In 2012-13, the global economy was affected by weak consumer sentiment, demand sluggishness, high interest rates and a weak capital market.

Even as the environment was challenging, the time was just right for an attitudinal change by progressive companies. A new responsiveness. A need for fresh ideas to be implemented into action.

At Solar, we delivered an improved performance that can be ascribed to three simple words.

OUR BUSINESS MODEL

Solar Industries is the largest industrial explosives manufacturer in India and one of the fastest growing companies in this sector. Over the years, the Company leveraged its competitive advantage - high quality, entire product range, efficient manufacturing, large capacity and integration – to emerge as the largest sectoral exporter from India. The Company is now extending from its longstanding explosives segment presence to the manufacturing of products used in the Defence industry.

Locational approach

Solar has selected locations on the basis of the nature of the product manufactured. For instance, to facilitate bulk deliveries, the Company constructed its bulk explosives plants near mines across the country and its cartridge and initiating system plant in a centralised location. The proximity to mines enhanced closeness to large institutional customers, making it possible to service customers with prompt delivery and shorter delivery lead times. The Company operated plants across 17 domestic manufacturing locations in 2012-13.

Integration

Solar has progressively invested in backward integration. The interdependence of multiple products has translated into a cost advantage and the ability to deliver multiple products based on their respective trends.

Dispersed

Solar is a global Company of Indian origin. The Company recognised that sustainable growth would best be derived from an expanding global footprint that would make it possible to de-risk from revenues being concentrated in a specific geography. In view of this, the Company established itself in countries having end product requirements similar to India. The Company's manufacturing facilities are present in 3 other countries and export its products to 20 countries.

Credibility

Solar is a responsible corporate citizen. Being in a business marked by the use of hazardous processes and materials, the Company has invested extensively in safety processes across 17 manufacturing locations.

The Company obtained credible certifications (ISO 9001:2000, ISO 14001:2004, OHSAS 18001:2007 and CE certification) that helped benchmark processes and standards with the best in the world. The Company is also a member of SAFEX, an apex body reporting and promoting best practices on safety standards in the global explosives industry.

Adjacent expansion

Solar recognises that growth can come from a linear increase in installed capacity across existing products and a lateral capacity increase through the manufacture of adjacent products. The Company is planning to foray into the manufacture of products used in the Defence sector, leveraging existing competencies.

In the face of a lacklustre business environment, your Company posted healthy growth, reflecting the strength and resilience of its business model.

Dear Shareholders

It gives me pleasure to communicate to you at a time when your Company delivered a commendable performance in a challenging external environment.

When the Indian economy reported its slowest GDP growth in a decade, your Company reported a 17.79% growth in its topline and 14.91% growth in its bottomline over 2011-12.

This typically contrarian performance vindicates the effectiveness of our business model, showcasing our ability to grow even in the most challenging business cycles.

In accordance with the Board's policy of progressive dividends, a final dividend of Rs.6 per share was declared. This brings the full year dividend to 110% i.e Rs.11 per share.

At Solar, we are excited to remain India's largest manufacturer and exporter of explosives and initiating systems and possess the confidence in the strategies we are executing in each operating segment in order to maintain our leadership position. Our strength is reflected in that we employ more than 2500 people, with operations in over three countries and customers in more than 20 countries.

Whilst India is our largest single and most important market, many opportunities for growth are located elsewhere.

17.79%

growth in the Company's topline in 2012-13

Solar's capacity to service these growth markets represents a unique opportunity for the Company. Talking of our overseas subsidiaries, I am happy to inform you that the manufacturing of ANFO in Turkey commenced from 20th June 2013 and the construction of our cartridge and detonators plant is underway. Our operations are running smoothly in our Nigerian and Zambian subsidiaries. However, in our Zambian subsidiary, sales were hit due to a drop in Copper prices that impacted the mining activities of our biggest customer. This trend is expected to continue till the first half of FY14. In order to improve our product offering, we are setting up cartridge manufacturing and detonator assembly plants, which are expected to commence in the first half of FY14.

The year 2013 seems to be difficult, as we can not do much about the economy. The global economy is going through an upheaval and there are uncertainties ahead. The global economic recession and crisis have, quite expectedly, impacted India as well. But it is a moot point whether the Indian economy is affected more by the global economic ups and downs or by India's own problems at the economical and political levels.

Another major concern is the depreciating rupee. Since the start of this financial year, the rupee has depreciated 9.89% against the dollar in just the last three months, emerging as the worst performer among major Asian currencies.

The weakening of the rupee against the dollar has also caused a rise in the prices of raw material used in making our finished goods.

The Company was a net importer till date and according to its forex policy, the Company covered the excess of imports over exports. However, due to sudden unpredictable rupee movements, the Company's profitability was impacted. To counter the currency fluctuation, we have been increasing the domestic purchase of raw materials without compromising quality and are focused on widening our global presence, creating a natural hedge.

Despite the immediate challenges, we are confident about our medium-term prospects, due to the following realities:

Regulatory: The Chief Controller of Explosives had issued a circular under instructions from Ministry of Home Affairs, GOI that w.e.f 30.04.2013 all dispatches of explosives would need to be accompanied by police escort and to be coordinated by the respective district police administration. Following the inability of various district authorities to provide armed escort, the governmental regulation was modified and replaced with a requirement that the government only be intimated of any movement of explosives. In 2012, another Government notification amended the Explosives Act, 1884, categorising Ammonium Nitrate as an explosive. These amendments will progressively obliterate the ~Rs 300 cr unorganised explosives space and the consequent vacuum is expected to create opportunities for organised players.

Mining sector: Mining represents the bedrock of India's industrial growth, enabling India to emerge as an industrial power-house. It would be interesting to note that despite being rich in mineral resources (India features among the top five globally (in terms of reserves) for a number of commodities, the country's mining sector contributes only 1.2% to the country's GDP. With regulatory policies setting in motion the implementation of stringent governance and compliance measures, we are confident that the sector will report exponential growth over the coming years. Coal India expects to raise its output from 452 million tonnes in 2012-13 to 482 million tonnes in 2013-14; the cement and steel industries (whose progress are critically linked to mining) are expected to grow by 8-10% in the current year.

This year, Coal India Limited floated a three-year tender and I am delighted to inform you that Solar bagged 26.43% of the order; the Company continues to be the largest supplier to Coal India. For us, this means our order book for three years is secured for an amount of Rs. 1,112.25 cr.

Infrastructure: The Government expects the private sector to invest US$ 350-400 billion in strengthening India's infrastructure (roads, ports, railways and airports) during the Twelfth Five Year Plan through the PPP route, which should revive the fortunes of the sector. Consider this: India's target for road construction is estimated to rise to 8,500 kms in 2013-14 from 2,800 kms in 2012-13.

Defence project: Upcoming opportunity

A new defence procurement policy (DPP 2013) aims at enhancing transparency and probity in military purchases with the first right of refusal to Indian vendors, the objective being to promote the indigenous industry. While laying a strong emphasis on promoting indigenisation, the new policy also aims at creating a level playing field for the Indian industry. This progressive step is aimed at giving impetus to indigenisation, creating a level playing field and expediting the procurement process as a whole.

In the new policy, the Defence Ministry accorded a "higher preference explicitly to the Buy (Indian), Buy and Make (Indian) and Make categorisation, besides bringing further clarity in the definition of the 'Indigenous Content' and simplifying the Buy and Make (Indian) process."

This newly designed procedure is synchronised with your

The Company's order book

Company's plan to fulfill the nation's requirement for propellants, HMX and related compounds. The construction of facilities for propellants has started and R&D facilities for propellants are expected to be finished by the third quarter of FY14. Products are likely to be offered on a trial basis by the fourth quarter of FY14. The Company also invested in setting up R&D facilities for HMX and related compounds; the products are likely to be offered on a trial basis in the second quarter of FY14.

Safety

As you are aware, running safe and injury-free operations is of paramount importance at Solar.

Despite our best efforts, it is with sadness that I report that in March 2013, two of our employees lost their lives in an accident at our detonator plant.

This is obviously unacceptable, and we thoroughly investigate all such incidents to learn and improve. Every effort, including the advancement of technology, is being made to strengthen our safety commitment. There have been no further such incidents in the business since.

We continue to lay an emphasis on training and refresher courses for safe practices to all our employees.

Moving ahead

This year will be a year of significant change for Solar as we have initiated a lot of changes in operations. At the present group level, the management implemented changes to simplify the business and lower costs. The Company made significant investments to re-engineer production processes to improve operational efficiency and, in particular, minimise operational risks. I believe significant progress has already been made in all these areas.

I remain optimistic that our track record of enhancing shareholder returns can be maintained in the years ahead. Solar's long-term strategy has been clear, focused and successful and is constantly being reviewed.

I am confident that the energy and focus directed at unleashing the full potential of our Company will drive Solar for years to come.

Acknowledgements

On behalf of the Company, I convey my sincere gratitude to all our business partners, employees, customers, channel partners, shareholders, bankers and suppliers for their invaluable contribution leading to our sustained growth. I am confident that with their unstinted support, Solar will climb into a new orbit.

Regards

Satyanarayan Nuwal,
Chairman

ASPIRE. AIM. ACHIEVE. ALERT AND AGILE.

In our competitive industry, success is inevitably determined by an ability to continuously expand reach, enhance capabilities and innovate processes.

Over the years, Solar Industries invested across various products and processes to strengthen its competitive advantage.

The Company is in the final stages of developing its multi layer shock tube. These tubes will have the capacity to withstand the toughest mining conditions and deliver enhanced safety in the system.

The Company intends to invest in a process to manufacture PETN, which will improve safety, quality and double production capacity.

Besides, the Company plans to enhance its bulk production capacities, which, in turn, will grow its presence in mid-sized mines. This will be achieved with the addition of plants in Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Orissa, Rajasthan and Andhra Pradesh.

The result: The Company is attractively placed to grow, enhance market share and reinforce its position as an industry leader.

ASPIRE. AIM. ACHIEVE. BREAKING NEW GROUND.

In the business of explosives manufacturing, success is derived from the ability to deliver quality products, assured supplies and an expanding footprints.

Over the last number of years, Solar has consistently broken new ground, set up three manufacturing facilities successfully across the world in alliance with local partners and is exploring to set up similar facilities in Africa and South East Asia.

The Company enjoys a majority stake in three international subsidiaries (Nigeria, Zambia and Turkey) with substantial investments.

The result: The Company is optimistic of generating significant revenue growth and enhanced consolidated profitability from these investments in the next couple of years.

ASPIRE. AIM. ACHIEVE.
THE REST.

In the business of explosives manufacturing, it is imperative to benchmark one's strategic direction in line with the national priority.

India is one of largest importers of conventional Defence equipment, spending about 40% of its total Defence budget on capital acquisitions and addressing around 70% of its Defence requirements through imports. This significant import bill carries implications for the country's currency weakness, social expenditure and average living standards. As a result, the priority is to manufacture world-class products within India, reduce the import bill and strengthen national security.

Solar is aligning itself with this national objective, backed by its infrastructure intellect and state-of-art technology through the following steps:

1. Received all statutory clearances for the non-NG Propellants, Pyro devices and new generation explosives.
2. Constructing facilities for propellants, developing R&D facilities expected to begin in the third quarter of FY 14 and expecting to offer products for trials in the last quarter of FY 14.
3. The Company is developing HMX and related compounds and has invested to set up R&D facilities. Products for trials are likely to be offered in the second quarter of FY14.

The result: Through this Defence initiative we will not only contribute to the national security but also create value for the Company and its shareholders.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

Indian economy

India's economic growth decelerated for the second year in succession in 2012-13. It declined from 6.2% in 2011-12 to 5% in 2012-13, the slowest economic growth in a decade. This decline was due to a sharper-than-expected deceleration in the services sector (at around 8% compared to 11.7% in the previous fiscal year) and a dismal performance by the agricultural and industrial sectors.

Coal Production in India grew by 3.2% to reach 557.45 Million Tonnes in FY13 as compared to 539.5 Million Tonnes in FY12. Coal India limited and its subsidiaries accounted for a Y-o-Y growth of 3.7% to 452.19 million tonnes during 2012-13 as against a production of 435.84 million tonnes in 2011-12. Singareni Collieries Company Limited produced 53.19 million tonnes of coal during 2012-13 as against 52.21 million tonnes during the corresponding period of last year.

Iron ore production in the country has been steadily falling in the wake of a ban imposed in Karnataka a year-and-a-half ago. Its overall production has plunged over 14% Y-o-Y to around 143 million.

The FY2012-13 had a growth of only 6.0% for the Indian construction sector. Due to monetary issues and other related policies the Indian construction industry showed a lackluster performance in 2012-13. Funding constraints, land acquisition issues, delays related to identification and award of projects and shortage of skilled manpower caused delays in infrastructure projects.

Demand

Demand for explosives stems largely from mining (primarily coal), infrastructure and construction. The mining sector accounts for ~80% of explosives demand, the balance being consumed by infrastructure creation. Coal mining accounts for ~70% of the Indian market and ~60% of the market is accounted for by Coal India Limited.

The Indian explosives industry is represented by 29 active players, of which seven can be classified as prominent. India consumes ~7.5 Lakhs tonnes explosives with a market size of ~Rs. 3100 crore. Solar Industries is the market leader and the fastest growing Company within the sector.

Industrial explosives

The explosives market consists of explosives and initiating systems. Explosives are broadly classified into packaged (cartridge) explosives and bulk explosives. Initiating Systems comprises of detonators, detonating fuse and caste booster.

Classification of explosives

Explosives market is broadly classified into 3 categories viz.

Packaged Explosives: These cartridge shaped explosives vary in size and diameter depending on the blasting requirement. They are mostly used in construction sites for road-building, quarrying, tunnelling, small mines and seismic exploration.

Bulk Explosives: These are essentially non-explosives systems which are used for large scale blasting operation and large quantities need to be charged every day. It is mainly used in major opencast mines like Coal, Iron ore, Limestone, Zinc, among others. They are transported to mines sites through bulk delivery vehicles and pumped down the bore holes as per the mining strata.

Initiating Systems: Initiating systems are detonators, detonating cords and boosters required to initiate either Cartridge explosives or Bulk explosives. These can be in various forms like Instantaneous Detonators, Delay Detonators, Non- Electric Detonators, Electronic Detonators and also Detonating Cords.

Outlook in User Sectors.

Coal: As a prospering economy, India faces energy insecurity; coal production is expected to grow at a CAGR of around 7% during 2011-12 to 2013-14.

The Indian coal market is set to grow appreciably following governmental initiatives. India's ever-increasing demand for coal is expected to touch 980.5 MT by 2016-17. Of this, the demand from the power sector is estimated at about 70%. However, indigenous coal availability is projected optimistically at 795 MT, warranting fresh mining initiatives.

Actual production / Target production of coal in India

Year / crore tonnes	Coal India	Singareni collieries	Others	Total	Growth (%)
FY 12	435	51	54	540	1.3
FY 13	464	53	58	575	6.5
FY 14	486	54	65	605	5.2
FY 15	508	55	72	635	5.0
FY 16	530	56	87	673	6.0
FY 17	556	57	102	795	6.2

(Source: Planning Commission)

Coal India, India's largest coal producer is also one of the principal drivers of the explosives consumption in India. The Company accounts for ~80% of India's coal production with a target of 5% CAGR coal production over FY12-17. The Company has 148 on-going projects, which are under different stages of implementation. The ultimate capacity of these projects is 446.75 MTY, with sanctioned capital outlay of Rs. 32,004.54 crore.

Steel: Compared to the global average per capita consumption of 200 kgs, India's per capita steel consumption is still a mere 59 kgs, constrained by the lack of infrastructure development, high power cost and non-availability of resources. But is expected to correct over the medium term catalysed by government policies and a thrust on infrastructural investments over the Twelfth Plan. India's steel production is expected to increase from 75 MT to 200 MT by 2020.

Explosives are used to extract iron ore and coal, which forms basic raw material for steel production.

Cement: India is the second largest producer of quality cement in the world with an annual capacity of 324 MT of cement. The cement industry in India comprises 183 large cement plants and over 365 mini cement plants. According to the latest report of the Working Group on the cement industry for the Twelfth Plan India would require overall cement capacity of around 480 MT.

Explosives are used to extract limestone, which forms basic raw material for cement production.

Infrastructure and Construction: Infrastructure development acts as a catalyst in energising growth in India. The Government has reiterated its commitment to kick-start delayed projects in the Infrastructure space. India's target for road construction is estimated to rise to 8,500 kms in 2013-14 from 2,800 kms in 2012-13.

The Prime Minister highlighted the need to ramp up investment in infrastructure to revive investor sentiment. For this purpose, a target of rolling out PPP projects of at least Rs. 1 lakh crores in the next six months was set.

The general outlook for construction activity during the five-year forecast period is positive (2013-2017). Construction activity in the residential market will be driven by demand side factors, such as the growth in nuclear families and the rising urbanisation rate, as well as government support and state investment in affordable housing schemes. Government plans to support construction of 2.5 million housing units under the 3 schemes Rajiv AwasYojana(RAY), Rajiv RinnYojana (RRY) and Affordable Housing in Partnership Scheme (AHP) clubbed together.

Raw materials

Ammonium Nitrate (AN) is the key raw material in the manufacture of explosives accounting for ~65-70% of total raw material consumed. The Company imports ~50% of its AN requirement while the balance is met through local suppliers (RCF, GNFC and Deepak Fertilisers). Solar's scale has translated into procurement efficiencies. In July 2012, the Government classified Ammonium Nitrate as an explosive. This classification will restrict the imports in bulk quantity.

With the new rules, landed cost of imported AN has gone up, which is boosting domestic availability of AN. This will help the Company to reduce its inventory and dependency on imports.

This new rule will also help Company in the long run as there is an unorganised Ammonium Nitrate Fuel Oil explosive market in India estimated at ~Rs. 300 cr which will gradually be converted into organised market of Bulk and Cartridge Explosives.

Brief analysis of the financial statements

- Gross income grew 17.79% from Rs. 1,031.69 crore to Rs. 1,215.20 crore
- Net profit strengthened 14.91% from Rs. 101.2 crore to Rs. 116.3 crore.

Capital expenditure

The Company is deploying funds to expand its existing capacities and also to set up facilities for Propellants, HMX and related compounds. The Company plans a phased capex programme that reduces fund cost. With the objective to right size the Balance Sheet and mobilise low cost resources, the Company mobilised private equity following the issue of 774,195 shares of Rs. 10 each at premium of Rs. 920 to Oman India Joint Investment Fund. The unutilised funds were temporarily invested in debt-based mutual funds with a focus on safety and liquidity.

Working Capital

The Company plans inflows and outflows and accordingly draw funds to meet the excess outflow. The excess inflows are kept invested in liquid fund debt bonds so that it can be utilised when needed. Company has both export and import so Company enjoys lower cost of fund by way of export packing credit and buyers credit. However, due to recent depreciation in rupee, the Company couldn't enjoy the lower interest rate benefits. To counter this, the Company is working on reducing inventory and debtor days. Additionally, the Company is planning imports of Ammonium Nitrate in smaller consignments and reduce the total imports as well.

Rupee depreciation

The depreciation in the value of the Indian currency has an impact on the Company's financials – it makes imports more expensive but at the same time increases the value of exports. As a policy, the excess of imports over exports is appropriately covered as per the advice of external consultants and a treasury team of bankers. However, the Company is exposed by the sudden unpredictable movement of rupee either ways to a large extent. To address this in a long run, the Company is working on reducing dependency on imported Ammonium Nitrate.

Defence sector

The new Defence Procurement Policy-2013 announced by the government outlined a fresh procurement procedure wherein at least 30% of the products supplied would have to be of indigenous content. This new Policy is in line with Company's plan to offer products in Defence Sector and contribute to strengthening national security. Construction of facilities for Propellants has started and R&D facilities are expected to be completed by Q3FY14. Products for trials are likely to be offered by Q4FY14. Company has also invested in setting up R&D facilities for HMX & HMX related compounds. Products for trials are likely to be offered in Q2FY14.

Internal control systems and their adequacy

Internal control systems give authenticity to the information, reports, records, documents, transactions and serve as a strong foundation for decision-making for the management. The Company has established proper internal control systems and procedures which are compatible with the size of its operations and business. With a view to ensure that the aforementioned systems are adhered to and the controls are not flouted, a firm of chartered accountants conducts an Internal Audit of operations, establishments, and stockyards on a quarterly basis. The Audit Committee reviews the reports of the Internal Auditors and monitors the overall effectiveness and the operational efficiency of the internal control systems. The Audit Committee provides valuable suggestions from time to time towards improving the business processes, systems and internal controls.

Presently the Company is working on ERP (SAP ECC6.0 EHP5 module) which helps in business activities such as material management, finance, payroll and sales and distribution. During the year under review, the Company has also implemented plant maintenance and quality management modules to enhance the performance of the plant as well as for testing the quality of raw materials and finished goods.

Human resources

Your Company’s human resource agenda for the year was mediated towards strengthening four key areas: building a robust and diverse talent pipeline, enhancing individual and organisational capabilities so as to be future-ready, driving greater employee engagement and strengthening employee relations through the espousal of progressive shopfloor practices. The Company took proactive measures like organising trainings drills, people review processes and employee engagement initiatives to realise its aims.

DE-RISKING OUR BUSINESS.

Regulatory risk

The highly sensitive commercial explosives industry is stringently regulated. Any kind of adverse decision by the concerned authority could impact Company's core operations.

Mitigation

The Company abides by all the rules and laws set by the regulatory body and as such it acquired all necessary licences. It restricts the sale of products only to the licensed buyers.

Industry risk

A slowdown in various downstream industries can stagger the Company's business.

Mitigation

The Company's clientele spreads across a number of core industries. Hence, even a marginal growth in these core industries can generate appreciable demand for explosives. The Company is also planning to enhance its production capacities, which, in turn, will grow its presence in mid-sized mines. This will be achieved with the addition of six plants in different locations within India. The Company is in final stage of manufacturing multi-layer shock tube which will enhance safety and a new PETN plant, which will help the Company double its production capacity and enhance safety.

The Company is attractively placed to grow and capture the market, maintaining its industry leadership by entering new geographies, increasing exports, adding new customers and expanding domestically.

Competition risk

Even though India is only the world's eighth-largest explosive manufacturer, it has the largest number of players (around 29), increasing competition.

Mitigation

The Company is the market leader in the explosives sector in India and has been consistently increasing its market share from ~10% in 2006 to ~30% in 2012-13. By working closely with customers, coupled with high quality products and after - sale services, the Company has created a unique position for itself in the industry.

Raw material risk

Volatility in prices and an Ammonium Nitrate shortage can hamper growth

Mitigation

The Company occupies unique position in the domestic explosives segment, having integrated backwards for all its raw materials, except Ammonium Nitrate. To cope with increasing demand, it imports a considerable quantity of Ammonium Nitrate. The Company enters into contracts with institutional / Large customers with built-in cost escalation clause, which largely addresses raw material price fluctuations.

Geographical risk

Over-dependence on a specific region could substantially affect the turnover of the Company.

Mitigation

The Company is a market leader within India and is the largest exporter of explosives. The Company's large capacities coupled with external manufacturing plants, helped deliver end-products across geographies. The Company exports to 20 countries and has 3 overseas subsidiaries.

Concentration risk

An excessive dependence on a few downstream sectors and customers could affect the Company in the event of a slowdown in those segments.

Mitigation

Apart from bulk and cartridge explosives (used in coal mining), which form a major part of its revenues, the Company is one of the few players to cater to the entire explosives value chain – including initiating systems. The Company expanded its capacities, enabling itself to cater to various sectors and clients (including exports).

Hazardous risk

The Company's business is prone to accidents and requires a high level of safety.

Mitigation

The Company engages in incorporating safety modules and practices to strengthen safety standards as per the globally established norms. The Company constantly conducts safety training workshops for its operators and supervisors through internal and external experts. The Company is a member of SAFEX, an international apex body reporting and promoting best practices in safety standards of the explosives industry. The Company is in final stage of manufacturing multi-layer shock tube which will enhance safety and PETN plant to enhance process safety.

Currency risk

Volatility in the Indian rupee could affect the Company's profitability.

Mitigation

The Company avails Export Packing Credit and Buyers' credit facilities for its imports. However, the Company has significant exports, which act as natural hedge. As a policy, the excess of imports over exports is appropriately covered as per the advice of external consultants and a treasury team comprising of bankers. However, the business is exposed to sudden unpredictable rupee movements.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

Information as required under section 217(1) (E) of the Companies Act, 1956, read with Companies (Disclosure of Particulars) Rules, 1988.

A. Conservation of Energy

The Company has always been a forerunner in conservation of energy and natural resources. All manufacturing processes and products are designed for minimising carbon footprints and are being continuously upgraded to consistently achieve this goal. The Company has a distinction of having all its plants certified for ISO 14000 and 18000 which is a culmination of our sustained efforts and our policy of protecting environment and natural resources.

The pioneering effort of the Company in rainwater harvesting is yielding extremely encouraging results. Construction of benches, trenches, open reservoirs and check dams in the large open land areas in the plant has resulted in considerable increase in the water table in and around the plant area, thus ensuring year-round water availability not only for our plant operation & plantation but also enables the Company to supply water to nearby villages during summer time. Moreover, availability of rain water-a soft water-in the open ponds, saves on water softening and pumping energy cost.

The Company has already completed various energy saving measures by installing highly efficient dynamic water cooled boiler, installing condensate recovery system, installing screw compressors in place of reciprocating compressors, reusing plant waste water for horticulture after necessary treatment and operating electrical water pumps at night as far as possible, etc.

We are working on better synchronisation between steam generation and steam consumption to save energy cost.

The steps have resulted not only in saving the energy and conserving natural resources but also in reducing our running costs of the operations.

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention, except for certain fixed assets which are revalued, in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India (Indian GAAP) and the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956. The Company has also reclassified the previous year figures in accordance with the requirement applicable in the current year.

c. Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements requires estimates and assumptions to be made that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities on the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. All other expenses on existing fixed assets, including day-to-day repair and maintenance expenditure and cost of replacing parts, are charged to the statement of profit and loss for the period during which such expenses are incurred.

The Company adjusts exchange differences arising on translation/settlement of long-term foreign currency monetary items pertaining to the acquisition of depreciable assets to the cost of the asset and depreciates the same over the remaining life of the asset.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES ON CONSOLIDATED ACCOUNTS

Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements of the Company include financial statements of its subsidiaries, where Solar Industries India Limited is able to exercise control over the operating and financial policies of the companies. All material inter-company accounts and transactions are eliminated on consolidation.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the following basis:

- The financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary companies are combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses, after fully eliminating intragroup balances and intra-group transactions resulting in unrealised profits or losses in accordance with Accounting Standard (AS) 21- "Consolidated Financial Statements" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.
- In case of foreign subsidiaries, being non-integral foreign operations, revenue items & all assets and liabilities are converted at rates prevailing at the end of the year. Any exchange difference arising on consolidation is recognised in the exchange fluctuation reserve.
- The difference between the costs of investment in the subsidiaries, over the net assets at the time of acquisition of shares in the subsidiaries is recognised in the financial statements as Goodwill or Capital Reserve as the case may be.
- Minority Interest's share of net profit of consolidated subsidiaries for the year is identified and adjusted against the income of the group in order to arrive at the net income attributable to shareholders of the Company.
- Investment in Associate Companies has been accounted under the equity method as per (AS 23) – "Accounting for Investments in Associates in Consolidates Financial Statements".
- Investments other than in subsidiaries and associates have been accounted as per Accounting Standard (AS) 13 on "Accounting for Investments".
