Enterprise Data Management: Embracing Digital Transformation and Harnessing Data's Power

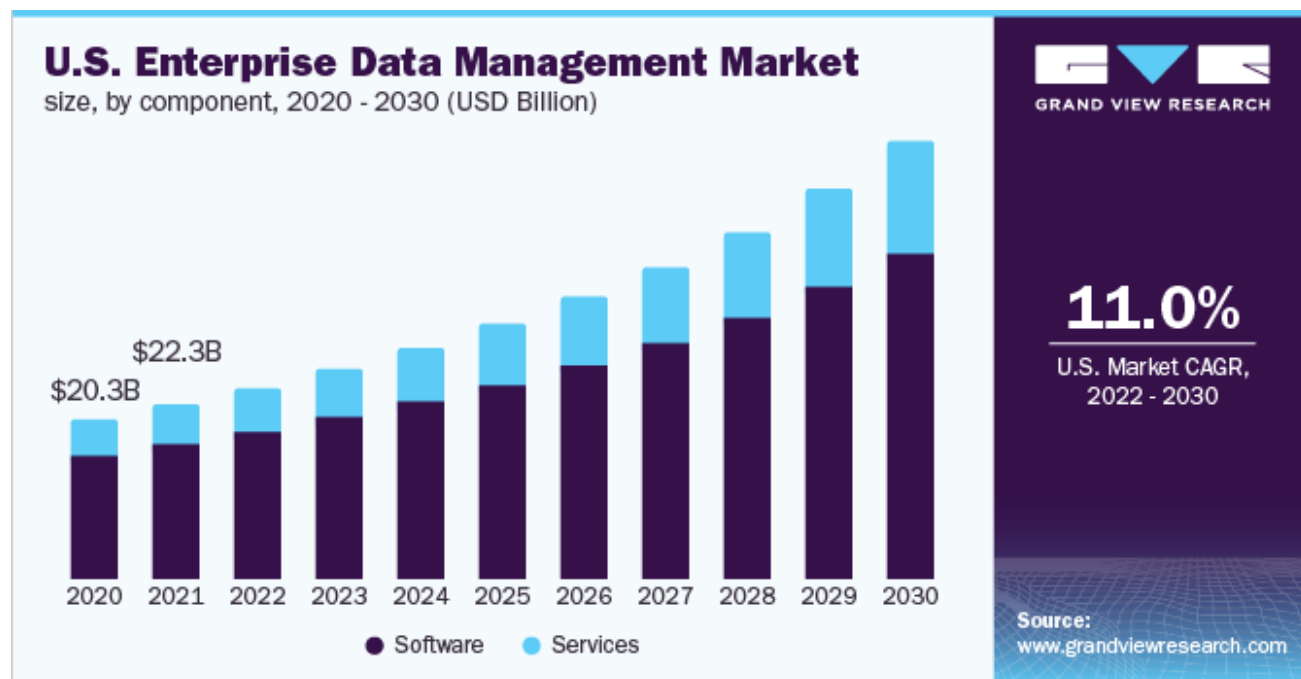

In the landscape of business evolution, digital transformation stands as the guiding light, with data serving as its very core. Business leaders are awakening to the potential of digital technology to not only supercharge performance but also disrupt entire markets. Those who embark on this journey early hold the key to substantial competitive edge, while those who lag behind face an uphill battle for survival. The corporate drive to leverage the vast reservoirs of data generated through digital transformation is now more fervent than ever, aiming to deliver unparalleled customer experiences, streamline operations, and fuel greater revenue streams.

On a global scale, enterprises are turning their attention towards comprehensive enterprise data management solutions to power their digital transformation endeavors. Amidst all the technological advancements, the primary objective of digital transformation remains constant: to cultivate a culture of data-driven decision-making. Enterprises ascend to a higher level of competitiveness by capturing pivotal business events through data. These events encompass intricate activities drawn from diverse sources such as the web, customer systems, ERP transactions, social media, IoT, streaming platforms, and even machine-generated data. Through the real-time collection and processing of event-driven data, managers attain a heightened situational awareness, empowering them to make astute decisions with precision.

According to the market report released by the U.S., the enterprise data management market's size is projected in terms of USD Billion for the years 2020 to 2030. The global market for enterprise data management achieved a valuation of USD 89.34 billion in 2022 and anticipates a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 12.1% from 2023 to 2030. The expansion of this industry is attributed to several key factors, including the increasing adoption of parallel processing architecture, heightened emphasis on risk management, the progressive transition from manual to automated business operations, the exponential surge in data volume, and the escalating concerns regarding security. In response to the global crisis, organizations across the globe have increasingly relied upon enterprise data management providers for a diverse array of services and solutions. This trend is poised to persist in the foreseeable future.

This sector extends significant advantages to businesses and enterprises by furnishing cohesive integration with consuming applications, meticulous data oversight, elevated levels of transparency, and adept support for ongoing regulatory frameworks and compliance measures. The surging demand for seamless data integration and advanced visual analytics has been instrumental in propelling the industry's growth trajectory.

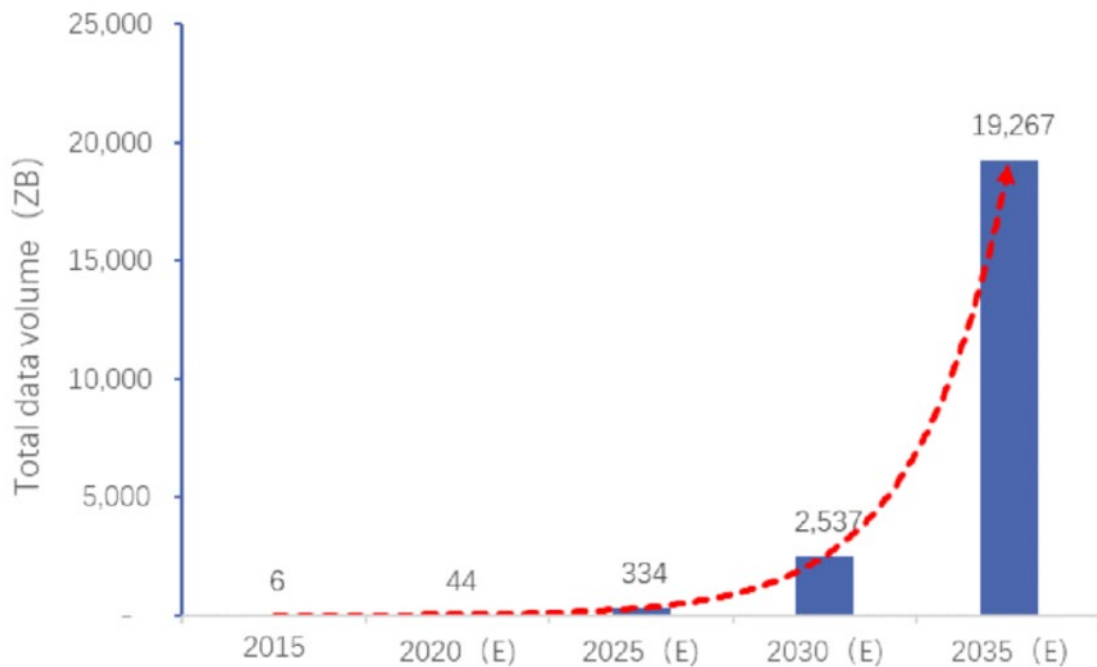

Through the facilitation of real-time analysis, the incorporation of Artificial Intelligence (AI) within cognitive media solutions, such as whiteboard videos and animations, empowers the instantaneous synthesis of data to enable efficacious decision-making. Furthermore, vendors are introducing AI-driven products aimed at bolstering the AI capabilities of analytics. Consequently, numerous enterprises are integrating business analytics software into their operational frameworks to achieve dynamic representations of data.

In the realm of IT, digital technology is orchestrating a profound shift from its traditional role of mere cost control to one of strategic empowerment and innovation. This transformation is elevating digitalization to the zenith of priorities for enterprise Chief Information Officers (CIOs). Leading the charge in the digital revolution, companies are witnessing their IT teams evolve into pivotal partners, enabling the realization of desired outcomes. It's pivotal to recognize that the crux of digital transformation lies less in the technologies themselves and more in the transformative effects they wield over processes, productivity, customer experiences, and the identification of competitive prospects.

Businesses are resolutely embracing digital technology with the overarching aim of instilling a data-driven ethos. Nevertheless, a contemporary approach is imperative to manage the escalating volume, diversity, and rapidity of the influx of new data, along with the substantial computational resources essential for its processing. The unchecked proliferation of data can swiftly shift the promise of digital transformation into a predicament, as the unparalleled growth of data is intrinsically linked to this ongoing revolution.

This data surge stems from the dynamic redefinition of enterprise data. While structured data residing in Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) and Customer Relationship Management (CRM) systems remains pivotal, the ascendancy of unstructured data is notable. In the contemporary landscape, a significant portion—approximately 80%—of “enterprise data” constitutes unstructured data, encompassing documents, text, CSV files, audio, video, online click streams, social media posts, and logs from Internet of Things (IoT) devices. Consequently, every organization today finds itself enveloped in a wealth of data, a promising harbinger for the success of their missions, as data lies at the nucleus of the digital revolution and stands as a cardinal ingredient in the triumph of digital transformation.

The World's Total Data Volume Source: IDC, compiled by the Chinese Institute of Electronics, quoted from Ten Major Trends of the Global Digital Economy, 2018.

However, the exponential surge in data volume poses challenges, potentially inundating organizations that lack preparedness. This scenario can culminate in escalated storage and maintenance costs, compromised application performance and availability, and intricacies in data access, privacy, and regulatory compliance. While data deletion might seem a solution for managing data growth, it often clashes with the demands of business operations, legal obligations, and compliance standards, which increasingly necessitate real-time access to comprehensive information over extended periods. Mismanagement of these demands can impede the success of Data Transformation initiatives.

Rising Trend of Embracing Cloud Solutions

The ongoing surge in the adoption of cloud-based solutions is playing a pivotal role in propelling overall industry growth. This trend spans across businesses of varying scales – from large corporations to medium and small enterprises – owing to the enticing combination of cost-effectiveness and on-demand scalability presented by cloud technology. Cloud deployments are swiftly emerging as the favored choice, attributed to their rapid deployment capabilities, seamless data access across diverse locations, adaptable storage expansion as per requirements, and considerably lower support and maintenance costs compared to traditional on-premise setups.

Enterprise Cash Flow Management

In the realm of business vitality, cash flow reigns supreme. In the present landscape, corporations are confronted with significant pressures to optimize the performance of their receivables. Often referred to as trade credit, receivables stand as the most economically sound means to expedite cash flow.

However, the challenge lies in the timely accessibility of information pertaining to receivables, especially when it is dispersed across various disconnected systems. The intricate web of disjointed manual processes further exacerbates the complexity, hindering finance executives from effectively assessing credit risk and the efficiency of collections.

The realm of efficient receivables management extends beyond mere transactional processes. It encompasses the judicious management of credit policies and the automation of credit-to-cash workflows. This, in turn, amplifies the efficiency of a company's cash conversion operations. By expediting revenue cycles and strategically minimizing credit constraints, the intrinsic value of the company is maximized, ushering in enhanced financial vigor.

Email Archiving is the process of archiving and making searchable all emails to/from the user. Email archiving solutions capture email content either directly from the email application itself or during transport. The messages are typically then stored on target and indexed for future searches. In addition to the email text itself, the email metadata, such as the sender, recipient, date, and attachments, are also captured.

This feature can locate the source from where the files need to be archived, filters the files as required to the requirement and then archives those files into the target. It also provides the flexibility to purge the files that has been archived. It also allows to archive the files or folders existing in the unitary file system (like Desktop).

SOLIX CDP (SCDP) archives and delete SAP data that is no longer required in SAP database onto CDP archive repository. SCDP triggers remote calls to SAP application, then SAP will generate ADK files for respective archive objects and deletes those archived data from SAP database. SCDP triggers remote calls once again to SAP application to generate CSV files for the respective ADK files and then move both ADK & CSV files to CDP NFS repository.

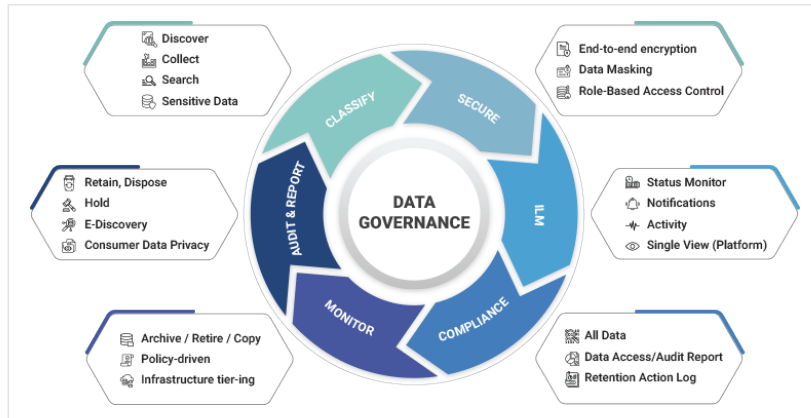

SAP Application Retirement

SAP Application Retirement is a process that allows to migrate the data from pooled table or cluster table that is stored in the SAP application. SAP is connected to the local /native database (i.e., Oracle) where it stores the data associated to the pool table and cluster table.

Data Security

Data Governance is a part of Data Security ensures the data security, and allows the user to configure the governance on the data by application of retention policies or hold the vital data or records while running retention. It allows to discover the sensitive data on database using PCI, PII and PHI standard rules.

Micro Services

The Solix Common Data Platform (CDP) is a uniform data collection system for structured and unstructured data featuring low-cost data storage and advanced analytics.

The Solix Common Data Platform (CDP) is developed using Micro services architecture. Micro services are an architectural approach that organizes many independently deployable or loosely coupled components in a single application. Each service performs a single function which is built for business capabilities. These services communicate through well-defined lightweight APIs and share the common database for performing the operation.

Each component service in a Micro service architecture behaves autonomously so that it can be developed, deployed, accessed, or operated individually without any dependencies on other services and without affecting other services in the application.

With a Micro services architecture, a code of each component in the application is implemented separately and integrated into the application to reduce the risk of complexity in handling many services. Because they are independently run, each service can be updated, deployed, and scaled to meet the demand for specific functions of an application.

DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS

Overview

Global Economic Outlook for 2025: Trends, Influences, and Risks

The World Economic Outlook (WEO) update by the International Monetary Fund (IMF) projects a continued deceleration in global economic growth. According to the IMF, the global economy is expected to expand by 3.0% in 2025 and slightly lower at 2.9% in 2026, down from 3.2% in 2024 (IMF, 2025). These figures reflect a sustained moderation in growth, remaining below the historical average of 3.7% observed over the past two decades.

Several structural and cyclical factors are contributing to this global slowdown:

Key Factors Influencing Global Growth

- Trade Policy Uncertainty: Rising protectionism and trade tensions are disrupting global supply chains and reducing cross-border investment, thereby dampening trade-driven growth (IMF, 2025).
- Geopolitical Risks: Ongoing conflicts and geopolitical instability, especially in key energy-producing and trade-relevant regions, continue to weigh heavily on investor confidence and economic activity.
- Inflation Dynamics: While inflation has moderated in several advanced economies, it remains elevated or resurgent in others, complicating monetary policy responses (IMF, 2025).
- Monetary Tightening: Higher interest rates and tightening financial conditions in both advanced and emerging markets are expected to constrain domestic demand and investment.

Risks to the Outlook

The global economic outlook remains fragile and is subject to several downside risks, including:

- Further escalation of trade tensions or the imposition of new trade barriers.
- Slower-than-anticipated recovery in major economies such as the United States, China, or the Eurozone.
- Intensification of existing geopolitical conflicts or emergence of new ones.
- Increased frequency and severity of climate-related natural disasters.
- Rising debt levels in developing and middle-income countries, raising concerns about sovereign defaults.
- Volatility in global financial markets, driven by shifts in investor sentiment or abrupt policy changes.

If these risks materialize, they could further hinder recovery efforts and extend the period of subdued global growth.

The financial statements have been prepared in compliance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2013, and Indian Accounting Standards (IND AS). The Management of TechNVision accepts responsibility for the integrity and objectivity of these financial statements, as well as for various estimates and judgments used therein.

The estimates and judgments relating to the financial statements have been made on a prudent and reasonable basis, in order that the financial statements reelect in a true and fair manner the form and substance of transactions, and reasonably present the Company's state of affairs and profits for the year. The following discussion may include forward looking statements which may involve risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to the risks inherent to Company's growth strategy, dependency on certain clients, dependency on availability of qualified technical personnel and other factors discussed in this report.

1. Industry Structure, Developments, and Outlook

As part of our transformation journey, we have realigned our sales, services, and engineering functions to streamline operations and accelerate innovation. This organizational shift supports a simplified operating model that enables faster execution and a sharper focus on three strategic pillars, now reinforced by the launch of Solix Enterprise AI:

1. Enterprise AI Cloud Transition

With the introduction of Solix Enterprise AI, we are enabling customers to transition legacy applications and data workloads to an AI-ready cloud infrastructure. This includes support for large-scale application retirement, AI-powered data discovery, and foundation model-ready data pipelines, empowering organizations to build intelligent systems on top of their enterprise data.

2. Big Data & Governance

We continue to lead with our expertise in data archiving, governance, and lifecycle management, now enhanced with AI capabilities for automated classification, policy enforcement, and data compliance. The Solix platform ensures organizations can govern massive volumes of structured and unstructured data while preparing it for analytics and AI workloads.

3. Enterprise Receivables Management – Digital Assistants

Our focus on digital transformation within finance operations is expanding with AI-powered digital assistants. These solutions streamline receivables processes, improve customer interactions, and deliver real-time insights for better cash flow forecasting, risk assessment, and automation of routine tasks.

We believe that focusing on these priorities will best position us to grow. For Cloud Infrastructure IDC predicts a 33.3% growth in 2025, reaching $271.5 billion

The Enterprise Artificial Intelligence (AI) market is poised for substantial expansion, with estimates suggesting it will reach USD 229.3 billion by 2030, growing at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 18.9% from 2025 to 2030, according to a recent report by Mordor Intelligence (source). Other analysts forecast even more aggressive growth, with some projections placing the market size at USD 473.03 billion by 2030, reflecting surging enterprise-level AI adoption.

Enterprise AI is becoming a foundational element of modern digital infrastructure. Businesses are increasingly investing in AI-ready platforms and architectures to gain competitive advantage, improve efficiency, and accelerate innovation. This momentum is driving increased demand for advanced compute, storage, and networking capabilities tailored specifically for AI workloads. Consequently, AI-related infrastructure spending is expected to rise sharply, supporting large-scale digital transformation across industries.

For 2025, IDC forecasts that global cloud infrastructure spending will reach $271.5 billion, marking a 33.3% increase compared to 2024. Conversely, non-cloud infrastructure spending is expected to decline by 4.9% to $68.1 billion.

A key driver of this surge is the growing demand for AI-driven GPU infrastructure, which alone is forecasted to grow by 46.8% year-over-year, reaching $157.8 billion in 2025. IDC notes that the shared cloud infrastructure segment will dominate this growth, with spending projected to hit $213.7 billion, an increase of 25.7% over the previous year. Additionally, dedicated cloud infrastructure is expected to grow sharply—71.8% year-over-year—reaching $57.8 billion.

This significant shift underscores a broader trend where shared cloud infrastructure spending is set to outpace all non-cloud infrastructure investments, driven by enterprises scaling up cloud-native workloads and AI infrastructure at unprecedented levels.

This growth is largely driven by the rising demand for AI and digital transformation initiatives, which are pushing enterprises to invest more in cloud technologies.

According to recent reports by IDC and DataCenter Dynamics, enterprises are undergoing a significant shift in infrastructure and digital strategy, placing greater emphasis on cloud, AI, and data governance to drive competitiveness and agility.

Non-Cloud Infrastructure: While the broader market is pivoting to cloud-first models, non-cloud infrastructure spending is still expected to grow modestly by 8.4% in 2025, reaching $64.8 billion. This slower pace of growth highlights the continuing shift away from legacy, on-premise systems toward more scalable, flexible cloud-based solutions (IDC).

Data Governance: As cloud adoption and AI integration expand, data governance has emerged as a critical priority. Enterprises are ramping up investments in compliance, data privacy, and risk management tools to meet evolving regulatory standards and protect sensitive information across hybrid environments. Governance frameworks are now essential to scaling digital operations responsibly.

Enterprise Receivables Management: Digital transformation in finance continues to gain momentum. Organizations are increasingly adopting AI-driven, automated receivables management solutions to enhance cash flow visibility, reduce manual processing errors, and improve collection efficiency. These intelligent systems are reshaping how enterprises manage and optimize working capital.

Digital Assistants: Advancements in AI and natural language processing are fueling the widespread adoption of digital assistants across enterprise functions. From customer service to internal operations, these tools are improving engagement, accelerating decision-making, and driving productivity gains. Their integration into core systems is expected to deepen in the years ahead.

The overall investment landscape underscores a clear enterprise focus on cloud infrastructure, AI-driven automation, and governance. With digital maturity becoming a competitive differentiator, organizations are prioritizing technologies that support agility, innovation, and compliance in an increasingly data-intensive economy.

2. Economy Overview:

According to the International Monetary Fund's (IMF) World Economic Outlook Update for 2025, the global economy will experience a slowdown, with growth projected to be modest and uneven.

Global growth is projected at 3.3 percent both in 2025 and 2026, below the historical (2000–19) average of 3.7 percent. The forecast for 2025 is broadly unchanged from that in the October 2024 World Economic Outlook (WEO), primarily on account of an upward revision in the United States offsetting downward revisions in other major economies. Global headline inflation is expected to decline to 4.2 percent in 2025 and to 3.5 percent in 2026, converging back to target earlier in advanced economies than in emerging market and developing economies.

Medium-term risks to the baseline are tilted to the downside, while the near-term outlook is characterized by divergent risks. Upside risks could lift already-robust growth in the United States in the short run, whereas risks in other countries are on the downside amid elevated policy uncertainty. Policy-generated disruptions to the ongoing disinflation process could interrupt the pivot to easing monetary policy, with implications for fiscal sustainability and financial stability.

Managing these risks requires a keen policy focus on balancing trade-offs between inflation and real activity, rebuilding buffers, and lifting medium-term growth prospects through stepped-up structural reforms as well as stronger multilateral rules and cooperation.

Real GDP growth for 2024 and projections for 2025 and 2026

%, year-on-year

Source: OECD Economic Outlook, June 2025.

Additionally, the OECD projects global GDP growth to slow from 3.3% in 2024 to 2.9% in both 2025 and 2026. This slowdown is expected to be most pronounced in the United States, Canada, Mexico, and China.

The OECD's latest Economic Outlook indicates that the global economy is facing headwinds, including trade barriers, tighter financial conditions, and increased policy uncertainty, which are expected to dampen growth. While some economies like the Euro area are expected to see a modest increase in growth, the overall global trend is one of moderation.

Global Per Capita Income Trends: 2025 Outlook

Based on the World Bank's Global Economic Prospects – June 2025 Update

The World Bank's 2025 Global Economic Prospects report offers critical insights into income trends across regions, underscoring the uneven pace of recovery and persistent structural challenges in many parts of the world.

Emerging and Developing Economies (EMDEs)

Per capita income in EMDEs is projected to grow by an average of 3% annually from 2025 to 2027, a notable improvement from pandemic lows, but still well below the pre-COVID average of around 3.8%. The report emphasizes that many developing countries are still grappling with the aftermath of the pandemic, high debt burdens, and inflation shocks. In fact, nearly 40% of low-income economies are projected to remain below their 2019 per capita income levels through 2025 (World Bank, 2025).

United States

The U.S. economy is forecasted to expand more slowly over the next two years, with real per capita income growth remaining modest due to elevated interest rates and lingering inflation pressures. The World Bank anticipates that these conditions will continue to restrain consumer spending and investment, dampening the overall growth outlook for the mid-2020s.

China

China's economic trajectory is also expected to soften, with per capita income growth slowing to around 4.5% annually through 2026. Structural challenges, including weak domestic demand, an aging population, and increasing trade restrictions, are contributing to this deceleration. Geopolitical tensions and a sluggish property market add further headwinds (World Bank, 2025).

Eurozone

The Eurozone is facing similar macroeconomic challenges. Per capita income growth across the region is forecasted to remain subdued, averaging under 2% over the medium term. Ongoing geopolitical uncertainty, particularly due to the war in Ukraine and tensions at Europe's eastern borders, combined with inflation and energy-related vulnerabilities, continue to cloud the outlook.

Asia (Excluding China)

South and Southeast Asia are projected to remain among the fastest-growing regions globally, although the pace of growth is expected to moderate compared to earlier post-pandemic years. Countries like India, Indonesia, and Vietnam are likely to continue showing resilience, supported by robust domestic demand and service exports.

Australia, New Zealand, and Oceania

The Oceania region is anticipated to see more stable income growth relative to other advanced economies. While global economic uncertainty and climate-related risks remain concerns, Australia and New Zealand benefit from strong fiscal frameworks and diversified trade relationships, which are expected to support moderate per capita income gains over the next two years.

As 2025 unfolds, global income disparities remain a significant concern. While some economies are regaining momentum, others, particularly fragile or conflict-affected states, continue to lag behind. A combination of sound policy, debt management, and investment in productivity-enhancing sectors will be crucial for narrowing the income gap in the coming years.

IT Industry Outlook:

Gartner projects worldwide IT spending to reach $5.61 trillion in 2025, a 9.8% increase from 2024. While overall spending is up, a significant portion will be absorbed by price increases in recurring spending, particularly due to inflation. Generative AI (GenAI) is a key driver of growth, especially in infrastructure and software, but its impact on functionality is still evolving.

Table 1. Worldwide IT Spending Forecast (Millions of U.S. Dollars)

	2024 Spending	2024 (%) Growth	2025 Spending	2025 (%) Growth
Data Center Systems	329,132	39.4	405,505	23.2
Devices	734,162	6.0	810,234	10.4

Deloitte’s 2025 Technology Outlook reveals how AI is becoming a central force in reshaping the tech landscape. From enhancing core IT functions to enabling the rise of agentic AI—intelligent software agents that perform tasks autonomously—enterprises are leveraging AI to boost efficiency and innovation. By the end of 2025, 25% of organizations using Generative AI are expected to deploy such agents. Meanwhile, the growing adoption of GenAI is transforming business processes, though it also raises concerns around data privacy, bias, and trust, which companies must navigate carefully.

In parallel, the tech industry faces an increasingly complex risk and sustainability environment. Cybersecurity, geopolitical tensions, and climate concerns are reshaping priorities, with firms adopting AI-driven threat detection and Zero Trust architectures. Hardware innovation is accelerating to meet AI demands, including advancements in semiconductors, IoT, robotics, and spatial computing.

Additionally, supply chain diversification and a push toward energy-efficient technologies signal a shift toward more resilient and responsible growth across the global tech ecosystem.

Our competitive advantages encompass the following:

The increased confidence exhibited by business leaders in their companies' performance and the enhanced optimism of consumers have propelled technology spending. Investment in technology remains a focal point for companies worldwide. Our interactions with global business leaders underscore the pivotal role of technology in making the most significant impact on their enterprises.

A growing acknowledgment that digital technologies will reshape business models, processes, introduce new products and services, facilitate access to untapped markets, broaden customer bases, and unearth entirely new opportunities is a prevalent theme cutting across diverse industries and markets.

Adoption of Generative AI in Enterprises

Gartner predicts a significant surge in generative AI adoption within enterprises. By 2026, Gartner says over 80% of enterprises are expected to be utilizing generative AI APIs, models, or deployed applications in production, a substantial increase from less than 5% in 2023.

Furthermore, Gartner anticipates that by 2028, 80% of GenAI business applications will be developed on existing data management platforms, streamlining development and reducing complexity

Cloud Transition

Gartner predicts that in 2025, global public cloud spending will reach $723 billion, a 21.5% increase from 2024. This growth is fueled by the increasing adoption of AI and more complex workloads, with cloud-native approaches like microservices, containers, and Kubernetes becoming the foundation for modern applications. By 2025, Gartner anticipates that over 95% of new digital workloads will be deployed on cloud-native platforms.

By 2025, over half of enterprise IT spending in major categories will shift to public cloud solutions, with application software seeing cloud-based spending rise to nearly 66%. Additionally, 90% of organizations are expected to adopt hybrid cloud models by 2027, supported by cross-cloud frameworks that enable distributed, multi-cloud, and hybrid deployments.

While Mordor Intelligence projects the global cloud computing market to reach USD 2.26 trillion by 2030, with a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 21.20%. This growth is fueled by factors such as the increasing adoption of AI-driven digital transformation strategies, the migration of core applications to SaaS platforms, and the expansion of sovereign cloud requirements, particularly in Europe and the Gulf region.

The rise of edge computing, with sub-10 millisecond latency zones, is also contributing to the market's expansion, supporting use cases like extended reality (XR) and autonomous operations.

Explosive SaaS Adoption in Core Enterprise Software

Enterprises are increasingly migrating mission-critical applications—like ERP, CRM, and finance systems—to the cloud, moving beyond just productivity workloads. SaaS platforms offer continuous updates and embedded compliance features, making them particularly valuable in regulated industries.

Organizations that delay migration risk falling behind in agility and innovation.

Proliferation of Gen-AI Workloads Demanding Elastic Compute

Generative AI is driving a massive need for elastic compute, with model training requiring thousands of high-performance GPUs. Data centers are being re-architected for AI, with liquid cooling, specialized silicon, and high-speed networking, to meet the power and performance demands of AI experimentation and deployment. Vendors that can ensure scalable, cost-effective capacity are becoming increasingly preferred.

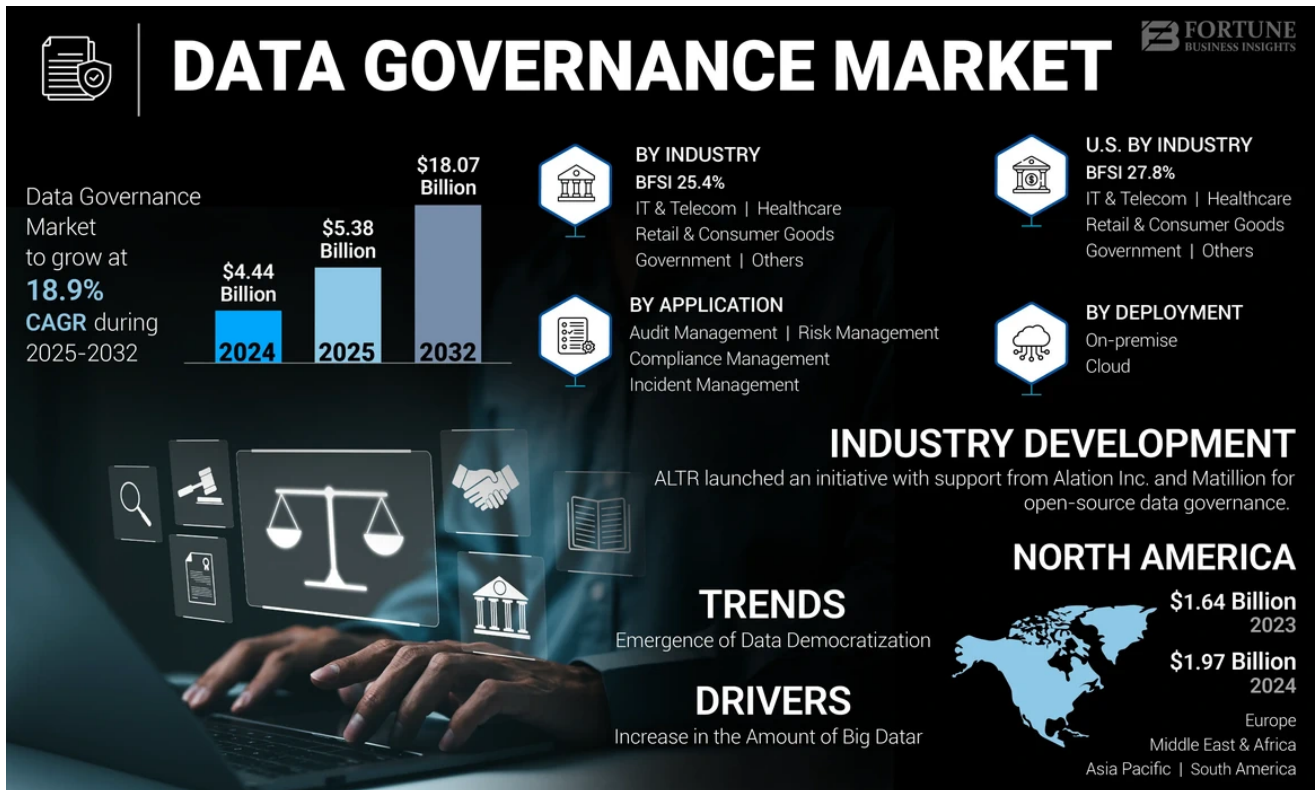

Industry-Specific Cloud Platforms (Compliance-Ready Blueprints)

Vertical cloud platforms are emerging as strategic enablers by combining cloud infrastructure with pre-built compliance and industry logic. Financial and public-sector versions incorporate tailored regulatory modules like fraud detection and FedRAMP. These industry-specific clouds reduce customization time, accelerate implementation, and create strong customer stickiness due to embedded best practices.

Data Governance Market

The global data governance market size was valued at USD 4.44 billion in 2024. The market is projected to grow from USD 5.38 billion in 2025 to USD 18.07 billion by 2032, exhibiting a CAGR of 18.9% during the forecast period. North America dominated the global market with a share of 44.37% in 2024.

Data governance encompasses a framework of policies, procedures, standards, and metrics that guide organizations in managing and utilizing data effectively to support business objectives. It ensures data accuracy, streamlines operational costs, enhances service delivery, and helps organizations adhere to legal, regulatory, and industry-specific requirements. When integrated with data cataloging tools, data governance enables enterprises to discover, manage, analyze, and share data efficiently, playing a vital role in advancing artificial intelligence (AI) initiatives. As a result, organizations globally are turning to data governance to improve operational efficiency, drive informed decision-making, lower production expenses, and gain insights into consumer behavior trends.

With the rapid pace of digital transformation, businesses are accumulating a vast array of data sources and assets. This surge in data complexity has led to increased adoption of data governance to ensure proper data management and accessibility across departments. At the same time, evolving regulatory landscapes are pushing organizations to establish robust governance practices to reduce compliance risks and stay ahead of emerging regulations. Within the banking, financial services, and insurance (BFSI) industry, data governance enhances operational efficiency, resolves internal data-related issues, and mitigates the risk of security breaches.

The rising demand for online banking and digital financial services has further propelled the need for strong data governance in BFSI. Similarly, in the healthcare sector, data governance supports the management of critical medical information, from treatments and payments to research and outcomes. It also plays a key role in reducing healthcare costs and boosting patient care quality. As hospitals and healthcare providers prioritize data accuracy and regulatory compliance, the global demand for comprehensive data governance solutions continues to grow.

Digital Financial Transformations

The pace of digital innovation in the financial sector continues to accelerate in 2025, with fintechs playing a pivotal role in redefining industry standards. Startups and tech-driven disruptors are pushing the boundaries of financial services, prompting established institutions to rethink traditional models. Digital transformation is now a boardroom priority as financial organizations seek to remain agile and competitive in an increasingly tech-first world.

Some institutions are inherently more equipped for this shift, while others must actively track emerging trends, upskill their teams, and modernize outdated systems. Staying ahead requires a proactive approach—adapting to evolving customer expectations, regulatory changes, and market dynamics with speed and precision.

The 2025 financial landscape is being reshaped by a new generation of technologies. Alongside embedded finance, open banking, and decentralized finance (DeFi), financial institutions are now embracing real-time payment infrastructure, AI-powered fraud detection, blockchain-based settlements, and tokenized assets. Generative AI is powering intelligent advisory services and automating complex financial modeling.

Meanwhile, ESG-aligned finance platforms and digital identity verification solutions are gaining traction as institutions prioritize transparency, sustainability, and secure user experiences. These advancements are not just enhancing operational efficiency, they're fundamentally transforming how finance is accessed, delivered, and trusted.

This includes risk assessment and mitigation at the Company level, business / functional unit level, relationship level and project level. Some of the key strategic risks the Company faces, their impact and corresponding risk mitigation actions undertaken by the Company are discussed in the table:

We are subject to Government and regulatory activity

That affects how we design and market our products. Regulatory actions may at times hinder our ability to provide the benefits of our software to consumers and businesses, thereby reducing the attractiveness of our products and the revenues that come from them. The outcome of such actions, or steps taken to avoid them, could adversely affect us in a variety of ways, including:

- We may have to choose between withdrawing products from certain geographies to avoid fines or designing and developing alternative versions of those products to comply with government rulings, which may entail a delay in a product release and removing functionality that customers want or on which developers rely.
- The rulings described above may be cited as a precedent in other competition law proceedings.

We face intense competition

The entry of large players will result in fierce competition and raising the bar for eligibility. This will impact the business of the Company.

In response to competition, we rely on the following to compete effectively:

- a successful service delivery model;
- a well-developed recruiting, training and retention model;
- a broad referral base;
- continuing investments in process improvement and knowledge capture;

Our business depends on our ability to attract and retain talented employees.

Our business is based on successfully attracting and retaining talented employees. The market for highly skilled workers and leaders in our industry is extremely competitive. Post-recession, the attrition rate in the IT industry has risen again and is one of the major challenges being faced by the industry. As the industry is on the path of recovery from the economic downturn, lateral hiring has reached its peak which in turn has resulted in widespread attrition.

If we are less successful in our recruiting efforts, or if we are unable to retain key employees, our ability to develop and deliver successful products and services may be adversely affected. Effective succession planning is also important to our long-term success. Failure to ensure effective transfer of knowledge and smooth transitions involving key employees could hinder our strategic planning and execution.

The Company is constantly exposed to the risk of exchange rate fluctuations.

With operations spanning world-wide and revenues earned in major currencies of the world, a majority of Company's expenses are incurred in Indian Rupees. This exposes the Company to a constant risk of foreign exchange fluctuation, adverse fluctuations of exchange rate poses a threat to the profitability of the business. Fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates can have a number of adverse effects on us. Changes in the value of the Indian Rupee against other major currencies will affect our revenues and thereby our profit margins as well.

Service Model Redundancy

Newer models which change the manner of consumption of IT services could result in demand compression / pricing pressure on the existing model.

The Company is continually scanning the market environment and communicating with clients to identify emerging market trends at a nascent stage and come out with innovative service delivery model.

Reputational Threat

Reputation is built continuously in a timely and quality delivery with integrity. Any damage to this reputation and image of TechN Vision could lead to decrease in market share.

The Company is focusing on quality and processes, and has developed efficient service models to mitigate this risk. Strict adherence to Company's Quality Management System, Code of Conduct and Corporate Governance framework have helped Company evolve as one of the best Company in the market.

Regulatory non-compliance

Many laws apply to TechN Vision and it's Group of Companies. Any failure to comply with any of the relevant regulations could result in financial penalties and reputational damage.

The company is assuming consultation of local managers as well as Auditors, Company Secretary, consultants, lawyers, specialists and experts for effective and efficient regulatory compliance. The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis; Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information; we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134 (5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, including other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) specified under section 133 of the Act read with the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these Standalone Ind AS financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial controls relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the Standalone Ind AS financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements, including the disclosures, and whether the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial statements of the Company and its joint operations to express an opinion on the standalone financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the standalone financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the standalone financial statements, which have been audited by the other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Standalone Ind AS Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the standalone Ind AS financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

ANNEXURE B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

The "Annexure-B" referred to in clause 2(f) of "Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements" Paragraph of the Independent Auditor's Report of even date to the members of M/s TechNvision Ventures Limited on the Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended March 31, 2025.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of TechNvision Ventures Limited , (the "Company") as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining Internal Financial Controls based on the Internal Control over Financial Reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ("ICAI"). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's Internal Financial Controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that:

- a. pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
- b. provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and
- c. Provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate Internal Financial Controls system over Financial Reporting and such Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the Internal Control over Financial Reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies2.1 Basis for preparation of Financial Statements

The Company presents its Balance Sheet in order of liquidity.

The Company prepares and present its Balance Sheet and the Statement of Changes in Equity in the format prescribed by Division III of Schedule III to the Act as amended from time to time.

The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 'Statement of Cash Flows' as amended from time to time.

The Company generally reports financial assets and financial liabilities on a gross basis in the Balance Sheet. They are offset and reported net only when Ind AS specifically permits the same or it has unconditional legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts without being contingent on a future event. Similarly, the Company offsets incomes and expenses and reports the same on a net basis when permitted by Ind AS specifically unless they are material in nature.

2.2 Current and Non-Current Classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the Balance Sheet based on Current/ Non-Current classification.

An asset is treated as Current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or notes to the Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended 31 March, 2025.
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading; - It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.
- The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.
- Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

2.3 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. Freehold land is not depreciated. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items and borrowing cost. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with them will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All repairs and maintenance expenditure are charged to profit and loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is provided in accordance with Schedule II prescribed under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013 on the basis of useful life of the respective assets. Depreciation on additions/deletions during the year is being provided for, on a prorata basis with reference to the month in which such asset is added or deleted, as the case may be. When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. Useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate. Intangible Assets are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses, if any.

2.4 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Assets that are subject to depreciation and amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Value-in-use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of the money and risk specific to the asset or CGU.

2.5 Cash and Cash Equivalents

In the Financial Statements, cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, cash at banks and fixed deposits with banks.

2.6 Financial Instruments:

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

A. Financial Assets

Financial assets include cash, or an equity instrument of another entity, or a contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset from another entity. Few examples of financial assets are loan receivables, investment in equity and debt instruments, trade receivables and cash and cash equivalents.

I. Initial Recognition and Measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value including transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of financial assets except in case of financial assets recorded at FVTPL where the transaction costs are charged to profit or loss. Generally, the transaction price is treated as fair value unless proved to the contrary.

II. Subsequent Measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in three categories:

a. Debt instruments at amortized cost:

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- i. The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows and
- ii. Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method, less impairment. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The category applies to the Company's trade receivables, unbilled revenue, other bank balances, security deposits etc.

b. Debt instrument at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

A 'debt instrument' is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- i. The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- ii. The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses and reversals in the statement of Profit and Loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from the equity to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

c. Debt instrument at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL):

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as FVTPL.

In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is allowed only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as 'accounting mismatch').

Debt instrument included within FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

III. Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- a. the contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- b. The Company has transferred its contractual rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement in the asset. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

IV. Expected credit loss

In accordance with Ind AS 109, Expected credit losses are assessed based on an evaluation of the collectability of receivables. A considerable amount of judgment is required in assessing the ultimate realization of these receivables, including their current creditworthiness, past collection history of each customer and ongoing dealings with them. If the financial conditions of the counterparties with which the Company contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional expected credit loss may be required.

V. Trade Receivables

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The expected credit losses over life time of the asset are estimated by adopting the simplified approach using a provision matrix which is based on historical loss rates reflecting current condition and forecasts of future economic conditions. In this approach assets are grouped on the basis of similar credit characteristics such as industry, customer segment, past due status and other factors which are relevant to estimate the expected cash loss from these assets.

VI. Other financial assets

Other financial assets are tested for impairment based on significant change in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment is measured based on probability of default over the life time when there is significant increase in credit risk.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Company combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

B. Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities include liabilities that represent a contractual obligation to deliver cash or another financial assets to another entity, or a contract that may or will be settled in the entities own equity instruments. Few examples of financial liabilities are Trade payables, debt securities and other borrowings.

I. Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition as financial liabilities at FVTPL, or other financial liabilities.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings.

II. Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

a. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss:

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognized in OCI. These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to statement of profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

b. Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit and loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

III. Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Statement of profit and loss.

IV. Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

V. Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above. This note summarizes accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

2.7 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are also included as part of the cost of such assets to the extent they relate to the period till such assets are ready to be put to use. All other borrowing costs are recognized as expense in the year which they are incurred and charged to statement of Profit and Loss.

2.8 Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation

i. Initial recognition

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

ii. Conversion

Foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing rate.

iii. Exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on reporting of monetary items rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year, or reported in previous financial statements, are recognized as income/expenses or capitalized if they relate to acquisition of Tangible assets till the date of capitalization in the year in which they arise.

iv. Forward exchange Contract

The premium of the forward exchange rate contract is amortized as an expense over the life of the forward exchange contract.

2.9 Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment.

2.10 Taxes on income

i. Current tax

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with The Income Tax Act, 1961 of India.

ii. Deferred tax

Deferred tax charge or credit reflects the tax effect of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the period. The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognized using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is a virtual certainty of realization of such assets.

Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably / virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

2.11 Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as other finance expense.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

2.12 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit / (loss) for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.13 Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operative leases. The company's significant leasing arrangements are in respect of operating leases of office premises. The leasing arrangements are for a period of 11 months generally and are either renewable or cancelable by mutual consent and on agreed terms. Payments made under operating leases are charged in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.14 Segment Reporting

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for the Company. Revenue and expenses have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

The management assessed that cash and cash equivalents, other bank balances, trade receivables, security deposits received, receivable from related parties, inter corporate loan from related party, trade payables and security deposits paid approximate their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments.

The management assessed that the fair value of the borrowings are not materially different from the carrying value presented. The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date.

c. Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks; market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall risk management programme focuses to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance. The financial instruments of the Company comprise borrowings from banks/other lenders, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits, trade receivables and other assets, trade payables and other financial liabilities and payables.

I. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair values of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of volatility of prices in the financial markets. Market risk can be further segregated into Interest rate risk and Foreign exchange risk:

i. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has no significant interest-bearing assets other than investment in bank deposits. The Company's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. As the Company's borrowing carries fixed rate of interest and these debts are carried at amortized cost, there is no interest rate risk to the Company.

ii. Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates.

II. Credit risk

Company's revenue is derived from sales to its off-shore subsidiaries, hence there is no potential risk of default. The company maintains banking relationships with only credit worthy banks, which it reviews on an ongoing basis. The maximum exposure to credit risk for bank deposits and bank balances at the reporting date is the fair value of the amount disclosed. Trade receivables that are due for more than 180 days are considered past due. These receivables have been considered as fully recoverable based on the evaluation of terms implicit in the contracts with customers and other pertinent factors. The ageing analysis of trade receivables as at the reporting date is as follows:

(Amount in ₹ Lakhs)

PARTICULARS	31 MARCH, 2025	31 MARCH, 2024
Not due	-	-
1 to 6 months	17.67	200.62
6 to 12 months	-	-
Beyond 12 months	-	-
Total	17.67	200.62

The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying value of each class of receivable mentioned above. The Company does not hold any collateral as security.

III. Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents and maintaining adequate credit facilities. The Company believes that the net cash flows expected to be generated from the operations shall be sufficient to meet the operating and finance costs.

The table below summarizes the maturity profile of the Company's financial liabilities.

AUDITORS' REPORT - CONSOLIDATED

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Members of TECHNVISION VENTURES LIMITED

Report on the Audit of the Consolidated Financial StatementsOpinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of TechNvision Ventures Limited (hereinafter referred to as the 'Holding Company') and its subsidiaries, (Holding Company and its subsidiary together referred to as "the Group"), which comprise the consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2025, and the consolidated statement of Profit and Loss, and the consolidated cash flows Statement for the year then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (hereinafter referred to as "the consolidated financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid consolidated financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013 in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the consolidated state of affairs of the Group, as at March 31, 2025, of consolidated profit, and its consolidated cash flows for the year then ended on that date.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013. Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group, its associates and jointly controlled entities in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in India in terms of the Code of Ethics issued by ICAI and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion on the Consolidated IND AS Financial Statements.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Information Other than the Consolidated Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation of the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained during the course of our audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in term of the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows of the Group including its associates and jointly controlled entities in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and jointly controlled entities are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and jointly controlled entities are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group and of its associates and jointly controlled entities to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates and jointly controlled entities are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group and of its associates and jointly controlled entities.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated IND AS Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated IND AS financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion.

Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated IND AS financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- a. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- b. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Companies Act, 2013, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- c. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- d. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group and its associates and jointly controlled entities to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group and its associates and jointly controlled entities to cease to continue as a going concern.
- e. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- f. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group and its associates and jointly controlled entities to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.
- g. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial statements of the Company and its joint operations to express an opinion on the standalone financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the standalone financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the standalone financial statements, which have been audited by the other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the Consolidated Ind AS Financial Statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the Consolidated Ind AS Financial Statements may be influenced.

We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the Consolidated Ind AS Financial Statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and such other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication

Other Matters

We did not audit the financial statements / financial information of subsidiaries or associates, whose financial statements / financial information reflect total assets of Rs. 159.56 Crores as at March 31, 2025, total revenues of Rs. 336.50 Crores and net cash flows amounting to Rs. 8.79 Crores for the year ended on that date, as considered in the consolidated financial statements. According to the information and explanations given to us and based on our examination of the records of the Company, there are no qualifications or adverse remarks in the Companies (Auditors Report) Order (CARO) report of the Holding Company included in the Consolidated Financial Statements. ANNEXURE -B TO THE INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT (Referred to in paragraph (f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report to the Members of TechNVision Ventures Limited, of even date, on the Consolidated Financial Statements)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of TECHNVISION VENTURES LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2025 in conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India. These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Company based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk.

The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting of the Company.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

In our opinion, to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2025, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

1.1 Principals of Consolidation

The Consolidated Financial Statements relate to TechN Vision Ventures Limited and its subsidiary companies. The Consolidated Financial Statements have been prepared on the following basis:

- a. The Consolidated Financial Statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies are combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after fully eliminating intra-group balances and intra-group transactions in accordance with IND AS 101- "Consolidated Financial Statements".
- b. In case of foreign subsidiaries, being non-integral foreign operations, revenue items are consolidated at the average rate prevailing during the year. All assets and liabilities are converted at rates prevailing at the end of the year. Any exchange difference arising on consolidation is recognized in the exchange fluctuation reserve.
- c. The difference between the cost of investment in the subsidiaries, over the net assets at the time of acquisition of shares in the subsidiaries is recognized in the financial statements as Goodwill or Capital Reserve as the case may be.
- d. As far as possible, the consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and are presented in the same manner as the Company's separate financial statements.

1.2 Compliance with Indian Accounting Standards

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (IND AS) as notified under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standard) Rules 2015. The company has uniformly applied all the applicable Accounting policies during the periods presented.

1.3 Overall Considerations

The financial statements have been prepared using significant accounting policies that are in effect as at March 31, 2025 as discussed in Significant Accounting Policies and other disclosures.

1.4 Reporting Currency

The Financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees which is also the functional and presentation currency of the company and all amounts are rounded off to nearest Lakhs.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

2.1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Company presents its Balance Sheet in order of liquidity.

The Company prepares and present its Balance Sheet and the Statement of Changes in Equity in the format prescribed by Division III of Schedule III to the Act as amended from time to time. The Statement of Cash Flows has been prepared and presented as per the requirements of Ind AS 7 'Statement of Cash Flows' as amended from time to time.

The Company generally reports financial assets and financial liabilities on a gross basis in the Balance Sheet. They are offset and reported net only when Ind AS specifically permits the same or it has unconditional legally enforceable right to offset the recognized amounts without being contingent on a future event. Similarly, the Company offsets incomes and expenses and reports the same on a net basis when permitted by Ind AS specifically unless they are material in nature.

2.2 Current and Non-Current Classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the Balance Sheet based on Current/ Non-Current classification.

An asset is treated as Current when it is:

- Expected to be realised or intended to be sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realised within twelve months after the reporting period, or Notes to the Standalone Financial Statements for the year ended 31st March, 2025.
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading; - It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period, or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.
- The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.
- Deferred tax assets and liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

2.3 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is stated at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any impairment in value. Freehold land is not depreciated. Historical cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the items and borrowing cost. Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with them will flow to the Company and the cost of the item can be measured reliably. All repairs and maintenance expenditure are charged to profit and loss during the period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation is provided in accordance with Schedule II prescribed under Section 133 of Companies Act, 2013 on the basis of useful life of the respective assets. Depreciation on additions/deletions during the year is being provided for, on a prorata basis with reference to the month in which such asset is added or deleted, as the case may be. When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment. Useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate.

Intangible Assets are stated at acquisition cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses, if any.

2.4 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Assets that are subject to depreciation and amortization are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount may not be recoverable. An impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the asset's carrying amount exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use. For the purposes of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units). Value-in-use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessment of the time value of the money and risk specific to the asset or CGU.

2.5 Cash and Cash Equivalents

In the Financial Statements, cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, cash at banks and fixed deposits with banks.

2.6 Financial Instruments:

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

A. Financial Assets

Financial assets include cash, or an equity instrument of another entity, or a contractual right to receive cash or another financial asset from another entity. Few examples of financial assets are loan receivables, investment in equity and debt instruments, trade receivables and cash and cash equivalents.

I. Initial Recognition and Measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value including transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of financial assets except in case of financial assets recorded at FVTPL where the transaction costs are charged to profit or loss. Generally, the transaction price is treated as fair value unless proved to the contrary.

II. Subsequent Measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in three categories:

a. Debt instruments at amortized cost:

A 'debt instrument' is measured at the amortized cost if both the following conditions are met:

- i. The asset is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets for collecting contractual cash flows and
- ii. Contractual terms of the asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest (SPPI) on the principal amount outstanding.

After initial measurement, such financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate (EIR) method, less impairment. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included in finance income in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The category applies to the Company's trade receivables, unbilled revenue, other bank balances, security deposits etc.

b. Debt instrument at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVTOCI):

A 'debt instrument' is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- i. The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- ii. The asset's contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the other comprehensive income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses and reversals in the statement of Profit and Loss. On derecognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in OCI is reclassified from the equity to Statement of Profit and Loss.

Interest earned whilst holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

c. Debt instrument at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL):

FVTPL is a residual category for debt instruments. Any debt instrument, which does not meet the criteria for categorization as at amortized cost or as FVTOCI, is classified as FVTPL. In addition, the Company may elect to designate a debt instrument, which otherwise meets amortized cost or FVTOCI criteria, as at FVTPL. However, such election is allowed only if doing so reduces or eliminates a measurement or recognition inconsistency (referred to as 'accounting mismatch').

Debt instrument included within FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

III. Derecognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- a. the contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- b. The Company has transferred its contractual rights to receive cash flows from the financial asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a pass-through arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the Company continues to recognize the asset to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement in the asset. In that case, the Company also recognizes an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

IV. Expected credit loss

In accordance with Ind AS 109, Expected credit losses are assessed based on an evaluation of the collectability of receivables. A considerable amount of judgment is required in assessing the ultimate realization of these receivables, including their current creditworthiness, past collection history of each customer and ongoing dealings with them. If the financial conditions of the counterparties with which the Company contracted were to deteriorate, resulting in an impairment of their ability to make payments, additional expected credit loss may be required.

V. Trade Receivables

An impairment analysis is performed at each reporting date. The expected credit losses over life time of the asset are estimated by adopting the simplified approach using a provision matrix which is based on historical loss rates reflecting current condition and forecasts of future economic conditions. In this approach assets are grouped on the basis of similar credit characteristics such as industry, customer segment, past due status and other factors which are relevant to estimate the expected cash loss from these assets.

VI. Other financial assets

Other financial assets are tested for impairment based on significant change in credit risk since initial recognition and impairment is measured based on probability of default over the life time when there is significant increase in credit risk.

For assessing increase in credit risk and impairment loss, the Company combines financial instruments on the basis of shared credit risk characteristics with the objective of facilitating an analysis that is designed to enable significant increases in credit risk to be identified on a timely basis.

B. Financial Liabilities

Financial liabilities include liabilities that represent a contractual obligation to deliver cash or another financial assets to another entity, or a contract that may or will be settled in the entities own equity instruments. Few examples of financial liabilities are Trade payables, debt securities and other borrowings.

I. Initial Recognition and Measurement

Financial liabilities are classified, at initial recognition as financial liabilities at FVTPL, or other financial liabilities.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company's financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings.

II. Subsequent measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

a. Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss:

Financial liabilities designated upon initial recognition at fair value through profit or loss are designated as such at the initial date of recognition, and only if the criteria in Ind AS 109 are satisfied. For liabilities designated as FVTPL, fair value gains/ losses attributable to changes in own credit risk are recognized in OCI. These gains/ loss are not subsequently transferred to statement of profit and loss. However, the Company may transfer the cumulative gain or loss within equity. All other changes in fair value of such liability are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

b. Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in profit and loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

III. Derecognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the derecognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the Statement of profit and loss.

IV. Offsetting of Financial Instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

V. Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the Company.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

- Level 1 — Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities
- Level 2 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable
- Level 3 — Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above. This note summarizes accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

2.7 Borrowing costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use are also included as part of the cost of such assets to the extent they relate to the period till such assets are ready to be put to use. All other borrowing costs are recognized as expense in the year which they are incurred and charged to statement of Profit and Loss.

2.8 Foreign Currency Transactions and Translation

i. Initial recognition

Foreign currency transactions are recorded in the reporting currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

ii. Conversion

Foreign currency monetary items are reported using the closing rate.

iii. Exchange differences

Exchange differences arising on the settlement of monetary items or on reporting of monetary items rates different from those at which they were initially recorded during the year, or reported in previous financial statements, are recognized as income/expenses or capitalized if they relate to acquisition of Tangible assets till the date of capitalization in the year in which they arise.

iv. Forward exchange Contract

The premium of the forward exchange rate contract is amortized as an expense over the life of the forward exchange contract.

2.9 Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognized to the extent it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is being made. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment.

2.10 Taxes on income

i. Current tax

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with The Income Tax Act, 1961 of India.

ii. Deferred tax

Deferred tax charge or credit reflects the tax effect of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the period.

The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognized using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is a virtual certainty of realization of such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably / virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

2.11 Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognized when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. The expense relating to any provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. Where discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognized as other finance expense.

A contingent liability is a possible obligation that arises from past events whose existence will be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events beyond the control of the Company or a present obligation that is not recognized because it is not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation. A contingent liability also arises in extremely rare cases where there is a liability that cannot be recognized because it cannot be measured reliably. The Company does not recognize a contingent liability but discloses its existence in the financial statements.

2.12 Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share are calculated by dividing the net profit / (loss) for the year attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period are adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.13 Leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operative leases. The company's significant leasing arrangements are in respect of operating leases of office premises. The leasing arrangements are for a period of 11 months generally and are either renewable or cancelable by mutual consent and on agreed terms. Payments made under operating leases are charged in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.14 Segment Reporting

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for the Company. Revenue and expenses have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities is included at the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at measurement date.

c. Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks; market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk. The Company's overall risk management programme focuses to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance. The financial instruments of the Company comprise borrowings from banks/other lenders, cash and cash equivalents, bank deposits, trade receivables and other assets, trade payables and other financial liabilities and payables.

I. Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair values of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of volatility of prices in the financial markets. Market risk can be further segregated into Interest rate risk and Foreign exchange risk:

i. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company has no significant interest-bearing assets other than investment in bank deposits.

The Company's income and operating cash flows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. As the Company's borrowing carries fixed rate of interest and these debts are carried at amortized cost, there is no interest rate risk to the Company.

ii. Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates .

II. Credit risk

The company maintains banking relationships with only credit worthy banks, which it reviews on an ongoing basis. The maximum exposure to credit risk for bank deposits and bank balances at the reporting date is the fair value of the amount disclosed.

Trade receivables that are due for more than 180 days considered past due. These receivables have been considered as fully recoverable based on the evaluation of terms implicit in the contracts with customers and other pertinent factors. The ageing analysis of trade receivables as at the reporting date is as follows:

(Amount in ₹ Lakhs)

PARTICULARS	31 MARCH, 2025	31 MARCH, 2024

Beyond 12 months	486.45	622.41
Total	3825.56	4647.85

The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying value of each class of receivable mentioned above. The Company does not hold any collateral as security.

III. Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient cash and cash equivalents and maintaining adequate credit facilities.

The Company believes that the net cash flows expected to be generated from the operations shall be sufficient to meet the operating and finance costs.
