ANNEXURE - III MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Industry Structure and Developments

Biaxially Oriented Polypropylene (BOPP) films are one of the highest growing segments in the global plastic films Industry. Because of its incredible properties, of being highly stable at a very wide range of temperatures and environment, it has become one of the Global Success stories in flexible plastic packaging. Further being highly Chemical resistant to fats/ oils particularly to vegetable origin, chemicals and many solvents has made it the first choice for the converters operating all over the world over and above other plastic substitutes available in the market. In India the demand for BOPP Films is increasing at a rate of 10-12% every year, and it is expected that it will continue to go on rising in the Coming years with the increase in per capita income and the growing preference for sophisticated and hygienic packaging.

Having regard to the immense opportunities for BOPP Films, your company diversified its activities in BOPP Films in 2010 and had put up an ultra modern plant with German technology with a capacity of 30000 tap in the state of Madhya Pradesh. During the financial year 2013-2014 the Company was not only able to retain its old customers but was also able to explore new Export markets. At present the Company is not only selling its goods products in the domestic market but also exporting to Nigeria, United Kingdom, United Arab Emirates, Bangladesh, Turkey, Oman, Tanzania, Nepal, Slovak Republic etc.

Opportunities and Threats

Growing income levels in India, coupled with rapid growth in the Retail Markets are bringing in a cultural shift. Indians who have always loved to eat freshly cooked foods are now moving towards all kinds of packaged foods such as biscuits, chips or snacks. This has enabled the flexible packaging industry to register a growth.

Moreover, lot of new application of BOPP Films, apart from conventional Tape/Textile and food packaging market, are emerging which will further improve the prospects of the industry.

Beside, the pricing advantage of BOPP Films over certain plastic films, will drive the market to shift to BOPP Films. The large converters have already started working in this direction. This will give further impetus to growth of flexible packaging and will translate into new business opportunities for the industry.

The Central Government to give boost to the Industry in it's Union Budget 2014-15, has reduced the excise duty on specified food processing and packaging machinery from 10 percent to 6 percent. This will enable the Industry to upgrade, modernize and increase their capacities so as to compete in the global markets.

In India through flexible packaging segment is growing but the per capita consumption is still very low as compared to the developed countries like US and European Union. The growth of the organized retail market coupled with entry of global retail players will give further boost to the flexible packaging industry. Though the BOPP Films industry continued to witness growth on account of favorable demographic and market factors but it is not immune from normal business threats and challenges. The industry continues to be plagued by the problems of over capacity on short horizon over supply as well as increase in raw material pricing. In spite of the above, your management assure you that continuous efforts will be made to meet the challenges ahead and make the BOPP Films project a successful venture. Your management expects that with the recovery in economies of the world, there will be continued strong demand for the BOPP Films which in turn will provide opportunities to the BOPP Films industry to grow at a much faster rate.

Future Outlook

The future outlook of the BOPP Films industry seems to be reasonably good as the growth driver of the yester years are still present in the Asian market especially India and China. This will give a further push to the demand for the BOPP Films. The phenomenal growth of retail segment coupled with economic growth of the country are expected to influence of flexible packaging industry favorably. Your company is looking at the future with optimism and shall be expanding its business activities into the new areas, in due course of time so that it can make use of available opportunities and emerge as fully integrated flexible packaging company.
