INDUSTRY AND ECONOMIC OVERVIEW:

In world's economic context, India is the second largest producer of textiles and garments after China. It is also world's third largest producer of cotton after China and the USA and the second largest cotton consumer after China. Indian textile industry currently estimated to be US $108 billion and expected to reach US $209 billion in the year 2021. The textiles industry is also labour intensive and is one of the largest employers and employs about 105 million people directly and indirectly.

The Indian textile industry presently contributes around 14 percent to industrial production, and 4 percent to GDP, 17 percent to the country's exports, and 21 percent employment. India has a share of approximately 5% of the global textile and apparel trade. India is bestowed with abundance of natural resources like cotton, jute and silk. Indian products are in great demand for their fine craftsmanship, designing, embellishment etc. Since ages the Indian textile weavers and fabric designers are recognized as one of the best in the world. The versatility and the vibrancy of the Indian textile products keep it in the forefront in world's business arena always. At present industry is growing at 9-10 percent with Indian economy. Indian textile industry currently possesses a share of 4.7% in world market of textiles and clothing. India and china in Asian sub-continent are likely to perform better in comparison to other countries in the coming years due to fast changing geo-political scenario.

Despite that 2017-18 was an unusually difficult year for the Textiles & Clothing Industry in India. India's export of clothing is declined, probably first time over a decade, by more than 700M USD. The country's import of clothing continues to increase by over 170M USD. The major supplies are from China and Bangladesh. Zero rated duty of imports from Bangladesh has opened gates for big value imports of apparel and other textile products into India. The major growth drivers of the global apparel market will be the developing economies, mainly China and India, both growing in double digits. China will become the biggest apparel market in market size, while India will be the second most attractive apparel market by 2025 the possible FTA with the EU could be a game changer for India's clothing exports. This requires a leap of faith by India, to harvest the opportunity, more so given the US's increasing protectionism and China's hegemonic ambitions.

As expected, GST the biggest tax reform in India still experiencing the teething issues like technical glitches, input credits/refunds etc. The ability of the SME sectors to adapt the process is also a concern and export processes are still a complex issue as in the past. GST continue to present challenges for the Clothing industry because of dominant position of SME's in the industry, who are not geared to meet the challenges presented.

The global luxury industry is slowly and gradually making in roads in the Indian industry and showing the signs of growth suggesting it's going to stay here for long. It has seen steady growth over the recent past and it is commonly believed to be one of the most appealing and profitable industries in the world. In addition to its economic value, luxury fashions brands help develop the best fashion products for the market. The luxury fashion brand management is complex in general, and the luxury fashion brands should adopt a coherent approach in order to succeed. The downward brand extension, co-branding or passing off of luxury features to non-luxury segment brands may help the sustainably faster growth and expansion of the market for the later segment.

E-Commerce continue to be a challenge for brick and mortar model of retail, however, growth rate in E-commerce in India showed a small decline of 3% approx, with a total penetration of 3% of total retail in 2017. Studies forecasted 2018 as the year of offline retail, borne out by the advent of Walmart/Flipkart combo and Amazon's entry into bricks and mortar retail as well. Fast fashion from the likes of Zara, H&M and deep discounting by online, has pushed brick and mortar independents into distress. The quantum of overall discounting in the clothing Industry in India has steep raised in three years time. Percentage of goods sold at MRP continues to decline sharply. India is to get the advantage of focused market as compare to wobbly global market.

The Indian government has come up with a number of export promotion policies for the textiles sector. It has also allowed 100 per cent FDI in the Indian textiles sector under the automatic route. Initiative will be taken into consideration by Government of India. The Union Ministry of Textiles, Government of India, along with Energy Efficiency Services Ltd (EESL), has launched a technology upgradation scheme called SAATHI (Sustainable and Accelerated Adoption of Efficient Textile Technologies to Help Small Industries) for reviving the power loom sector of India. The Government has planned to connect as many as 5 crore (50 million) village women to charkha (spinning wheel) in next 5 years with a view to provide them employment and promote khadi and also, they inaugurated 60 khadi outlets which were renovated and re-launched during the completion of KVIC s 60th anniversary and a khadi outlet. The Textiles Ministry will organise 'Hastkala Sahyog Shivirs' in 421 handloom-handicrafts clusters across the country which will benefit over 1.2 lakh weavers and artisans. The Textile Ministry of India earmarked Rs 690 crore (US$ 106.58 million) for setting up 21 readymade garment manufacturing units in seven states for development and modernisation of Indian Textile Sector.

Some of initiatives taken by the government to further promote the industry are as under:

- » The Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT) has revised rates for incentives under the Merchandise Exports from India Scheme (MEIS) for two subsectors of Textiles Industry - Readymade garments and Made ups - from 2 per cent to 4 per cent.
- » The allocation to the Ministry of Textiles has increased by 14 per cent to USD 1.1 billion
- » The Government of India plans to introduce incentive package for the power loom sector, including of social welfare schemes, insurance cover, cluster development, and upgradation of obsolete looms, along with tax benefits and marketing support, which is expected to improve the status of power loom weavers in the country.

The Government of India has taken several measures including Amended Technology Up-gradation Fund Scheme (A-TUFS), with a provision of one-time capital subsidy for eligible benchmarked machinery at the rate of 15% for garmenting and technical textiles segments and at the rate of 10% for weaving, processing, jute, silk and handloom segments. The launch of India Handloom Brand and integrated scheme for development of silk industry help them for the strategic enhancement of Indian textiles quality to international standards in these segments.

The Ministry of Textiles is implementing Integrated Processing Development Scheme (IPDS) to enable the textile processing sector in meeting environmental standards through appropriate technology including marine, riverine and Zero Liquid Discharge (ZLD). The Government of India provides financial assistance up to 50 % of project cost for Common Effluent Treatment Plants (CETPs). Ministry has approved 4 projects in Rajasthan and 2 projects in Tamil Nadu.

The future for the Indian textile industry looks promising, buoyed by both strong domestic consumption as well as export demand. With consumerism and disposable income on the rise, the retail sector has experienced a rapid growth in the past decade with the entry of several international players like Marks & Spencer, Guess and Next into the Indian market. High economic growth has resulted in higher disposable income. This has led to rise in demand for products creating a huge domestic market. The domestic market for apparel and lifestyle products, currently estimated at US$ 85 billion, is expected to reach US$ 160 billion by 2025. The Indian cotton textile industry is expected to showcase a stable growth in FY 2017-18, supported by stable input prices, healthy capacity utilization and steady domestic demand. Overall growth in the sector has also witnessed a spurt in investment during the last five years. The industry attracted Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) worth US$ 2.82 billion during April 2000 to December 2017.

INDIAN RETAIL INDUSTRY:

The Indian retail industry is one of the fastest growing in the world. Retail sector in India is undergoing a definite transformation in terms of its structure and scale. The sector has been on a path of steady growth since the last decade and half due to many factors such as growing urbanisation, rapid economic growth and the resultant rise in purchasing power and consumerism. The visible aspects of the transformation are proliferating shopping malls, e-commerce operators, modern retail, foreign retailers and fast upgrading traditional retailers.

Retail industry in India is expected to grow to US$ 1.3 trillion by FY 2020, registering a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 16.7 per cent over 2015-20. Still India is in the nascent stage, with organised retail having less than 10% share and top 3 retailers combined having a market share of less than 2%, but globally, India is the fifth largest preferred retail destination. The country is among the highest in the world in terms of per capita retail store availability. India's retail sector is experiencing exponential growth, with retail development taking place not just in major cities and metros, but also in Tier-II and Tier-III cities. Healthy economic growth, changing demographic profile, increasing disposable incomes, urbanisation, changing consumer tastes and preferences are the other factors driving growth in the organised retail market in India. India's population is taking to online retail in a big way. The online retail market is expected to grow from US$ 6 billion to US$ 70 billion during FY 15 - FY 20. It is too early to predict how the sector would look like in future, but certain broad trends are visible, such as the slow but steadily rising importance of modern retail and e-commerce. This would impact the traditional retailers who are still the main stay of Indian retail and have implications for employment and livelihood.

Increasing participation from foreign and private players has given a boost to Indian retail industry. India's price competitiveness attracts large retail players to use it as a sourcing base. Global retailers such as Walmart, GAP, Tesco and JC Penney are increasing their sourcing from India and are moving from third-party buying offices to establishing their own wholly-owned/wholly-managed sourcing and buying offices. In future, even large retailers may start offering a number of options for order and fulfilment such as home delivery, store pick-up, or in-store payment thereby taking away some aspects of competitive advantage enjoyed by small retailers.

The Government of India has introduced reforms to attract Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in retail industry. The government has approved 51 per cent FDI in multi-brand retail and increased FDI limit to 100 per cent (from 51 per cent) in single brand retail, and plans to allow 100 per cent FDI in e-commerce, under the arrangement that the products sold must be manufactured in India to gain from the liberalised regime.

India's retail sector, particularly the groceries and budget apparel segments, is poised to hit a purple patch. A host of factors a shift towards organised retail, improved business models, demographics, and rising per capita income may lift the sector's profitability to a different plane. Indian organised retail sector has seen a dream run in the past 2 years. The improving prospects are evident in the stock prices of listed retail firms, which have been major wealth generators in the last year.

India's $ 670 billion retail market is still mostly unorganised, with nearly 93% of it happening through small mom-and-pop stores or stand-alone outlets. The shift to organised chains has been on in the last decade, but only at a snail's pace. But that's changing now. Demonetisation and implementation of GST (goods and services tax) have been tailwinds for organised retail in India, allowing them to gain share from unorganised trade, this has boosted the sales of almost all organised players. Leading chains are expecting double-digit growth in same-store sales by March 2019, compared to an average of 7.5% in the last four years. Same-store sales are the total revenue from stores that have been open for the previous one year; it is a preferred measure of growth for retail chains.

However, not everyone is chasing sales growth. Many are also increasing their profits by optimising the business and rectifying mistakes. Over the last five years, retailers have "retooled their business models after a decade of learning, instead of reckless expansion...with an increased focus on improving store economics, while staying focused on costs, return ratios and balance sheets." As retail majors benefit from this course correction and the government pushes for organised trade, there is a third growth lever waiting to kick in. And that may be the real accelerator. India's gross domestic product (GDP) per capita is about $1,800. According to sources, the $2,000 level is a critical threshold. India has seen significant boom in the discretionary spends once it crosses $2,000 in other countries. China, for instance, crossed the $2,000 threshold in 2006. Since then, retail sales in the country have tripled. Similarly, in Russia (since 2001) and Brazil (since 1986), retail sales have doubled.

There has been an increase in purchasing power and increase in fashion demand of the consumer has given a steep boost to apparel retail industry. Easy buying power due to easy availability of credit which has given a push to higher value items. There has been a clear shift in consumer mindset when it comes to buying. They are more educated and well informed. They have become more experimenting and are willing to try and buy products which they haven't used till now. Significant growth in discretionary income and changing lifestyle are among the major growth drivers of Indian retail industry.

With GST taking its shape, it will lead to better supply chain structure, better cash flows, pricing, and profitability. Rural markets show high growth potential if tapped with the right set of products and pricing. With increasing investments in infrastructure, connectivity to such towns is now becoming easier. This helps the retailer to increase reach in such high potential markets. We can expect social networks to soon evolve as retail channels. This is because companies are investing heavily in providing services to customers directly, this trend will evolve and will transform the current shopping session into a well-known retailing session. New players, new business models, rising customer expectations will all likely change retail's future landscape. Retailing is more than brick-and-mortar, and retailers who are agile enough to adapt and innovate their way through changes continue to grow and thrive in new and unexpected ways. The future of the retail industry looks promising, as more and more Government policies have come into play, making it favorable to do business.

Regulatory framework governing retail sector in India is also undergoing constant changes as the governments from time to time try to find the right balance between various concerns such as efficiency, growth and employment. Various reforms measures such as allowing foreign investment in wholesale trade and food retail, have been undertaken with a view to improve the supply chain, minimise wastages, especially in food, and better prices for producers and consumers. The modern trade (organised retail) is expected to be one of the main drivers of growth in retail sector in the coming years. However, this can create severe pressure on small retailers causing job loss and distress in the sector over the next 5 - 6 years. A situation may arise in future, which may be similar to the present distress in the agricultural sector leading to farmer's suicides in India.

To curb such nuances of the system, trade or sector, policies and framework be crafted which would facilitate coexistence of both organised and unorganised retail and better prospects for the overall retail sector and their customers. Broadly, these policies and regulations may be divided into three categories: transformative, collaborative and restrictive.

Transformative measures such as tax breaks, infrastructural support, assistance in reaching out to more customers by leveraging digital retail/e-commerce etc can be provided to small retailers to enable them to compete with large retailers. Under collaborative arrangements they should also be encouraged to connect to retail aggregators to take advantage of e-commerce facilities, and reach a larger number of customers in a cost effective manner. Under restrictive practices traditional retailers running into millions would need at least 5 - 7 years to prepare themselves to face the competition from the former. Competition Commission of India should be tasked with looking into cases of unfair trade practices such as predatory pricing in this sector.

Retail transformation which has taken decades in other countries is happening in a short span of time in India with different retail formats emerging simultaneously. In this context, it would be expected that a cautious approach to opening up the sector to foreign investments and a proactive approach to transforming the traditional retailers and making them competitive, before any further liberalisation measures are undertaken in this sector.

BUSINESS REVIEW:

Financial Year 2018 was the beginning of our Growth strategy and delivering promises and we continue to move along firmly towards this goal. We added 20 new stores during the year and were able to achieve overall revenue growth of 22.73% in FY 18. As of March 31, 2017, the Cantabil brand was sold on a total floor area of approx. 163210 sq. ft. and which has increased to 185702 sq. ft. as of March 31, 2018.

The Company, by focusing on quality and range, continues to increase its average ticket value and adopting strategic approach which can be sustainable and profitable in the longer run. Increasing productivity of stores is a key focus area of the Company while continuously deepening the presence. We continue to drive the customer experiences to better & higher levels by improvement in store visual and ambiance. A lot of initiatives, including digital payment systems and EMI payment system with Bajaj finance, were undertaken to enhance customer loyalty backed with enhanced experiential shopping journeys.

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW:

Company's Revenue has increased during the year under review. Total revenue of the company increased to Rs. 19864.73 Lakhs during the financial year ended March 31, 2018, as compared to Rs. 16157.79 Lakhs during the previous financial year 2016-17. Company's EBITDA during the financial year ended March 31, 2018 of Rs. 2123.46 Lakhs have also increased against Rs. 1853.83 Lakhs during the financial year ended March 31, 2017.

The year under review, your Company retained its position in the market. However, the Company is confident that it will improve its performance in the financial year 2018-19 significantly. As of today we have crossed 200 stores spread across northern, eastern and western parts of the country.

OUT LOOK:

We strongly feel that the benefit of the stable Government has pleasantly throwing the "feel good" factor across textile and clothing industry. The Company was not only sustained but scaled up its performance in the midst of two major disruptions during the last two financial years, and despite headwinds, it has strengthened its business and financial position. The formalisation of the economy provides long term advantages to organised players and the Company is well-poised to resume its growth trajectory as the opportunities unfold.

Further, internal drive to improve profitability by reducing the overall operation costs and further the interest rates were went down and giving strength to the buying power of the company and reduction in finance cost by reducing the overall debt cost, will further benefit the Company with improved profitability. Company is confident to obtain the up gradation in the credit rating, which will further help the Company to obtain the funding at much more reasonable cost and with limited financial and non-financial covenants.

STRENGTHS AND OPPORTUNITIES:

There is a significant shift of consumer towards organized retail resulting into big boost to the industry as a whole. Consumption in India is undergoing a gradual, yet tectonic shift. Consumer expenditure in India is expected to grow at 12 per cent year-on-year till 2022, driving the consumption of the growing urban population, two-thirds of which live in tier 2. Therefore, aspirational demand for branded products from these new geographies is expected to surge over the next few years. The Company has strong brand positioning at Pan India level to cater the various consumer segments to deliver high-quality products. Increase in spending power of the consumer is also a key factor for improvement in sales in branded retail. The organised retail formats have developed at a fast pace and provide a strong platform for enhanced spends by consumers towards branded products. The Company with its focus of expansion in Tier B and C town is expected to provide a thrust to renewed demand. Company is continuing to focus on its Brand leadership within the consumer segment with unparalleled reach in diversified geographical presence. With the smooth functioning and improvement in tax structure of GST, Company is expecting more strength in the model itself.

RISK & THREATS:

The suspected hurdle continues to be the disregard for pricing discipline across industry players with sales growth being pursued through aggressive discounts and price reductions throughout the year. The biggest risk in recent times has been the impact of macro events on consumer sentiments and continued practice of lower pricing creates confusion in consumers mind and forcing them to make other product quality secondary. Indian market is flourishing with Brands including foreign brands which are adding more challenges to domestic retail brands. The state of external environment, including factors like interest rates, inflation, and growth in economic activity, rationalisation of tax structure, job creation and consumer sentiment continues to be the biggest source of threat as well as opportunity for the Company.

Adding challenge from E-commerce players will continue to add pressure to the Brick and mortar model. Traditional brick-and-mortar brands are adopting digital channels for engaging with and selling to Indian consumers while defending their competitive positioning. Building online brands is helping companies to not only reach a wider audience, but also test the market before committing to a large-scale investment.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that

1. pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company;
2. provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and

3. provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2018, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

An intangible asset is recognized if and only if it is probable that the expected future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the company and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably.

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Company, which have finite useful lives, are recognized at cost.

Subsequent measurement is done at cost less accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

Cost includes any directly attributable incidental expenses necessary to make the assets ready for its intended use.

ii) Subsequent costs

iii) De-recognition

An intangible asset is derecognized when no future economic benefits are expected from their use or upon their disposal. Gains and losses on disposal of an item of intangible assets are determined by comparing the proceeds from disposal with the carrying amount of intangible assets and are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

iv) Amortization

Intangible assets having definite life are amortized on straight line method in their useful life of 5 years.

2.9 Investment Property

Investment properties are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. Depreciation on building is provided over the estimated useful lives as specified in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

2.10 Inventories

Inventories of Raw material, Work-in-progress, Finished goods and Consumable Spares are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:

- » Raw materials: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on FIFO basis.
- » Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity.

All other inventories of stores, consumables, project material at site are valued at cost. The stock of waste is valued at net realisable value.

2.11 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalent in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and cash on hand and short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less, which are subject to insignificant risk of change in value.

2.12 Financial instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

i) Financial assets:

Financial assets are recognised when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

a) Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus or minus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through profit or loss.

b) Subsequent measurement

Financial assets are subsequently classified and measured at:

- » Financial assets at amortised cost
- » Financial assets at fair value through profit and loss (FVTPL)
- » Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income (FVOCI).

c) Equity Instruments:

All investments in equity instruments in entities other than subsidiaries and joint ventures are measured at fair value. Equity instruments if held for trading are classified as at FVTPL. For all other equity instruments, the Company decides to classify the same either at FVTOCI or FVTPL. The Company makes such election on an instrument by instrument basis. The classification is made on initial recognition and is irrevocable.

If the company decides to classify an equity instrument as at FVTOCI, then all fair value changes on the instruments, excluding dividends, are recognized in the OCI. There is no recycling of the amounts from OCI to P&L, even on sale of investment as the company transfers cumulative gain or loss within the equity.

Equity instruments if classified as FVTPL category are measured at fair value with all changes recognized in the profit and loss.

d) De-recognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a Company of similar financial assets) is primarily derecognized (i.e. removed from the Company's balance sheet) when:

- » The contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired, or
- » The Company has transferred its contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset.

e) Impairment of Financial Asset

Expected credit losses are recognized for all financial assets subsequent to initial recognition in Statement of Profit and loss.

For recognition of impairment loss on financial assets other than Trade receivables, the company determines whether there has been a significant increase in the credit risk since initial recognition. If credit risk has not increased significantly, 12-month ECL is used to provide impairment loss. However, If credit risk is increased significantly, lifetime ECL is used.

If, in a subsequent period, credit quality of the instrument improves to such extent that there is no longer a significant increase in credit risk since initial recognition, then the entity reverts to recognising impairment loss allowance based on 12- Month ECL.

For trade receivables Company applies 'simplified approach' which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. The Company uses historical default rates to determine impairment loss on the portfolio of trade receivables. At every reporting date these historical default rates are reviewed and changes in the forward looking estimates are analysed.

ii) Financial liabilities

a) Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognized at fair value and in case of loans, net of directly attributable cost. Fees of recurring nature are directly recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss as finance cost.

b) Subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities are carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and any material transaction that are any integral part of the EIR. Trade and other payables maturing within one year from the balance sheet date are carried at transaction value and the carrying amounts approximate fair value due to the short maturity of these instruments.

Financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with all changes in fair value recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

c) De-recognition

A financial liability is derecognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires. When an existing financial liability is replaced by another from the same lender on substantially different terms, or the terms of an existing liability are substantially modified, such an exchange or modification is treated as the de-recognition of the original liability and the recognition of a new liability. The difference in the respective carrying amounts is recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

2.13 Fair value measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- » In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- » In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible by the company. The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest. A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use. The company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximizing the use of relevant observable inputs and minimizing the use of unobservable inputs. All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorized within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 – Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or Indirectly observable

Level 3 – Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognized in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorization (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period. The Company determines the policies and procedures for both recurring fair value measurement, such as derivative instruments and unquoted financial assets measured at fair value, and for non-recurring measurement, such as assets held for distribution in discontinued operations.

2.14 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

The Company, in accordance with the Indian Accounting Standard (Ind AS) 36 “Impairment of Assets”, has adopted the practice of assessing at each Balance Sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, then the company provides for the loss for impairment of Assets after estimating the recoverable amount of the assets.

2.15 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provisions are measured at the Present value of the management’s best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the end of reporting period. Provisions involving substantial degree of estimation in measurement are recognized when there is a present obligation as a result of past events and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources.

Contingent liabilities are disclosed only when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more uncertain future events which is not wholly within the control of the Company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation or estimate of the amount cannot be measured reliably.

No contingent asset is recognized but disclosed by way of notes to accounts only when its recognition is virtually certain.

2.16 Revenue Recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity. Amount of sales are net of goods and service tax, sale returns, trade allowances and discounts but inclusive of excise duty.

Revenue from sale of products is recognized when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the products have been transferred to the buyer, and the amount of revenue can be measured reliably.

Revenue from the provision of services is recognised as per stage of completion at the balance sheet date.

Company continues to account for export benefits on accrual basis.

Dividend income is recognized when the right to receive the income is established.

Interest income is recognised, when no significant uncertainty as to measurability or collectability exists, on a time proportion basis taking into account the amount outstanding and the applicable interest rate, using the effective interest rate method (EIR).

2.17 Foreign Currency Conversions/Transactions

Foreign Currency Transactions are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing on the date of the transactions. Gains and losses arising out of subsequent fluctuations are accounted for on actual payments or realisations as the case may be. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency as on Balance Sheet date are translated into functional currency at the exchange rates prevailing on that date and Exchange differences arising out of such conversion are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

2.18 Income Taxes

Income tax expense for the year comprises of current tax and deferred tax. It is recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss except to the extent it relates to any business combination or to an item which is recognised directly in equity or in other comprehensive income.

a) Current Tax

Current Tax is the amount of tax payable on the estimated taxable income for the current year as per the provisions of Income Tax Act, 1961.

b) Deferred Tax

Deferred tax is recognised for temporary differences. However, Deferred Tax Assets is recognised to the extent that, it is probable that taxable income will be available against which the same can be realised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each Balance Sheet date and are written-down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

c) Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT)

Minimum alternate tax (MAT) paid in a year is charged to the statement of profit and loss as current tax for the year. The deferred tax asset is recognised for MAT credit available only to the extent that it is probable that the company will pay normal income tax during the specified period, i.e., the period for which MAT credit is allowed to be carried forward.

In the year in which the company recognizes MAT credit as an asset, it is created by way of credit to the statement of profit and loss and shown as part of deferred tax asset.

The company reviews the "MAT credit entitlement" asset at each reporting date and writes down the asset to the extent that it is no longer probable that it will pay normal tax during the specified period.

2.19 Employee Benefitsi) Short Term Employee Benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on an undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided.

A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid under performance related pay if the Company has a present, legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

ii) Post-Employment benefits

Employee benefit that are payable after the completion of employment are Post-Employment Benefit (other than termination benefit). Company has identified two types of post employment benefits:

a) Defined contribution plans

Defined contribution plans are those plans in which the company pays fixed contribution into separate entities and will have no legal or constructive obligation to pay further amounts. Provident Fund and Employee State Insurance are Defined Contribution Plans in which company pays a fixed contribution and will have no further obligation beyond the monthly contributions and are recognised as an expenses in Statement of Profit & Loss.

b) Defined benefit plans

A defined benefit plan is a post-employment benefit plan other than a defined contribution plan. Company pays Gratuity as per provisions of the Gratuity Act, 1972. The Company's net obligation in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated separately for each plan by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods; that benefit to employees is discounted to determine its present value.

The calculation is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. The net interest cost is calculated by applying the discount rate to the net balance of the defined benefit obligation and the fair value of plan assets. This cost is included in employee benefit expense in the statement of profit and loss. Any actuarial gains or losses pertaining to components of re-measurements of net defined benefit liability/(asset) are recognized in OCI in the period in which they arise.

2.20 Borrowing Cost

General and Specific Borrowing Cost that are directly attributable to the acquisition or construction or production of qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of such assets upto the date when such assets are ready for intended use. Qualified assets are assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale.

Other borrowing costs are charged as expenses in the year in which they are incurred.

Investment income earned on the temporary investment of specific borrowings pending their expenditure on qualifying assets is deducted from the borrowing cost eligible for capitalisation.

2.21 Earning Per Share

Basic Earning Per Share is calculated by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period.

For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, net profit after tax during the year and the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year are adjusted for the effect of all dilutive potential equity shares.

2.22 Leases

As Lessee

Accounting for finance leases

Leases of Property, Plant and Equipment, if any, where the Company, as lessee has substantially all risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance lease. On initial recognition, assets held under finance leases are recorded as Property, Plant and Equipment and the related liability is recognized under borrowings. At inception of the lease, finance leases are recorded at amounts equal to the fair value of the leased asset or, if lower, the present value of the minimum lease payments. Minimum lease payments made under finance leases are apportioned between the finance expense and the reduction of the outstanding liability.

Accounting for operating leases

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are not transferred to the Company as lessee are classified as operating lease. Payments made under operating leases are recognized as an expense on straight line basis over the lease term.

2.23 Statement of Cash Flows

Statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the Indirect method prescribed in Ind AS-7 'Statement of cash flows.

2.24 Government Grants

Government grants are recognised where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with. When the grant relates to an expense item, it is recognised as income on a systematic basis over the periods that the related costs, for which it is intended to compensate, are expensed. When the grant relates to an asset, it is recognised as income in equal amounts over the expected useful life of the related asset.

Significant actuarial assumptions for the determination of the defined benefit obligation are discount rate, expected salary increase and mortality. The sensitivity analyses below have been determined based on reasonably possible changes of the assumptions occurring at the end of the reporting period, while holding all other assumptions constant.

I. Changes in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% Increase/Decrease in Discount Rate, if all other assumptions remain constant.

Particulars	As at March 31, 2018	As at March 31, 2017
a) Defined benefit obligation	223.08	189.38
b) Defined benefit obligation at 1% Increase in Discount rate	209.45	177.77
c) Defined benefit obligation at 1% Decrease in Discount rate	238.46	202.47
d) Decrease in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% increase in discount rate. (a-b)	13.63	11.61
e) Increase in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% decrease in discount rate. (c-a)	15.38	13.09

II. Changes in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% Increase/Decrease in Expected rate of Salary Escalation, if all other assumptions remain constant.

Particulars	As at March 31, 2018	As at March 31, 2017
a) Defined benefit obligation	223.08	189.38
b) Defined benefit obligation at 1% Increase in Expected Salary Escalation rate	237.81	201.61
c) Defined benefit obligation at 1% Decrease in Expected Salary Escalation rate	209.70	178.15
d) Increase in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% increase in Expected Salary Escalation rate. (b-a)	14.73	12.23
e) Decrease in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% decrease in Expected Salary Escalation rate. (a-c)	13.38	11.22

III. Changes in Defined benefit obligation due to 1% Increase/Decrease in Mortality Rate, if all other assumptions remain constant is negligible.

The sensitivity analysis presented above may not be representative of the actual change in the defined benefit obligation as it is unlikely that the change in assumptions would occur in isolation of one another as some of the assumptions may be correlated.

Furthermore, in presenting the above sensitivity analysis, the present value of the defined benefit obligation has been calculated using the projected unit credit method at the end of the reporting period, which is the same as that applied in calculating the defined benefit obligation liability recognised in the statement of financial position.
