improvement in their revenue. We have also made significant progress in generating International Revenues.

Operational Highlights

- During this quarter also the company continued to do various high risk and rare surgeries by its expert medical team.
- A rare procedure - Triple Vessel Angioplasty was successfully performed on 17 year old boy Raghuveer Soni in February 2012. Dr. Sanjiv Agrawal, Senior consultant Interventional cardiologist at the hospital executed the technique by implanting five medicated stents in the blood vessels in order to treat the three cardiovascular blocks that were detected in the boy's heart.

For long time, the patient had been experiencing angina (chest pain) after minimal physical exertion such as walking and climbing stairs. Initially misconstrued as a gastric problem, further diagnosis of the persisting condition revealed high levels of serum cholesterol. While the results of the ECHO were normal, the Coronary Angiogram (CAG) indicated severe blocks in the three blood vessels of the heart.

It is highly unusual for a boy Raghuveer's age to suffer from multiple blocks. To treat his condition, our expert team performed a multivessel angioplasty with the implantation of 5 medicated stents in all three blood vessels...3 stents in the right coronary, 1 in the circumflex and 1 in the LAD. By undergoing this minimally invasive procedure, he was able to avoid a major surgery like Coronary Artery Bypass Graft(CABG), thereby minimizing discomfort. Multivessel Angioplasty is a procedure that is as safe and effective as bypass surgery with the additional benefit of a short recuperation period. As a result Raghuveer was able to resume school in one week.
