Dear Shareholders,

It gives me great pleasure to present the performance of MetroGlobal Limited for FY 2024-25. This year, we sustained our positive momentum, delivering consistent operational and financial results while advancing sustainability as a core tenet of our strategy. Despite a dynamic external environment, we demonstrated resilience and adaptability, reinforcing stakeholder trust and solidifying our leadership in the industry.

Operating Environment

FY 2024-25 was marked by significant shifts across the global economy, shaped by ongoing geopolitical tensions, evolving trade relationships, and dynamic monetary policies. These factors led to moderate growth in many developed and emerging markets, compelling businesses worldwide to recalibrate their strategies and adopt more agile approaches. Adjustments in supply chains and the emergence of new policy frameworks created an environment that demanded greater resilience across all sectors.

Within this context, India continued to exhibit robust economic fundamentals and remained one of the fastest-growing major economies globally. The country's growth was driven by strong private consumption, ongoing public investment, and a vibrant services sector. Even as external headwinds persisted, India's commitment to reform, rising investor confidence, and focused investment in infrastructure and digitalization enabled it to navigate volatility and maintain forward momentum.

Global trade in 2024-25 faced heightened volatility and deep structural changes. The resurgence of broad-based tariffs and shifts in trade policy disrupted established flows, while the rise of bilateral agreements introduced new complexities and cast uncertainty over multilateral trading principles. Nevertheless, regions such as Asia remained resilient, supported by strong domestic demand and ongoing regional integration. For businesses, this evolving trade landscape highlighted the importance of agility, policy awareness, and investment in robust, future-ready strategies to unlock new opportunities and sustain growth.

India's real estate market is entering a phase of renewed optimism, fuelled by increased demand for premium homes, strong sales in prime urban areas, and a revitalized commercial segment. The sector benefits favorable demographics, rapid urbanization, and targeted government initiatives such as Housing for All and the Smart Cities Mission. Regulatory reforms like RERA are strengthening transparency and accountability, making the sector more attractive to investors. Technological advancements, including digital platforms and PropTech, are further streamlining property transactions and instilling greater confidence among buyers and investors. While challenges remain, the overall outlook is positive, presenting significant opportunities across both residential and commercial segments.

We remain cautiously optimistic. Our focus will be on aligning our strategy with global realities and India's transformation journey, while continuing to deliver across our business segments.

Performance for the Fiscal

In 2024-25, our total income reached ₹ 25,368.51 Lakhs as compared to ₹ 24,604.52 Lakhs in the previous year by registering growth of 3.11%. As a result of an exceptional items of ₹ 1,694.35 Lakhs due to a write-off, our Profit Before Tax declined to ₹ 1,156.32 Lakhs in FY 2024-25, compared to ₹ 2,130.09 Lakhs in the previous fiscal year 2023-24. Our Profit after Tax for 2024-25 stood at ₹ 945.34 Lakhs, lower than the ₹ 1,628.48 Lakhs reported in the preceding year.

In an increasingly complex global marketplace, our ability to streamline sourcing for clients by consolidating diverse commodities through a single, reliable channel remains a key differentiator. MetroGlobal continues to expand its portfolio, providing clients with greater convenience, flexibility, and choice. Our steadfast commitment to reliability and service excellence has fostered long-standing relationships, with the majority of our revenues coming from repeat business and loyal partners. Our success is anchored in trust, transparency, and operational rigor. We uphold high standards across our supply chain, ensuring seamless transactions and on-time deliveries with uncompromised quality. By cultivating strong relationships with customers and suppliers alike, we build resilient partnerships that weather market volatility and position MetroGlobal as a preferred partner in international trade.

People and Culture

We firmly believe that our success is driven by the dedication and talent of our people, who power our scale and pursuit of excellence. The achievements of recent years are a testament to the commitment and teamwork of our employees at every level. We have continued to invest in developing our capabilities and strengthening our human capital through targeted programs and new processes.

Commitment to ESG

We take pride in embedding Environment, Social, and Governance (ESG) principles at the heart of our operations. Over the past year, we have further advanced our ESG agenda, integrating responsible and ethical practices into every aspect of our business and making meaningful progress on our sustainability commitments.

Conclusion

At MetroGlobal, we remain dedicated to enhancing our capabilities, capturing new market opportunities, and delivering sustainable value for all stakeholders. On behalf of the Board of Directors, I extend my sincere gratitude to our shareholders, customers, business partners, and employees for their unwavering trust and support.

Warm regards,

Gautam M. Jain

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS REPORT

Economic and industry overview

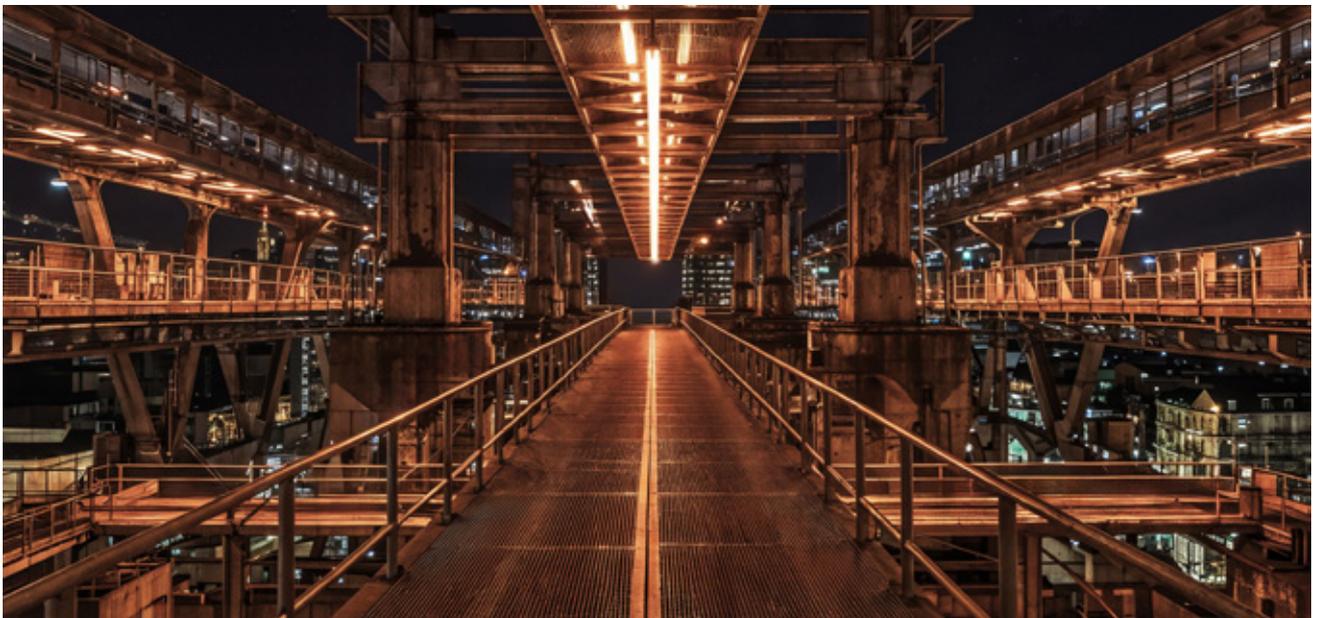

Economic environment

The global economy grew moderately by 3.3% in 2024, reflecting relative stability amid persistent constraints. In 2025, rising geopolitical tensions and economic pressures have led to significant policy shifts, including the U.S. imposing new tariffs that triggered widespread retaliatory measures.

These near-universal tariffs, implemented by April 2025, have heightened risks to global GDP, casting uncertainty over the growth outlook and amplifying economic volatility. This environment of instability has weakened the reliability of traditional forecasting models, with global headline inflation now expected to ease more gradually projected at 4.3% in 2025 and 3.6% in 2026. Despite these challenges, many economies have demonstrated adaptability, emphasizing the importance of proactive reforms, strong institutions, and coordinated policies. Moving forward, international collaboration will be essential to restore momentum, promote fair trade, resolve debt issues, and achieve sustainable, inclusive growth.

India's economy is projected to grow by 6.5% in FY 2024-25, demonstrating resilience amid global volatility. This growth is supported by strong domestic fundamentals, ongoing structural reforms, digital transformation, and infrastructure development. While manufacturing growth is expected to moderate to 6.2%, agriculture and services sectors remain robust, bolstered by private consumption and macroeconomic stability. India's external sector remains resilient, with a 6.0% rise in exports during April-December 2024 and a growing leadership role in global services trade. Coordinated macroeconomic policies, including inflation management and fiscal prudence, have helped sustain economic momentum. Looking ahead to FY 2025-26, India faces external risks such as geopolitical tensions and commodity price volatility, but the outlook remains balanced. Key domestic priorities include sustaining private investment, boosting consumer confidence, and accelerating wage growth. Government initiatives on skilling and digital literacy align with the rising influence of AI, positioning India's young workforce for future opportunities. Continued structural reforms and regulatory improvements will be critical to enhancing competitiveness, strengthening resilience, and sustaining long-term economic growth.

Chemicals

India's chemicals industry has showcased remarkable resilience despite facing global uncertainties such as demand fluctuations and supply chain disruptions. This resilience is underpinned by the country's strong macroeconomic fundamentals, an abundant and skilled talent pool, and a competitive manufacturing ecosystem.

Together, these strengths position India as a rising force in the global chemicals market, with significant potential to enhance its footprint.

India's domestic consumption is projected to grow at a compound annual growth rate of 9 to 10% until 2040. This growth is driven by factors including rising disposable incomes, a favourable demographic dividend, increasing global preference for eco-friendly alternatives, and a growing diversification of global chemical supply chains. It is anticipated that by 2040, the Indian chemicals market will reach a valuation between $850 billion and $1 trillion, constituting 10 to 12% of the global chemicals market.

To sustain and accelerate growth, Indian chemical companies are focusing on several strategic priorities. Expanding domestic manufacturing capacity is essential to meet growing internal demand and reduce reliance on imports. Companies are also actively pursuing global expansion through strategic partnerships and investments that provide access to new markets and advanced technologies. Targeted mergers and acquisitions help diversify product portfolios and scale operations to compete effectively on the global stage.

On the policy front, the Production Linked Incentives (PLI) scheme is a positive step, as it encourages the industry to invest rapidly and commence commercial operations. To further cement India's position as a global manufacturing hub for chemicals, additional incentives will be vital. By fostering growth and development through supportive policies, the government can facilitate adoption of new technologies, innovative processes, and advanced manufacturing practices that enhance efficiency, reduce costs, and bolster overall competitiveness.

Sustainability is becoming a core focus for the industry, with firms accelerating initiatives to align with international environmental standards and reduce carbon footprints. Efficient capital expenditure planning is critical for ensuring timely and cost-effective project execution, enabling companies to remain agile amid evolving market conditions. Furthermore, digital transformation is driving innovation and operational efficiency, as companies leverage advanced technologies to optimize production processes, enhance supply chain management, and improve customer engagement.

By addressing these priorities with concerted effort and strategic vision, India's chemicals sector aims to solidify its position as a global leader. This journey will require collaboration between industry stakeholders, government support, and sustained investments in technology and sustainability. With these combined efforts, India is poised to unlock new growth avenues and contribute significantly to the global chemicals landscape.

Textile

India's textile sector is a central pillar of the national economy, standing as the second-largest global producer of man-made fibres and the third-largest exporter of textiles and apparel. Its contribution extends across multiple dimensions, accounting for a notable share of the country's GDP, industrial output, and total exports.

This sector is also a major source of employment, especially for women and rural communities, and commands a strong presence in the international market with a 4% share in global textile and apparel trade. Future growth prospects remain robust, with the industry expected to expand by 8 to 9% in CY25, provided that key input prices remain stable and currency conditions are supportive.

A unique strength of the Indian textile industry lies in its ability to blend traditional craftsmanship with modern manufacturing excellence. This balance appeals to global investors who are increasingly drawn to businesses that combine heritage with innovation. The industry is undergoing a marked transformation, as sustainability and eco-friendly practices become integral to both investment decisions and consumer preferences. Demand for organic cotton, recycled materials, and environmentally responsible dyes continues to grow, supported by the sector's proactive adoption of sustainable manufacturing processes.

Technical textiles represent a rising force within the industry, driven by increasing requirements for advanced, high-performance materials and reinforced by government policies such as the Production Linked Incentive scheme. The growing popularity of sportswear and functional apparel is further boosting this segment, while India's expanding young population and rising disposable incomes ensure a resilient domestic demand base. These trends help the sector sustain momentum even amid external market uncertainties.

The Union Budget 2025-26 also focuses on strengthening the textile sector through cotton productivity initiatives, duty restructuring on fabric, and supporting domestic manufacturing. This targeted policy support is expected to further enhance the sector's competitiveness and capacity for growth.

Government support has played a vital role in shaping a favourable environment for the industry. Initiatives like Make in India and the Production Linked Incentive scheme, coupled with dedicated skill development and rural cluster programs, are empowering the workforce and fostering competitiveness. Incentives for value-added segments, such as technical textiles and man-made fibres, are attracting investments, stimulating exports, and supporting India's move toward greater self-reliance. Recognizing the potential of technical textiles, the government has laid out comprehensive guidelines to strengthen educational infrastructure and develop a skilled talent pool for this segment.

The ongoing integration of automation, robotics, and digital technologies is further transforming the sector. Artificial intelligence is streamlining design, optimizing supply chains, and enabling personalized marketing, making the industry more agile and customer-focused. Continuous research and development, with a focus on new materials, sustainability, and innovative applications, is ensuring that Indian textiles remain future-ready and globally competitive. As a result, the sector is well positioned to deliver long-term growth, value, and leadership in the global textile landscape.

Real estate

India's real estate sector has shown remarkable resilience and sustained growth potential, driven by a dynamic interplay of market forces and enabling government policies. Looking ahead, the sector is on track to become a trillion-dollar industry by 2030, underpinned by rising investments and a strong focus on innovation.

Affordable housing initiatives have been instrumental in broadening access to quality homes, fueling the expansion of the residential market and reaching a wider demographic. In the commercial space, the growing demand for flexible office models is redefining the market, providing greater adaptability to evolving business and consumer needs. Cities like Mumbai, Pune, Hyderabad, and NCR remain at the forefront, serving as economic and cultural powerhouses that drive demand across both residential and commercial segments.

The ongoing integration of technology and sustainability is further reshaping the sector's trajectory. The adoption of smart home technologies, digital platforms, and data-driven decision-making is becoming increasingly prevalent in new developments. Simultaneously, sustainability considerations are influencing building design and construction practices, with a heightened focus on energy efficiency and environmental stewardship. This convergence of digital innovation and responsible development signals a progressive future for Indian real estate—one that aligns more closely with global benchmarks and sets the stage for continuous evolution.

By 2047, India's real estate sector is projected to reach a value of US$ 5.8 trillion, accounting for 15.5% of the country's GDP, up from its current contribution of 7.3%.

Metals

India's ferrous metals sector, especially the iron and steel industry, is witnessing strong growth, supported by rising domestic consumption and proactive government initiatives. Both steel production and usage are on an upward trajectory, with the country setting its sights on exceeding the 300 million tonne production milestone by 2030.

Ferrous

Despite this momentum, the sector faces persistent challenges such as the need to manage carbon emissions and secure a sustainable supply chain. Steel demand in India is expected to grow by 9-10% in FY 2024-25, driven primarily by investments in infrastructure, construction, and real estate.

Leading companies in the Indian steel industry are investing heavily in advanced technologies to boost operational efficiency and reduce environmental footprint. Policy measures, such as the National Steel Policy and the Make in India initiative, have provided further impetus to the sector's expansion. A surge in urban consumption and heightened spending on infrastructure projects are projected to sustain robust growth in steel demand. This, in turn, is likely to generate increased demand for capital goods, automobiles, and related industries across the broader manufacturing ecosystem.

Non-ferrous

India's non-ferrous metals sector is witnessing notable expansion, supported by strong domestic demand, progressive government policies, and an increased focus on sustainability. Metals such as aluminium, copper, zinc, lead, and nickel are critical for a range of industries, including construction, automotive, electronics, and renewable energy. The sector's growth is underpinned by large-scale infrastructure projects, rapid urbanization, and the country's drive towards electric mobility and renewable power. Government initiatives, including Production Linked Incentive schemes and the Make in India campaign, are aimed at boosting domestic manufacturing and reducing reliance on imports. Recent developments, such as the commissioning of new copper smelters, are expected to further enhance India's self-sufficiency in key non-ferrous metals.

Sustainability is becoming increasingly important within the sector, with major producers turning to renewable energy and adopting circular economy practices. Policy measures now require new non-ferrous metal products to include a certain proportion of recycled content in the coming years, promoting resource efficiency and environmental responsibility. Despite the sector's positive outlook, challenges remain, including dependence on imported raw materials, environmental considerations, and the need for advanced recycling and processing technologies. Addressing these issues will be crucial to sustaining growth and maintaining global competitiveness. With supportive policy frameworks, technological upgrades, and a growing emphasis on responsible production, India's non-ferrous metals industry is well positioned to play a pivotal role in the nation's industrial and economic progress.

Precious

Precious metals have long been regarded as a safe haven for investors, particularly during times of economic and geopolitical uncertainty. In India, gold, silver, and platinum continue to play a vital role not only in tradition and culture but also in portfolio diversification and industrial innovation. The performance of these metals is shaped by a combination of global events, investor sentiment, and evolving industrial uses.

In FY 2024-25, gold and silver delivered strong returns, outperforming many other asset classes. This rally was largely driven by heightened geopolitical tensions, sustained central bank buying, persistent inflation concerns, and increased interest in exchange-traded funds (ETFs). Gold, in particular, benefited from its safe-haven appeal, drawing significant inflows into gold ETFs and nearly doubling their assets under management over the year. Silver's performance was underpinned by its dual identity as both a precious and an industrial metal, with continued industrial demand especially from sectors like solar energy and electronics—contributing to its price momentum.

Looking ahead, the outlook for gold and silver remains positive. Analysts expect ongoing global economic uncertainties and the possibility of interest rate cuts to keep investor interest high in both metals. Silver's industrial demand is projected to rise further, supporting its price, though its volatility is likely to be greater than gold due to its broader use in industrial applications.

Platinum, while not as widely discussed as gold and silver, is increasingly drawing attention for its applications in the automotive sector and its growing recognition as an investment asset. Its unique physical and industrial properties position it as a key metal to watch as the precious metals market continues to evolve.

Overall, the precious metals sector appears poised for continued strength in FY26, supported by a mix of macroeconomic drivers and resilient demand across investment and industrial segments.

Outlook

The global trade outlook presents a mix of challenges and opportunities, with persistent geopolitical tensions and protectionist measures introducing uncertainty and fragmenting supply chains.

Signs of resilience are emerging across key markets, as the formation of new trade blocs and evolving policies prompt businesses and countries to adapt by exploring alternative partnerships and diversifying trade routes. While regions like Asia are benefitting from strong domestic demand and a strategic reconfiguration of supply chains, established economies in Europe and North America are navigating a phase of adjustment and moderate growth. Amid these headwinds, ongoing innovation, digitalization, and an intensified focus on sustainability continue to offer promising avenues for growth. In this shifting global landscape, effective cooperation and policy alignment will be essential to harness opportunities and maintain stability in international trade.

Against this backdrop, India's economic outlook remains broadly positive. The country continues to establish itself as one of the fastest-growing major economies, buoyed by ongoing reforms, a robust investment climate, and government support for infrastructure, digitalization, and manufacturing. A favorable inflation and monetary policy environment have strengthened overall sentiment, supporting both consumption and investment. However, India is not immune to global trade headwinds and faces its own set of challenges, including uneven rural demand and sector-specific slowdowns, particularly in technology and real estate. The critical structural task of generating quality employment to harness its demographic advantage also remains.

Overall, India's outlook is defined by optimism and resilience, but achieving broad-based, long-term growth will require continued reforms, prudent policy actions, and a consistent focus on job creation and skill development, ensuring that the country remains on a path of inclusive and sustained progress even as the global environment evolves.

On October 24, 2024, the NCLT issued an order approving the Resolution Plan submitted by Jagjit Estate and Development Company Pvt. The Mumbai bench of the Hon'ble National Company Law Tribunal ('NCLT') vide its order dated January 12, 2023, has allowed the Petition and initiation of Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP) is ordered against Mundara Estate Developers Limited ("Corporate Debtor"). On October 24, 2024, the NCLT passed an order approving the Resolution Plan submitted by Jagjit Estate and Development Company Pvt. Ltd. ("Successful Resolution Applicant") under Interlocutory Application No. 28 of 2024 (C.P. No. 699 of 2021).

Pursuant to the approved resolution plan, the Financial Creditor ("the Company") has successfully recovered an amount of ₹ 10.40 crores. 2. Sumaya Flexi Pack LLP ("Sumaya" or "Corporate Debtor") had availed a loan of ₹ 3.35 crores from Metroglobal Limited at an interest rate of 12%, securing the loan through demand promissory notes. However, Sumaya failed to repay ₹ 1 crore, along with accrued interest. Despite a formal demand under the promissory note, the repayment remained unsettled. Consequently, Metroglobal Limited ("Financial Creditor") filed Company Petition 331 of 2024 against Sumaya Flexi Pack LLP under Section 7 and other applicable provisions of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, along with Rule 4 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy (Application to Adjudicating Authority) Rules, 2016. Acknowledging a default of ₹ 1.42 crores (inclusive of interest as of July 24, 2024), Sumaya sought to resolve the matter through an out-of-court settlement. During the pendency of the petition, both parties reached a settlement agreement wherein the Corporate Debtor agreed to pay ₹ 1.11 crores as full and final settlement of the outstanding financial debt, payable in 20 equal instalments. This settlement agreement was filed along with an Additional Affidavit before the Hon'ble National Company Law Tribunal (NCLT). On January 17, 2025, the NCLT allowed the withdrawal of the petition and directed the parties to file monthly progress reports on the case.
 3. Metroglobal Limited ("the Company") filed a petition against Parag Kunj Finvest Private Limited following a loan extended by the Company to Mundara Estate Developers Limited, which defaulted on repayment. A Resolution Plan was approved, with Metroglobal recovering ₹ 10.40 crores against its admitted claim. However, a balance remains unpaid, and the Company retains the right to recover it through collateral, including 10,000 pledged shares of Parag Kunj Finvest Private Limited. Despite multiple requests, Parag Kunj has failed to transfer the shares or meet statutory requirements. Consequently, the Company filed an appeal for rectification of the register of members, seeking a direction for the transfer of shares. The matter has been registered as CP/64/MB/2025 on March 28, 2025, in accordance with Section 58(3) and Section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013.
 4. Metroglobal Limited ("the Company") has filed a petition against Mr. Girish Rajnikant Shah following a loan extended to Mundara Estate Developers Limited, which subsequently defaulted on repayment. In response, Company Petition No. 699 of 2021 was filed under the Insolvency & Bankruptcy Code, 2016, leading to the initiation of a Corporate Insolvency Resolution Process (CIRP). A Resolution Plan was approved, wherein the Company recovered ₹ 10.40 crores against its admitted claim. Despite this recovery, an outstanding balance of ₹ 106.98 crores remain. The Company seeks to exercise its rights under the Personal Guarantees executed by Mr. Girish Rajnikant Shah and Mr. Rajesh Ramniklal Shah to recover this outstanding amount. The Company has now initiated insolvency proceedings under Section 95 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, against the personal guarantors for the recovery of the outstanding debt. Consequently, the Company has filed the present petition and is seeking the necessary orders and directions from this Hon'ble Tribunal to admit the application, as there is a debt due and payable by the personal guarantors. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key Audit Matter

How our audit addressed Key Audit Matter

For the purpose of current / non-current classification of assets and liabilities, the Company has ascertained its normal operating cycle as twelve months.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's board of directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134 (5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2016, as amended from time to time, and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board of directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in;

- (i) Planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and
- (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards. From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE "B" TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT (CONTD.)

(Referred to in paragraph 2 (f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report to the Members of Metro Global Limited of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting under clause (i) of sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Metro Global Limited ("the Company") as at March 31, 2025, in conjunction with our audit of the financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The board of directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over the financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the standards on auditing prescribed under Section 143 (10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those standards and the guidance note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement in the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial control system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management of override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion and according to the information and explanations are given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial control system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

a) Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

The Standalone Financial Statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended from time to time and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

b) Historical cost convention

The standalone financial statements have been prepared and presented under the historical cost convention with the exception of certain assets and liabilities that are required to be carried at fair value by Ind AS.

These Standalone Financial Statements of the Company as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025 (including comparatives) were approved and authorized for issue by the Board of Directors of the Company on May 12, 2025.

The financial statements are presented in INR and all amounts have been rounded-off to the nearest thousand and indicated in lacs of rupees, unless otherwise indicated.

1.2.2 Use of Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make certain judgments, estimates and assumptions that affects the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the accompanying disclosures. Future results could differ due to these estimates and differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognized in the period in which the results are known / materialized. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis.

The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date.

Significant Estimates and assumptions are required in particular for:

(i) Useful life of property, plant and equipment

This involves determination of the estimated useful life of property, plant and equipment and the assessment as to which components of the cost may be capitalized. Useful life of these assets is based on the life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. Management reviews its estimate of the useful lives of depreciable / amortizable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets.

(ii) Taxes

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgement are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the provision for income tax, including amount expected to be paid / recovered for uncertain tax position. Significant management judgement is also required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profit together with future tax planning strategies, including estimates of temporary differences reversing on account of available benefits from the Income Tax Act, 1961.

(iii) Defined benefit plans (Gratuity Benefits)

The cost of the defined benefits gratuity plan and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the individual asset/cash generating unit is made.

An impairment loss is calculated as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and recoverable amount. Losses are recognized in profit or loss. When the Company considers that there are no realistic prospects of recovery of the asset, the relevant amounts are written off. Financial assets other than trade receivables are initially recognized at fair value plus transaction costs for all financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognized at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

(b) Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial assets depends on their classification, as described below:

Measured at amortized cost:

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost, if both the following conditions are met:

- i) the asset is held within a business model whose objective if of holding the assets to collect contractual cash flows and
- ii) The contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

NOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

Amortized cost is calculated using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in interest income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. On de-recognition, gain or loss, if any, is recognized to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Measured at fair value through other comprehensive income:

A financial asset is measured at FVOCI, if both the following conditions are met:

- i) The asset is held with an objective to collect contractual cash flows and selling such financial asset and
- ii) The contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

It is subsequently measured at fair value with fair value movements recognized in the OCI, except for interest income which recognized using EIR method. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. On de-recognition, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the OCI is reclassified from the equity to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Measured at fair value through profit or loss:

Investment in financial asset other than equity instrument, not measured at either amortized cost or FVOCI is measured at FVTPL. Such financial assets are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value, including interest income and dividend income if any, recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.9.2 Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value net of transaction costs for all financial liabilities not carried at fair value through profit or loss.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and derivative instruments.

Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are subsequently measured at using EIR method. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial Guarantee Contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Company are those contracts that requires a payment to be made or to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because the specified debtors fails to make payment when due in accordance with the term of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contracts are recognized initially as a liability at fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee.

Subsequently the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognized less cumulative adjustments.

Derivative financial instruments

The Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward foreign exchange contracts, to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.10 Income Taxes

The tax expense for the period comprises current tax expense and the net changes in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. NOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

Tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

ii. Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The carrying amount of deferred tax liabilities and assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period.

1.11 Fair Value Measurement:

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or settle a liability in an ordinary transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or settle a liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 — other techniques for which all input which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 — Inputs which are not based on observable market data

1.12 Employee Benefit:

The Company has provides following post-employment plans:

- (a) Defined benefit plans such a gratuity and
- (b) Defined contribution plans such as Provident fund & ESIC

a) Defined-benefit plan:

The liability or asset recognized in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit plan is the present value of defined benefit obligations at the end of the reporting period less fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligations are calculated annually by actuaries through actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method.

The Company recognizes the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

- (a) Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailment and non-routine settlements; and
- (b) Net interest expense or income

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expenses in the statement of the profit & loss.

Re-measurement comprising of actuarial gains and losses arising from

- (a) Re-measurement of Actuarial(gains)/ losses
- (b) Return on plan assets, excluding amount recognized in effect of asset ceiling
- (c) Re-measurement arising because of change in effect of asset ceiling are recognized in the period in which they occur directly in Other comprehensive income. Re-measurement is not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Ind AS 19 requires the exercise of judgment in relation to various assumptions including future pay rises, inflation and discount rates and employee and pensioner demographics. The Company determines the assumptions in conjunction with its actuaries, and believes these assumptions to be in line with best practice, but the application of different assumptions could have a significant effect on the amounts reflected in the income statement, other comprehensive income and balance sheet. There may be also interdependency between some of the assumptions.

b) Defined-contribution plan:

Under defined contribution plans, provident fund, the Company pays pre-defined amounts to separate funds and does not have any legal or informal obligation to pay additional sums. Defined Contribution plan comprise of contributions to the employees' provident fund with the government, superannuation fund and certain state plans like Employees' State Insurance and Employees' Pension

Note 28: Financial Instruments

Financial Assets and Liabilities:

The Company's principal financial assets include investments, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, loans, derivative assets and other financial assets. The Company's principal financial liabilities comprise of borrowings, trade payables, derivative liabilities and other financial liabilities. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and projects.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

1. Fair value of cash and short-term deposits, trade and other short-term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities, short term loans from banks and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short term maturities of these instruments.
2. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

NOTES FORMING PART OF STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

as at March 31, 2025

Note 28: Financial Instruments (contd.)

Fair Value Hierarchy:

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Inputs which are not based on observable market data

The following tables summarize carrying amounts of financial instruments by their categories and their levels in fair value hierarchy for each year end presented.

Note 29: Financial Risk Management (contd.)

The Board of Directors reviews and agrees policies for managing each of these risks, which are summarized below:

(i) Market Risk – Interest Rate Risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company's main interest rate risk arises from the long-term borrowings with fixed rates. The Company's fixed rates borrowings are carried at amortized cost. The Company invests the surplus fund generated from operations in mutual funds. Considering these mutual funds are short term in nature, there is no significant interest rate risk. The Company has laid policies and guidelines including tenure of investment made to minimize impact of interest rate risk.

Borrowings bearing Fixed rate of interest	356.57	43.25

(ii) Market Risk – Foreign Currency Risk:

The Company does not have material foreign currency exposure as at balance sheet date. Hence, it does not have any significant foreign currency risk.

(iii) Credit Risk:

Credit risk arises from the possibility that the counter party may not be able to settle their obligations as agreed. To manage this, the company periodically assess financial reliability of customer, taking into account the financial condition, current economic trends, and analysis of historical bad debts and ageing of accounts receivable. Individual risk limits are set accordingly.

The company considers the probability of default upon initial recognition of asset and whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk on an ongoing basis through each reporting period. Note 36: Contingent liabilities not provided for in respect of:

The Company has filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Bombay challenging Final Order No. A/86346/2019 dated August 5, 2019 in Appeal No. C/178/2012 issued by the Customs, Excise and Service Tax Appellate Tribunal (CESTAT). The CESTAT's final order upheld a demand for differential duty against erstwhile Global Boards Limited for failing to meet export obligations under Notification No. 160/92-Cus. Additionally, the CESTAT ruled that Global Boards Limited must pay interest at 24% per annum on the differential duty, which amounts to ₹ 5,76,75,989/-. The tribunal did, however, overturn the confiscation and penalty previously imposed on the Company.

The Company has filed an appeal before the Hon'ble Bombay High Court (Customs Appeal No. 15 of 2020) challenging the levy of interest at the time of import, on the ground that no such provision existed under Section 18 of the Customs Act, 1962 at the relevant time. The Hon'ble High Court has admitted the appeal, as the interest demand lacks sustainable basis. Further, the Customs Department has filed an appeal (Customs Appeal No. 23 of 2022) against the CESTAT order which set aside the confiscation and penalty imposed on the Company while confirming recovery of differential duty and payment of interest thereon. Based on the opinion of legal counsel, the Company believes that there is a strong likelihood of success before the Hon'ble High Court, particularly in light of the Supreme Court's ruling in Jaswal Neco Ltd. v. CC [2015 (322) ELT 561 (SC)]. As a matter of prudence, the Company has earmarked the disputed liability amount in a fixed deposit under an escrow account to safeguard against any potential adverse outcome. The matter, however, is not expected to have any material impact on the Company's status as a going concern.

As of March 31, 2025, the Company is involved in Income Tax Proceedings for Assessment Years 2010-11 and 2016-17, resulting in potential contingent liabilities of ₹ 169.62 Lakhs and ₹ 4.36 Lakhs, respectively. The Company has filed appeals with the Commissioner of Income Tax against these assessments. Based on its evaluation of the merits of these appeals, the Company believes that a favourable outcome is probable, which would eliminate the contingent liabilities. Management and legal counsel are of the opinion that the Company's position in these matters is sound and that the ultimate resolution of these proceedings is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.

The Company had filed appeals before the Hon'ble Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT) concerning matters related to several Assessment Years. The ITAT directed the Assessing Officer to re-examine the issues and, following a review that favoured the assessee, the Assessing Officer issued revised assessment orders for the relevant Assessment Years. However; while issuing these revised orders, the Assessing Officer inadvertently failed to grant credit for advance tax and self-assessment tax payments made by the Company. This oversight resulted in erroneous demands being raised for three Assessment Years, namely AY 2003-04, AY 2004-05, and AY 2005-06, whereas the Company is actually entitled to refunds in these respective Assessment Years. The Company has filed applications for rectification of these orders under Section 154 of the Income Tax Act, 1961, and is actively pursuing the matter with the Assessing Officer. Management is confident that the rectification will be processed and the due refunds will be issued to the Company accordingly.

The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and those charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Company's board of directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134 (5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance including other comprehensive income, cash flows and changes in equity of the Company in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 and Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2016, as amended from time to time, and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statement that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The board of directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3) (i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its joint ventures / Associated Concerns to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its joint ventures to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation, and
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities within the Group, and its joint venture, to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of financial statements of such entities included in the financial statements, of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the financial statements, which have been audited by the other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

1.2 Summary of significant accounting policies

1.2.1 Basis of preparation

a) Statement of Compliance with Ind AS

The Standalone Financial Statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended from time to time and other accounting principles generally accepted in India.

b) Historical cost convention

The standalone financial statements have been prepared and presented under the historical cost

convention with the exception of certain assets and liabilities that are required to be carried at fair value by Ind AS.

These Consolidated Financial Statements of the Company as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025 (including comparatives) were approved and authorized for issue by the Board of Directors of the Company on May 12, 2025.

The financial statements are presented in INR and all amounts have been rounded-off to the nearest thousand and indicated in lakhs of rupees, unless otherwise indicated.

1.2.2 Use of Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make certain judgments, estimates and assumptions that affects the reported amounts of revenues, expenses assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) and the accompanying disclosures. Future results could differ due to these estimates and differences between the actual results and the estimates are recognized in the period in which the results are known / materialized. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis.

The said estimates are based on the facts and events, that existed as at the reporting date, or that occurred after that date but provide additional evidence about conditions existing as at the reporting date.

Significant Estimates and assumptions are required in particular for:

(i) Useful life of property, plant and equipment

This involves determination of the estimated useful life of property, plant and equipment and the assessment as to which components of the cost may be capitalized. Useful life of these assets is based on the life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. Management reviews its estimate of the useful lives of depreciable / amortizable assets at each reporting date, based on the expected utility of the assets.

(ii) Taxes

The Company's tax jurisdiction is India. Significant judgement are involved in estimating budgeted profits for the purpose of paying advance tax, determining the provision for income tax, including amount expected to be paid / recovered for uncertain tax position. Significant management judgement is also required to determine the amount of deferred tax assets that can be recognized, based upon the likely timing and the level of future taxable profit together with future tax planning strategies, including estimates of temporary differences reversing on account of available benefits from the Income Tax Act, 1961.

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

(iii) Defined benefit plans (Gratuity Benefits)

The cost of the defined benefits gratuity plan and the present value of the gratuity obligation are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases and mortality rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

1.2.3 Current & Non-Current Classification

Any asset or liability is classified as current if it satisfies any of the following conditions:

- (i) The asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled in the Company's normal operating cycle;
- (ii) The asset is intended for sale or consumption;
- (iii) The asset/liability is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- (iv) The asset/liability is expected to be realized/settled within twelve months after the reporting period;
- (v) The asset is cash or cash equivalent unless it is restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date;
- (vi) In the case of a liability, the Company does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting date.

All other assets and liabilities are classified as non-current. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities respectively.

For the purpose of current/non-current classification of assets and liabilities, the Company has ascertained its normal operating cycle as twelve months.

1.3 Property, Plant and Equipment

Recognition and Measurement

Property, Plant and Equipment, including Capital Work in Progress, are stated at cost of acquisition or construction less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Cost comprises the purchase price (net of tax credits, wherever applicable), import duty and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use.

Borrowing cost relating to acquisition/construction of Property, Plant and Equipment which takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are also included to the extent they relate to the period till such assets are ready to be put to use.

Depreciation/amortization:

Depreciation on fixed assets is provided on straight line method over the useful life of assets specified in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

The management believes that the useful life as given above the best represent the period over which the management expects to use these assets. The Company reviews the useful life and residual value at each reporting date.

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from continued use of asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

Derecognition:

An item of property, plant and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of property, plant and equipment is determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.4 Cash and Cash Equivalent

Cash and Cash equivalents include cash and Cheque in hand, bank balances, demand deposits with banks and other short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash & which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENT

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

1.5 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the company reviews the carrying amounts of non-financial assets, other than inventories and deferred tax assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows from other assets or groups of assets is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the individual asset/cash generating unit is made.

An impairment loss is calculated as the difference between an asset's carrying amount and recoverable amount. Losses are recognized in profit or loss. When the Company considers that there are no realistic prospects of recovery of the asset, the relevant amounts are written off. If the amount of impairment loss subsequently decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, then the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss.

1.6 Investment in Subsidiary, Jointly Controlled Entities, Associates and Unincorporated Entities

Investment in Subsidiary, Joint Controlled Entities and Associates are measured at cost less impairment in accordance with Ind AS 27 "Separate Financial Statements".

In case of unincorporated entities in the nature of a Joint Operation, the Company recognizes its direct right and its share of jointly held or incurred assets, liabilities, contingent liabilities, revenues and expenses of joint operations. These have been incorporated in these financial statements under the appropriate headings.

1.7 Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized upon transfer of control of promised products or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration which the company expects to receive in exchange for those products or services.

Sale of goods:

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the control of the goods has been passed to the customer as per the terms of agreement and there is no continuing effective control or managerial involvement with the goods.

Dividend:

Interest Income:

Interest income is recognized on a time proportionate basis taking into account the amounts invested and the rate of interest.

1.8 Inventories

- (i) Inventories are valued at lower of cost and net realizable value.
- (ii) Cost of inventories have been computed to include all costs of purchases, all non-refundable duties & taxes and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.
- (iii) Inventory of stores and spares, being not material, are charged to consumption on procurement.

1.9 Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

1.9.1 Financial assets

a. Initial recognition

Financial assets are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial assets other than trade receivables are initially recognized at fair value plus transaction costs for all financial assets not carried at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets carried at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognized at fair value, and transaction costs are expensed in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

b. Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial assets depends on their classification, as described below:

Measured at amortized cost:

A financial asset is measured at amortized cost, if both the following conditions are met:

NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENT

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

- i. the asset is held within a business model whose objective is of holding the assets to collect contractual cash flows and
- ii. The contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

Amortized cost is calculated using the effective interest rate ("EIR") method by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in interest income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. On de-recognition, gain or loss, if any, is recognized to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Measured at fair value through other comprehensive income:

A financial asset is measured at FVOCI, if both the following conditions are met:

- a. The asset is held with an objective to collect contractual cash flows and selling such financial asset and
- b. The contractual cash flows are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal outstanding.

It is subsequently measured at fair value with fair value movements recognized in the OCI, except for interest income which recognized using EIR method. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. On de-recognition, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the OCI is reclassified from the equity to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Measured at fair value through profit or loss:

Investment in financial asset other than equity instrument, not measured at either amortized cost or FVOCI is measured at FVTPL. Such financial assets are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value, including interest income and dividend income if any, recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.9.2 Financial Liabilities

Initial Recognition

Financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instruments. Financial liabilities are initially recognized at fair value net of transaction costs for all financial liabilities not carried at fair value through profit or loss.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and derivative instruments.

Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost are subsequently measured at using EIR method. Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Financial Guarantee Contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Company are those contracts that requires a payment to be made or to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because the specified debtors fails to make payment when due in accordance with the term of a debt instrument. Financial guarantee contracts are recognized initially as a liability at fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee.

Subsequently the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind AS 109 and the amount recognized less cumulative adjustments.

Derivative financial instruments

The Company uses derivative financial instruments, such as forward foreign exchange contracts, to hedge its foreign currency risks. Such derivative financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the date on which a derivative contract is entered into and are subsequently measured at fair value, with changes in fair value recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss.

1.10 Income Taxes

The tax expense for the period comprises current tax expense and the net changes in the deferred tax asset or liability during the year. Tax is recognized in Statement of Profit and Loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in the comprehensive income or in equity. In which case, the tax is also recognized in other comprehensive income or equity

i. Current Tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities, Current income tax (including Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT)) is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

Income-Tax Act, 1961 enacted in India. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

ii. Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognized using the balance sheet approach. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for deductible and taxable temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit.

Deferred tax liabilities and assets are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period in which the liability is settled or the asset realized, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period. The carrying amount of deferred tax liabilities and assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period.

1.11 Fair Value Measurement:

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or settle a liability in an ordinary transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or settle a liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 — other techniques for which all input which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.
- Level 3 — Inputs which are not based on observable market data

1.12 Employee Benefit:

The Company has provided following post-employment plans:

- (a) Defined benefit plans such a gratuity and
- (b) Defined contribution plans such as Provident fund & ESIC

a) Defined-benefit plan:

The liability or asset recognized in the balance sheet in respect of defined benefit plan is the present value of defined benefit obligations at the end of the reporting period less fair value of plan assets. The defined benefit obligations are calculated annually by actuaries through actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method.

The Company recognizes the following changes in the net defined benefit obligation as an expense in the statement of profit and loss:

- (a) Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailment and non-routine settlements; and
- (b) Net interest expense or income

The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expenses in the statement of the profit & loss.

as at and for the year ended March 31, 2025

Re-measurement comprising of actuarial gains and losses arising from

- (a) Re-measurement of Actuarial(gains)/losses
- (b) Return on plan assets, excluding amount recognized in effect of asset ceiling

Note 29: Financial Instruments

Financial Assets and Liabilities:

The Company's principal financial assets include investments, trade receivables, cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, loans, derivative assets and other financial assets. The Company's principal financial liabilities comprise of borrowings, trade payables, derivative liabilities and other financial liabilities. The main purpose of these financial liabilities is to finance the Company's operations and projects.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

1. Fair value of cash and short-term deposits, trade and other short-term receivables, trade payables, other current liabilities, short term loans from banks and other financial institutions approximate their carrying amounts largely due to short term maturities of these instruments.
2. Financial instruments with fixed and variable interest rates are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates and individual credit worthiness of the counterparty. Based on this evaluation, allowances are taken to account for expected losses of these receivables. Accordingly, fair value of such instruments is not materially different from their carrying amounts.

Fair Value Hierarchy:

The fair value hierarchy is based on inputs to valuation techniques that are used to measure fair value that are either observable or unobservable and consists of the following three levels:

Level 1: quoted (unadjusted) prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: other techniques for which all inputs which have a significant effect on the recorded fair value are observable, either directly or indirectly.

Level 3: Inputs which are not based on observable market data

Note 37: Contingent liabilities not provided for in respect of:

The Company has filed an appeal with the Hon'ble High Court of Bombay challenging Final Order No. A/86346/2019 dated August 5, 2019 in Appeal No. C/178/2012 issued by the Customs, Excise and Service Tax Appellate Tribunal (CESTAT). The CESTAT's final order upheld a demand for differential duty against erstwhile Global Boards Limited for failing to meet export obligations under Notification No. 160/92-Cus. Additionally, the CESTAT ruled that Global Boards Limited must pay interest at 24% per annum on the differential duty, which amounts to ₹ 5,76,75,989/-. The tribunal did, however, overturn the confiscation and penalty previously imposed on the Company.

The Company has filed an appeal before the Hon'ble Bombay High Court (Customs Appeal No. 15 of 2020) challenging the levy of interest at the time of import, on the ground that no such provision existed under Section 18 of the Customs Act, 1962 at the relevant time. The Hon'ble High Court has admitted the appeal, as the interest demand lacks sustainable basis. Further, the Customs Department has filed an appeal (Customs Appeal No. 23 of 2022) against the CESTAT order which set aside the confiscation and penalty imposed on the Company while confirming recovery of differential duty and payment of interest thereon. Based on the opinion of legal counsel, the Company believes that there is a strong likelihood of success before the Hon'ble High Court, particularly in light of the Supreme Court's ruling in Jaswal Neco Ltd. v. CC [2015 (322) ELT 561 (SC)]. As a matter of prudence, the Company has earmarked the disputed liability amount in a fixed deposit under an escrow account to safeguard against any potential adverse outcome. The matter, however, is not expected to have any material impact on the Company's status as a going concern.

As of March 31, 2025, the Company is involved in Income Tax Proceedings for Assessment Years 2010-11 and 2016-17, resulting in potential contingent liabilities of ₹ 169.62 Lakhs and ₹ 4.36 Lakhs, respectively. The Company has filed appeals with the Commissioner of Income Tax against these assessments. Based on its evaluation of the merits of these appeals, the Company believes that a favourable outcome is probable, which would eliminate the contingent liabilities. Management and legal counsel are of the opinion that the Company's position in these matters is sound and that the ultimate resolution of these proceedings is not expected to have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition, results of operations, or cash flows.

The Company had filed appeals before the Hon'ble Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT) concerning matters related to several Assessment Years. The ITAT directed the Assessing Officer to re-examine the issues and, following a review that favoured the assessee, the Assessing Officer issued revised assessment orders for the relevant Assessment Years. However; while issuing these revised orders, the Assessing Officer inadvertently failed to grant credit for advance tax and self-assessment tax payments made by the Company. This oversight resulted in erroneous demands being raised for three Assessment Years, namely AY 2003-04, AY 2004-05, and AY 2005-06, whereas the Company is actually entitled to refunds in these respective Assessment Years. The Company has filed applications for rectification of these orders under Section 154 of the Income Tax Act, 1961, and is actively pursuing the matter with the Assessing Officer. Management is confident that the rectification will be processed and the due refunds will be issued to the Company accordingly.
