CHAIRMAN'S COMMUNIQUÉ

Dear Shareholders,

The world is still grappling with a fragile economic recovery. However, if properly analysed, we can safely claim that future growth prospects will hinge on two critical factors: a) the ability of European policy makers to rein in the Euro crisis without further confusion; b) the US government's capability to rappel safely on ground from the enormous fiscal cliff, without reducing public spending or allowing tax increases considerably. These factors will have important ramifications for the emerging economies including India.

India's pro-reform approach will augur well for the country's long-term economic growth. One encouraging turn of events is the recent surge (8.2% in October) in manufacturing output, pushing India's industrial growth to its highest in more than one year. This is widely interpreted as a sign that Asia's third largest economy is gathering pace, despite sluggish growth and a high rate of inflation.

In the Commercial Vehicle (CV) industry, the year under review began well and we saw January-March 2012 quarter registering a record production in Medium & Heavy Commercial Vehicles (M&HCV) space. But the second half of 2011-12 saw a sharp decline in the number of vehicles produced, owing to global headwinds and faltering business confidence.

Moreover, there was a decline in tipper truck production due to reduced mining activity. However, we are witnessing that the CV industry is moving towards higher tonnage vehicles, as it provides higher operating efficiency to fleet owners and more 'tonnage per km', ensuring optimised variable cost. This is encouraging for us as we are predominantly catering to the HCV segment.

The industry is not going to fare any better in the coming few months, but the second half of 2013 is expected to see a gradual strengthening of the economy. The automobile industry is also expected to revive, simultaneously pushing demand for automobile ancillaries. With more than 30 years of industry presence, Automotive Axles Limited (AAL) has navigated several industry cycles through relevant risk-focused initiatives.

In 2011-12, we focused on sustainability in the face of multiple challenges like demand slowdown nationally and internationally and a high rate of inflation. We registered a topline of ₹ 10,445.64 Million, representing a marginal decline as compared to ₹ 11,144.89 Million in 2010-11 which was on account of demand slowdown. The EBIDTA was ₹ 1,032.21 Million in 2011-12 as against ₹ 1,171.06 Million last year.

India's pro-reform approach will augur well for the country's long-term economic growth. One encouraging turn of events is the recent surge (8.2% in October) in manufacturing output, pushing India's industrial growth to its highest in more than one year.

Profit after tax stood at ₹ 450.18 Million in 2011-12 against ₹ 575.57 Million during the previous year. The earnings per share stood at ₹ 29.79.

During the year, we launched two-speed axle for Ashok Leyland and Tata Motors. We also successfully launched two-speed axle for Ashok Leyland's haulage applications. Moreover, we expanded our customer portfolio and initiated new business with existing customers. We also enhanced our value-added product basket to cater to a larger pie of our customer's requirements. We also strengthened our supply chain management capability to help us provide faster response to customer demands.

As part of our Group initiatives to produce green energy, we have installed one wind turbine generator with 2 MW aggregate capacity at Tithwa, Gujarat. This will enable us to reduce our environmental impact by focusing on wind energy. Green energy will also entitle us for Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) benefits.

ROAD AHEAD FOR AAL

- Diversify our portfolio for existing and new clients, driving both volumes and margins
- Explore opportunities into the CV market with our 'Green Axle' (2-Speed Axle) and the hub-reduction axle
- Strengthen our presence in brakes, aftermarket and trailer businesses
- Widen visibility in the under-penetrated markets of USA, France, Italy, China and Brazil
- Generate repeat business from existing clients
- Strengthen intellectual capital through timely recruitments

We are driven by our people. Our achievement is the result of our people, who are willing to take challenges in their strides. We are more determined than ever to put our competitive advantages to work for long-term stakeholder returns.

As businesses are continuously being reshaped by global headwinds, we will continue to stay on course by virtue of our wide product basket, quality excellence and evolving marketing strategies. With the entry of global automobile players in the Indian market the prospects for our products are growing stronger.

Dr. B N Kalyani

Chairman

As businesses are continuously being reshaped by global headwinds, we will continue to stay on course by virtue of our wide product basket, quality excellence and evolving marketing strategies.

MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

INDIAN ECONOMIC OVERVIEW

The year under review (October 2011 – September 2012) began on a cautious note with GDP falling continuously since quarter ending September 2010. The GDP grew 6.1% in the first quarter and continued to perform discouragingly 5.3% in the second quarter and 5.5% in the third quarter in the succeeding quarters. Increasing fuel and food prices, coupled with economic uncertainty and sluggish exports, resulted in the lowest GDP growth witnessed in the Q2 (quarter ending March 2012). However, towards the end of the year, the growth story painted a slightly more reassuring picture with government focusing on reforms to regain investor confidence.

After decelerating for over four successive quarters from 9.2% y-o-y in Q4 of FY 2010-11 to 5.3% in Q4 of FY 2011-12, the fiscal year 2011-12 closed with a GDP of 6.5%, much lower than the preceding two years. However, GDP growth was marginally higher at 5.5% in Q1 of FY 2012-13. The slight improvement in GDP growth in Q1 of FY 2012-13 was primarily driven by growth in construction and supported by better than expected growth in agriculture.

While headline inflation related to the wholesale price index (WPI) hovered around 9.5% at the start of the year, it gradually came down in the succeeding months to 7% levels primarily due to the receding demand from consumers. Towards the end of the year under review, inflation rose to 7.8% (September 2012) due to strong consumer demand. Amid growing inflation, RBI has clearly stated that its efforts will be to rein in inflation and support growth.

Index of Industrial Production (IIP), an indicator of industrial growth, showed a meagre growth of 2.9% in year ended March 2012. While the power sector showed a strong growth of 8.9% (Y-o-Y), mining sector de-grew 2% as a consequence of mining ban imposed on several states in India. The manufacturing sector, which contributes 75.5% to the IIP index, saw a modest growth of 3%, largely due to sluggish economic growth. The CMIE (Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy) however has estimated that in FY 2012-13 (April-March) the industrial output grew at 5.1%, which is lower than the preceding 7-year average of 7.9%, but significantly higher than the growth witnessed in FY 2012-13.

The Indian currency (₹) weakened sharply during the year, touching levels of ₹ 57 against the US dollar and continues to be weak at ₹ 53 levels during the end of the year. The rupee over the past year has been volatile. While weakening rupee helped the IT sector and exporters, it adversely impacted the trade deficit, which rose to US$ 189.7 Billion in the year ending March 2012, compared to the deficit of US$ 130.6 Billion in the corresponding period the year before. Rising crude oil prices, coupled with drying-up of FDI smothered the rupee against the dollar. However, the rupee is expected to strengthen following the government's focus on reforms, breaking the prevailing culture of policy impasse and low investor confidence. Sluggish economic growth affected each and every industry and the Commercial Vehicle (CV) industry was no exception; it posted negative growth in the year under review.

INDUSTRY STRUCTURE AND DEVELOPMENTS Medium & Heavy Commercial Vehicles (M&HCV) (GVW above 7.5T)

India stands as the fifth largest manufacturer of commercial vehicle globally. M&HCV saw a strong growth in the first half (October 2011 – March 2012) of the year under review and a sharp decline in second half (April – September 2012). While production in the first half grew 12.4% over the corresponding period in the previous year, second half de-grew 17.4%, making it an overall 2.4% de-growth.

In Q2 (January – March 2012) 111,982 vehicles were produced, which was a historical high; 69,290 vehicles were produced in Q3 (April – June 2012) which was the lowest quarterly production since January 2010. Overall, 351,543 vehicles were produced during the year under review, which is 2.4% lower than 360,358 units during the previous year.

M&HCV Domestic sales posted de-growth of 1% to reach 328,881 units, whereas exports declined 18% over the previous year to reach 24,508 units. While the haulage truck production slowed down in line with slowdown in the economy, tipper production dropped (-10%) much more than the market drop, due to mining ban in several states.

M&HCV Industry Growth

	2011-12 (Oct - Sept)	2010-11 (Oct - Sept)	B(W)	% growth
Production
MCV (7.5-12 T)	72,560	67,011	5,549	8%
HCV (> 12 T)	278,983	293,347	(14,364)	-5%
Domestic Sales
MCV (7.5-12 T)	81,557	74,858	6,699	9%
HCV (> 12 T)	247,324	257,126	(9,802)	-4%
Exports
MCV (7.5-12 T)	4,394	4,027	367	9%
HCV (> 12 T)	20,114	25,872	(5,758)	-22%

Source: Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM)

Improving infrastructure and roadways means that the commercial vehicle industry in general will move towards higher tonnage vehicles. Fuel prices saw a hike of around 10% in order to reduce the subsidy burden of the government. Rising fuel prices and paucity of drivers are compelling fleet owners to look for vehicles, with higher operating efficiency rather than the initial cost of vehicle acquisition.

Outlook of M&HCV

The cumulative foreign direct investment (FDI) in the automobile industry stood at US$ 6,992 Million (between April 2000 to July 2012). This accounted for 4% of the total FDI inflows up till this period (Source: IBEF). The domestic CV market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 10-11% by FY 2017. The demand for M&HCV is likely to decline in the near term. However, the long term growth factors are expected to remain intact. Investments of around ₹ 4000-4,500 Crore are expected in the auto sector in over the next two years, creating significant opportunities (Source: CARE)

India's auto component industry

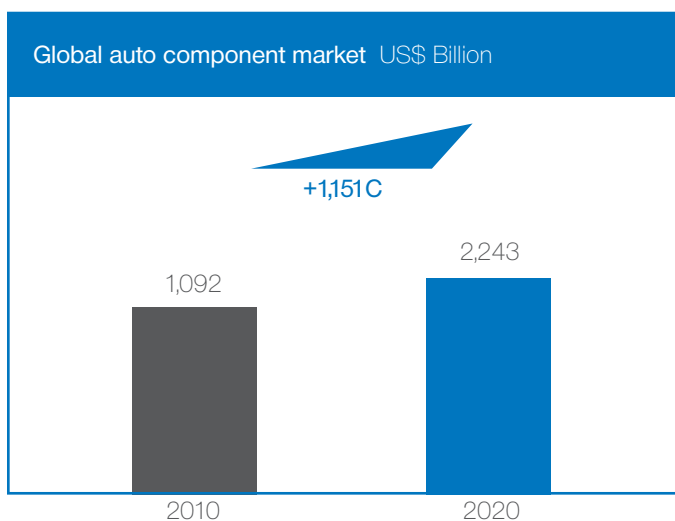

The Indian auto component industry is valued at ₹ 1,600 Billion. According to industry estimates, around 60% of the revenue is derived from sales to OEMs, 25% from domestic replacement market and 15% is derived from the export market (Source: ICRA, 2012).

Indian auto component industry has achieved strong growth US$ Billion

Outlook

The domestic auto component industry has experienced healthy growth, led by strong domestic demand. Both the auto and auto-component market is expected to witness sizeable growth. The global auto-component market is expected to be worth US$ 2,243 Billion in 2020.

Road Ahead

- The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) lowered GDP growth projection for FY 2012-13 to 5.8%, from 6.5% earlier, in view of global and domestic factors like poor investments and subdued demand
- The CV industry has entered a recovery phase as seen by a rise in production volumes in the last 2 months of the year under review. Next year M&HCV production is expected to be at level par with FY 2010-11.
- The government faces stiff challenges in stemming inflation, fostering growth and gaining investor confidence.

The Automotive Mission Plan (AMP) 2006-2016 envisages India to emerge as the destination of choice for design and manufacture of automobiles and auto components. It targets to take the level of output to US$ 145 Billion, which would account for more than 10% of the GDP and provide additional employment to 25 Million people by 2016.

Growth Drivers

Infrastructure investments

The Government has planned an investment of ₹ 65 lakh Crore under the 12th Five Year Plan (FY13-17) [Source: PMEAC] in order to sustain a real GDP growth rate of 9%. Almost half of this investment is planned for construction projects like roadways, rail and aviation. Investments in road sector are projected to grow at a CAGR of 16% over FY 2011-14 [Source: Antique – India Auto sector].

Agricultural production

Deficit monsoons adversely impacted the performance of agricultural sector and the sowing of Kharif crops declined by 18%, compared to that of last year. The CV industry was also affected, as evident from the lower production of haulage trucks in the months of May-July 2012. The agriculture sector is expected to do well in FY 2012-13, but major crop production is projected to fall by 0.5% [Source: CMIE]

Industrial output

Industrial output, which influences CV industry growth, to a large extent is expected to grow by 5.1% in FY 2012 -13 [Source: CMIE]. This is buoyed up by the pent-up demand and government's measures to curb inflation.

Government initiatives

The AMP 2006-2016 aims at doubling the contribution of automotive sector in gross domestic product (GDP) by taking the turnover to US$ 145 Billion in 2016 with special emphasis on the export of small cars, multi-utility vehicles (MUVs), two & three wheelers and auto components [Source: IBEF].

Rural market penetration

Growth in FY 2012-13 is likely to come from higher penetration and wider reach across tier 2 and tier 3 markets. Gradual increase in connectivity and increasing consumerism in rural areas will drive the growth of commercial vehicles ahead.

Exports

India has emerged as a centre of global manufacturing, backed by lower input costs, availability of local supplier base and skillful manpower. Your Company is ideally placed to leverage this opportunity from the global markets.

Opportunities

Your Company is already exploring opportunities in the CV market with its 'Green Axle' (2-Speed Axle) and the hub-reduction axle, which were launched in a phased manner in FY 2011 and FY 2012. The management's focused effort to strengthen its presence in brakes, aftermarket and trailer business, your Company foresees significant business opportunities, going forward.

Risks and Concerns

Challenging global conditions: The adverse impacts of global financial crisis and the relentless European debt crisis continue to be a global cause for concern. A weak global economy and the possibility of another economic slowdown pose a downside risk to the CV industry demand.

High inflationary pressure: Over the last 18 months, India has been facing high inflationary pressures: hike in interest rates, accompanied by growing input costs and suppressed demand. Such a scenario has impacted the demand across all sectors.

Input costs: High commodity prices still remain an area of concern, warranting resource optimisation, value engineering and an effective supply chain and inventory management.

Hike in fuel prices: Oil prices hovered in the range of US$ 110 in FY 2011-12. Going ahead, high oil demand from emerging markets and suppressed supplies are expected to keep the fuel prices at high levels. The high fuel prices would adversely impact the demand for the automotive industry.

Internal Control Systems and their adequacy

Your Company has a proper and adequate system of internal controls, commensurate with its nature of business and the size of its operations.

The internal control measures have been instituted to ensure that all the assets are safeguarded and are not exposed to risks, arising out of unauthorised use or disposal and also to ensure that assets are properly accounted for and transactions are authorised, recorded and reported correctly.

The internal controls are periodically reviewed by the Internal Audit team, which is performed by Price Waterhouse Coopers Pvt. Ltd, to ensure independence of the audit. The Audit Committee of the Board, chaired by an Independent Director, reviews the Internal Audit Reports periodically and ensures that recommendations of the auditors are implemented effectively.

Employees have always played a major role in organisational success. We ensure continuous development programme at all levels for the enhancement of skills and motivate our employees. The Succession and Development programme is also restructured for effective talent management and to facilitate de-risking of various critical positions.

Safety, Health and Environment (SHE) Management

Safety

The role of your Company for safety at work is to help protect workers by collecting, analyzing and disseminating information on safety at work, and by promoting a culture of prevention of accidents.
