COMPANY PERFORMANCE

Net sales on a consolidated basis decreased by 8.3% to `149,378 lacs as against `162,918 lacs in FY2015. This was a clear reflection of the prevailing difficult global macroeconomic scenario. Recovery of the global auto industry remained fragmented which had a bearing on our Automotive segment performance. Erratic monsoon over the past couple of years and drought like situation in many parts of the country continued to impact the Indian agriculture industry resulting in weak farmer sentiment for most of the year. Although there were early signs of recovery in the hydraulics industry environment during the last quarter of the fiscal year 2016 both in the UK and India. In the Aerospace segment, the Company has made investments over the last two years in building capacities for the execution of orders for Airbus, Boeing and Bell. During Q4 FY2016, commercial deliverables for the projects to Boeing Chinook CH-47F Helicopter started resulting in improved performance of the Aerospace segment. Revenue growth during the year also included a negative impact of unfavorable foreign exchange fluctuation of `5,847 lacs, in particular EURO-INR.

EBITDA on a consolidated basis was `14,108 lacs as against `15,143 lacs in FY2015 representing a decline of (6.8)%. Of this decline, `263 lacs was due to unfavourable foreign exchange fluctuation, in particular EURO-INR. Despite a decline in the topline, EBITDA margins were sustained at 9.4%. Interest Expenses declined from `7,995 lacs in FY2015 to `7,275 lacs in FY2016. Net Profit Before Tax for the year on a consolidated basis was `2,089 lacs as against `4,992 lacs in FY2015. Profit during the year FY2015 also included an exceptional item of `1,909 lacs on account of gain on sale of non-core assets. Net Profit After Tax on a consolidated basis is `1,228 lacs as against `2,865 lacs in FY2015.

The Aerospace & Defence segment grew from ₹26,020 lacs in FY2015 to ₹26,981 lacs FY2016 on account of ramp up of the order book and commercial deliveries of project to Boeing Chinook CH-47. Profit (Before Interest & Tax) increased from ₹5,403 lacs to ₹6,555 lacs. This includes the turnover from the Aerospace division of Dynamatic Limited, UK, a subsidiary of your Company, to the extent of ₹12,233 lacs and Profit (Before Interest & Tax) of ₹1,297 lacs.

The Hydraulics and Precision Engineering segment declined to ₹26,132 lacs from ₹29,218 lacs in 2015 due to the poor agriculture industry environment. Profit (Before Interest & Tax) decreased from ₹2,806 lacs to ₹2,338 lacs. This includes the turnover from the Hydraulics division of Dynamatic Limited, UK, a subsidiary of your Company, to the extent of ₹9,591 lacs and Profit (Before Interest & Tax) of ₹102 lacs.

The Automotive and Metallurgy business declined from ₹1,07,498 lacs to ₹96,052 lacs while Profit (Before Interest & Tax) decreased to ₹900 lacs from ₹2,336 lacs. This includes the turnover from Eisenwerk Erla GmbH, a subsidiary of your Company to the extent of ₹83,146 lacs and Profit (Before Interest & Tax) of ₹3,627 lacs. Exports from India have gone down by 2% with sales of ₹15,310 lacs against the previous year's ₹15,655 lacs.

GLOBAL MACROECONOMIC SCENARIO

Global economy is exposed to a number of risks including slowing growth in China, a strong US dollar and declining commodity prices. The emerging market economies look the most vulnerable while advanced economies are still struggling to escape the low economic growth environment almost a decade since the global financial crises.

The world economy stumbled in calendar year (CY) 2015 and the global recovery has weakened further amid weak aggregate demand, falling commodity prices (in particular crude oil) and increasing financial market volatility in major economies. Growth in emerging market and developing economies still accounted for over 70% of the global growth and it declined for the fifth consecutive year.

Global growth disappointed again in CY2015, slowing to 3.1%, and is expected to recover at a slower pace than previously anticipated. Global output is projected to reach 3.2% in CY2016 and further improve by 3.5% in CY2017. The global economic recovery is expected to pick up pace from CY2017 onwards driven by emerging markets and developing economies.

Growth in the United States fell to 2.4% in CY2015. GDP growth slowed in the second half of 2015 as various headwinds intensified, including the drag on exports from the stronger dollar and energy sector investment from low oil prices. Growth in the US is expected to continue at a moderate pace driven by an improving housing market and strengthening of corporate earnings. As a result, growth is projected to level off at 2.4% in CY2016, with a modest uptick in 2017.

The Euro Area (consisting of Germany, France, Italy and Spain) registered a 1.6% growth during CY2015. With the weakening of external demand, offset to a certain extent by the favorable effects of lower energy prices, a modest fiscal expansion, and supportive financial conditions, Euro Area is expected to grow at a modest 1.5% in CY2016.

In CY2015, the Chinese economy recorded a growth of 6.9% compared to 7.3% in the preceding year. Growth in China is expected to further decline to 6.3% in CY2016 and 6.0% in CY2017. Growth has slowed as the economy rebalances from manufacturing to services and as excess capacity continues to unwind.

Growth in key emerging economies continues to be slow, following the trend of recent years. In some countries, weak commodity prices have led to a sharp correction in demand. A tightening of financial conditions and capital outflows, accompanied in some cases by more restrictive monetary and fiscal policy, is depressing demand. The recession in Brazil will likely be deeper than previously anticipated with ongoing political uncertainty and rising inflation. The contraction in Russia appeared to bottom out until the most recent fall in oil prices. India has only been the exception with growth projected to remain robust, although inadequate monsoon has had a negative impact in the short term and further progress is needed in implementing structural reforms to ensure that positive developments are sustained. Overall, monetary policy stimulus and lower commodity prices are expected to support recovery in advanced economies, while emerging economies experience mixed fortunes.

INDIAN ECONOMY

The Indian economy has shown resilience in the face of global downturns, and has stood up as one of the fastest growing economies in the world to register a strong growth of 7.6% in FY2016 up from 7.2% in FY2015. The Indian economy has continued to consolidate the gains achieved in restoring macroeconomic stability. The external position appears to be robust as the current account deficit has declined and is at comfortable levels and foreign exchange reserves have risen by US$ 13.9 billion over March 2015 to US$355.6 billion as of the end of March 2016, and are well above standard norms for reserve adequacy.

In India, lower commodity prices, a range of supply-side measures and a relatively tight monetary stance have resulted in a faster-than-expected fall in inflation, making room for interest rate cuts. Headline inflation based on consumer price index (CPI) declined to 4.9% during FY2016 as compared with 5.9% during FY2015. Wholesale price index (WPI) remained in the negative territory since November 2014 and was (2.5)% during FY2016 as compared to 2.0% in FY2015. With the easing of inflation and moderation in inflationary expectations, the RBI reduced the repo rate by 25 bps in June 2015 to 7.25%, by 50 bps in September 2015 and then by another 25 bps in April 2016 taking the repo rate down to 6.5%.

Economic growth in India is continued to be driven by a pick-up in domestic demand and private consumption (assuming a normal monsoon), prevalence of low inflationary environment and lower interest rates. According to the Economic Survey 2015-16, the Indian economy stands out as a haven of macroeconomic stability, resilience and optimism, and can be expected to register GDP growth in the range of 7% to 7.75% in the coming year.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW AND SEGMENT DISCUSSION

HYDRAULICS

Industry Overview and Outlook

During FY2016, the domestic agriculture industry experienced the worst monsoon with a deficiency of 14% from the long period average (LPA) following a below average monsoon performance (deviation of 12% from LPA) in the previous year FY2015 further weakening farm sentiments. Expectation of a normal monsoon has helped improve market sentiments in the recent months. A normal monsoon rainfall may transpire and assist a recovery in the agricultural sector this year. Furthermore, the government's thrust on rural development, especially on irrigation programs and farmer welfare in the budget will also improve farmer sentiments. Increased focus on creating rural infrastructure through higher budget allocation to irrigation, roads and other infrastructure, crop insurance and fertiliser subsidy are also the key drivers. The domestic tractor market is expected to grow at 10% year-on-year (y-o-y) in FY2017 on a lower base and driven by better farm sentiment. India is the largest tractor market globally (by volumes) but it has one of the lowest penetration of tractors in terms of land holding. It represents significant market opportunities for the tractor OEMs.

After four years of decline, the Indian construction equipment industry is experiencing some signs of growth. As per the Indian Construction Equipment Manufacturers' Association, its current size is US$ 2.8 billion is expected to grow to US$ 5 billion by 2019-20. The after sales spares market is about US$ 800 million and is a major source of income and employment opportunity for small scale industry manufacturers and service providers. The recent progress in highway road building activity and coal mining auction augurs well for the future. Indian government has embarked on a new path and has set out some incremental initiatives that have seen about 89 projects worth ₹1,90,000 crore being cleared. The increase impetus to develop infrastructure has also attracted global OEMs. Dynamatic Technologies will continue its focus on new product developments this year to cater to the construction equipment sector. This sector is expected to grow at a CAGR of 13% over the next 5 years.

Segment Overview

Dynamatic Hydraulics™ manufactures high precision hydraulic aggregates for tractors, construction equipment, material handling and machine tool industries. Your company has three state-of-the-art manufacturing excellence centers at Bangalore for aluminum pumps, cast iron pumps and agriculture sector valves backed by DSIR approved design and R&D center and a rapid prototyping laboratory.

The Company has approximately 60% market share in the domestic tractor industry and is a partner of choice for almost all tractor OEMs the world over. Your company also designs and builds hydraulic hitch control valve with draft control and complete rockshaft assembly for the agricultural tractors.

The higher HP sector (i.e. over 50 HP) is expected to continue to grow faster than the industry and so will be the exports. Dynamatic Technologies is strategically positioned to cater to this market sector with highest installed capacity in India to produce tandem pumps.

To de-risk the dependence on the agriculture sector and given the growth potential in the construction equipment sector, Dynamatic Technologies is investing in the development of high pressure, heavy-duty cast iron pumps to cater to the construction equipment sector. These products are in various stages of development and testing and will be launched in a phased manner over next 12- 18 months to cater to the global OEMs. Your company has already developed hydro motors for this sector, which are currently undergoing trials with various global OEMs.

UK	431	583	(26.0)%
Margin (%)	4.5%	5.1%

Performance of the India business was impacted by continued poor agriculture industry environment resulting in subdued tractor demand. UK revenues were impacted by the muted demand in Europe for agricultural machinery. Despite decline in volumes, margins were sustained due to declining raw material prices. However, during the Q4 FY2016, Hydraulics segment experienced early signs of recovery in the industry environment both in the UK and India. UK business was also benefited by new order wins.

AUTOMOTIVE & METALLURGY

Industry Overview and Outlook

Performance of the global auto industry in CY2015 was fragmented. Improved consumer confidence has led to a rebound in automotive sales in some of the developed nations in the Europe and North America. Robust car volumes growth in the US and Western Europe of 5.7% and 9.0%, respectively in CY2015 gave the much needed boost to the sector. However, growing economic uncertainty in the rest of the world, particularly in the emerging markets, led to a flat year overall, dampening prospects for global automakers and suppliers.

The biggest downward macroeconomic force in the auto industry today is the underperformance of emerging markets, which not too long ago represented a significant opportunity to the global auto sector. While India's sales increased 3.5% in CY2015, China's year-over-year growth slowed to 7.3% from a 10% growth in CY2014 and 16% gain in CY2013. New vehicle ownership restrictions in China's largest cities will further curtail sales in the coming years. Russia had its second straight year of precipitous decline in CY2015; sales were almost 50% below the CY2012 peak. Brazil's sales fell by nearly 1.3 million units, or 27.2%, compared to CY2014, a drop that was about the size of the entire Mexican car market. Automakers who have made significant investments in emerging market countries are very cautious in their approach to successfully navigate the next few years.

The Indian auto industry is one of the largest in the world. The industry accounts for 7.1% of the country's Gross Domestic Product (GDP). The auto industry produced a total of 23.95 million vehicles in FY2016, including passenger vehicles, commercial vehicles, three wheelers and two wheelers, as against 23.36 million in FY2015. Passenger Vehicles production grew by 5.5% in FY2016. Commercial Vehicles production increased by 12.6% driven by Medium & Commercial Vehicles which increased by 27.8% y-o-y.

While there is an opportunity for strong growth, India continues to face challenges due to high investment on production facilities, limited availability of power and skilled manpower. The Company believes that improving labour productivity and flexibility as well as capital efficiency are the key factors in the automotive industry. Quality manpower, the ability to make infrastructural improvements and raw material availability are also the major determinants of market positioning. Access to the latest and most efficient technologies and techniques are expected to endow leading players with a competitive advantage. The ability to utilize manufacturing plants to optimum levels and understanding the implications of government policies are also essential for growth in India's automotive industry. Lowering of excise duty on small passenger car segment and expected implementation of GST will have a positive impact on the Indian automotive industry.

The Company is focusing on multiple areas to drive higher growth and profitability in the Automotive business. Over the years, the Company has developed capabilities to manufacture performance critical components for the automotive industry such as turbochargers and exhaust manifolds. Turbochargers increase the fuel efficiency of the engine and decrease carbon emissions. Increasing focus on fuel efficiency and environmental safety globally presents significant opportunities for this business.

Steel casting is another strategic focus area for the Company. Engine downsizing and changed burning process for higher fuel efficiency have increased the operating temperature of petrol engines. This has led to increased demand for steel castings due to their ability to withstand higher temperatures. Dynamic Technologies is closely working with its customers to understand their specific requirement for steel castings to be able to provide them best-in-class products.

The exports market presents another key growth avenue for the Company. Dynamic Technologies has started exporting performance critical castings to major global OEMs from its foundries in India and Germany. The Company is striving to increase sales of performance critical castings through this channel to drive higher profitability.

AEROSPACE & DEFENCE

Industry Overview and Outlook

Growth in the global defence industry in 2016 is expected to be fueled by increases in the US defence budget, a resurgence of global security threats, and growth in defence budgets of key nations around the world. In addition, relatively stable growth in global gross domestic product (GDP), lower crude oil and other commodity prices, and continued increases in passenger travel demand are contributing to expected growth in production rates for next-generation commercial aircraft. India has the third largest armed forces in the world. India is also one of the largest importers of conventional defence equipment and spends about 31.5% of its total defence budget on capital acquisitions. About 60% of its defence requirements are met through imports. The allocation for Defence in the Budget 2015-16 was over `2,467 billion.

The commercial aerospace subsector is expected to continue its decade-long trend of above-average growth rates, driven by growth in passenger travel demand and an accelerated equipment replacement cycle. Strong increases year over year of global revenue passenger kilometers are leading to an unprecedented level of aircraft production rates, which in 2015 were about twice the levels experienced 10 years ago. As air travel demand is increasing, aircraft equipment continues to improve, with enhancements powered by innovations in jet engine fuel efficiency, navigation technology, and materials science. These improvements, especially in fuel efficiency, are driving demand for aircraft replacement, thus advancing the obsolescence of certain previous generation aircraft. Recent decline in oil prices and subsequent increase in airline profitability has also led to increase in aircraft orders.

Defence Procurement

India's current requirements on defence are catered largely by imports. The opening of the strategic defence sector for private sector participation will help foreign original equipment manufacturers to enter into strategic partnerships with Indian companies and leverage the domestic markets and also aim at global business. Besides helping build domestic capabilities, this will bolster exports in the long term. Opportunities to avail defence offset obligations to the tune of approximately `250 billion during the next 7-8 years. The offset policy (which stipulates the mandatory offset requirement of a minimum 30% for procurement of defence equipment in excess of `3 billion) introduced in the capital purchase agreements with foreign defence players would ensure that an ecosystem of suppliers is built domestically. The government policy of promoting self-reliance, indigenisation, technology upgradation and achieving economies of scale and developing capabilities for exports in the defence sector.

OPPORTUNITIES & THREATS

'Make in India' Initiative: The launch of the 'Make in India' campaign by the government of India opens up doors for a number of opportunities. This initiative is expected to make it easier to do business in India. With easier regulations and less complex paperwork, the costs are expected to come down making India all the more attractive auto manufacturing hub.

Favourable Industry Dynamics: The global auto industry has been under a lot pressure over the last few years, including Indian auto industry. But the long term dynamics of the India auto industry still remain intact. Rising disposable incomes, rapid urbanisation, lower finance costs, agricultural automation and industrial growth all support further penetration of automotive vehicles across India.

Strong Technology and Manufacturing Platform:

Dynamatic Technologies has made significant investments in increasing its capacities and capabilities, in particular the Aerospace segment. Ramp up of order book in the Aerospace segment will boost the performance in the coming years. Further, an upturn in the industry demand in the Auto and Hydraulics segments will result in significant improvement in the overall performance of the Company.

Diverse Product Portfolio and End Market Segments:

Dynamatic Technologies operates in three business segments, i.e. Automotive, Hydraulics and Aerospace. The Company has an optimum mix of high growth and stable end markets. This de-risks the Company's exposure to any particular industry segments.

RISKS & CONCERNS

Competition: The Company operates in a highly competitive environment and some customers have started adopting de-risking strategies to maintain more than one source for a product. Even as Dynamatic Technologies has leading market position in most of its product segments and enjoys long standing relationship with many global OEMs, it continues to invest in newer products and better quality control.

Technological Changes: The automotive industry is evolving at a rapid pace. To adapt to the changing customer preferences, regulatory norms, cost or supply constraints, etc. OEMs are focusing on newer technologies leading to shorter life cycles for new vehicles. Dynamatic Technologies continues to work closely with its customers to better understand their needs and develop products to suit their requirements. Dynamatic Technologies R&D Center is engaged in design and prototyping of new products, improvement of existing designs and continuous improvement of existing processes.

Foreign Currency Fluctuations: Given the nature and the scale of the business, the Company's operations are exposed to various foreign currencies. This leads to the financial performance susceptible to unfavourable foreign currency movements. However, the Company is closely monitoring these risks and adopting appropriate hedges / forward contract to mitigate such risks.

Global Macroeconomic Uncertainty: Given the global nature of the Company's business, its operations are directly dependent on the general economic conditions. Over the last few years, global economic growth has remained volatile and several key markets have faced economic challenges.

The Company closely monitors the factors impacting the macroeconomic performance in its key markets and to counter these risks continues to broaden its product segments, increase customer base and enhance geographic reach.

Indian Monsoon: The unseasonal or inadequate monsoon can result in negative impact on market sentiments, vehicle sales and usage, especially the tractor segment. The Company is regularly scanning market reports and taking appropriate action to combat lower demand. To de-risk the exposure to the tractor segment, the Company is also focusing on the construction equipment and other end markets.

This is done through periodic review meetings of the Risk Management Committee and the Risk Council.

Risk categories

The following broad categories of risks to the business objectives have been considered in our risk management framework:

- Business: Risks relating to the inherent characteristics of our industry such as competitive structure, emergence of new business models, technological landscape, extent of linkage to economic environment and regulatory structure.

Risk Management Highlights for the Year

During the last fiscal, our risk management practices continued to focus on mitigating risks relating to supply chain, delivery and quality of OEMs in our all three segments. Impact of risks relating to our public reputation, our competitive position and differentiation in aerospace segments, and volatile currency movements also required continuous focus during the year.

We had carried out risk management activities to identify, monitor and mitigate impact of risks. An annual risk survey was conducted across functions to get inputs on key risks to the achievement of business objectives, their prioritisation and mitigation actions to minimize impact.

We had reviewed key operational risks and actions based on inputs from the risk register, internal audit findings and key incidents. We had also reviewed operational risk areas including product liability, new aerospace projects, delivery, newly acquired skills, and execution management

These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note issued by ICAI and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both issued by ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of Management and Directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper Management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Company and its subsidiary companies, which are companies incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by the ICAI.

Other Matters

Our aforesaid reports under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls over financial reporting insofar as it relates to one subsidiary company which is company, incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding report of the auditor of such company incorporated in India.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1 Company Overview

Dynamatic Technologies Limited ("the Company") was incorporated in 1973 as Dynamatic Hydraulics Limited under provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 ('the Act'). In 1992, the name of the Company was changed to Dynamatic Technologies Limited. The Company is in the business of manufacturing automotive components, hydraulics components, aerospace components and wind farm power generation. The Company is listed in India with National Stock Exchange and Bombay Stock Exchange.

2 Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to the periods presented in these financial statements.

a. Basis of accounting and preparation of consolidated financial statements

The consolidated financial statements of Dynamatic Technologies Limited, subsidiaries and a associate (collectively referred to as the 'Group') have been prepared and presented under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis of accounting and comply with the accounting principles generally accepted in India ('GAAP'). GAAP comprises mandatory accounting standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, the provision of the Act (to the extent notified and applicable), other pronouncements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'), and the guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). The consolidated financial statements are prepared by adopting uniform accounting policies between the group companies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances and are presented to the extent possible, in the same manner as the Company's separate financial statements. The financial statements are prepared in Rupees in lacs unless otherwise stated.

b. Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements include the results of the following subsidiaries:

Sl. No.	Subsidiaries	Subsidiary/ Step Subsidiary/ Associate	Country of incorporation	Effective group shareholding%
1	JKM Erla Automotive Limited (JEAL)	Subsidiary	India	99.99
2	JKM Research Farm limited (JRFL)	Subsidiary	India	99.99
3	JKM Global Pte Limited (JGPL)	Subsidiary	Singapore	100
4	JKM Ferrotech Limited (JFTL)	Step Subsidiary	India	99.99
5	Dynamatic Limited (DL, UK)	Step Subsidiary	United Kingdom	100
6	Yew Tree Investments Limited (YTIL)	Step Subsidiary	United Kingdom	100
7	JKM Erla Holdings GmbH (JEHG)	Step Subsidiary	Germany	100
8	Eisenwerk Erla GmbH (EEG)	Step Subsidiary	Germany	100
9	Harasfera Design Private Limited till 8 March 2016 (HDPL)	Associate	India	50

Consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the following basis:

The financial statements have been combined on a line-by-line basis by adding together the book values of like items of assets, liabilities, income and expenses after eliminating intra-group balances / transactions and resulting unrealized profits in full.

The excess/ deficit of cost to the Group of its investment over its portion of net worth in the consolidated entities at the respective dates on which investment in such entities was made is recognized in the consolidated financial statements as goodwill/ capital reserve.

The consolidated financial statements are prepared using uniform accounting policies for like transactions and other events in similar circumstances.

c. Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in India (Indian GAAP) requires Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in current and future periods.

d. Fixed Assets And Depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are stated at the cost (or revalued amounts, as the case may be) of acquisition or construction, less accumulated depreciation. All costs incurred in bringing the assets to its working condition for intended use have been capitalised.

The cost of an item of tangible fixed asset comprises its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Leases under which the Group assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Such assets are capitalized at fair value of the asset or present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, whichever is lower. Lease payments under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the benefit.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of fixed assets, outstanding at each balance sheet date are shown under capital advances. The cost of the fixed asset not ready for its intended use on such date, is disclosed under capital work-in progress.

The Company had revalued certain land, building, plant and machineries and electrical installations based on valuations done by an external expert in the year 1991-92 and in 2010-11. Other than land, additional depreciation due to revaluation is adjusted out of revaluation reserve. An increase in net book value arising on revaluation of fixed assets is credited directly to shareholders' fund under the heading of revaluation reserves and is regarded as not available for distribution. On disposal of a previously revalued item of fixed asset, the difference between net disposal proceeds and the net book value is charged or credited to statement of profit and loss except that, to the extent such a loss is related to an increase which was previously recorded as a credit to revaluation reserve and which has not been subsequently reversed or utilised, it is charged directly to that account. The amount standing in revaluation reserve following the retirement or disposal of an asset which relates to that asset is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition/ construction of the qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Tangible fixed assets under construction are disclosed as capital work-in-progress.

Depreciation on tangible assets is provided on the straight-line method over the useful lives of assets estimated by the Group. Depreciation for assets purchased/ sold during a period is proportionately charged. The Group estimates the useful lives for fixed assets as follows:-

Class of assets	Estimated useful life (in years)
Assets taken on lease and leasehold improvements	Period of lease or useful life of assets whichever is lower
Buildings	30 years
Plant and machinery/ Measuring instruments/ Electrical installations* (Shift depreciation)	10 years, 13 years and 21 years for 3 shifts, 2 shifts and 1 shift respectively
Data processing equipment*	4 years
Office equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Tools, dies and moulds*	9 years
Vehicles*	10 years
Motor boat*	20 years

*Based on technical evaluation the Management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which Management expects to use these assets. Hence, the useful lives for these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act 2013.

Freehold land is not depreciated. Assets individually costing `5,000 or less are fully depreciated in the year of purchase.

Lease hold land is depreciated over its tenure of 99 years

Intangibles Fixed Assets

(i) Acquired intangible assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Group are measured initially at cost. After initial recognition, an intangible asset is carried at its cost less any accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment loss.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits from the specific asset to which it relates.

(ii) Internally generated intangible assets

Expenditure on research activities, undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding, is recognized in statement of profit and loss as incurred.

Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products or processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if development costs can be measured reliably, the product or process is technically and commercially feasible, future economic benefits are probable, and the Group intends to and has sufficient resources to complete development and to use the asset. The expenditure capitalized includes the cost of materials, direct labour, overhead costs that are directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use, and directly attributable borrowing costs (in the same manner as in the case of tangible fixed assets). Other development expenditure is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as incurred.

Intangible assets are amortized in the statement of profit and loss over their estimated useful lives, from the date that they are available for use based on the expected pattern of consumption of economic benefits of the asset. Accordingly, at present, these are being amortized on straight line basis. In accordance with the applicable Accounting Standard, the Group follows a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use. However, if there is persuasive evidence that the useful life of an intangible asset is longer than ten years, it is amortized over the best estimate of its useful life. Such intangible assets that are not yet available for use are tested annually for impairment.

Amortization is provided on a pro-rata basis on straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, not exceeding ten years as detailed below:

Application software	4 years
Prototype development	10 years
Non-compete fees	10 years

e. Inventories

- (i) Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.
- (ii) Cost of inventories comprises purchase price and all incidental expenses incurred in bringing the inventory to its present location and condition. The method of determination of cost is as follows:

- Raw materials and components – on a weighted average basis
 - Stores and spares – on a weighted average basis
 - Work-in-progress – includes costs of conversion
 - Finished goods – includes costs of conversion
 - Goods in transit – at purchase cost
- (iii) Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities.
 - (iv) The comparison of cost and net realisable value is made on an item-by-item basis.
 - (v) The net realisable value of work-in-progress is determined with reference to the net realisable value of related finished goods. Raw materials and other supplies held for use in production of inventories are not written down below cost except in cases where material prices have declined, and it is estimated that the cost of the finished products will exceed their net realisable value.
 - (vi) The provision for inventory obsolescence is assessed on a quarterly basis and is provided as considered necessary

f. Employee Benefits

(i) Provident fund

A defined contribution plan is a post-employment benefit plan under which an entity pays specified contributions to a separate entity and has no obligation to pay any further amounts. The Company makes specified monthly contributions towards employee provident fund to Government administered provident fund scheme which is a defined contribution plan. The Company's contribution is recognized as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(ii) Compensated absences

The eligible employees of the Group are entitled to compensated absence. The aforesaid employees can carry-forward a portion of the unutilized accumulating compensated absence and utilize it in future periods or receive cash compensation at retirement or termination of employment. The Group records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Group measures the expected cost of compensated absence as the additional amount that the Group expects to pay as a result of the unused entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date. The Group recognizes accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognized in the period in which the absences occur. The Group recognizes actuarial gains & losses immediately in the statement of profit & loss.

(iii) Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Group provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees, at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Group. The gratuity fund is managed by the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC). The Group's obligation in respect of the gratuity plan, which is a defined benefit plan, is provided for based on actuarial valuation carried out by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method. The Group recognizes actuarial gains and losses immediately in the statement of profit and loss.

g. Revenue Recognition

Revenue from sale of products (including sale of scrap and raw material) is recognized when the risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to customers. The amount recognized as sales is exclusive of excise duty, sales tax, trade and quantity discounts. Revenue from sale of products has been presented both gross and net of excise duty.

Service income is recognized when an unconditional right to receive such income is established.

Revenue from long-term contracts (contract revenue) is recognized on the percentage of completion method. Percentage of completion method is applied by calculating the proportion that the actual costs bear to the estimated total costs of the contract. The estimates of the contract revenue and costs are reviewed periodically by the Management and any effect of change in estimate is recognized in the period such changes are determined. Liquidated damages/ penalties are provided for wherever there is a delayed delivery attributable to the Group. Provision for foreseeable losses is made in the year in which such losses are foreseen.

Unbilled revenues included in other current assets represent cost and earnings in excess of billings as at the balance sheet date. Unearned revenues included in current liabilities represent billings in excess of earnings as at the balance sheet date. Lease/sub-lease rental income is recognized when billable in accordance with the terms of the contract with the clients.

Export benefits are recognized in the statement of profit and loss account when the right to receive credit as per the terms of the entitlement is established in respect of exports made.

Interest on deployment of funds is recognized using the time proportion method, based on the underlying interest rates.

h. Foreign currency transactions and balances

The reporting currency of the Group is Indian Rupee. The local currencies of the non-integral foreign subsidiaries are different from the reporting currency of the Group.

The Group is exposed to currency fluctuations on foreign currency transactions. Transactions in foreign currency are recognized at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. Exchange difference arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year is recognized in the statement of profit and loss for the year.

All monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are restated at the rates existing at the year end and the exchange gains / losses arising from the restatement is recognized in the statement of profit and loss, except exchange differences on long term foreign currency monetary items that are related to acquisition of depreciable assets are adjusted in the carrying amount of the related fixed assets and exchange differences arising on other long-term foreign currency monetary items are accumulated in 'Foreign Currency Monetary Item Translation Difference Account' (FCMITDA), and are amortized over the balance period of the relevant foreign currency item.

Integral and non-integral operations

The financial statements of the foreign non-integral subsidiaries are translated into Indian Rupees as follows:-

- All assets and liabilities, both monetary and nonmonetary are translated using the year-end rates
- Share capital and opening reserves and surplus are carried at historical cost
- Revenue and expenses are translated at average rates
- The resulting net exchange difference is credited or debited to the "foreign currency translation reserve" under the head Reserves & Surplus.
- Contingent liabilities are translated at the closing rate

i. Derivative instruments and Hedge accounting

The Group is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets, liabilities, firm commitments and highly probable forecasted transactions denominated in foreign currency. The Group limits the effects of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following its risk management policies. In accordance with its risk management policies and procedures, the Group uses derivative instruments such as foreign currency forward contracts, options and currency swaps to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations. The Group enters into derivative financial instruments, where the counterparty is a bank.

Premium or discount on foreign exchange forward contracts taken to hedge foreign currency risk of an existing asset / liability is recognised in the statement of profit and loss over the period of the contract. Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the statement of profit and loss of the reporting period in which the exchange rates change.

The Group has applied the principles of AS 30 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement', to the extent that the application of the principles does not conflict with existing accounting standards and other authoritative pronouncements of the Company Law Board and other regulatory requirements.

The derivatives that qualify for hedge accounting and designated as cash flow hedges are initially measured at fair value and are re-measured at a subsequent reporting date and the changes in the fair value of the derivatives i.e. gain or loss is recognized directly in shareholders' funds under "hedge reserve" to the extent considered effective. Gain or loss upon fair value on derivative instruments that either do not qualify for hedge accounting or are not designated as cash flow hedges or designated as cash flow hedges to the extent considered ineffective, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

It is the policy of the Group to enter into derivative contracts to hedge interest rate risks related to the loan liabilities. The derivative arrangements are coterminous with the loan agreement and it is the intention of the Group not to foreclose such arrangements during the tenure of the loan. Accordingly, the Group designates and applies cash flow hedge accounting on such types of arrangements.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires, sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. The cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in shareholder's funds under "hedge reserve" is retained until the forecasted transaction occurs subsequent to which the same is adjusted against the related transaction in statement of profit and loss. If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gain or loss recognized in shareholder's fund is transferred to statement of profit and loss in the same period.

The fair value of derivative instruments is determined based on observable market inputs and estimates including currency spot and forward rates, yield curves and currency volatility.

j. Warranties

Warranty costs are estimated by the Management on the basis of technical evaluation and past experience. Provision is made for estimated liability in respect of warranty costs in the period of sale of goods.

k. Investment

Long term investments are valued at cost less any other carried at cost less diminution, other-than-temporary, in value, determined separately for each individual investment.

l. Provisions and contingencies

The Group recognizes a provision when there is a present obligation as a result of past (or obligating) event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Provisions for onerous contracts, i.e. contracts where the expected unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it, are recognized when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle a present obligation as a result of an obligating event, based on a reliable estimate of such obligation.

m. Impairment of assets

The Group periodically assesses whether there is any indication that an asset or a group of assets comprising a cash generating unit may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. For an asset or group of assets that does not generate largely independent cash inflows, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit and loss. If at the consolidated balance sheet date, there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of depreciable historical cost. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the carrying amount of asset does not exceed the net book value that would have been determined; if no impairment loss had been recognised.

n. Goodwill

Any excess of the cost to the parent of its investment in a subsidiary over the parent's portion of equity of the subsidiary, at the date on which investment in the subsidiary is made, is recorded as goodwill arising on consolidation.

Goodwill arising on consolidation/acquisition of assets is not amortised. It is tested for impairment on a periodic basis and written off, if found impaired.

o. Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to equity shareholders for the year by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The Group did not have any potentially dilutive equity shares during the year.

p. Leases

Assets acquired under leases other than finance leases are classified as operating leases. The total lease rentals (including scheduled rental increases) in respect of an asset taken on operating lease are charged to the statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the benefit.

q. Income-tax

Income-tax expense comprises current tax (i.e. amount of tax for the year determined in accordance with the income-tax law) and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the year). The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognized using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax asset / liability as at the balance sheet date resulting from timing differences between book profit and tax profit are not considered to the extent that such asset / liability is expected to get reversed in the future years within the tax holiday period. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty of realization of such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written up to reflect the amount that is reasonably/ virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') paid in accordance with the laws, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of tax credit against future income tax liability, is recognized as an asset in the balance sheet if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal tax in near future.

The Group offsets, on a year on year basis, the current tax assets and liabilities where it has a legally enforceable right and where it intends to settle such assets and liabilities on a net basis.

r. Government grants and subsidies

Grants and subsidies from the Government are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the grant/subsidy will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with.

The grant or subsidy relating to an asset is reduced from the cost of the asset. The grant or subsidy not specifically attached to a specific fixed asset is credited to Capital Reserve and is retained till the attached conditions are fulfilled.

s. Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby net profit/ (loss) before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Group are segregated.

t. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the cash flow statement comprise cash and balances with banks. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a remaining maturity at the date of purchase of 3 months or less and that is readily convertible to known amounts of cash or cash equivalents.

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of Dynamatic Technologies Limited ("the Company") as of 31 March 2016 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting ("the Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to Company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Act.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note and the Standards on Auditing, issued by ICAI and deemed to be prescribed under section 143(10) of the Act, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls, both applicable to an audit of Internal Financial Controls and, both issued by the ICAI. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A Company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of Management and Directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper Management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at 31 March 2016, based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note issued by ICAI.

NOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1 Company Overview

Dynamatic Technologies Limited ("the Company") was incorporated in 1973 as Dynamatic Hydraulics Limited under provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 ('the Act'). In 1992, the name of the Company was changed to Dynamatic Technologies Limited. The Company is in the business of manufacturing automotive components, hydraulics components, aerospace components and wind farm power generation. The Company is listed in India with National Stock Exchange and Bombay Stock Exchange.

2 Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to the periods presented in these financial statements.

a) Basis of accounting and preparation of financial statements

The financial statements have been prepared and presented under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis of accounting and comply with the accounting principles generally accepted in India. GAAP comprises mandatory accounting standards prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("Act") read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, the provision of the Act (to the extent notified and applicable), other pronouncements of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India ('ICAI'), and the guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). The financial statements are prepared in Rupees in lacs unless otherwise stated.

b) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles in India ("Indian GAAP") requires Management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, disclosure of contingent liabilities as at the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from these estimates. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognised prospectively in current and future periods.

c) Fixed assets and depreciation

Tangible fixed assets are stated at the cost (or revalued amounts, as the case may be) of acquisition or construction, less accumulated depreciation. All costs incurred in bringing the assets to its working condition for intended use have been capitalised.

The cost of an item of tangible fixed asset comprises its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use. Any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Leases under which the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Such assets are capitalized at fair value of the asset or present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, whichever is lower. Lease payments under operating leases are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the benefit.

Advances paid towards the acquisition of fixed assets, outstanding at each balance sheet date are shown under capital advances. The cost of the fixed asset not ready for its intended use on such date, is disclosed under capital work-in progress.

The Company had revalued certain land, building, plant and machineries and electrical installations based on valuations done by an external expert in the year 1991-92 and in 2010-11. Other than land, additional depreciation due to revaluation is adjusted out of revaluation reserve. An increase in net book value arising on revaluation of fixed assets is credited directly to shareholders' fund under the heading of revaluation reserves and is regarded as not available for distribution. On disposal of a previously revalued item of fixed asset, the difference between net disposal proceeds and the net book value is charged or credited to statement of profit and loss except that, to the extent such a loss is related to an increase which was previously recorded as a credit to revaluation reserve and which has not been subsequently reversed or utilised, it is charged directly to that account. The amount standing in revaluation reserve following the retirement or disposal of an asset which relates to that asset is transferred to statement of profit and loss.

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition/ construction of the qualifying asset are capitalized as part of the cost of that asset. Other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they are incurred.

Depreciation on tangible assets is provided on the straight-line method over the useful lives of assets. Depreciation for assets purchased/ sold during a period is proportionately charged. The Company estimates the useful life as determined as given below:

Class of assets	Estimated useful life (in years)
Assets taken on lease and leasehold improvements	Period of Lease or useful life of assets whichever is lower
Buildings	30 years
Plant and Machinery/ Measuring instruments/ Electrical installations* (Shift depreciation)	10 years, 13 years and 21 years for 3 shifts, 2 shifts and 1 shift respectively
Data processing equipment*	4 years
Office equipment	5 years
Furniture and fixtures	10 years
Tools, dies and moulds*	9 years
Vehicles*	10 years
Motor boat*	20 years

*Based on technical evaluation, the Management believes that the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which Management expects to use these assets. Hence, the useful lives for these assets is different from the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act 2013.

Freehold land is not depreciated. Assets individually costing `5,000 or less are fully depreciated in the year of purchase.

d) Intangibles fixed assets

(i) Acquired intangible assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Company are measured initially at cost. After initial recognition, an intangible asset is carried at its cost less any accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment loss.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits from the specific asset to which it relates.

(ii) Internally generated intangible assets

Expenditure on research activities, undertaken with the prospect of gaining new scientific or technical knowledge and understanding, is recognized in statement of profit and loss as incurred.

Development activities involve a plan or design for the production of new or substantially improved products or processes. Development expenditure is capitalized only if development costs can be measured reliably, the product or process is technically and commercially feasible, future economic benefits are probable, and the Company intends to and has sufficient resources to complete development and to use the asset. The expenditure capitalized includes the cost of materials, direct labour, overhead costs that are directly attributable to preparing the asset for its intended use, and directly attributable borrowing costs (in the same manner as in the case of tangible fixed assets). Other development expenditure is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as incurred.

Intangible assets are amortized in the statement of profit and loss over their estimated useful lives, from the date that they are available for use based on the expected pattern of consumption of economic benefits of the asset. Accordingly, at present, these are being amortized on straight line basis. In accordance with the applicable Accounting Standard, the Company follows a rebuttable presumption that the useful life of an intangible asset will not exceed ten years from the date when the asset is available for use. However, if there is persuasive evidence that the useful life of an intangible asset is longer than ten years, it is amortized over the best estimate of its useful life. Such intangible assets that are not yet available for use are tested annually for impairment.

Amortization is provided on a pro-rata basis on straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, not exceeding ten years as detailed below:

Application software	4 years
Prototype development	10 years

e) Inventories

- (i) Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.
- (ii) Cost of inventories comprises purchase price and all incidental expenses incurred in bringing the inventory to its present location and condition. The method of determination of cost is as follows:
 - Raw materials and components – on a weighted average basis
 - Stores and spares – on a weighted average basis

- Work-in-progress – includes costs of conversion
 - Finished goods – includes costs of conversion
 - Goods in transit – at purchase cost
- (iii) Fixed production overheads are allocated on the basis of normal capacity of production facilities.
- (iv) The comparison of cost and net realisable value is made on an item-by-item basis.
- (v) The net realisable value of work-in-progress is determined with reference to the net realisable value of related finished goods. Raw materials and other supplies held for use in production of inventories are not written down below cost except in cases where material prices have declined, and it is estimated that the cost of the finished products will exceed their net realisable value.
- (vi) The provision for inventory obsolescence is assessed on a quarterly basis and is provided as considered necessary.

f) Employee benefits

(i) Provident fund

A defined contribution plan is a post-employment benefit plan under which an entity pays specified contributions to a separate entity and has no obligation to pay any further amounts. The Company makes specified monthly contributions towards employee provident fund to Government administered provident fund scheme which is a defined contribution plan. The Company's contribution is recognized as an expense in the Statement of Profit and Loss during the period in which the employee renders the related service.

(ii) Compensated absences

The employees of the Company are entitled to compensated absence. The employees can carry-forward a portion of the unutilised accumulating compensated absence and utilize it in future periods or receive cash compensation at retirement or termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increases this entitlement. The Company measures the expected cost of compensated absence as the additional amount that the Company expects to pay as a result of the used entitlement that has accumulated at the balance sheet date. The Company recognizes accumulated compensated absences based on actuarial valuation. Non-accumulating compensated absences are recognized in the period in which the absences occur. The Company recognizes actuarial gains and losses immediately in the statement of profit and loss.

(iii) Gratuity

In accordance with the Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972, the Company provides for a lump sum payment to eligible employees, at retirement or termination of employment based on the last drawn salary and years of employment with the Company. The gratuity fund is managed by the Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC). The Company's obligation in respect of the gratuity plan, which is a defined benefit plan, is provided for based on actuarial valuation carried out by an independent actuary using the projected unit credit method. The Company recognizes actuarial gains and losses immediately in the statement of profit and loss.

g) Revenue recognition

Revenue from sale of products (including sale of scrap and raw material) is recognized when the risks and rewards of ownership are transferred to customers. The amount recognized as sales is exclusive of excise duty, sales tax, trade and quantity discounts. Revenue from sale of products has been presented both gross and net of excise duty.

Service income including management fees is recognized when an unconditional right to receive such income is established.

Revenue from long-term contracts (contract revenue) is recognized on the percentage of completion method. Percentage of completion method is applied by calculating the proportion that the actual costs bear to the estimated total costs of the contract. The estimates of the contract revenue and costs are reviewed periodically by the Management and any effect of change in estimate is recognized in the period such changes are determined. Liquidated damages/ penalties are provided for wherever there is a delayed delivery attributable to the Company. Provision for foreseeable losses is made in the year in which such losses are foreseen.

Unbilled revenues included in other current assets represent cost and earnings in excess of billings as at the balance sheet date. Unearned revenues included in current liabilities represent billings in excess of earnings as at the balance sheet date.

Lease/sub-lease rental income is recognized when billable in accordance with the terms of the contract with the clients.

Export benefits are recognized in the statement of profit and loss account when the right to receive credit as per the terms of the entitlement is established in respect of exports made.

Interest on deployment of funds is recognized using the time proportion method, based on the underlying interest rates.

h) Foreign currency transactions and balances

The Company is exposed to currency fluctuations on foreign currency transactions. Transactions in foreign currency are recognized at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. Exchange difference arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year is recognized in the statement of profit and loss for the year.

All monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currency are restated at the rates existing at the year end and the exchange gains / losses arising from the restatement is recognized in the statement of profit and loss, except exchange differences on long term foreign currency monetary items that are related to acquisition of depreciable assets are adjusted in the carrying amount of the related fixed assets and exchange differences arising on other long-term foreign currency monetary items are accumulated in 'Foreign Currency Monetary Item Translation Difference Account' (FCMITDA), and are amortized over the balance period of the relevant foreign currency item.

i) Derivative instruments and Hedge accounting

The Company is exposed to foreign currency fluctuations on foreign currency assets, liabilities, firm commitments and highly probable forecasted transactions denominated in foreign currency. The Company limits the effects of foreign exchange rate fluctuations by following its risk management policies. In accordance with its risk management policies and procedures, the Company uses derivative instruments such as foreign currency forward contracts, options and currency swaps to hedge its risks associated with foreign currency fluctuations. The Company enters into derivative financial instruments, where the counter party is a bank.

Premium or discount on foreign exchange forward contracts taken to hedge foreign currency risk of an existing asset / liability is recognised in the statement of profit and loss over the period of the contract. Exchange differences on such contracts are recognised in the statement of profit and loss of the reporting period in which the exchange rates change.

The Company has applied the principles of AS 30 'Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement', to the extent that the application of the principles does not conflict with existing accounting standards and other authoritative pronouncements of the Company Law Board and other regulatory requirements.

The derivatives that qualify for hedge accounting and designated as cash flow hedges are initially measured at fair value and are re-measured at a subsequent reporting date and the changes in the fair value of the derivatives i.e. gain or loss is recognized directly in shareholders' funds under "hedge reserve" to the extent considered effective. Gain or loss upon fair value on derivative instruments that either do not qualify for hedge accounting or are not designated as cash flow hedges or designated as cash flow hedges to the extent considered ineffective, are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

It is the policy of the Company to enter into derivative contracts to hedge interest rate risk related to loan liabilities. The derivative arrangements are coterminous with the loan agreement and it is the intention of the Company not to foreclose such arrangements during the tenure of the loan. Accordingly, the Company designates and applies cash flow hedge accounting on such types of arrangements.

Hedge accounting is discontinued when the hedging instrument expires, sold, terminated, or exercised, or no longer qualifies for hedge accounting. The cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in shareholder's funds under "hedge reserve" is retained until the forecasted transaction occurs subsequent to which the same is adjusted against the related transaction in statement of profit and loss. If a hedged transaction is no longer expected to occur, the net cumulative gain or loss recognized in shareholder's fund is transferred to statement of profit and loss in the same period.

The fair value of derivative instruments is determined based on observable market inputs and estimates including currency spot and forward rates, yield curves and currency volatility.

j) Warranties

Warranty costs are estimated by the Management on the basis of technical evaluation and past experience. Provision is made for estimated liability in respect of warranty costs in the period of sale of goods.

k) Investments

Long-term investments are valued at cost less any other-than-temporary diminution in value, determined on the specific identification basis.

l) Provisions and contingencies

The Company recognizes a provision when there is a present obligation as a result of past (or obligating) event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Provisions for onerous contracts, i.e. contracts where the expected unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it, are recognized when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle a present obligation as a result of an obligating event, based on a reliable estimate of such obligation.

m) Impairment of assets

The Company periodically assesses whether there is any indication that an asset or a group of assets comprising a cash generating unit may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. For an asset or group of assets that does not generate largely independent cash inflows, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognised in the statement of profit and loss. If at the balance sheet date, there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount subject to a maximum of depreciable historical cost. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the carrying amount of asset does not exceed the net book value that would have been determined; if no impairment loss had been recognised.

n) Leases

Assets acquired under leases other than finance leases are classified as operating leases. The total lease rentals (including scheduled rental increases) in respect of an asset taken on operating lease are charged to the statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the benefit.

o) Income-tax

Income-tax expense comprises current tax (i.e. amount of tax for the year determined in accordance with the income-tax law) and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the year). The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognized using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax asset/ liability as at the balance sheet date resulting from timing differences between book profit and tax profit are not considered to the extent that such asset/liability is expected to get reversed in the future years within the tax holiday period. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent that there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carry forward of losses, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is virtual certainty of realization of such assets. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written up to reflect the amount that is reasonably/ virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

Minimum Alternate Tax ('MAT') paid in accordance with the laws, which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of tax credit against future income tax liability, is recognized as an asset in the balance sheet if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal tax in the near future.

The Company offsets, on a year on year basis, the current tax assets and liabilities where it has a legally enforceable right and where it intends to settle such assets and liabilities on a net basis.

p) Earnings per share

The basic earnings per share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to equity shareholders for the year by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The Company did not have any potentially dilutive equity shares during the year.

q) Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

r) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the cash flow statement comprise cash and balances with banks. The Company considers all highly liquid investments with a remaining maturity at the date of purchase of 3 months or less and that is readily convertible to known amounts of cash or cash equivalents.

DYNAMATIC HYDRAULICS™, DYNAMATIC LIMITED, UK

Review of Business 2015-2016

Dynamatic Hydraulics™, Swindon saw a further but planned reduction in sales from £11,489K in 2014/15 to £9,681K in 2015/16. This reduction in sales has been in line with the budgeted sales for the 2015/16 financial year and included the planned exit from certain customers where both the commercial terms and hence margins were not at an acceptable level. We have also however experienced very difficult market conditions in the agricultural sector, particularly in May and June when the plant reverted to running on a reduced 4 day working week which affected all employees in the Hydraulics division. The situation since then improved somewhat although overall the order intake remained fragile until the fourth quarter when we saw a more sustained improvement and hence increase in sales making it the best quarter of this last financial year.

In line with the challenging trading conditions the Swindon plant has continued to focus on its cost reduction and continuous improvement projects and this has also helped in generating savings for J-D in their JDCROP program which enabled us to achieve Partner status this last year. We have also looked to balance the workforce headcount levels in line with the reduced sales levels. At the end of the financial year the workforce now stands at 103 which is a reduction of 15% over the previous year and at is at our lowest ever level. In terms of some of the business KPI's such as Productivity, Efficiency and OEE these have all continued to improve which has really helped the business performance through this difficult trading year.

SWINDON

Future Outlook

Looking forward to 2016/17 and the projected sales it will again be a very challenging year for the business as we continue to see the Agricultural markets remain flat across the entire customer base including both OEM and Aftermarket. The new John Deere IJD pump project has been delayed due to a very late design change as required by J-D which has in turn delayed the field testing they have to carry out prior to production release. We are now anticipating the production launch of this new triple pump during the second quarter of this financial year. As mentioned last year we are now seeing ever increasing activity with the Aerospace division within the Swindon facility and they currently occupy close on 20% of the floor space with plans to increase this over the next 2-3 years. We are also continuing in our discussions with the Landlord of the building Swindon Borough Council and are now looking at a complete factory renovation program including replacing the entire roof and signing a 20 year lease agreement. We look forward to concluding some of these key issues and projects and progressing the Hydraulics division in terms of its financial results in 2016/17.

HYDRAULICS

Dynamatic-Oldland Aerospace™ division in the UK continues to have a good mix of business across a varied range of aircrafts in Commercial & Military contracts, which now includes the Boeing Chinook pylon and ramp monolithic details.

We achieved sales of £12.8 million against a forecast of £12.40 Million, this was an overall decrease from the previous financial year, but however performance is above the budgeted target by 3.2%.

During this financial year the Aerospace business has been faced with many challenges and changes over the last 12 months with regards to customer order books, especially the deferral of the Dassault and the reduction of all A330 programme deliverables. The A330 reduction has caused many problems both within the Bristol and Swindon manufacturing facilities, however the business re-grouped and used this time well to manufacture all the tooling required to support the new A330 long-range project.

The business still struggles with sales mix versus cost of sales, machine tool breakdowns and all the associated costs, however we are managing these issues weekly, monthly to build a better working environment for the continued success. The strategy is to grow the business by means of increased production and with the use of greater technologies to aid an expansion plan. The outlook for the aviation market looks like it's starting to settle down once again with reported increases to the A330 platform and further increases planned for single aisle aircraft.

Technology is the main focus for the business, with the introduction of the FMS at the Swindon facility where we have seen a huge impact to our capability and as such we are now looking at a third shift working pattern, therefore the need for greater throughput from the QA department is now greater than ever. Also, as part of the ongoing strategy and development between Dynamatic-Oldland Aerospace™ and Dynamatic Technologies greater emphasis needs to be focus on how both business work together in terms of work package transfers. Dynamatic Technologies needs to use Dynamatic-Oldland Aerospace™ rather than use its own internal supply chain, thereby keeping Aerospace work contained within the group.

Our Turnover at 114,904 TEUR for the period April' 2015 to March'2016 was slightly lower by 3,303 TEUR 2.8% than the previous financial year despite lower pricing in raw materials mainly driven Nickel. In the strategic market for high temperature resistant materials for the turbocharger industry, as also in the automotive industry in general, the share of turnover was stabilized by 91%.

The order book for FY-2015 to 2016 amounting to a sum of 109,016 TEUR is lower by 17,861 TEUR compared to the previous year, and the order backlog, as on 31st March' 2016, at 73,997 TEUR is lower by 6,001 TEUR from the previous year. The order book and turnover achieved almost equals full capacity utilization.

The overall performance comprising sales, change in inventory and other miscellaneous operational proceeding was at 112,712 TEUROS compared to 118,417 TEUROS in the previous year.

As on 31st March' 2016 there were 293 employees. Of these 13 Apprentices and additional 95 temporary workers.

Prediction of the economic outlook indicates a growth of 1.3% to 1.9% in FY 2016 - 2017. Though the raw material and energy market may remain volatile there could be stable in production and turnover levels in German Foundry Industry. Thus, we expect a stable order flow from our niche market, the turbo charger industry, for 2016-2017. Thereby the financial and yield conditions are likely to remain solid for Eisenwerk Erla GmbH. We have received contract for series delivery of Turbo Chargers Housings and negotiations are on for additional contracts. However, we could face certain investment challenges to improve the production and process stability of Turbo charger Housings in cast steel.

Future Outlook

- Expand trading activities with the Indian subsidiary JKM Ferrotech Limited.
- Explore the feasibility of investing 5 Million Euros through sub-tranches of syndicated financing to stabilize the production of cast steel and adjustment of Foundry peripherals
- For implementing machining process additional investments amounting 6 Million Euros, partly financed through operating lease.
- Increment in personnel wages

Notwithstanding the above, should the economic environment improve for the automotive sector, turnover and growth in margins would be higher. This would have a positive impact on the results due higher variable interests. To improve its market share the company is also focusing on development of high end Turbo charges to meet the stricter environmental controls and better fuel consumption requirements.

JKM Ferrotech Limited ('JFTL') was vibrant with multiple activities last year as the entire focus was on profitability and turning the Company around. JFTL has adopted a different method of monitoring the foundry financial and profitability. Since conventional raw material ratio does not provide adequate feedback on the health of the Ferrous Foundry, contribution per ton of Liquid metal is now being considered.

Future Outlook

- Maximize capacity utilization with the right product mix.
- Consolidate our position as Safety Critical Brake part manufacturer and grow sales with Foundation Brake Systems, Haldex India and Mando India.
- Develop expertise in Turbocharger castings through Turbo Energy Limited and explore direct opportunities to BorgWarner USA and Europe.
- Restart engagement with PHI and other Korean tier I suppliers of HMI.
- Reduce energy consumption to optimize manufacturing cost and explore feasibility of using renewable energy like solar power.
- Automate post production process to improve productivity and quality.
