develop an independent risk strategy comprising of principles, frameworks, policies and limits and ensuring its effective implementation. Independent function of Risk management is in place headed by the Chief Risk Officer (""CRO"") who reports to the Chief Executive Officer (""CEO"") with oversight of RMC of the Board reports to the Chairman and independently to RMC of the Board. The Risk department primarily operationalises risk management framework approved by RMC.

Additionally, it ensures adequate managerial and supervisory controls to ensure compliance and highlight inadequate processes and unexpected events. The Group has well-defined internal control measures in every process.

Independent risk and policy team constitutes second line of defence which is responsible for identification and assessment of entity-wide risks. Post its identification, it aims to mitigate risks either through portfolio trigger and caps (Credit risk) or through ongoing risk control and self assessment (Operational risk)

Internal Audit function is the third line of defence that independently reviews activities of the first two lines of defence and reports to the Audit Committee of the Board.

Risk Management Practices

The Group has developed the necessary competency to identify early stress signals and has also defined processes, including corrective and remedial actions as regards people and processes, for mitigation to ensure minimum damage. A stress testing mechanism is put in place to carry out the event based sensitivity analysis and identify the accounts under stress due to expected market movement. In event of susceptibility to external triggers, appropriate risk mitigation would be undertaken and thereby minimize the losses to the Group.

The Group has initiated a detailed portfolio quality review mechanism which enables analysis of portfolio along various behavioural, demographic and financial parameters. Additionally, through tie-ups with external bureaus, an analysis of collection performance coupled with continuous credit assessment for various key segments is undertaken. The practices aid in proactive course correction thereby modifying credit or sourcing mechanisms, if required. Additionally, application scorecard has been developed enabling the Group to standardize credit underwriting & improve sourcing quality in the long run.

The Group's policy is to measure and monitor the overall risk-bearing capacity in relation to the aggregate risk exposure across all risk types and activities. Information pertaining to different type of risks are identified, analysed and tested on timely basis. The same is presented to Risk Management Committee at periodic intervals.

The Board provides written principles for overall risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas, such as foreign exchange risk, interest rate risk, credit risk, use of derivative financial instruments and non-derivative financial instruments and investment of excess liquidity. It manages and controls credit risk by confining the amount of risk it is willing to accept for individual counterparties, for geographical concentrations, and by closely monitoring such exposures.

The Group has a Credit Risk Policy which is board approved and shared with all credit approving authorities. All customers will be evaluated on a set of pre-defined parameters as detailed below and accordingly classified into any of the following categories:

1. Low Risk
2. Medium Risk
3. High Risk

The high risk category of customers will not be actively sourced by the Group. Any customer, identified as High Risk, can be funded by the Group basis exceptional comfort and availability of justifying mitigates. The extent and nature of due diligence will be the highest for this category. The assessment of a customer being classified into high, medium or low is based on various parameters at the time of on-boarding which are captured in the Credit Approval Memorandum by the credit manager and validated by the relevant approving authority. The parameters are as follows:

1. Customer Profile
2. Financial health

3. Business vintage
4. Credit history
5. Industry feedback
6. Other qualitative/ quantitative factors as mentioned in the policy

Every customer once being stamped into a risk category on a periodic basis would further be subjected to change of his risk profile depending on the repayment history and DPDs through an independent credit quality review process. This process aims to allow the Group to assess the potential loss as a result of the risks to which it is exposed and take corrective actions.

38C.2. EXPOSURE TO CURRENCY RISKS

Foreign currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of an exposure will fluctuate because of changes in foreign currency rates. The Group's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primary to the foreign currency borrowings taken from banks and External Commercial Borrowings (ECB) and foreign bond markets.

The Group follows a conservative policy of hedging its foreign currency exposure through Forwards / Futures / and / or Cross Currency Interest Rate Swaps (CCRIS) in such a manner that it has fixed determinate outflows in its functional currency and as such there would be no significant impact of movement in foreign currency rates on the Group's profit before tax (PBT) and equity. However for the unhedged foreign currency exposure(s) there would be an impact on Group's profitability.

The Group's currency position is as under

38E.3. Valuation methodologies of financial instruments not measured at fair value

AS AT AND FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 2025

Short-term financial assets and liabilities

For financial assets and financial liabilities that have a short-term nature, the carrying amounts, which are net of impairment, are a reasonable approximation of their fair value. Such instruments include: cash and bank balances, Trade receivables, other receivables, balances other than cash and cash equivalents and trade payables.

Loans, Debts, Borrowings and Subordinated Debts

The fair values of these instruments are estimated by determining the price of the instrument taking into consideration the origination date, maturity date, coupon rate, actual or approximation of frequency of interest payments and incorporating the actual or estimated/proxy yields of identitical or similar instruments through the discounting factor. For instruments, having contractual residual maturity less than one year, the carrying value has been considered as fair value. Loans and advances are presented net of provisions for impairment.
