Industry Structure & Development

India's GDP growth is experiencing an upswing following a slump between 2010 and 2013. Estimates from various agencies suggest that the country's economy is gradually on the road to recovery. According to the World Bank India Development Update 2015, the Indian economy grew by 7.3% in fiscal 2015 and India is on course to overtake China to become the world's fastest growing major economy in the next two years.

In 2015-2016, GDP is estimated to grow by around 7.9%. As the economy recovers and grows, flexi-staffing is expected to become an integral part of the expansion plans of companies.

Working group population and characteristics

In India, people aged between 15 to 59 years are typically considered working age population. According to census data, this employable population has experienced a 24.7% growth between 2001 and 2011. This increase far exceeds the growth in India's general population for the same period of 17.7%. The proportion of India's population who are part of the working group population has risen from around 57% in 2001 to 62% in 2011-2012.

The majority of India's population is therefore potentially employable. They can be imparted with the training and skills to make them attractive to employers. As per census data, India's population reached 1,211 million in 2011. India's population therefore has great potential to meet the future demands of the world and become a global sourcing hub for skilled workforce.

Employment in formal vs informal sectors

India's informal sector is currently driving employment. The informal sector comprises all unincorporated proprietary, partnership enterprises and enterprises whose activities or collection of data is not regulated under any legal provision and/or which do not maintain any regular accounts. About 80% of India's workers are in the informal sector, with particularly high levels of informal workers evident in the manufacturing and construction industries.

Formal vs Informal employment by sector (2011-2012)

Formal vs Informal employment in Industry (2011-2012)

Source: NSSO, CRISIL Research

The cumulative effect of low levels of literacy, less-than-adequate skill-sets, and lack of employment opportunities is a high level of self-employment, due to which informal employment dominates employment in most sectors. Complex and tough labour laws have hampered job creation in the formal sector. Many workers also prefer the higher take-home pay that the unorganised framework for a job can provide.

Staffing industry transformation- Opportunities & Threats

India is the world's second largest labour market. Only around 10% of India's labour force works in formal employment. Redefining the nature of employment and having a greater amount of workers in formal employment will be critical if India's economic development is to become more broad-based, not only in terms of regions, but also in terms of social inclusion.

The biggest challenges confronting the Indian employment industry today, and thus the focus points for industry and the government are:

- bringing jobs to people wherever they are located;
- improving skill-sets of the workforce and ensuring employment generation keeps pace with rising literacy;
- regulatory measures to increase formalization of enterprises;
- reducing informal employment to increase social security;
- regulatory push towards formal employment; and
- the introduction of vocational education and training.

The transformation from formal to informal employment will happen in the following three phases-

- Phase 1: operations/risk/compliance
- Phase 2: hiring
- Phase 3: quality of employees

As the government and industry work to address the problems facing the employment sector in India, and to increase the rates of formal employment, there is likely to be huge opportunities generated for the flexi-staffing industry.

Indian labour market transformation

India's poverty is about low productivity. India is on the cusp of a transformation of its five geographies of work.

- Physical geography of work

To boost their presence and meet demand for their products/services, companies are aggressively expanding in tier II and tier III cities. Finding the right manpower for such locations is a challenge. The vast employee requirement versus availability can also be seen from the high concentration of factories in select major states.

Factories in operation across regions (2012-2013)

Nearly 50 percent of factories are setup in five states which leads to significant demand-supply gap of workforce. Here flexi staffing plays a key role in taking jobs to people and people to jobs

Source: Annual Survey of Industries

India's physical landscape is still largely rural, with six lac villages (of which two lac have less than 500 people). Companies incur huge costs to locate, hire and then retrain the right talent. The government has recently announced that it was willing to fund and dedicate contracts to the business process outsourcing industry to create jobs in the North-east and tier II and III cities in the country. There are also 100 'smart cities' planned to be established. This will create jobs in locations outside the traditional industrialised areas.

- Enterprise geography of work

The total number of establishments in India is around 58 million, as per the 6th Economic Census. In the years ahead, the number of enterprises in the country will rise due to factors such as higher GDP growth, an expected increase in the share of establishments located in urban areas and regulatory policy initiatives to attract fresh industry to hitherto less-industrialised areas. Overall, this will lead to an increase in the number of formal enterprises and improve the migration of informal labour into the organized workforce.

- Legislative geography of work

India has a multitude of antiquated employment laws, which reflect dated attitudes and thinking. The number, complexity and outdated nature of these laws can operate to deter industry from giving permanent employment to people, leading to a greater number of jobs being created in the informal sector. Central government is committed to the reform of labour laws and the repeal of outdated legislation.

Recent regulation amendments in the interests of flexi-staffing industries include the ID Act, CLRA Act, the Factories Act and the Apprentices Act.

- Education geography of work

The government, end-use companies and staffing companies are all undertaking efforts to address the skill gap between companies' demand for skilled employees and the low skill availability. The government is undertaking a clear push for skills development. In 2009, the government adopted the National Skill Development Policy with the aim to skill/reskill 500 million people by 2022. The target of providing skills is split cross 17 ministries and the National Skill Development Corporation (a non-profit organization focused on providing training).

Finally, various vocational skill programmes have been set up by various stakeholders joining together, such as the NETAP (enabled by TeamLease, the Confederation of Indian Industry, and the National Skill Development Corporation). These impart vocational training to employees, again further increasing their employability and attractiveness to end use companies.

- Sectoral geography of work

The low productivity of India's labor force working in agriculture means that most of India's self-employed are part of India's working poor; people who make enough money to live but not enough money to get out of poverty.

Only 11% of the labour force works in manufacturing, which is the same percentage as in post-industrial United States. The government aims to double the labour force working in manufacturing. This will create opportunities for flexi-staffing companies to provide the required workers.

Flexi Staffing Industry Overview

Globally, the staffing industry has grown considerably over the past few years. According to the CIETT Economic Report 2014, the industry size had reached 11.5 million workers by the end of 2012. Thus, despite the slump in the aftermath of the financial crisis, and the resultant economic slowdown, the industry still had a 7% growth rate over the last decade.

Amongst 11.5 million workers, Europe employed the largest number of people in 2012. South America and North America represented around 38% of the total number of workers. The Asia/Pacific region employs another 16%.

Geographical breakdown (2012)

Source: CIETT Economic Report 2014; based on data from 43 countries for which data is available

In 2012, India's flexi-staffing penetration rate based on the total workforce was only 0.3%. It is therefore an acutely underpenetrated market, with vast opportunities. There is a growing awareness among corporates globally of the advantages of flexi-staffing. Over the next few years, this will encourage more companies to consider flexi-staffing as a viable employment option.

Indian flexi-staffing industry overview

A gradual movement towards a more formal set up to employment is anticipated to occur due to various factors such as the increasing number of enterprises turning formal, skills development and regulatory amends in favour of formal and flexi-staffing industries. There are opportunities for the flex-staffing industry to take advantage of across various segments of employment.

Overall current industry size

- Employment numbers: In 2013-14, it is estimated that the employees in the flexi-industry was between 1.6-1.8 million.
- Penetration levels: Based on the total workforce, penetration levels for 2013-14 are estimated to be 0.4%.
- Segmental mix: The segmental mix in the flexi-staffing industry for the years 2011-2012 was follows:

Segmental Mix (2011-2012)

Source: CRISIL Research

- Industry size: The flexi-staffing industry in India as of 2013-2014 in value terms is around ` 180-220 billion. The average wages of flexi-staffing worker is assumed to be around `8,000-10,000 (which reflects weighted average wages for organised and unorganised players).

Industry structure & competition

Flexi-staffing companies operate using a tri-partite agreement between the flexi-worker, the staffing intermediary and the end user. The flexi-staffing company receives a percentage of every employee's salary, remuneration and other applicable benefits.

The flexi-staffing industry is marked by the presence of many large multinationals (such as Adecco, Randstad and Manpower) and Indian players (such as TeamLease, Quesscorp, Innov, etc.). However, the industry in India remains largely fragmented, with small and medium players accounting for nearly 70-80% of the overall industry.

Market share of players by number of associates (2014)

Source: CRISIL Research

The absence of strict compliance and regulations pertaining to the flexi-staffing industry has led to the entry of many unorganised players, who often discard the cost of compliance and, as a result, offer employees at a relatively economical cost compared to organised flexi-staffing companies who follow all the compliance procedures and incur the reflective costs. The use of these unorganised players is particularly common in certain industries, such as manufacturing. The flexi-staffing industry is therefore relatively fragmented.

Market Outlook

Overall current industry growth

- Employment

The overall workforce is expected to grow at a CAGR of 2-3% during 2011-12 to 2018-2019. Sectors such as manufacturing, financial, real estate and business services and retail will continue to have a relatively higher proportion of the workforce. Sectors such as IT enabled services and banking, financial services and insurance are expected to have relatively higher growth in overall employment as compared to other sectors.

Total Industry Employment (Data excludes employment in Agriculture)

Source: CRISIL Research

The formal workplace is expected to grow at a CAGR of 9-10% during 2011-2012 to 2018-2019. This increase will be across sectors as newer labour laws come into force, and the general overall workforce grows. Apart from manufacturing, which is expected to constitute a large amount of the overall formal employee base, sectors such as fast moving consumer goods and logistics are expected to account for a significant proportion of the formal workforce.

Finally, flexi-staffing is expected to grow at a CAGR of around 20-25% between 2013-2014 and 2018-2019. Although there are new upcoming sectors such as e-commerce that will create fresh demand for flexi-staffing in India, the dominance of manufacturing (which has large proportion of unorganised players) in the industry will increase. Amendments to labour laws will increase the occurrence of flexi-staffing being used.

- Penetration of flexi staffing within overall employment

The penetration of flexi-staffing is expected to witness strong growth owing to various factors which include increasing number of enterprises turning formal, skill development and regulatory amendments in favour of formal and flexi-staffing industry. The initiatives taken by the flexi-staffing industry, such as training services, are also likely to add to the industry growth over the long term. The growth in penetration levels expected to be witnessed over the next 5 years is largely in line with many global economies who witnessed similar growth pattern.

- Industry size

The flexi-staffing industry in India as of 2013-2014 in value terms was around 180-220 billion. The average wages for the flexi-staffing workers is assumed to be around ` 8,000-10,000 (which reflects weighted average of wages for organised and unorganised players). Over the next 5 years, the flexi-staffing industry is expected to grow by 25-30% to attain a value of around ` 610-640 billion.

Total Flexi-staffing industry size (in Rs billion)

Source: CRISIL Research

This growth is owing to various factors, including an increasing number of enterprises turning formal, skill development and regulatory amendments in favour of formal employment.

- Segmental mix

Over the long term, it is expected that the manufacturing sector will increase the outsourcing of its labour force to third-party staffers. The other end-use sectors are expected to largely remain stable, except for a sharp decline in the retail segment owing to the large-scale increase in e-retailing. Nevertheless, fast moving consumer goods & retail are expected to constitute a significant proportion of the overall flexi-staff industry due to end-use size.

The IT segment is expected to drive flexi-staffing demand in the future. The need for technically upgraded skill-sets coupled with the high cost of acquiring talent is expected to encourage the industry to consider flexi-staffing as a potential solution.

Business Strategy

Our business strategy is to grow our business by increasing the scale and reliability of our business, and building trust with our Associate Employees and Clients. The individual components of our business strategy are set forth below:

1. Develop new areas of growth by diversifying service offerings across the human resources value chain (adjacent services);
2. Achieving scale in staffing through technology, operational excellence, compliance, business development and hiring capabilities;
3. Continue to grow through strategic acquisitions and expand to high margin services; and
4. Maintain capital light and asset light business model.

Risk Management and Internal Controls

Our enterprise risk management programme (ERM) involves risk identification, assessment and risk mitigation planning for financial, operational and compliance related risks across business units. Compliance management has been significantly strengthened by the deployment of an integrated compliance management and governance framework. The risk reports prepared by the Chief Risk Officer are reviewed by the management at regular intervals. The Company maintains adequate internal control system, which provides, inter-alia, reasonable assurance of recording the transactions of its operations in all material aspects and of providing protection against significant misuse or loss of Company's assets. A robust internal financial control framework is deployed and reported to the board of directors periodically.

Some of TeamLease key risks and their corresponding mitigation strategy have been highlighted below:

Key Risk	Impact of risk	Mitigation/Strategy
Competition Risk	We operate in a highly competitive and fragmented industry with low barriers to entry and may be unable to compete successfully against existing or new competitors, particularly in the unorganized segment.	Our continued success depends on our ability to compete effectively against our existing and future competitors. The Company has deep domain knowledge, delivery capabilities and efficient sales force help retain its competitive positioning amongst peers.
Global economic scenario	Demand for staffing services is significantly affected by the general level of commercial activity and economic conditions in the regions and sectors in which we operate. An economic downturn in a region or sector in which we operate may adversely affect our operations in that region or sector, as the use of temporary employees may decrease or fewer permanent employees may be hired.	TeamLease has been in the flexi staffing business for over 14 years and has been managing the fluctuations in general economic activity. We have a well-diversified and de-risked business mix across industries and verticals.
Extensive Government Regulations	The staffing services sector is subject to complex laws and regulations. These laws and regulations cover the following such as Minimum Wages Act, ESI Act, CLRA Act, EPF Act and ID Act, which vary from state to state in India and are subject to change. Changes in laws or government regulations may result in prohibition or restriction of certain types of employment services, or the imposition of new or additional licensing or tax requirements that could reduce our revenues and earnings.	The Company has adequate and well defined business contingency plans to deal with the changing regulatory environment. We have an in-house regulatory team of over 90 employees to deal with all applicable labour laws and compliances.
M&A and Integration Risk	M&A's and its integrations by nature involve risks relating to failure to achieve strategic objectives, financial loss, cultural and financial integration etc. We may be unable to fully realize the anticipated benefits of any future acquisitions successfully or within our intended timeframe.	The company has well laid out plans and acquisition policy. It uses M&A to fill up gaps in its portfolio of competency/ services, verticals and client access. The company undertakes extensive due diligence and deals are evaluated by the board.
Attrition	We must continually evaluate our base of available qualified personnel to keep pace with changing client needs. There can be no assurance that qualified personnel will continue to be available in sufficient numbers and on terms of employment acceptable to us.	Flexi staffing business is subject to high attrition rate among the temp resources. The company assigns targets to its sales force post considering the impact of attrition.
Operational Risks	Our ability to operate our business, maintain our competitive position and implement our business strategy is dependent to a significant extent on our operational excellence and back-end HR support.	Our core management team oversees the day-to-day operations, implementation of strategy and growth of our business. We make continuous investments in technology to improve quality and productivity.

1. We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of TeamLease Services Limited ("the Company") as of March 31, 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.
4. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.
5. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

6. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

7. Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

8. In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

i. Basis of preparation:

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the generally accepted accounting principles in India under the historical cost convention on accrual basis. Pursuant to Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014 till the Standards of Accounting or any addendum thereto are prescribed by Central Government in consultation and recommendation of the National Financial Reporting Authority, the existing Accounting Standards notified under the Companies Act, 1956 shall continue to apply. Consequently, these financial statements have been prepared to comply in all material aspects with the Accounting Standards notified under Section 211(3C) [Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006, as amended] and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

All the assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realization in cash and cash equivalents, the Company has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current - non current classification of assets and liabilities.

ii. Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires the management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) as on the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses during the reported period. The management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Difference between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the period in which results are known or materialized.

iii. Tangible Assets:

Tangible Assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure related to an item of fixed asset is added to its book value only if it increases the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance.

Items of fixed assets that have been retired from active use and are held for disposal are stated at the lower of their net book value and net realizable value and are shown separately in the financial statements. Any expected loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, losses arising from retirement of, and gains or losses arising from disposal of fixed assets which are carried at cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The residual value of all assets is assumed as zero based on historical trend of the Company. Leasehold Improvements are amortized over the period of lease. Assets costing less than Rs. 5,000 are fully depreciated in the year of acquisition.

Notes to the Financial Statements forming part of Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2016 and Statement of Profit and Loss for the year ended March 31, 2016

iv. Intangible Assets:

Intangible assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. A rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use is considered by the management. The amortisation period and the amortisation method are reviewed at least at each financial year end and if the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from previous estimates, the amortisation period is changed accordingly.

Internal development of intangible assets are capitalised either individually or as a knowledge bank in the form of software, once their technical feasibility and ability to generate future economic benefits is established in accordance with the requirement of Accounting Standard 26. Expenditure directly attributable to the development of an Intangible asset in accordance with the requirements of Accounting Standard 26 are capitalized.

Gain or loss arising from the retirement or disposal of an intangible asset is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and recognised as income or expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The amortization rates used are:

Asset	Useful life
Computer Software	3 years

v. Borrowing Costs:

Borrowing costs include interest and amortization of ancillary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. All other borrowing costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

vi. Impairment of Assets:

Assessment is done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an asset (tangible or intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash flows from other assets or groups of assets, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/cash generating unit is made.

Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Assessment is done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognized for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased.

vii. Investments:

Investments are classified into long term investments and current investments. Investments that are readily realisable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date, are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long term investments. Current investments are carried at cost or fair value, whichever is lower. Long term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline, other than temporary, in the value of investments, such reduction being determined and made for each investment individually.

In case of investments in units of a mutual fund, the net asset value of units is considered at the market / fair value.

viii. Inventories:

Inventories are stated at lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method and includes applicable costs incurred in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

xiii. Provisions and Contingent Liabilities:

Provisions: Provisions are recognised when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and there is a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation. Provisions are measured at the best estimate of the expenditure required to settle the present obligation at the Balance sheet date and are not discounted to its present value.

Contingent Liabilities: Contingent liabilities are disclosed when there is a possible obligation arising from past events, the existence of which will be confirmed only by the occurrence or non occurrence of one or more uncertain future events not wholly within the control of the company or a present obligation that arises from past events where it is either not probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle or a reliable estimate of the amount cannot be made.

xiv. Leases:

Leases in which a significant portion of the risks and rewards of ownership are retained by the lessor are classified as operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are charged to the Statement of Profit and Loss based on the terms of the agreement and the effect of lease equalisation is not given considering the increment is on account of inflation factor.

xv. Segment Reporting

The accounting policies adopted for segment reporting are in conformity with the accounting policies adopted for the Company. Revenue and expenses have been identified to segments on the basis of their relationship to the operating activities of the segment. Revenue and expenses, which relate to the Company as a whole and are not allocable to segments on a reasonable basis, have been included under "Unallocated expenses/income".

xvi. Cash and Cash Equivalents

In the Cash Flow Statement, Cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, demand deposits with banks and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

xvii. Earnings Per Share:

Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Earnings considered in ascertaining the Company's earnings per share is the net profit for the period after deducting preference dividends and any attributable tax thereto for the period. The weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period and for all periods presented is adjusted for events, such as bonus shares, other than the conversion of potential equity shares, that have changed the number of equity shares outstanding, without a corresponding change in resources. For the purpose of calculating diluted earnings per share, the net profit or loss for the period attributable to equity shareholders and weighted average number of shares outstanding during the period is adjusted for the effects of all dilutive potential equity shares.

Annexure A to Independent Auditors' Report

Referred to in paragraph 9 (f) of the Independent Auditors' Report of even date to the members of TeamLease Services Limited on the consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2016

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Act

1. In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended March 31, 2016, we have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of TeamLease Services Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company") and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

2. The respective Board of Directors of the Holding company and its subsidiary companies which are companies incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

3. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the ICAI and the Standards on Auditing deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of internal financial controls and both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.
4. Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.
5. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

6. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

7. Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Opinion

8. In our opinion, the Holding Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Other Matters

9. Our aforesaid report under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls over financial reporting insofar as it relates to two subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

2.3 Significant Accounting Policies:

i. Basis of Accounting

All assets and liabilities have been classified as current or non-current as per the Company's normal operating cycle and other criteria set out in the Schedule III to the Companies Act, 2013. Based on the nature of products and the time between the acquisition of assets for processing and their realisation in cash and cash equivalents, the group has ascertained its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current- non current classification of assets and liabilities.

ii. Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements requires the management to make estimates and assumptions considered in the reported amounts of assets and liabilities (including contingent liabilities) as on the date of the financial statements and the reported income and expenses during the reported period. The management believes that the estimates used in preparation of the financial statements are prudent and reasonable. Difference between the actual results and estimates are recognized in the period in which results are known or materialized.

iii. Tangible Assets:

Tangible Assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Subsequent expenditure related to an item of fixed asset is added to its book value only if it increases the future benefits from the existing asset beyond its previously assessed standard of performance. Items of fixed assets that have been retired from active use and are held for disposal are stated at the lower of their net book value and net realizable value and are shown separately in the financial statements. Any expected loss is recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss, losses arising from retirement of, and gains or losses arising from disposal of fixed assets which are carried at cost are recognised in the Statement of Profit and Loss. Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets prescribed under Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The residual value of all assets is assumed as zero based on historical trend of the Company. Leasehold Improvements are amortized over the period of lease. Assets costing less than Rs. 5,000 are fully depreciated in the year of acquisition.

iv. Intangible Assets:

Intangible assets are stated at acquisition cost, net of accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Intangible assets are amortised on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives. A rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use is considered by the management. The amortisation period and the amortisation method are reviewed at least at each financial year end and if the expected useful life of the asset is significantly different from previous estimates, the amortisation period is changed accordingly.

Internal development of intangible assets are capitalised either individually or as a knowledge bank in the form of software, once their technical feasibility and ability to generate future economic benefits is established in accordance with the requirement of Accounting Standard 26. Expenditure directly attributable to the development of an Intangible asset in accordance with the requirements of Accounting Standard 26 are capitalized.

Gain or loss arising from the retirement or disposal of an intangible asset is determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and recognised as income or expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss. The amortization rates used are:

Asset	Useful life
Computer Software	3 years

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statement forming part of Consolidated Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2016 and Consolidated Statement of Profit and Loss for the year ended March 31, 2016

v. Borrowing Costs:

Borrowing costs include interest and amortization of ancillary costs incurred in connection with the arrangement of borrowings to the extent they are regarded as an adjustment to the interest cost.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of qualifying assets, which are assets that take a substantial period of time to get ready for their intended use or sale, are added to the cost of those assets, until such time as the assets are substantially ready for their intended use or sale. All other borrowing costs are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss in the period in which they are incurred.

vi. Impairment of Assets:

Assessment is done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an asset (tangible or intangible) may be impaired. For the purpose of assessing impairment, the smallest identifiable group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash flows from other assets or groups of assets, is considered as a cash generating unit. If any such indication exists, an estimate of the recoverable amount of the asset/cash generating unit is made.

Assets whose carrying value exceeds their recoverable amount are written down to the recoverable amount. Recoverable amount is higher of an asset's or cash generating unit's net selling price and its value in use. Value in use is the present value of estimated future cash flows expected to arise from the continuing use of the asset and from its disposal at the end of its useful life. Assessment is done at each balance sheet date as to whether there is any indication that an impairment loss recognized for an asset in prior accounting periods may no longer exist or may have decreased.

vii. Investments:

Investments are classified into long term investments and current investments. Investments that are readily realisable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date are classified as current investments. All other investments are classified as long term investments. Current investments are carried at cost or fair value, whichever is lower. Long term investments are carried at cost. However, provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline, other than temporary, in the value of investments, such reduction being determined and made for each investment

In case of investments in units of a mutual fund, the net asset value of units is considered as the market / fair value.

viii. Inventories:

Inventories are stated at lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method and includes applicable costs incurred in bringing the inventory to their present location and condition. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated cost of completion and the estimated cost necessary to make the sale.

ix. Foreign Currency Translation:

Initial Recognition :-

On initial recognition, all foreign currency transactions are recorded by applying to the foreign currency amount the exchange rate between the reporting currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Subsequent Recognition :-

As at the reporting date, non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. All non-monetary items which are carried at fair value or other similar valuation denominated in foreign currency are reported using the exchange rates that existed when the values were determined.

All monetary assets and liabilities in foreign currency are restated at the end of accounting period.

Exchange differences on restatement of all other monetary items are recognized in the Statement of Profit and Loss.

Further, interest at the applicable rate has also been levied. The management has already filed an appeal against this Order. The Act has been amended to take retrospective effect w.e.f. April 01, 2014 and accordingly revised bonus (including arrears related to the year ended March 31, 2015) is required to be paid to the eligible employees. Based on expert legal opinion obtained by the company and stay orders from various high courts across the country, the amendment to the Payment of Bonus Act to the extent that it gives retrospective effect from 1.4.2014 in respect of statutory bonus has not been recognised and treated as contingent liability. Hence, the Company has recognized additional statutory bonus of Rs. 261,866,742 for the year ended March 31, 2016 forming part of salaries, wages and bonus with a corresponding amount included in provision for employee benefits payable as at March 31, 2016.
