Management Discussion and Analysis Report

1. Industry Structure and Development:

During the year under review, there was a healthy increase in the Company's top line on account of the commercialisation of some niche products in the international and domestic markets. Though the domestic fibre products' margins have taken an overall hit due to increasing competition, the overall performance of the Company was satisfactory, given the increase in demand for the newly developed products and establishment of supply chains at better margins. The Company also noted an increase in overall expenses due to sudden and unforeseeable costs such as repairs to the wind turbine generator caused by mechanical failure, increase in employee benefit expenses and repairs to various old plant and machinery.

2. Opportunities and Threats:

Opportunities:

The Company is in the process of developing niche products and is at advanced stages of trials with customers and is likely to see commercial realization in the coming financial year.

Threats:

We face intense competition domestically and from Chinese suppliers due to which margins are getting eroded as well hit in volume offtake. This is likely to continue in the years to come. Additionally, the Company's machinery is over three decades old and from time to time suffers breakdowns and the Company incurs exponential costs for repair and maintenance. Similarly, the factory building is quite old and requires substantial repairs.

Lastly, one of the key threats for the Company to sell and establish sales in the export market is the highly volatile freight costs, sudden surges in the same lead to drop in fibre offtake as it leads to products becoming unviable.

3. Segment wise Operational Performance:

The Company operates in the manufacturing of Manmade Fibres and power generation through Wind Turbine.

Manmade Fibre:

(Quantity in MT)

Particulars	2024-25	2023-24
Production	3232.17	2054.85
Sales
- Domestic	1109.91	1094.71
- Export	1816.86	656.50

(Rs. in Lakhs)

Particulars	2024-25	2023-24
Sales	5219.70	3428.11
Profit Before Tax	239.71	173.43
Profit After Tax	180.13	131.75

During the year under review, sales of yarn was 293.50 MT as compared to 333.38 MT in the previous year.

Windmill:

The Company's windmill continues to play a pivotal role in supporting the energy needs of its Fibre Division through captive consumption, significantly reducing dependency on conventional power sources and aligning with the Company's sustainability goals. Any surplus power generated beyond internal consumption is sold to the power grid in accordance with predefined commercial arrangements.

During the year under review, the windmill generated a total of 14,60,155 KWH, a decline from 25,13,176 KWH generated in the previous year. Correspondingly, the revenue realized from wind power operations stood at Rs. 142.45 Lakhs, compared to Rs. 177.34 Lakhs in the previous year.

The decline in power generation and associated revenue was primarily attributable to an unforeseen mechanical failure of the wind turbine's generator on September 13, 2024, which temporarily disrupted operations. The Company acted promptly to address the issue and successfully completed the required repairs. The turbine was fully restored to operational status as of March 1, 2025 and has filed its claim for the repairs with the Insurance Company which is pending final assessment.

With operations now fully normalized, the Company expects power generation to return to expected levels in the upcoming financial year. This incident has been managed effectively with minimal long-term impact and appropriate measures have been implemented to strengthen monitoring and maintenance protocols, ensuring greater operational resilience.

The Company remains steadfast in its commitment to the efficient management and long-term sustainability of its renewable energy assets. This focus not only reinforces operational reliability but also supports the Company's broader environmental, social and governance (ESG) objectives.

4. Quality and Future Outlook:

The outlook for the Polypropylene Staple Fibre is encouraging and at the time challenging overall. The Company is making great strides to develop niche products having good demand in the international market wherein substantial potential exists. The product quality of the Company is in consonance with international standards and all efforts are made to adhere to the same.

5. Risk and Concerns:

The Company is committed to manufacturing and deliver quality products strictly as per requirement of the customer. The constant feedback from customers is received and efforts are made for continuous improvement in process performance and product quality, wherever required. With established production base of almost three decades, the Company is in a position to maintain production and supply of quality products smoothly. This testifies to the fact that there are virtually nil rejections/returns of the Company's products. The Company has the benefit of its long-standing association with its customers and can match the prices suitably as per pricing policy as and when required. The Company has experienced some pressure on profit margins due to increase in operational costs, market competition and other industry related factors, given it is operating in a highly competitive industry with numerous organized and unorganized players both domestically and overseas, however, the Company is confident to tackle all such risks/concerns/threats. The Company is also maintaining healthy liquidity to meet any unforeseen exigencies.

6. Internal Control Systems and their adequacy:

The Company has appropriate Internal Control Systems for business processes, financial reporting & controls, compliance with applicable laws, regulations etc. The Company has appointed Statutory Auditors to evaluate Internal Control System. Regular internal audits and checks ensure that system and procedures are continuously improved. Report on the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying standalone financial statements of Zenith Fibres Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2025, the Statement of Profit and Loss, including Other Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year ended and notes to the financial statements, including material accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 (the "Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the Indian Accounting Standards prescribed under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended, ("Ind AS") and other accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2025 and its profit, total comprehensive income, changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit of the standalone financial statements in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs), as specified under section 143(10) of the Act. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the 'Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements' section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the 'Code of Ethics' issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the Standalone Financial Statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence, obtained by us, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Standalone financial statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined the matters described below to be the key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Key Audit Matter	How our audit addressed the Key Audit Matter
Valuation of investments and deposits We refer to the accounting policies and the notes given at 3.6 and 7. The company holds significant investments and deposits, which constitute a material portion of its total assets. These financial instruments include equity investments, mutual funds, inter corporate deposits, etc. that are subject to market risk, credit risk, and liquidity risk, particularly where observable market data is limited or the instruments are unquoted or held in complex structures. The accounting of carrying value of equity investments, determination of fair value of investments and assessment of impairment involves management judgement, estimates on future expected level of operations, forecast of cash flows, market conditions etc.	Our audit procedures included, among others, reconciliation of third party statements, examining contractual maturities of deposits and exit strategies for investments, more detailed review of investment portfolio, published and subsequent changes in the Net Asset values, use of data from external sources, and also discussed the key assumptions used by management in impairment testing to understand the impact on the recoverable amounts. The procedures and the detailed review did not identify any material differences.
Risk of Revenue volatility The company derives a significant proportion of its revenue from a small number of customers which exposes the company to revenue risk if any key customer reduces or discontinues their business. This may materially impact the company's cash flows, and future profitability.	Our audit procedures included among others, reviews customer wise revenue, understanding of management customer retention strategies, reviewing correspondence and contracts to ensure evaluate future business relationship and continued supplies, plans to diversify customer base etc. The procedures and the detailed review did not identify any material differences.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in company's Annual Report, but does not include the Standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The Company's annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditor's report.

Our opinion on the Standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether such other information is materially inconsistent with the standalone financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the Company's annual report, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance and take necessary actions, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the Ind AS and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the Standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls with reference to Standalone Financial Statements system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The Company is engaged in the manufacturing of Manmade Fibres as well as Green Energy generation through its Wind Turbine. The equity shares of the Company are listed on the Bombay Stock Exchange of India.

The Company's registered office is located at 311, Marol Co-operative Industrial Estate Limited, M.V. Road, Andheri (E), Mumbai - 400059.

2. Basis of Preparation and Measurement

2.1 Basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standards (hereinafter referred to as the 'Ind AS') as notified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015 as amended from time to time.

These financial statements have been prepared on accrual and on going concern basis, under historical cost convention, except for certain class of assets and liabilities, defined benefit plans which are measured at fair values as required by relevant Ind AS.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly-issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31st March, 2025 were approved for issue in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors on 27th May, 2025.

2.2 Key Accounting estimates and judgements

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires the Management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period.

Accounting estimates may change from period to period. Actual results may differ from those estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as the Management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which the changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

Information about critical judgements in applying accounting policies, as well as estimates and assumptions that have the significant effect to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year, are included in the following notes:

- (a) Fair Value Measurement – Note No. 2.05
- (b) Useful life of property plant and equipment – Note No. 3.2

2.3 Functional Currency

The functional currency of the company is the Indian Rupees (INR). These financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees in lakhs rounded to nearest digits, except when otherwise indicated.

2.4 Classification of current or non-current assets and liabilities

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Schedule III (Division II) to the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current or non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

Current versus non-current classification:

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the balance sheet based on current/ non-current classification.

An asset is treated as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when it is:

- Expected to be settled in normal operating cycle
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading
- Due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities, respectively.

2.5 Fair Value Measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as investments (other than equity investments in Associates) and derivatives at fair values at each Balance Sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received on sale of an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either in the principal market for the asset or liability, or in the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability. The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities (for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements) are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level - 1	Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
Level - 2	Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.
Level - 3	Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities, that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

The management determines the policies and procedures for both; recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for disposal in discontinued operations.

3. Material Accounting Policies

3.1 Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Cost includes purchase price, borrowing cost and any cost directly attributable to bringing the assets to its working condition for its intended use.

The cost of an item of Property, plant and equipment is recognized as an asset if, and only if, it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Company in future periods and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. Expenditure incurred after the property, plant and equipment have been put into operations, such as repairs and maintenance expenses are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Items such as spare parts, standby equipment and servicing equipment are recognized as Property, plant and equipment when it is held for use in the production or supply of goods or services, or for administrative purpose and are expected to be used for more than one year.

An item of property, plant and equipment is de-recognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the assets. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property plant and equipment, is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

3.2 Depreciation and amortization

Depreciation has been provided as per straight-line method on pro rata basis from the date of such additions in the manner and at the rates specified in Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013 except that in case of expenditure on software. In the opinion of management useful life of fixed assets broadly corresponds to life as specified in schedule II of the Companies Act 2013 and the depreciation provided accordingly. Cost of software is amortized over 6 years considering its useful life.

The Company reviews the useful life of property, plant and equipment at the end of each reporting period. This reassessment may result in change in depreciation expense in future periods.

3.3 Impairment of assets

Carrying amounts of fixed assets are reviewed at each Balance sheet date to ascertain whether there is any indication of impairment in their value caused by any internal / external factors. An impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, recoverable amount being the greater of the assets' net selling price and value in use.

3.4 Intangible Assets

Intangible Assets are stated at cost of acquisition less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment, if any. Amortization is done over their estimated useful life on straight line basis from the date that they are available for intended use, subjected to impairment test.

3.5 Amortization

Software, which is not an integral part of the related hardware is classified as an intangible asset and is amortized over the useful life of 6 years.

3.6 Investments and financial assets

a) Investment in Associates

Equity investment in Associate is recognized at cost less impairment loss, if any.

b) Other investments and financial assets

i) Classification

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories depending upon the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through other comprehensive income, or through profit or loss), and
- those measured at amortized cost.

For assets measured at fair value, gains and losses will either be recorded in profit or loss or other comprehensive income, as elected.

The Company reclassifies debt investments when and only when its business model for managing those assets changes.

ii) Measurement

At initial recognition, the Company measures a financial asset at its fair value including, in the case of 'a financial asset not at fair value through profit or loss', transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Transaction costs of financial assets carried at 'fair value through profit or loss' are expensed in the statement of profit or loss.

Debt instruments

Subsequent measurement of debt instruments depends on the Company's business model for managing the asset and the cash flow characteristics of the asset. There are two measurement categories into which the Company classifies its debt instruments:

Amortized cost: Assets that are held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest are measured at amortized cost e.g. Bonds. A gain or loss on a debt investment that is subsequently measured at amortized cost is recognized in profit or loss when the asset is derecognized or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in investment income using the effective interest rate method.

Fair value through profit or loss: Assets that do not meet the criteria for amortized cost, are measured at fair value through profit or loss e.g. investments in mutual funds.

iii) Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses on a forward looking basis the expected credit losses associated with its assets carried at amortized cost. The impairment methodology applied depends on whether there has been a significant increase in credit risk and if so, assess the need to provide for the same in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

iv) Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset is derecognized only when Company has transferred the rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset. Where the entity has transferred an asset, the Company evaluates whether it has transferred substantially all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset. In such cases, the financial asset is derecognized.

3.7 Derivative financial instruments

The company holds derivative financial instruments such as foreign exchange forward contracts to mitigate the risk of changes in exchange rates on foreign currency exposures. The counterparty for these contracts is generally a bank.

These derivatives are measured at fair value through profit or loss and the resulting exchange gains or losses are included in other income. Assets/liabilities in this category are presented as current assets/current liabilities if they are either held for trading or are expected to be realized within 12 months after the Balance Sheet date.

3.8 Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is computed on FIFO (First in, First Out) basis.

Cost of finished goods and work-in-progress include all costs of purchases, conversion costs and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

The net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

3.9 Revenue Recognition

Revenue from Operations:

The Company derives revenues primarily from sale of Polypropylene Staple Fibre and P.P. Yarn. Ind AS 115 "Revenue from Contracts with Customers" provides a control-based revenue recognition model and provides a five step application approach to be followed for revenue recognition.

- Identify the contract(s) with a customer;
- Identify the performance obligations;

- Determine the transaction price;
- Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations;
- Recognize revenue when or as an entity satisfies performance obligation.

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognised when control of the goods or services are transferred to the customer at an amount that reflects the consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. The Company has generally concluded that it is the principal in its revenue arrangements, because it typically controls the goods or services before transferring them to the customer. Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, commission, price concessions, incentives and returns, if any, as specified in the contracts with the customers.

Revenue excludes amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Sale of Goods

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when control of the goods is transferred to the buyer, usually on delivery of the goods. On delivery of the goods, the customer has full discretion over the responsibility, manner of distribution, price to sell the goods and bears the risks of obsolescence and loss in relation to the goods.

A receivable is recognized by the Company when the goods are delivered as this represents the point in time at which the right to consideration becomes unconditional, as only the passage of time is required before payment is due. Payment is normally due within 0-45 days. The Company considers the effects of variable consideration, the existence of significant financing components, non-cash consideration and consideration payable to the customer/discount (if any).

Variable consideration

If the consideration in a contract includes a variable amount, the company estimates the amount of consideration to which it will be entitled in exchange for transferring the goods to the customer. The variable consideration is estimated at contract inception and constrained until it is highly probable that a significant revenue reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur when the associated uncertainty with the variable consideration is subsequently resolved. The Company recognizes changes in the estimated amount of variable consideration in the period in which the change occurs. Some contracts for the sale of goods provide customers with rebates and pricing incentives which give rise to variable consideration.

Rebates are offset against amounts payable by the customer. To estimate the variable consideration for the expected future rebates the Company applies the most likely amount method for contracts with a single-volume threshold and the expected value method for contracts with more than one volume threshold. The selected method that best predicts the amount of variable consideration is primarily driven by the number of volume thresholds contained in the contract. The Company then applies the requirements on constraining estimates of variable consideration and recognises a refund liability for the expected future rebates.

Contract balances

Trade receivables

A receivable represents the Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).

Contract liabilities

A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration (or an amount of consideration is due) from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Company transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognised when the payment is made or the payment is due (whichever is earlier). Contract liabilities are recognised as revenue when the Company performs under the contract.

Cost to obtain a contract

Costs to obtain a contract are generally expensed as incurred. Costs to fulfil a contract i.e. freight, insurance and other selling expenses are recognized as an expense in the period in which related revenue is recognised.

Critical judgments

The Company's contracts with customers include promises to transfer goods to the customers. Judgment is required to determine the transaction price for the contract. The transaction price could be either a fixed amount of customer consideration or variable consideration with elements such as schemes, incentives, cash discounts, etc. The estimated amount of variable consideration is adjusted in the transaction price only to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognised will not occur and is reassessed at the end of each reporting period.

Estimates of rebates and discounts are sensitive to changes in circumstances and the Company's past experience regarding returns and rebate entitlements may not be representative of customers' actual returns and rebate entitlements in the future.

Revenue from sale of goods is net of Goods and Service Tax, returns, discounts, rebates and incentives.

3.10 Other Income

Interest Income

Interest income from a financial asset is recognized when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the amount of income can be measured reliably. Interest income is accrued on a time basis, by reference to the principal outstanding and at the effective interest rate applicable.

Dividend Income

Dividend income from investments is recognized when the Company's right to receive payment is established.

3.11 Non-current assets held for sale

The Company classifies non-current assets as held for sale if their carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset and its sale is highly probable. Also such assets are classified as held for sale only if the management expects to complete the sale within one year from the date of classification.

3.12 Foreign currency transactions and translation

Transactions in currencies other than Company's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recorded at the rates of exchange prevailing on the date of transaction. At the end of the reporting period, monetary items denominated in foreign currencies are reported using the exchange rate prevailing as at reporting date. Non-monetary items denominated in foreign currencies which are carried in terms of historical cost are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on translating monetary items at the exchange rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year, or reported in previous financial statements, are recognised as income or expenses in the year in which they arise.

3.13 Employee Benefits

Short-Term Employee Benefits

Short-term employee benefits are recognized as an expense on accrual basis. Liabilities for wages and salaries, including non-monetary benefits that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the period in which the employees render the related service are recognized in respect of employee's services up to the end of the reporting period and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled. The liabilities are presented as current employee benefit obligations in the balance sheet.

Defined Contribution Plans

Contribution towards provident fund and employee state insurance for employees is made to the regulatory authorities, where the Company has no further obligations. Such benefits are classified as Defined Contribution Schemes as the Company does not carry any further obligations, apart from the contributions made on a monthly basis.

Compensated Absences

Leave benefits being a defined benefit plan is accounted for using the projected unit credit method, on the basis of actuarial valuations carried out by third party actuaries at each Balance Sheet date. Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged or credited to other comprehensive income in the year in which they arise. Other costs are accounted in statement of profit and loss.

Gratuity

The company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan ('the Gratuity Plan') covering eligible employees. The Gratuity plan provides a lump-sum payment to vested employees at retirement, death, incapacitation or termination of employment, as per eligible rules and statutory provisions of an amount based on the respective employee's salary and the tenure of employment with the company.

Liabilities with regard to the Gratuity Plan are determined by actuarial valuation, performed by an independent actuary, at each Balance Sheet date using the projected unit credit method. The company contributes liabilities to Gratuity Fund in to a scheme administered by the Life Insurance Corporation of India. Any deficit in plan assets managed by Life Insurance Corporation of India as compared to the liability on the basis of an independent actuarial valuation is recognized as a liability.

Actuarial gains and losses arising from experience adjustments and changes in actuarial assumptions are charged or credited to other comprehensive income in the period in which they arise. Other costs are accounted in statement of profit and loss.

3.14 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing cost directly attributable to acquisition and construction of assets that necessarily takes substantial period of time are capitalised as part of the cost of such assets up to the date when such assets are ready for intended use or sale.

All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds.

3.15 Taxation

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred income tax.

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to the taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside Statement of profit or loss is recognized either in other comprehensive income or in equity. Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in other comprehensive income (OCI) or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the Financial Statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit under Income tax Act, 1961.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are generally recognized for all deductible and taxable temporary differences respectively. However, in case of temporary differences that arise from initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction (other than business combination) that affect neither the taxable profit nor the accounting profit or does not give rise to equal taxable and deductible temporary differences, deferred tax assets or liabilities are not recognized. Also, for temporary differences, if any that may arise from initial recognition of goodwill, deferred tax liabilities are not recognized.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which those deductible temporary difference can be utilized.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow the benefits of part or all of such deferred tax assets to be utilized.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the Balance Sheet date and are expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled.

Uncertain Tax position:

Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate. The provision is estimated based on one of two methods, the expected value method (the sum of the probability weighted amounts in a range of possible outcomes) or the single most likely amount method, depending on which is expected to better predict the resolution of the uncertainty.

Presentation of current and deferred tax:

Current and deferred tax are recognized as income or an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss, except when they relate to items that are recognized in Other Comprehensive Income. The Company offsets tax assets and liabilities, where it has a legally enforceable right to set off the recognized amounts and where it intends either to settle on a net basis, or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

3.16 Earnings per share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year.

Diluted earnings per share are computed by dividing the profit after tax as adjusted for dividend, interest and other charges to expense or income (net of any attributable taxes) relating to the dilutive potential equity shares, by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and the weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares.

3.17 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and cheques on hand, cash at banks, demand deposits from banks and short-term, highly liquid instruments that are readily convertible into cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

Cash Flow Statements

The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared under the "Indirect Method" as set out in the Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS 7) - Statement of Cash Flows.

3.18 Segment Reporting

Identification of segments

An operating segment is a component of the Company that engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses, whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the Company's Chief Operating Decision Maker ("CODM") to make decisions for which discrete financial information is available.

The Company's operating businesses are organized and managed separately according to the nature of products and services provided, with each segment representing a strategic business unit that offers different products and serves different markets.

Allocation of common costs

Common allocable costs are not significant and hence not allocated to each segment.

Inter-segment transfers

Inter-segment revenue has been accounted for based on the transaction price agreed to between segments which is based on current market prices.

Unallocated items

Revenue, expenses, assets and liabilities which relate to the Company as a whole and not allocable to segments on reasonable basis have been included under 'unallocated revenue / expenses / assets / liabilities'.

Segment Policies

The Company prepares its segment information in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for preparing and presenting the financial statements of the Company as a whole.

3.19 Leases

The Company's lease asset classes primarily consist of leases for Land and Buildings. The Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at inception of a contract. A contract is, or contains, a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. To assess whether a contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset, the Company assesses whether:

- i) the contract involves the use of an identified asset,
- ii) the Company has substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the asset through the period of the lease and
- iii) the Company has the right to direct the use of the asset.

At the date of commencement of the lease, the Company recognises a right-of-use asset ("ROU") and a corresponding lease liability for all lease arrangements in which it is a lessee, except for leases with a term of twelve months or less (short term leases) and leases of low value assets. For these short term and leases of low value assets, the Company recognises the lease payments as an operating expense on a straight line basis over the term of the lease.

The right-of-use assets are initially recognised at cost, which comprises the initial amount of the lease liability adjusted for any lease payments made at or prior to the commencement date of the lease plus any initial direct costs less any lease incentives. They are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Right-of-use assets are depreciated from the commencement date on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and useful life of the underlying asset.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the future lease payments. The lease payments are discounted using the interest rate implicit in the lease or, if not readily determinable, using the incremental borrowing rates.

The lease liability is subsequently remeasured by increasing the carrying amount to reflect interest on the lease liability, reducing the carrying amount to reflect the lease payments made. A lease liability is remeasured upon the occurrence of certain events such as a change in the lease term or a change in an index or rate used to determine lease payments. The remeasurement normally also adjusts the leased assets.

Lease liability and ROU asset have been separately presented in the Balance Sheet and lease payments have been classified as financing cash flows.

3.20 Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the Balance Sheet date.

Contingencies

Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

3.21 Recent accounting pronouncements

Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") notifies new standards or amendments to the existing standards under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules as issued from time to time. During the year ended March 31, 2025, MCA has notified Ind AS 117 - Insurance Contracts and amendments to Ind As 116 – Leases, relating to sale and lease back transactions, applicable from April 1, 2024 but do not have material impact on the financial statements of the Company.

On May 7, 2025, MCA notified the amendments to Ind AS 21 - Effects of Changes in Foreign Exchange Rates. These amendments aim to provide clearer guidance on assessing currency exchangeability and estimating exchange rates when currencies are not readily exchangeable. The amendments are effective for annual periods beginning on or after April 1, 2025 but do not have probable impact of these amendments on its financial statements.

2. Fair value of quoted financial instruments are derived from quoted market prices in active market.
3. Investment in Equity and Bonds are measured at amortized cost.

Fair value hierarchy

The Company uses the following hierarchy for determining and disclosing the fair value of financial instruments by valuation technique

1. Level 1 – Quoted prices in active markets / published NAV for financial instruments like mutual funds for which net assets value (NAV) is published by mutual fund operator at the balance sheet date.
2. Level 3 – Inputs for the assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).
3. Company has financial instruments that falls in the category of Level 1 and Level 3 hence categorization for Level 2 is not applicable.

The following table provides hierarchy of the fair value measurement of Company's financial instruments/assets, grouped into Level 1 (Quoted prices in active market) as described below:

36.6 Financial Risk Management

The Financial risk management is practices and procedures that a Company uses to optimize the amount of risk it handles with financial interest. The Risk management is done to identify how risks associated with the Company will be identified, analyzed, and managed. It outlines how risk management activities will be performed, recorded, and monitored by the Company. The basic objective of risk management plan is to implement an integrated risk management approach to ensure all significant areas of risks are identified, understood and effectively managed, to promote a shared vision of risk management and encourage discussion on risks at all levels of the organization to provide a clear understanding of risk/benefit trade-offs, to deploy appropriate risk management methodologies and tools for use in identifying, assessing, managing and reporting on risks.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss arising from counterparty failure to repay or service debt according to the contractual terms or obligations. Credit risk encompasses of both, the direct risk of default and the risk of deterioration of credit worthiness as well as concentration of risks. Credit risk is controlled by analyzing credit limits and credit worthiness of customers on a continuous basis to whom the credit has been granted after obtaining necessary approvals for credit. Financial instruments that are subject to concentrations of credit risk principally consist of trade receivables, loans, investments, derivative financial instruments, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits and other financial assets.

Inter-corporate deposits are primarily with financial institutions having high credit-rating assigned by credit-rating agencies and short-term loans to companies also with sound ratings. Bank deposits are held with different banks.

The other exposure to the credit risk at the reporting date is primarily from trade receivables. Trade receivables are typically unsecured. Credit risk has always been managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the credit worthiness of the customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business. Credit is normally extended to very limited number of domestic customers having dealings of over two decades with the company and huge conglomerates in the international market.

The Company's credit period generally ranges from 0-45 days. Counterparty credit limits are reviewed by the Company's Directors handling operations. The limits are set to minimize the concentration of risks and therefore mitigate financial loss through counterparty's potential failure to make payments or repay the deposits.

Commodity risk

The company is partly impacted by the price volatility of commodities towards contracts already entered into and delivery is pending. Company manufacture PP (Polypropylene) Fibre for which PP (Polypropylene) Resin is the key raw material for its manufacture. Due to significant volatility of the price of PP (Polypropylene) Resin, the company has developed and enacted risk management strategy of procuring the materials from domestic market as well as international market. Generally, the company has pending deliveries of up to one month. The company has also entered into MOU with the designated vendor for supply of materials to mitigate commodity price risk.

Market Risk

PP (Polypropylene) Fibre is used primarily in India for three applications - in the manufacture of Filter Fabrics used for almost all kinds of liquid filtration, in the manufacture of automotive and exhibition carpets and for the construction and geo-textile sector.

Due to its inherent properties, PP fibre is the primary requirement for the filtration application and is more or less irreplaceable by any other synthetic fibre. Additionally, as long as automotive vehicles will be produced and as long as marriages and exhibitions will take place, there will always be the requirement of carpets though their quantitative requirements will always fluctuate depending upon various market criterion. There is varied demand for PP Fibre in the construction and geo-textile sector. Depending upon technical requirements, PP Fibre is applied but wherever the specifications are not very stringent, some other synthetic fibres are also used.

The Company has experienced some pressure on profit margins due to increase in operational costs, market competition and other industry related factors given it is operating in a highly competitive industry with numerous organized and unorganized players both domestically and overseas. However, given the Company has a long-established brand, trust with customers in varied applications and its reputable excellent product quality and timely customer services; it shall utilize these strategies to enhance its position in the market. The Company is also focusing on diversifying its product-range into additional niche products and also simultaneously increase its customer base so as to not only introduce value-added products in its product-basket but reduce dependency from its current long standing customer base.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

The Company's exposure to the risk of changes in foreign exchange rates relates primarily to the trade receivables and derivative assets/liabilities. The risks primarily relate to fluctuations in US Dollar against the functional currencies of the Company.

(i) The foreign currency risk from financial assets and liabilities is as follows:

Particulars	(Rs. in Lakhs)
	US Dollars As at 31 st March, 2025	US Dollars As at 31 st March, 2024
Net Current Assets	382.09	86.02
Net Current Liabilities	(3.82)	-
Total (INR)	378.27	86.02

The company evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks.

The following table demonstrates the sensitivity to a reasonably possible change in US dollars exchange rates, with all other variables held constant. The impact on the Company's profit before tax is due to changes in the fair value of monetary assets and liabilities.

(ii) Foreign currency sensitivity:

A fluctuation in the exchange rates of 1% with other conditions remaining unchanged would have the following effect on company's profit or loss before taxes as at 31st March, 2025 and 31st March, 2024.

Change in USD Rate	(Rs. in Lakhs)
	Impact on Profit before Tax As at 31 st March, 2025	As at 31 st March, 2024
INR / USD – Increase by 1%	3.78	0.86
INR / USD – Decrease by 1%	(3.78)	(0.86)

The Company evaluates the impact of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by assessing its exposure to exchange rate risks.

Notes Forming Part of Financial Statements

The fluctuation in foreign currency exchange rates does not have significant potential adverse impact on the statement of profit and loss and other comprehensive income and equity, accordingly does not hedge foreign currency risks using derivative financial instruments.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is defined as the risk that the Company will not be able to settle or meet its obligations on time.

Notes Forming Part of Financial Statements

This plan typically exposes the Company to actuarial risks such as: Adverse salary growth, Investment risk, Liquidity risk, Market risk, Legislative risk.

Adverse Salary Growth Experience	Salary hikes that are higher than assumed will result into an increase in obligation at a rate that is higher than expected.
Variability in Mortality Rate	If Actual mortality rate are higher than assumed mortality rate then Gratuity benefit will be paid earlier than expected.
Variability in Withdrawal Rate	If actual withdrawal rates are higher than assumed withdrawal rate then Gratuity benefit will be paid earlier than expected.
Investment Risk	For funded plans that rely on insurers for managing the assets, the value of assets certified by the insurer may not be the fair value of instruments backing the liability. In such cases, the present value of the assets is independent of the future discount rate. This can result in wide fluctuations in the net liability or the funded status if there are significant changes in the discount rate during the inter valuation period.
Liquidity Risk	Employees with high salaries and long durations or those higher in hierarchy, accumulate significant level of benefits. If some of such employees resign/retire from the company there can be strain on the cash flows.
Market Risk	Market risk is a collective term for risks that are related to the changes and fluctuations of the financial markets. One actuarial assumption that has a material effect is the discount rate. The discount rate reflects the time value of money. An increase in discount rate leads to decrease in Defined Benefit Obligation of the plan benefits & vice versa. This assumption depends on the yields on the corporate/government bonds and hence the valuation of liability is exposed to fluctuations in the yields as at the valuation date.
Legislative Risk	Legislative risk is the risk of increase in the plan liabilities or reduction in the plan assets due to change in the legislation/regulation. The government may amend the Payment of Gratuity Act thus requiring the companies to pay higher benefits to the employees. This will directly affect the present value of the Defined Benefit Obligation and the same will have to be recognized immediately in the year when any such amendment is effective.
