Business Highlights: Footwear Business

- In line with its growth strategy, Lehar has successfully commissioned a new Sports shoes manufacturing facility at Kundli, Haryana, marking its entry into a high growth and high value closed footwear segment. Company also plans to do OEM supply in addition to own brand distribution under this category.
- Lehar has installed fully automatic injection moulding machinery for EVA footwear and Rotary Type PU Injection Machine for PU footwear, enabling the brand to deliver a trend-leading premium product portfolio that caters to evolving market demands.
- During the quarter, domestic and export operations remained stable, amidst uncertain consumption and trade environment in the mass and mid-market space.
- The government business segment witnessed a rebound in momentum supported by the completion of the election cycle.
- While these market dynamics exerted pressure on the business environment, the Company maintained its disciplined approach, refraining from short-term measures and remained steadfast in safeguarding a profitable performance. Concurrently, the Company continued to advance its sales transformation initiatives and expand its distribution network-strategic measures aimed at positioning the business for sustainable long-term growth.

Business Highlights: Toolkits Business

- The Company continued to consolidate its position as the preferred implementation partner, leveraging its robust execution capabilities to achieve another quarter of uninterrupted supply and on-time project delivery.
- As of June 30, 2025, the Company's order book stood at approximately Rs. 105 crores, with the anticipated execution in the current quarter. During Q2FY26, the Company expects to receive incremental orders under the current scheme thus maintaining the momentum.
- As a recognized partner under the PM Vishwakarma Scheme, the Company is strategically positioned to expand its product portfolio, thereby broadening its reach to both existing and new verticals and enabling increased participation under the scheme.
